

spoonfuls of it than their features become relaxed, and they come to their senses; the next day the improvement is such as to leave no doubt that the article is just the specific needed. Under its influence the stupor is dispelled and the patient rouses from the state of somnolency in which he has been since the invasion of the disease; soon, all the functions take their natural course, and he enters upon convalescence. Dr. Guillaume gives to an adult two or three tablespoonfuls of strong black coffee every two or three hours, alternated with one or two tablespoonfuls of claret or Burgundy wine—a little lemonade or citrate of magnesia to be taken daily, after a while quinine.

The Deseret Agricultural & Manufacturing Society's list of premiums for the Fair, to take place on the third of October, is published in pamphlet form, and being distributed among the people. All who intend to compete, ought to get one and read it. The coming Fair should, and we believe will be, the best ever held in the Territory. The Society is doing its best to make the Fair a success; the public should see and the effort. Among the special premiums offered, it has been remarked by several persons, that only certain breeds of cows were named, nothing being said about native or mixed strains. But we find in this pamphlet under the head of Class G.—Cattle—"Cross Grades or Natives. Best milk cow, diploma." And also under Sweepstakes—"Milk Cow of any age or breed, with a certified statement of the greatest number of pounds of butter produced in seven consecutive days, etc.—Gold Medal." Now come on with your cows and utter, and let us see how much you can beat the Durhams and Devons and Jerseys.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

FROM FRIDAY'S DAILY, SEPT. 9.

The Last Company.—The last company of Saints, of this season's emigration from Europe, will leave Liverpool on the 22d of October.

Information Wanted.—The Milnerian Star of Aug. 22 has the following: "Isaac Su left, who emigrated to Utah, from Sunderland, in 1899, will please communicate with his brother, Newby Suttle. Address, 4 Church Street, Corn Hill, Southwark, near Sunderland, England."

Prisoner Recaptured.—Fred. Wilson, alias "Cockey," one of the runaways from the Salt Lake County Jail, has been recaptured. He is the partner of Richardson, the boot-black, who gave himself up on the day following the escape and the two, both of them mere ads, were awaiting trial for burglary on Barton & Co's. clothing store. Wilson was retaken this morning, at the residence of his parents, in the eastern part of the city, by Captain Part and another officer. No laws yet from the rest of the runaways.

The Georgia Mission.—Elder Samuel Bills, of Fairview, Sanpete County, returned last evening from a mission to the Southern States, upon which he started October 2nd, 1890. His labors were confined to the State of Georgia, where he traveled in company with Elder S. Stevens, of Ogden, until last January, and thenceforth with Elder W. J. Packer, of Brigham, Box Elder County. They traversed principally the counties of Haralson, Polk and Floyd, preached wherever opportunity presented, and distributed gospel tracts and copies of the DESERET NEWS. The latter, Brother Bills states, is of great benefit to the missionaries in their work. He baptized six persons himself, and assisted in performing that ordinance for eleven others. Hostile feeling was manifested in some places, but he met many friends nevertheless. Preachers stir up most of the persecution, Methodists and Hardshell Baptists being the most actively malicious. Elders Packer, Bills and Walter Scott, Provo, built a meeting house, 18 by 22 feet in dimensions, in Haralson County, cutting the timber and doing the work themselves, and held meetings therein about two Sundays in each month. There is a branch of the Church there. Elder Bills returns feeling well, has much enjoyed his mission, and is thankful he was called to perform the work he has accomplished. He left for his home in Fairview at 2 p. m., yesterday.

Struck by a Falling Tree.—A young man named James Thomas

Edwards, 20 years of age, residing in the 11th Ward, returned by the noon train yesterday, from Irwin, Colorado, where he met with a most distressing accident on the 16th ult. He was working on the Denver and South Park Railroad, 320 miles west of Denver, and was engaged in clearing timber for the grade. While felling a large tree, it came down, and striking a smaller one, both descended with great force. His companions shouted to him to apprise him of his danger, and he endeavored to escape, but unluckily in his haste, ran immediately under the falling timbers. He was stricken down, and undoubtedly would have been crushed to death, had it not been for the fact that he was lying on his back, and the trees lodged upon a stump intervening between them and the prostrate workman. As soon as possible he was picked up by his comrades, and carried in an overcoat to the camp, about three quarters of a mile distant. Dr. E. C. Reid attended the sufferer, whose back, he said, had been dislocated. It being evident that he would have to be brought home, Brother Daniel Braby, of the 10th Ward, in the employment of the same contractor (D. A. Saunders, of Farmington,) kindly took charge of the injured youth, and accompanied him to this city. They left Irwin by team last Friday, and traveled 25 miles to Gunnison, Col., where they took train for Denver, a distance of about 290 miles. Martin Florida got their time checks cashed for them at this point, procured a reduction in their railroad fare, and treated them kindly in various other ways. The workmen at the camp and the Railroad Company did all in their power to render the sufferer as comfortable as possible, the R. R. Co. paying Dr. Reid's charges ($120) and also their traveling expenses. They continued by rail from Denver to Salt Lake, and arrived yesterday, as stated. Brother Braby took the best possible care of his charge, all the way. Edwards was a steady, industrious young man, and his misfortune is to be deeply regretted. He has remained conscious throughout, but is paralyzed from his waist downwards. Dr. J. M. Benedict has been called to ascertain the nature and extent of his injuries.

