GAMBLING STOPPED IN OGDEN

Military Drill Introduced in Night
School—North Weber Stake
Conference Tomorrow.

OGDEN, Sept. 25.—At the home of her sister, Mrs. C. S. Mitchell, at 215 Twenty-sixth street, Mrs. Amanda Gilmore of Roscoe, Pa., cut her throat yesterday morning at 8:30 with a 14-inch cake knife and expired within a few minutes without uttering a single word of explanation for the awful deed. The act was evidently done in a sudden fit of dementia. Mrs. Gilmore, who was 52 years of age, had been visiting with her sister since Aug. 12, and as she became homesick, all arrangements were made for her return home, and tickets had even been procured so that she could leave today. She complained of having a pain in the back of her head during the last few days, and once told her sister that she had previously suffered from an abscess at the base of her brain and that it almost drove her crazy. She intimated that when she suffered from the abscess she felt like cutting her throat. During Thursday night she was restless and at breakfast yesterday morning seemed to be nervous and downhearted. After breakfast she went to her room and within a few minutes rushed out screaming. She had thrown an apron about her neck. Dr. A. A. Robinson was summoned, but the woman was beyond medical aid, as the jugular vein was completely severed. Mrs. Gilmore is survived by a husband and a daughter at Roscoe, Pa., and her sister, Mrs. C. S. Mitchell of this city. The body was removed to Lindquist's undertaking parlors and is being prepared for shipment to Pennsylvania.

(Special Correspondence.)
SPRINGVILLE, Sept. 25.—A mass meeting was held by the citizens of Springville protesting against the action of the city council who has advertised the sale of 130 acres of the city pasture to raise money to establish waterworks for the city. A lively discussion ensued for two hours, and it was decided by a vote of 104 to 25 not to sell the pasture land for the purpose.

A committee of three was appointed to wait upon the council and notify them of the wishes of the people, asking them to defer the sale. The committee advertised for Sept. 30, and if the council refuses to stay its action to bring injunction proceedings against it. Many are in favor of having the waterworks, but are not willing to dispose of the city pasture or any part of it, because they claim it has been such a boon to the people, there being about 600 head of cows and horses grazing there this season, although the high waters in the lake covered many acres of this pasture this year.

MERRY-GO-ROUND DISTURBS PEACE OF BEAVER

(Special Correspondence.)
BEAVER, Beaver Co., Sept. 25.—For about two weeks Beaver has been afflicted with a merry-go-round, accompanied with changes, placed right in the center of the business districts. This would not have been so bad in itself but from the fact that the municipal authorities permitted the contrivance to run on the Sabbath, despite the fact that the house ordinance provides that no performance shall be held on Sunday. The affair has been brought to the notice of the mayor and the marshal repeatedly without any result.

Failing to get a stop to the arrangement and after the matter became unbearable as the merry-go-round was being conducted on Sunday evening, a prominent citizen entered a complaint against the owner of the machine for disturbing the peace. The justice of the peace, after informing the defendant that there was no cause against him in the ordinance, asked for his plea, which was guilty. The justice then had the temerity to impose a paltry fine of $1. Other owners may take the warning and avoid decoration of the Sabbath.
