SAVED BY A HORSE.

The fellow's eyes glistened with avarice or pleasure. I could not tell which, as taking hold of my wet overcoat, he drew it off, and hung it up by the fire to dry, without speaking.

Then from the cupboard he produced a part of a cold fowl, some coarse, heavy rye bread and a large black bottle. Removing the cork from the last-mentioned article, he poured out a quantity in a dirty cracked tumbler, and pushed it towatd me.

"Thar," he blurted out, in his deep, disagreeable bass voice, "jes' swaller some o' that yer stuff to brace ye up a leetle, and then we'll look to yer arm."

I did not like to refuse him outright, neither did I wish to partake first of the contents of the bottle for fear of its being drugged; so I had recourse to a little strategy. Assuming my politest tone—although my arm pained me dreadfully—I said:

"Excuse me, but after you, is manners, I believe." He took the glass without a word, and, smiling so as to show a set of fangs that would make a wolf howl with envy, replied with mock courtesy:

"Hyear's yer good health, stranger." When he set the glass upon the table not a drop remained.

As I saw he expected me to follow his example, I did not wait for ceremony, but seizing the bottle, applied it directly to my lips. It was miserable corn whiskey; nevertheless, as I was faint and hungry, I swallowed a good, stiff dram.

"Now yer head's level," he exclaimed, as, drawing a knife from his belt, he proceeded to slit the sleeve of my shirt up to the shoulder. The operation was done acquickly and coolly, that I could not repress a shudder as I thought how remarkably expert he was with the use of the bowie.

Whether he noticed my involuntary tremor, I cannot say, for the next instant I uttered a groan of pain as I felt the pressure of his huge hands upon my naked flesh. In a second more I heard an audible click, as the bone shot back in its socket.

"That!" he ejaculated, with an oath; "I'm not much of a doctor, stranger, but I reckon that's 'bout as good a job as you'll find in old Tennessee."

Thanking him, I sat down to the table and tried to eat, but in vain, and after a few mouthfuls I desisted. Pushing back my chair from the table, I noticed that my host was regarding me intently. Opening his hand so that I could see the small amount of money that I had thrown upon the table at my entrance, he asked, while his small, ferret eyes seemed to read my inmost thoughts:

"Yer havn't got any more such beauties I reckon, stranger?"

"A few," I replied cautiously.

"Yer wouldn't like ter go to sleep directly, I reckon?"

"I certainly should; for I am very tired."

"P'raps it wouldn't be none too safe unless yer could manage to keep yer weather eye open."

"But there is no danger here?"

"I am not so sure 'bout that, stranger. Guess yer don't know much about this part o' the country, do yer?"

"Indeed, I do not."

"I calc'late yer never heerd of Asa Graves; he don't live a right smart stretch from here, nor nothin."

Asa Graves! Commonly called "Ace," on account of his deadly skill with the pistol. I had heard of him, as one of the most dangerous border ruffians that infested the Southwest. It was suspected—nay, it was almost positively certain—that he had committed more robberies and murders than any three men in the United States; yet, up to this time, he had always managed to evade the hands of justice, for, although his guilt was morally positive, yet the finger of suspicion was all that could be directly brought against him. For months the officers of the law had been upon his track, but his shrewdness or good luck had heretofore kept him out of their clutches.

As I gazed upon the satanic features before me, I felt certain that this man was no other than the notorious Asa Graves. I felt a clammy perspiration breaking out all over my body, and a choking sensation in my throat. A diabolical smile lit up the villain's face as he detected these symptoms of fear; his coarse, sensual lips were drawn back like a grinning demon's while his eyes glared upon me like those of a basilisk. Summoning all my fortitude, I replied:

"I have heard of Asa Graves; but, I do not believe half the stories they tell about him. Some men seem to possess the faculty of gaining unenviable reputation without radical cause. There has never been a partical of bona fide proof against Asa, though some circumstances do look rather suspicious; I therefore prefer to give him the benefit of the doubt; in truth, I do not believe he is as black as he is painted."

The wretch threw himself back in his chair and fairly screamed with laughter at what he considered my verdancy. Pushing the whiskey toward me, he commanded me to drink.

