PRICE BAKING POWDER CO., CHICAGO.

The city council at its meeting last night took steps towards the construction of an additional canal from the Jordan river, which, if found feasible, will be constructed above the present canal and furnish water to the farmers in Big and Little Cottonwood, with a view to exchanging Utah lake water for the waters of the two Cottonwood creeks. The sum of $2,500 was appropriated with which to make the necessary surveys for the canal, and if the matter is found feasible, negotiations for the exchange of waters between the city and the Parley's creek water owners, will be undertaken. The resolution providing for the appropriation was introduced last week by President Hewlett and was referred to the special water committee. This committee met in executive session in its room at the city hall, just before the council meeting, and thoroughly considered the matter and agreed that the proposed plan be perfected it will result in a very substantial increase of the city water supply at a comparatively moderate cost. The flow of the two Cottonwood creeks is sufficient to meet the demands of this city for years to come and the water is of a very fine quality, too. Should it be ascertained that a canal can be headed high enough

The first of said installments being due and payable in one month from date of levy, the second in two months and the third in three months, and that the resolution heretofore passed regarding 75 per cent of the whole amount of any public improvement to be collected before the said work can be ordered be modified to read 33 1/3 per cent instead of 75 per cent, and that the city treasurer be instructed to enforce the lien of all special assessments by levy and sale of real will create conditions worse even than those existing in the past. Many cases have come to notice where the bills for incandescent service have amounted to half as much as the rent of the houses where they were used. The frequent breakdowns on the railway service sometimes causes disturbance on different sections of the lighting service. The entire system does not seem to be properly protected against lightning. and personal property in accordance with the statutes."

AFTER TELEPHONE COMPANY.

Tomorrow night, at 7:30 o'clock, the council will meet as a committee of the whole and consider the matter of compelling the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone company to pay a license for its telephones. At the present time the company furnishes the city with a certain number of free telephones in lieu of any license. The proposed change was brought about by the company submitting a bill of $350 for the police alarm boxes. The bill is three years old, and it was claimed by several councilmen that it was wiped out by the company when the city entered into a new contract two years ago. It was suggested by some that in order to settle the matter once and for all, the city should enter into a different arrangement altogether, and pay for its telephone service and compel the company to pay a license for each telephone. The matter will therefore be considered at length on Thursday evening.

FOR AN ELECTRICAL INSPECTOR.

Mayor Morris vetoed the appropriation of $150 to O. H. Skidmore, the electrical engineer, whose report on the improvements committee, both of which were referred to the mayor: To the Honorable President and Members of the City Council: Your committee has the honor to advise you that it has not yet received a report from the committee on the improvements committee, both of which were referred to the mayor: To the Honorable President and Members of the City Council: Your committee has the honor to advise you that it has not yet received a report from the committee on the improvements committee, both of which were referred to the mayor:

the franchise is much higher than the average rate throughout the country. While the company charges 15 cents per kilowatt hour, the maximum allowed by their franchise, private electric light plants in this city, operated by steam power, are running at a cost of less than four cents per kilowatt hour, and a new plant of some magnitude has been contracted for with a guarantee that the service will not cost to exceed three cents per kilowatt hour. We believe that it is the duty of the county to compel the Light & Railway company to live up to its contracts and the requirements of the franchise granted by the city, and for the purpose of doing so we would recommend that the city attorney be instructed to draw up an ordinance creating the office of and providing the duties of an electrical inspector of Salt Lake City, and the duties required of such inspector, we would suggest, would be the inspection and testing, from time to time, of meters in use by the Light & Railway company, the inspecting and watching of the city street lighting, the issuing of permits for and the inspecting of all electrical wiring done within the city limits. It is our opinion that the creation of such an office would go further toward correcting the evils now existing than anything else that might be done.

PAVING TAX REFUND.

A communication was received from City Auditor Felt, which stated that the sum of $10,766.34 is ready to be refunded to the abutting property owners on West South Temple street, being the amount collected in excess of the actual cost of paving the street. A list of property owners and the amount to which each is entitled was also submitted. Upon motion of Fernstrom the amounts opposite each name on the list were ordered placed on the appropriation list to be refunded to the property owners.

FERNSTROM'S AMENDMENT.

