

TEN YEARS FOR
FRANK BILLINGS.Man Convicted of Infamous Crime
Sentenced by Judge Norrell.

A NEW TRIAL IS DENIED.

Prisoner Stoutly Bled His Guilt and Said His Enemies Had Put Up a Job on Him.

Frank Billings, the upholsterer, repairer of cane chairs and wood worker, convicted on Wednesday last of an infamous crime against nature, was this morning sentenced by Judge Norrell to ten years in the State prison.

Before judgment was pronounced the court listened to arguments on a motion for new trial. Attorney Will F. Wainwright, the prisoner's counsel, based the motion on the following grounds: 1—The admission of improper evidence over the defendant's objection; 2—The refusal of the court to admit certain evidence on behalf of the defendant; 3—the verdict was contrary to the evidence; 4—There was not sufficient evidence to support the verdict.

Attorney Wainwright, in talking to the motion, made an able argument, as also did the Assistant Attorney General, Van Van Cott in reply. Judge Norrell said the defendant had been given a fair and impartial hearing, and his honor overruled the motion. Billings was then requested to stand up, and when asked if he had anything to say before sentence was pronounced, said: "If your honor please, I don't pretend to have had much of an education, having only attended the common school. But I feel I haven't had a fair trial. The testimony of Powers, the hotel runner, was false in every particular. When he says that he was in the hall when the chambermaid was making the bed, he tells that which is not true. The chambermaid ought to have been brought into court and if she had I could have proven Powers a falsifier."

Judge Norrell said that the matter of calling witnesses rested entirely with the attorneys and had nothing whatever to do with him. He then ordered that the defendant be imprisoned in the State prison for a period of ten years. Billings was nearly overcome when he resumed his seat and was heard to say that Stanley May, his alleged victim, and others had put up a job on him. The maximum penalty for this class of crimes is twenty years and the minimum three years.

SUIT TO RECOVER SHEEP.

Harrison Speirs Sues John E. Dooly to Recover $5,571.

Harrison Speirs filed a suit against John E. Dooly in the Third district court today to recover $5,571, on account of 1,857 head of sheep, which plaintiff alleges the defendant unlawfully disposed of.

The complaint alleges that on September 6, 1898, plaintiff was owner of 640 head of sheep, located in Utah county, and branded with certain ear marks, which he leased to one Edward J. Young. The latter at the same time, owned 1,600 head of sheep and it is alleged that he changed the wool brands of the sheep belonging to plaintiff to correspond with the marks on those of his own. By reason of this and the mingling of the animals it became impossible to distinguish them. On July 21st last Young had 1,857 head remaining in his herd, which were taken possession of by the defendant Dooly. On August 10th plaintiff made a demand of the defendant for the return of the sheep, but his demand met with a refusal. Instead of returning the woolly animals the defendant it is alleged, sold them to other parties.

It is also set out that Young made no effort either by legal proceedings or otherwise to preserve the sheep from sale or disposition. On the 31st inst. Young was adjudged a bankrupt, a fact alleged and set out in the plaintiff's complaint.

UTAH GRAIN.

Just now there is a strong demand for wheat upon the local markets though the prices remain unchanged except as to new wheat which during the week has reached 50 cents, the highest note thus far this season. One reason for this is found in the fact that the product has had time to harden and is now making much better flour than when it was first threshed. Old wheat is bringing from 50 to 51 cents per bushel. These prices are of course, at carload rates. The mills are not as crowded as they have been for some weeks past, receiving less wheat daily on account of the big demands on the Pacific coast. Shipments to California are now quite heavy and about four carloads are going out of the State and every one that is being consumed within it. In this connection it may be stated that Utah produced about five million bushels of wheat this year, and that the remaining harvest is only about one and a half millions of bushels. This makes her a large exporting State. Almost every bushel of wheat that is being shipped goes direct to San Francisco. But for the economy of transportation much more Utah wheat would be finding its way to England, and the Orient, than is now being shipped. Rates are very high on account of so many of the transients being used in the African and Chinese service. The oats market has been considerably depressed for the last ten days. The product is bringing from $1.07 to $1.10 carload lots per hundred weight. Barley is selling for 75 cents a hundred sacked carload lots.

POLITICAL QUIET
REIGNS TODAY.State Senator Nebeker Going to Arizona in a Few Days.

CALL ON GOV. WELLS FIRST.

Will Exchange Views Concerning the Conduct of State Government—
Joke a Reminiscence Now.

The great flood of political doctrine with which the public has been inundated the last few days has subsided for the present, and matters were generally in a somewhat state at the headquarters of the respective political organizations today. The Republicans were resting easily on their oars as a result of the visit of Governor Roosevelt and the distinguished gentlemen who accompanied him, while both parties were quietly engaged in formulating over the score perpetrated by ex-Acting Governor Norrick and Justice Powers.

The consideration of the incident, however, was entirely from the reminiscent standpoint.

Whenever the subject was mentioned it provoked a smile just as it did yesterday and the day before and was accepted as the greatest political joke ever attempted in the Rocky Mountain region. Senator Nebeker will leave the city in a few days for Arizona, where he is associated with the Cocolino Syndicate in building a large copper smelter. The trip, however, will be a hasty one and he will return to take part in the latter portion of the campaign.

Sensor Nebeker today stated that he would call upon Governor Wells before his departure from the city and ask his Excellency if any business which should have been attended to during his absence from the State had been neglected. He said, that he would likewise hand Governor Wells the reins of government where he (Nebeker) had laid them down and give him a number of pointers regarding matters of State which, in his opinion, should receive immediate attention. The call, however, had not been made up to a late hour this afternoon.
