A Hungry Vag Makes Things Lively Among the Residences of Riverdale, mit for Divorce - Teachers' Convention-Diphtheria Abating-Funeral of Parley Bybee - Deaths.

Lest Thursday evening George Reid ef Riverdale came to Ogden and got on s general tear, and after spending some time around town started out for home with his team and wagon; when he urived at Twenty-ninth street he arrived at Twenty-ninth street he stopped the grocery wagon of S. A. Bair & Co. and took a basket of gro-eries out of the wagon and drove on farther. At Thirty-third street he came up with his brother and wife in a sleigh going in the direction of his home. He took out his wife and slashed the lady and gentleman several hard cuts with and gentleman several hard cuts with the lash. The lady screamed and Wm. winslow, the bill-poster, and Prof. Smith, who reside at Thirty-third street, rushed out to see what the troustreet, rushed out to see what the trou-street, rushed out to see what the trou-ble was, and the intoxicated fellow first dealt out a bard blow with a club on Winslow's head, knocking him down, and then turned upon Prof. Smith. He struck him severely, but not hard esough to knock him down, and by this time his brother got hold of him and queted him down, and the two got in-to the wagon and drove off, the lady driving the sleigh home. Yesterday complaints were sworn out against Reid complaints were sworn out against Reid charging him with two cases of assault and battery, and another for petty lar-eny for stealing the grocerles. He was placed under arrest by Deputy sheriff Bailey and given a preliminary hearing before Justice Breeden. His use was continued. He was let out at 125 bonds to appear at trial.

A VAG ON THE RAMPAGE.

Riverdale seemed to be having her share of trouble. A man named Wm. Neeley went out there the other evenns, so he claims, to get something to at He went into several places and was given something to satisfy his hunger. He went to the home of one of the Chlids boys and acted quite bois-terously, so Mr. Childs summarily put im out in the cold. He next went to Mr. Parker's house and acted quite strangely, but was given something to at, after which he went out into the street and commenced using vile and abusive langauge, so Messrs Childs and Parker took him to Constable Simpson's home, where he was placed when at the jail he told Mr. Simpson be would know him and to his sorow." He was placed in the county jail and last evening was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Joseph Hall m the charge of disturbing the peace and vagrancy. The justice sentenced him to thirty days in the county jail.

A large number of college students left Logan today to spend the holiday ly injured. vacation at their respective homes. Mr. A. M. Fleming, cashier of First National bank, was called hurriedly to the east Wednesday by a telegram announcing the serious illness of his father.

old. Helen Zebbing and several other teachers, Father Nicholas and Prof. Mushold were painfully burned in trying to save the children.

The fire started in a little dressing-room. Three or four little girls were there dressing for the rehearsal and laughing gayly among themselves. A dozen othes were grouped in the wings of the stage near the foot of the stairs descending from the dressing-room. The girls in the dressing-room had nearly completed their costumes when one of them brushed against the gas jet, but which child it was will never be known. A touch of the flame was sufficient, and in an instant her dress, of cotton and light cloth, was in a blaze. She screamed and ran out of the room, spreading the fire to the others as she ran. One of the girls with her dress in a blaze jumped out of a small window into the stairs leading to the stage and down the stairs. A flaming torch she was, as she almost fell down the stairs and rushed into the groups of childen standing in the wings. They were all clad like her, in fancy cos-tumes of cotton, lace and silk, and the fire spread with incredible rapidity from one to the other.

There were fourteen children in the cast of the Christmas entertainment and a few escaped. It was all over in ten minuter, and in that time four perished, seven more were fatally burned and others more or less severe-

In many cases diseases of the nose and throat, if neglected and unchecked, instead of extending down into the bronchial tubes, extend along the oesophagus, or swallow, into the stomach.

The mucus discharge is dropped in the throat from the back part of the hose, and in the daytime is hawked up and expelled.

At night the nauscating material still continues to drop into the throat. It first collects in the pharynx, then it is brought into contact with the foul and impure air from the lungs, and is mixed with the germs of decay. Decomposition results, and in this condition the vile nuterial is swallowed while asleep and goes to the stomach.

The decomposing discharges swallowed are poisons-not deadly ones, but polsons, nevertheless, which act slowly but surely, undermining the patient's constitution.

The thousands of little glands situated in the lining are free to pour out the julces that are needed to digest the food in the healthy stomach.

With disease attacking the lining of the stomach, the little glands are choked up by the swelling, and their exit is blocked by the sticky mucous which has resulted from the inflammation

As a consequence there is not enough digestive juices formed and poured out into the cavity of the stomach.

The food, not having the necessary materials to dissolve it, lies in the stomach like lead.

Instead of being converted into nour-ishment for the blood it is changed into poisonous gases, which distend the stomach, dilating it so that the organs press upward on the heart and lungs

This causes a sense of smothering, relief from which is only obtained by belching up the gas, or its passage along the bowels, where it causes a sense of distension and rumbling.

There is nausea, and sometimes vomiting, in the morning, with hawking and gagging upon arising, and it requires quite an effort to free the stomach of the mass of mucous that has accumulated in it during the night. In some cases there is waterbrash or heartburn, with constipation to complicate matters. The old plan of doctoring for stom-ach troubles consisted in purges and "I have been doctoring for so many years that I can hardly remember how long I have been sick. My symptoms were peculiar. I just seemed to be all tired out all the time. I could dn't sleep, and when I would get up I was more tired than when I went to bed. I would seem to drag myself around and my housework was never done, although I would work until 10 o'clock at night. At times I was compelled to stay in bed for two or three days too weak to get up. When doing my work I would have to sit down every little while. I tried everything I could hear of trying to get well, but nothing did me any good, until I began Drs. Shores' new treatment.