FISH CULTURE.

CARP FOR UTAH.

The time has come for persons requiring carp-fish for stocking the public waters of this Territory in the coming season to send in their names and applications to the undersigned, or to the local fish commissioners for the respective counties, who will oblige by sending in a report during the current month. Only D. B. Funk, Esq., fish commissioner for Sanpete County has sent in the required report, in which the names of five parties besides the commissioner are shown to be in a position to receive carp for stocking fish-ponds in that county. Names of persons already on the list of applicants will be retained unless otherwise directed.

JOSEPH L. BARFOOT,
Fish Commissioner,
P.O. Box 332, Utah Territory.
Salt Lake City.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY, SEPT. 10.

Premature.—The Logan Leader announces the sale of the Mammoth coal beds, on Bear River, near Granger, Wyoming. We are authorized to state that the statement is premature. No such sale has yet been consummated.

Another One Bagged.—W. W. Forbes, the Denver and Rio Grande embezzler, one of the prisoners who escaped from the County Jail last Sunday afternoon, was recaptured this morning by officers John Y. Smith and Wm. Salmon. He was found in the attic of a disreputable haunt in an alley opposite the Walker House, and was snugly ensconced in a room alone by himself. He had his beard shaven, but was detected by the expression of his eye. "He's got a eye like a eagle." The police knew that he had been a habitue of the place in reference, and on learning that he was in town, knew immediately where they could place their hands upon him. He had been south as far as Sandy, in company with Smith and Reynolds, the two prisoners yet at large, but was known to have returned to town. He was arrested at 4 o'clock this morning. Three of the five runaways are now in custody, and all have been taken by the police. If the County don't hurry up, the City officers will capture all of them.

A Word to Correspondents.—A short time since we received a communication from Clifton, stating that the name of that town had been changed to Cannonville, and requesting the correction of an indefinite error in relation thereto which had appeared in a former edition of this paper. Not understanding the full purport of the missive, we made no allusion to the correction, but merely announced the fact of the misnomer having been made, and supposing the place in question to be Clifton, Idaho, so stated. It now appears that Clifton, Iron County, was meant by our correspondent, who writes again requesting this new error to be corrected. We say this much in relation to a small matter in order to show newspaper correspondents how matters are apt to get mixed unless in their writings they are particular about giving full names, dates and other needful minutiae. We are aware that an editor is popularly supposed to know the exact name, age and birth-place of each of his subscribers, the dimensions of the house each reader lives in, and the full pedigree of all his ancestors, but such is really not the case. When a correspondent writes that "John" did so and so, we are not at all certain whether it is John Smith or John Jones that did it, and are therefore compelled either to omit mentioning it altogether, or give a blind guess and make a big blunder. Again when a man writes that such and such an event occurred "down here, yesterday," and then forgets to date the letter or name the place from which it was written, we are in a quandary equally as embarrassing, and though ever so anxious to oblige our correspondent by putting his item in print, are obliged to suppress it or else render him and the paper ridiculous by giving it publicity. It is often the same when the name of a town is given without its county, especially when there are two towns of the same name as in the case cited. Volume might be added upon this subject, but would only point the same moral, which, in brief is as follows: Consider newspaper men as knowing no more than ordinary people, (which by the way is simply the truth) and in dealing with them act rigidly upon that principle. Selah!

Funeral of Elder David J. Taylor.—We publish in another column the substance of a telegram from Brothers R. J. Taylor and A. E. Hyde, to the effect that the remains of Elder D. J. Taylor will arrive here on Tuesday evening. In view of this having been definitely determined, it has been decided to hold the funeral services on Wednesday, the 14th inst., at 12 o'clock, noon, in the 14th Ward Assembly Rooms.

Water on the Brain.—The infant daughter of Brother E. B. Tripp, afflicted with dropsy or water on the brain, whose case we mentioned some time since, died at 11 a. m. today. Since its birth, six different operations have been performed upon it by Dr. W. F. Anderson, and about a quart of water removed from the head each time. The little patient finally succumbed to the disease in spite of all the efforts put forth in its behalf.

Fair Matters.—The prospects for the Territorial Fair are continually brightening, and the officers of the D. A. & M. Society, who have it in preparation, are still working busily in its interests. At their meeting on Saturday evening, among other things in relation to the Fair, it was decided that the special premium of $20, heretofore offered by Mr. McKimmin, by his consent, be awarded to the best three year old Utah raised stallion or filly, exhibited to harness and rule; the successful competitor, however, to have the privilege of taking a gold medal instead of the money, at his option.

Bishop Edward Hunter, it was reported, has offered a special premium of $10, to be awarded to the person exhibiting the best six Morroco skins—two of each color, red, white and blue—the skins to have been tanned and finished in Utah.