I put the bottle to my mouth, and went through the motions of taking a deep draught, yet very little of the fiery fluid found its way down my throat.

"I'm durned if you ain't a trump," said the cut-throat. "What night be the time o' night now?"

Without giving the matter a thought, I pulled out my gold "Harrison," and answered:

"Three o'clock! Why, it will soon be daylight. Don't you think we had better go to bed?" I added the last, more for the sake of hearing myself talk than for any wish to sleep, for very well I knew that that was the very object my host was endeavoring to obtain.

"Sartin," replied the ruffian, lifting the whisky and setting it down at my elbow; "but a'posin you take another drink, you've been wet throughout to the hide, to-night, and I reckon one more dram will help you powerfully much."

I raised the bottle to my lips and kept it in that position so long that Asa's eyes dilated until I thought they would burst.

"Wall, you are some on the drink, if noth'n else," he said encouragingly.

"O, that isn't all I can do," I said in as unsteady a voice as I could assume, for I had resolved upon playing a desperate game with the rascal; "I can handle a pen some, I fancy, as well as drink."

"Yer don't say!" grinned Asa, turning around on his chair and manifesting particular interest.

"Yes," I explained; "a little arrangement of that kind is what brought me in this wild country."

"Ah," he said, looking me full in the face.

PEOPLE'S VERDICT

Over Half a Million Sold and in use!

4,000 made and sold per week.

SINGER'S

New Improved Silent

FAMILY SEWING MACHINES

ARE

The Best in the World,

Because all of them are in constant use, while a very large proportion of other makes are no used, owing to their being partially or utterly impracticable.

THE SINGER

NEW FAMILY MACHINE

Has been brought to perfection, regardless of time, labor or expense and is now incomparably the best Sewing Machine in existence.

It is simple, compact, durable, beautiful, quiet, light-running, and capable of performing a range and variety of work never before attempted by a single machine, using either Silk, Twist, Linen or Cotton Thread, and sewing with equal facility the very finest and coarsest materials, or anything between the two extremes, in the most beautiful and substantial manner.

The New Improved Attachments for Hemming, (any width) Braiding, Embroidering, Magic Ruffling, Gathering and sewing on (at the same time) Self-Sewing, Cording, Tucking, Quilting, Felling, Trimming, Binding, etc., are novel and practicable, and have been invented and adjusted especially for this Machine.

Folding Tops and Cabinet Cases.

New designs of the unique, useful and popular Folding Tops and Cabinet Cases, peculiar to the Singer Machine, are in every variety of Wood, such as black Walnut, Mahogany, Rosewood, Satinwood, and from Lee Cabinet to the most elaborate pattern of Cases. The Machines themselves are provided with Hemmers with pearl and gold to correspond with their tables or cabinets.

In the Singer the work is fed or passed through the Machine in the natural direction, namely, from the operator, permitting her to sit in a natural and healthy position. In many other Machines the work is fed from RIGHT, left, or the reverse, compelling the operator to sit in a bent and unhealthy position, and thus causing weakness of the back, etc.

The Singer uses a SHORT STRAIGHT NEEDLE, which is not liable to break or miss the stitch. Many other Machines use a long crooked needle, which is liable to break and to miss the stitch.

In the Singer Machine the shuttle is carried, thus avoiding nearly all wear. It requires no oil, and does not soil the thread or goods. Other Machines drive their shuttles in a race, thus causing great wear, and requiring oil soiling the thread and goods.

On the Singer, the Tension on both the upper and lower threads is absolutely under the ready control of the operator, thus rendering the Machine adjustable to any kind of sewing, which is not the case with any other. Many so-called cheap Machines are really worthless, and so are many of their new peculiarities and supposed advantages.

The SINGER is the Oldest Practical Sewing Machine,

Being about twenty years in the market. Having been constantly improved to keep pace with the progress of the times, it is, in point of age and unlimited practical, by long odds the best Machine in existence, containing all improvements and Inventions of the Very Latest Kind. It is the only Machine sold on Honest Claims, as all its parts are Practical and will do all that is claimed for them. Some other Machines are Greatly Complicated, to do Useless and Silly things, and thus are Troubled with Constant Derangement. The Singer Seldom or Never gives trouble, but is ready and easily managed by those who utterly fail on other Machines.

