

Local and Other Matters.

FROM FRIDAY'S DAILY, OCT. 23.

Teachers' Examination.—School teachers should remember that the board for the examination of school teachers will be in session at the University building in this city to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock, and during the day.

Locked Up.—Henry Spencer, the crazy young fellow who has been running around loose for some time, was taken to the City Jail last night and locked up, for safe keeping.

Paying Jurors.—We understand that Uncle Sam has just paid his proportion of the grand jurors' fees, for labor already done. The Territorial portion will, we understand, be also forthcoming, in due time.

Educational.—It will be seen by advertisement, in our Business Notice column, that the second term of the 20th Ward Seminary, Prof. K. G. Maeser, Principal, will open on Monday morning.

An elementary German class will be commenced on the evening of the same day at the University, under the same gentleman, whose ability as an educator is well known to be of a high order. A fine opportunity for young people to obtain an excellent general education at the seminary, and to learn German at the University.

Fracious Horses.—As a team and wagon were being driven up East Temple street this morning, when near the University building, one of the horses, a young and almost unbroken colt, commenced kicking and plunging most furiously. Two men and women were in the wagon at the time. The driver held the reins with great determination and steadiness, and baffled every effort of the horses to get up a first class runaway. Several bystanders assisted in unhitching the team, but the way that the colt jumped, kicked and plunged was a caution. The tongue of the wagon was broken, besides some other damage, and one of the animals hind legs appeared to be injured.

Unfair Competition.—A good many merchants and dealers of this city complain about each other injuring business by an unfair system of competition, such as selling some special articles at and even below original cost, in order to draw custom, when the amount lost in that way is made up from sales on other goods. It is also affirmed that there is a disposition on the part of some to make "corners" of home produce, having bought up large quantities when the figures were low, and selling now at about the same figures as they pay to producers for it, with a view to forcing the market by compelling others to leave the trade, when the articles can be run up to a high figure in the event of a scarcity, after they have bought up all they can.

Nothing like fair play and legitimate business; any other policy is ruinous to the general interests of the community.

Couldn't Stand Fire.—This morning, about half past two o'clock, a lady named Magee, residing in the Twelfth Ward, was aroused by hearing a little dog, which is kept in the house, barking and growling, as if at an intruder. Upon getting up to ascertain the cause she found one of the windows raised to its fullest extent, which increased her agitation considerably, as she was alone in the house with three small children, her husband being employed at a job in the country. Having secured the window and looked around the place, to make assurance doubly sure that there was nothing of a foreign element in the house, she retired to bed again, but not to sleep. In about half an hour after this occurred a gentleman friend of this lady's husband, who had been stopping for a few days with the family, but had been detained by business until this early hour, was proceeding in the direction of the house and upon nearing it he perceived a person crouching at the gate leading to the house, who, upon seeing that he was discovered, ran in a stooping posture, across the street, as if for the purpose of concealing his identity. Thinking all was not right the gentleman hurried in the direction of the house and arrived just in time to send a few shots after the scudding figure of another prowler, whom he disturbed.

As the parties decamped in such haste that they left neither card nor address, the gentleman is concerned to know whether they took any of the pills so kindly sent after them, but if they failed to receive them all they have got to do is, whenever they find their old complaint coming upon them, just let them go back to that same place again about the same hour, and there will be a few in readiness for them.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY, OCT. 24.

Fall Weather.—Considerably like fall weather to-day. Cold and storm threatening.

Marriage Certificate Found.—A gentleman left at this office, this morning, a marriage certificate, which he found on the street, of parties married in the parish of Southmolton, Devonshire, England. If this meets the eye of the owner or owners of the certificate they can have it by applying at this office.

Wales.—We have been permitted to peruse a letter from Elder Thomas F. Thomas, now in Wales on a mission, to Major H. Egan, dated Merthyr Tydvil, Sept. 16th. He states that a great deal of out-of-door preaching was being done which appeared to have a good effect, as many were believing the gospel. Twenty-seven had lately been baptized thereabout.

Fight Among Jail-Birds.—Last evening "Sailor Jack" and another City prisoner quarreled while at supper. "Jack" went for the cranium of his antagonist with a big iron spoon, the other retaliating with his fists. When the jailor appeared upon the scene blood, grease, and pieces of provender were flying around in every direction. Peace was soon proclaimed and order restored.

Sabbath-Breakers Fined.—Six lads were before Justice Pyper today, charged with running foot-races, betting, shouting and otherwise unlawfully conducting themselves on the Sabbath day, on Union Square. The case was clear against four of them and they were fined $2.50 apiece. The other two were discharged.

It is high time something was done to stop the shameful conduct of some of the youthful element of the masculine gender, not only on Sundays but also week days.

Need Elders.—William Hill, of Toms Creek, Surrey County, North Carolina, writes that there is great need of Elders thereabout. There are about thirty members of the Church there, a remnant of the branch raised up by Elder H. G. Boyle, while on a mission to the Southern States. The members are firm in the faith, but are in an unorganized condition at present and are therefore desirous of being visited by Elders from Utah that they may receive instructions.