Fires.—Yesterday morning, about 10 o'clock, the alarm of fire sounded, and it was soon ascertained that the cause was located in the upper part of the Contributor building, in a room occupied by Dr. Ellis R. Hipp. The flames started mysteriously in a box containing paper, which was burned up. The walls and wood work of the room also, were slightly damaged. The blaze was put out by Hon. D. H. Wells and other, with buckets, before the brigade could reach the scene.

About 1 p. m. today the bell again pealed forth, for a fire which had started on the premises of Dr. John Wesley, in the 3rd Ward. The firemen had ample opportunity to exercise, this time, and did some hard and effective service. A barn, hay stack, straw and chaff stacks, a large quantity of grain, and some fencing were consumed. It is supposed the flames were started by children with matches. The firemen were at work on the smouldering piles until 3 o'clock.

Passed Away.—Sister Harriet B. Knowlton, the aged widow of the late Sidney A. Knowlton, and mother to Messrs. B. F. and J. Q. Knowlton, an also to Mrs. W. H. Hooper, of this city, died at Farmington, on Saturday evening, at ten minutes past 8 o'clock, at the residence of her son, B. F. Knowlton, Esq. Her own house is in the 19th Ward of this city, and for some time she had lived with her daughter, Mrs. Hooper. The family, on starting for Soda Springs a few weeks ago, were very anxious for her to accompany them, but not feeling well enough to undertake the trip, she concluded to visit her son's family in Farmington, until the party returned. While there the recent radical change in the weather gave her a severe cold, which developed into pneumonia, and being very feeble and at the advanced age of 84 years, she finally succumbed to her illness. Her remains were brought to Salt Lake last evening, and the funeral services will take place at the residence of Hon. Wm. H. Hooper, at 3 p. m. on Wednesday the 14th inst. We extend our deepest sympathy to all who are called upon to mourn, but are assured that Sister Knowlton, after a long life of usefulness, has passed to a sphere of happiness, where pain and sorrow are known no more forever.

Accidentally Shot.—From the Ogden Herald we learn of a dangerous, perhaps fatal, accident which befel Mr. John Ford, of that city, on Saturday morning, while out, duck hunting. He was alone. He crossed to the west side of the Weber River, traveled up the bottoms to "Burton Bend," where in a slough he saw a flock of ducks. He fired and killed two of the birds. He then reloaded his gun with Nos. 3 and 4 duckshot, placed it muzzle upwards in a slanting position against some brush, went to the water and procured his game. On again reaching the place where he left his firearm, he stood on a slight elevation, and reached down to take it, when he found the butt end had become entangled in the brush, and while extricating it, the hammer was accidentally raised, and fell again. The gun was discharged and the contents entered the right side of his body just below the nipple. Mr. Ford, with determined energy, started for home, wading the river to the east side, reaching which he fell from exhaustion. He placed his hat upon a stick, took out a pencil and paper, intending to describe the accident, fearing he was about to die. He, however, rallied and struck across Emmett's field, near the Vinegar Works, when he saw Mr. Wm. Hill, with a team, whom he hailed, and by whom he was taken to his home. He received medical attendance, but was in a critical condition at last accounts.

Fatal Shooting at the Park.—A fatal shooting affray took place at Park City, yesterday about noon, in which a man named Frank O'Reil-ley, foreman of, or as another report has it, a contractor on the Empire Mine, was shot and killed by G. W. Scott, engineer at the same mine. Scott was brought to the city last evening, and passed the night in the City Jail. This forenoon he was taken before U. S. Commissioner Sprague, but waived an examination and was committed to await the action of the grand jury. Scott's version of the affair is about as follows: He had previously had some trouble with O'Reiley, and had determined to leave his position. On going into the company's office yesterday, to get his time check, he met O'Reiley, who immediately began abusing him. He replied that he wanted nothing to do with him, that if he could not be at peace he would throw up his situation, etc., etc. O'Reiley then applied a very abusive epithet, coupled with the remark that a man who would not resist such an insult, was not fit to live. At the same time he made a movement to draw his knife, accompanied by a deadly threat. Scott then grabbed O'Reiley's arm, and drawing his own pistol, shot his opponent dead. While retreating from the place, he encountered O'Reiley's father, who asked him what he had shot his son for. Scott replied that he was compelled to do so, in self-defense and passed on. The old man called on him to stop, and added that he could shoot, too. Scott, not wishing to be again embroiled, ran off, and after being shot at five times by the old gentleman, finally surrendered himself to the proper officers and as he was fearful of the mob, requested to be taken to Salt Lake, which was accordingly done. We give his as Scott's side of the story, not having been able to learn any additional facts in time for to-night's paper.

"You Don't Know Their Value."

"They cured me of Ague, Billiousness and Kidney Complaint, as recommended. I had a half bottle left which I used for my two little girls, whom the doctors and neighbors said could not be cured. I am confident I should have lost both of them one night if I had not had the Hop Bitters in my house to use. I found they did them so much good I continued with them, and they are now well. That is why I say you do not know half the value of Hop Bitters, and do not recommend them highly enough."—B. Rochester N. Y.
