LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

THEATRE.—This evening will be presented a new comedy by W. S. Gilbert Esq., entitled "Ranald's Thumb," in which Mr. P. Margate will appear as "Joe Bangles," Miss E. Coudock as "Edith Temple," Miss Adams as "Miss Spinn," and Mrs. A. Clavson as "Mrs. Flambro."—Every evening, Thomas, Dudley and others of the company also appear.

BEN MEETING.—Wilford Woodruff, Pres. ident, and A. M. Musser, Secretary of the Association for the Cultivation of Stock, Bess, &c., desire to announce that a Bee Meeting will be held March 4th, commencing at 10 a.m. at the 14th Ward School-house. All interested in Bee-keeping are invited to attend.

HARD ON SUAN.—An exchange remarks that Susan B. Anthony affirms that 45,000 people have heard her lecture on the "social evil." It thinks this may be true, but that it was bad enough for them to have heard her without being twitted about it.

OUR PECULIAR CIVILIZATION.—All over the country men, and sometimes women, are constantly shooting and stabbing each other to death on the most trivial pretext, or on no pretext at all, but only without legal punishment, but often without any appreciable loss of social position or of public esteem. Of course much of this homicidal activity is due to the great and deplorable laxity in the enforcement of the law relative to the carrying of concealed weapons. But this habit furnishes only the ready means—perhaps also the ready suggestion, it is the demoralization of the public opinion itself on the subject which nourishes the homicidal spirit. And if men, at their own caprice, are to continue to be able to shoot one another down in our public places and go unpunished, as every day happens, now in New York, now in San Francisco, now in Washington, now in Memphis—we cannot but blame the critic who finds our civilization peculiar. Rather we should sorrowfully confess to ourselves that we have no longer any claim to be called a civilized people.—New York Citizen.

SEANDINAVIAN FORAMNINGS.—Efternoon Elsterne, John Van Cott, Jesse N. Smith, W. W. Cluff, O. N. Liljequist, or C. A. Madsen, ville bivaane vor Forsamling naste Onsdag aften saa vil vor Sadvanlige Forsamling blive afholdt i 13de Ward's Forsamling—Lokale, kl. 7:30 for 1 Serventia Hall, Onsdag aften kl. 7.

THE MORMON QUESTION.—Washington, Feb. 2.—The Salt Lake dispatch, alleging that the government has been misled by the Utah attorney, Bates, is not confirmed at the Attorney General's office. Mr. Bates presented the Attorney General certified copies of the court proceedings in Utah, and upon these records the government ordered the application of admission to bail to be heard. Bates appears to have the entire approval of the law officers of the government for every official action. The Senate Territorial Committee will report a resolution authorizing an inquiry into the entire law and the fact that the Mormon legal complications.—Chicago Post.

A SNOW.—Saturday evening was cold, Sunday morning was snowy. Probably a foot of snow fell, though by evening not more than half that was left. The heaviest snow storm of the season, so far as we recollect. Clear and beautiful this morning.

WHICH DOES HE FAVOR?—"From conversations with many of you whom I believe to be gentlemen of integrity and honest religious convictions, from what I know of your history, your personalities, trials and privations for your religion, I am not prepared to believe without a revelation that property has so weakened your faith as to trade off a divine ordinance for a tinkling cymbal."

"I entertain too much respect for you, and so does the Christian world, to believe you are sincere, if you make the sacrifice, unless new light conscientiously guide you. Once lose the respect of the world, and for honest devotees to your faith, and you are gone, gone, gone, like Lucifer never to rise."

"Your very steadfastness to your faith amid the trying difficulties which encompassed you, like the still and calm, found judgment in thousands of honest hearts all over the world."

"What will history say? What will the world say of a convention composed almost entirely of Latter-day Saints, among whom are six apostles and twenty bishops, ready and willing to sacrifice one of their divine ordinances for the sake of a 'world government'?"

The above is extracted from a speech made by Judge Hayden in the Territorial Convention. After enunciating such sentiments, he offered the following as being the first among a number of principles he desired to see engrained on the constitution of the proposed State of Deseret:

"Prohibition of polygamy hereafter with heavy penalties, making dishonourment of all political rights for a lifetime."