Upon motion of Fernstrom, Mayor Morris vetoed the Fernstrom amendment to the ordinance prohibiting women from visiting wine rooms within the city limits between the hours of 7

P. m. and 7 a. m. so as to permit women to beer garden at the Salt Palace between the prohibited hours, was laid over for one week. There was considerable argument over allowing the Salt Palace a privilege which is denied all saloons in the city. Fernstrom thought that he could fix up the amendment so that it would be satisfactory to the mayor, council and the public in general, so the entire matter went over for a week.

A FLAGMAN WANTED.

The following resolution, introduced by Black, was referred to the committee on streets for consideration: Whereas, it has been demonstrated by many accidents that the street crossing at Sixth East and East Third South is very dangerous to the public; therefore, be it Resolved, That the Consolidated Railway & Power company is hereby required to maintain a flagman at the intersection of Third South and Sixth East during Sundays and holidays between the hours of 1 p. m. and 9 p. m., from May 1 to Sept. 10.

MAYOR'S VETO SUSTAINED.

The veto of Mayor Morris to the payment of a bill submitted by the McCoy stables for $50 for horse hire for Dr. Stewart, former health commissioner, during the month of January was sustained by the council by a vote of 9 to 6. There was considerable question as to whether or not Dr. Stewart had authority from the former council to hire the horse, and the Democrats voted to sustain the mayor for that reason. City Auditor Felt submitted the department payroll for the last half of May, amounting in all to $3,127.87, which were referred for approval.

WHOSE FAIR IS IT?

Where Lies the Credit for the St. Louis Exposition.

As a rule, Americans are not slow in claiming anything for which they are entitled to credit. This rule not only applies to individuals but to literary circles, religious societies, political parties, states, territories and different sections of the country.

The Louisiana Purchase Exposition is so thoroughly a national and international project that it would be presumptuous on the part of any individual, any class, or particular location to lay claim to the entire result. A special personal glory for its accomplishment must, of course, forever rest on the head of President D. R. Francis, whose time, energy, intellect and resources have been devoted to the three years' task of promotion and organization, and who probably will not be completely out of harness for three years more.

St. Louis issued her stirring appeal and the whole country and about every agency of government responded; the harmonious result stands a shining mark on the page of the centuries and all who participate, rejoice.

But, although almost universal agencies contributed toward the success of the great exposition it remained for a single art to furnish the means whereby its glories are truthfully preserved for posterity.

That art is photography and its highest and best results are manifested in the work of the official photographer of the exposition whose indefatigable labors have borne richest fruit for generations yet to come.

Of course his work was supplemented by the printed page, but without photography a history of the Fair might prove dull reading.

As it is, the superb views secured together with the accompanying description afford a fascinating record, and remembrance of the event.

This record is "The Forest City" World's Fair Art Portfolio; it comprises the highest efforts of the official photographer and the best literary work of the distinguished journalist, Mr. Walter B. Stevens, secretary of the Exposition.

NOBLE WOMAN GONE.

Pioneer of Cache Valley Passes to Her Final Rest.

A good and noble woman, in the person of Mrs. Anne Pulsipher James, and a former resident and pioneer of Cache county, passed away to her final rest Tuesday, May 24, at her home in Farmers ward. The deceased was born in Shropshire, England, in 1825; joined the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in 1848, and emigrated to the valley of Salt Lake, crossing the plains with the handcart company in 1847. She was married to Ezekiel Pulsipher in 1859, but her husband died the following year, and she afterwards married David James and was an honored member of his family for over 40 years. Having no children of her own, she acted the part of a mother to many and was known as "Auntie" by scores of children (now men and women) who will ever rever her memory.

Her funeral was held at Farmers ward meetinghouse, Thursday, May 26. Remarks were made by Elders James Bishop, a boyhood friend and neighbor, who bore testimony to her integrity to the Gospel, Elders Joshua H. Stewart and the bishopric of Farmers ward, who predicted for her a glorious resurrection with the just.

YOUR BRAIN NEEDS BLOOD

Business man tells his experience. I suffered for many years from loss of energy and ambition. I experienced dizzy pains and severe bilious headache. For days I would be incapacitated from attending to business. All food tasted the same to me. I took one package of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets and was wonderfully benefited. Since that time I have never been without them. When I feel any of the distressing symptoms mentioned above I take the tablets as directed and find myself substantially cured and now eat food that formerly I dared not touch. Charles M.