SINGER'S

New Manufacturing Machines

Built for sewing Manufacturers and others of their class as the new Family Machines. These old and well-tried Singer Machines are applicable to all kinds of heavy and light manufacturing in Cloth, Leather, etc., and run in the most perfect and reliable manner without trouble to the operator.

HAVE ARRIVED!

A Full Assortment of those

Beautiful and Unrivaled MACHINES,

(The numbers on which show a manufacture of between Five and Six Hundred Thousand.) Consisting of the Different Varieties made by the Singer Manufacturing Company and to be sold at Eastern Prices, with addition of Freight only. To accommodate parties who cannot pay all down, we will sell on

EASY MONTHLY INSTALMENTS

So that all may possess one of these Blessings.

For the convenience of our Patrons we have engaged the services of a gentleman who has had twenty years experience and is one of the most skillful experts in the world in repairing and adjusting Sewing Machines. He will put each Machine in complete and practical running order before it leaves the Institution and will also impart to purchasers all needful instruction, so that they can at once commence work.

We resort to no trickery whatever to sell Sewing Machines, but allow their Great Merits to recommend them. We can do this, as the demand for them is so great that although the Singer Company made more than all other first-class companies combined, they cannot nearly fill their orders, and are compelled to still extend their Gigantic Works.

We having been so fortunate as to secure the General Central Agency,

For this Territory, we extend a cordial invitation to all to come and see the Machines, whether they wish to buy or not. See all others, but do not buy without you examine the Singer.

We Guarantee every Machine we sell to give entire satisfaction.

7-30 GOLD LOAN

OF THE

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.

RAPID PROGRESS OF THE WORK.

The building of the Northern Pacific Railroad, (begun July last,) is being pushed forward with great energy from both extremities of the line, several thousand men are employed in Minnesota and on the Pacific Coast. The grade is nearly completed 266 miles westward from Lake Superior; trains are running over 134 miles of finished road, and track laying is rapidly progressing toward the eastern border of Dakota. Including its purchase of the St. Paul and Pacific Road, the Northern Pacific Company now has 413 miles of completed road, and by September next this will be increased to at least 540.

A GOOD INVESTMENT. Jay Cooke & Co. are now selling, and unhesitatingly recommend, as a Profitable and perfectly safe investment, the First Mortgage Land Grant Gold Bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. They have 30 years to run, bear Seven and Three-Tenths per cent. gold interest (more than 9 per cent. currency) and are secured by first and only mortgage on the ENTIRE ROAD AND ITS EQUIPMENTS, and also, as fast as the Road is completed, on 22,000 ACRES OF LAND to every mile of track, or 8,800 Acres per $1,000 Bond. They are exempt from U. S. Tax; Principal and Interest are payable in Gold, Denominations: Coupons, $100 to $1,000; Registered, $100 to $10,000.

LANDS FOR BONDS. Northern Pacific 7-30's are at all times receivable at PAR AND ACCRUED INTEREST IN EXCHANGE for the Company's Lands, at their lowest cash prices. This renders them practically INTEREST BEARING LAND WARRANTS.

SINKING FUND. The proceeds of all sales of lands are required to be devoted to the re-purchase and cancellation of the First Mortgage Bonds of the Company. The Land Grant of the Road exceeds Fifty Million Acres. This immense Sinking Fund will undoubtedly cancel the principal of the Company's bonded debt before it falls due. With their ample security and high rate of interest, there is no investment, accessible to the people, which is more PROFITABLE OR SAFE.

EXCHANGING U. S. FIVE-TWENTIES. The success of the New Government 5 per cent. Loan will compel the early surrender of United States 6 per cents. Many holders of Five-Twenties are now exchanging them for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties, thus realizing a handsome profit and greatly increasing their yearly income.

OTHER SECURITIES. All marketable Stocks and Bonds will be received at their highest current price in exchange for Northern Pacific Seven-Thirties. INTEREST ON MONEY or Bonds received, and on Seven-Thirties sent in return, will be paid by the Financial Agents. Full information, maps, pamphlets, etc., can be obtained on application at any agency, or from the undersigned.