Further confiding, to say the least.

THE BARRON MURDER.—Judge Hays Harrison writes from Sheffield, England, January 27. He was in good health and spirits, and never felt better in the work of God, enjoying himself much in his labors. The Saints were poor but very kind, everywhere pleased to meet him, and desirous to gather to Zion. Their faith was good, and they were trying to save money for their emigration, though anxiously looking to Zion for assistance. Some of them had been more than 30 years in the church and working "in the harvest" all the time, good saints, but poor. Work was good in some trades, like the shoemaking, and there was a prospect of baptism. The newspapers were quiet generally with regard to "Mormonism," having been evidently discredited in the surrender of President B. Young for trial on the charges trumped up against him, as they did not expect it.

None of the Saints are complaining that their friends in Utah did not write to them. Elder David John writes from Memphis, January 24. His health was good, and so far as he knew, the missionaries were well. He says of the work in Wales, "Generally we are kindly treated, our halls well crowded during service hours, many seek to understand the truth, the future that better than ever, and we anticipate a large emigration this coming summer."

A Mr. and Mrs. HARRISON, correspondent sends us the following:

"Enemies without and traitors within.—A wagon laden with newly baptized converts, passed through a nightingale wood. The sun shone upon the steel, and the trees of the forest trembled at the sight. 'Who will protect us?' These words will level us all. Thus did they come, and the angels left leaves with anguish. But an oak or many years replied, 'Fear not, if none of you lend hands to these axes, these blades can do you no injury.'"

dear to obtain a chance to speak to the people. At one he had the privilege of speaking. A "school marim" then invited him to preach in her school house, which he did to a full house, with good attention inside but some confusion outside. The audience voted to hear him again, so he preached there the next evening to a full house, with good attention in the house, but yelling and shouting outside, with an evident purpose to break up the meeting. One of the directors reproved the mob outside and they subsided. The next day Elder Hancock heard many expressions of approval of the principles of his discourses.

GROWING AND WHINING.—There is audible growling and the meanest kind of whining over the result of the late election in Utah because the carpet-bagging mercenaries who infest that Territory were outvoted by its real citizens.—Omaha Herald.

Special Notices.

A NEW NATIONAL BANK.—The advt of the Salt Lake City National Bank, successors to Messrs. A. W. White & Co., appears in our columns. This is the fourth Banking house, and second National Bank started in our City within the last three or four years, and speaks largely for the commercial interests of our growing community.

B. M. DuRell, Esq., late president of the First National Bank of Idaho, is president and our well known townsman, A. W. White, Esq., formerly of the firm of A. W. White & Co., is cashier. The names of several of our well-known residents will be found among the Directors. This house will transact all kinds of legitimate Banking business, and deal in Gold and Silver bullion and ores.

INSURANCE.—To parties desiring insurance on property, we would refer them to the advertisement of the Home Mutual Insurance Company of California. By their yearly statement for 1871, furnished us by their agent in our city, Mr. H. R. Mann, we glean the following:—The company has a chartered capital of $1,000,000 with a paid up capital of $750,000. Their assets amount to nearly $800,000. Their liabilities to $1,200. Their income for last year was $22,307, while they paid for losses on fire and marine insurance $12,148.85. These figures speak well for the substantial condition of the company.

LEA & FERRIN'S SAUCE.—Pronounced by Connoisseurs "THE ONLY GOOD SAUCE." It improves Appetite and Digestion, and it is unrivaled for its flavor.

We are directed by Messrs. Lea & Ferrin to procure all parties making or vending counterfeits.

"CALIFORNIA FRUIT."—Since the introduction here of the Canned Fruits of Messrs. Cutting & Co., similar Goods of Eastern Manufacture are disappearing from the Shelves of our Grocers.

SLABS! SLABS!—Teams wanted to haul Slabs on shares. Also a few men to cut and slide Timber. Apply at the Utah Lumber Yard.