The letter was only received this morning, notwithstanding that it is dated the 27th of June. Very slow mail business indeed.

Mutual Improvement.—Now that the winter season is approaching, mutual improvement associations, institutes, lyceums, etc., are beginning to open. This is right, people have generally a good deal of time during the long evenings of winter, aside from their daily avocations, which cannot be better spent than in improving the mind by engaging in intellectual pursuits. The young especially should seek to improve themselves in this way, and well conducted improvement societies are an excellent aid in that direction. Occasional innocent entertainments should be mixed with the other exercises, to render them more attractive to the young than they would be otherwise.

Sevier County.—This morning we were called upon by Brother O. C. Anderson, of Monroe, Sevier County, from whom we learn that about two-thirds of the people of that settlement have joined the United Order. Good crops have been raised, and since the people have been organized in a united capacity they have opened a new canyon road to a body of good timber and made other material improvements. Active steps are being taken with a view to the establishment of a woolen factory for the county, and also a tannery, by the United Order. The people are greatly encouraged, and feel much better than they did previous to the united organization. Elder Joseph A. Young, President of that Stake, is foremost in every enterprise, the material advancement of the County being greatly due to his example as well as counsel.

A Small Carnival.—There was a small carnival, "on the side," on East Temple Street, last night. We have it on excellent authority that one of our well known and most prominent newsdealers, who has carnival masks for sale, donned one and appeared on the sidewalk. This aroused the vengeful ire of a big dog, who appeared to consider the newsman a sample of a new species of the genus homo which had no right to a place on terra firma. Quick as thought the enraged canine sprang at him, and then there was a trial for speed between the pursuer and pursued. The newsdealer bounced into the store, and so did the dog. The clerks took in the situation at a glance, and, forming themselves into a solid phalanx, endeavored to beat off the furious brute, which seemed bent upon holding high carnival upon the pedal extremities of the newsdealer, by inserting his carnivorous fangs therein. After a "long and severe struggle," the dog was compelled to retreat. Before going it is probable, however, that he was struck with many ideas, as contained in bound volumes of philosophic productions.

A Free Seminary at Hoytsville.—The enterprising citizens of Hoytsville, Summit Co., have taken the initiatory steps for the establishment of a free seminary at that place. Messrs. Samuel P. Hoyt, and Alonzo Winters, of Hoytsville; Elias Asper, of Echo City; Ross R. Rogers and Henry Reynolds, of Wanship; and Ward E. Pack, James McCormick, Jesse Burbridge and John Lemon, of Kamas City, have been chosen trustees. Mrs. Emily S. Hoyt has been appointed manager and principal, with Mr. Hiram E. Hoyt as assistant; also Wm. Ryan teacher of penmanship, and John W. Simister teacher of vocal and instrumental music.

Mrs. Hoyt is a lady of culture and refinement, a graduate of the St. Lawrence Academy, New York, and is an experienced and competent teacher. Of the others we have abundant assurances of their qualifications for the position assigned them.

The Seminary Building is a commodious two story rock structure. The location is one of the healthiest and most eligible natural sites in the Territory, nearly in the center of Summit county and only eight miles from Echo City, one of the most noted stations on the Union Pacific Railroad. The Summit Co. Railroad brings the traveler within three miles of the Academy.

The friends of education throughout the country are solicited to aid in the laudable object.

Contributions addressed to Mrs. Emily S. Hoyt, Hoytsville, Summit County, Utah, will be gratefully received and duly accredited.

A free library has been commenced also in connection with the Seminary, for which Mr. Hiram E. Hoyt has been appointed solicitor. Ogden Junction, please copy.

The British Mission.—A conference of the Durham and Newcastle Conference was held, Sept. 13, in the Lecture Hall, Newcastle, Elder Archibald McFarland presiding. Present on the stand—Prest. Jos. F. Smith, Elders A. McFarland, David McKenzie, Henry Hughes, Hugh S. Gowan, and L. Holbrook. The audience was addressed by the above mentioned Elders. Meetings were held morning, afternoon and evening. The Hall was well filled at each meeting and the congregation was very attentive.

On Monday evening, Sept. 14, at a meeting held in the class room of the Mechanics' Institute, Jarro, Elder McKenzie and Prest. J. F. Smith addressed the people. There was a large attendance of strangers, many of whom could not gain admittance, owing to the hall being too full.

A lecture on plural marriage was delivered at the same place, Sept. 13, by Elder D. McKenzie, when a remarkably attentive audience assembled.

Elder E. N. Freeman wrote from Sheffield, Sept. 18th, to the Millennial Star that he and Elder Peter Barton were well. They held meetings at Beighton and Norman-ton Springs on the Sunday previous and had very good and attentive congregations. "On Brother Parkin telling the people at Beighton that the season for out-door preaching had expired, and we must discontinue our meetings there, one man spoke up, saying we were welcome to his house for that purpose. We thanked him, telling them that we would continue coming to see them."

Elder B. H. Watts wrote from Bristol Sept. 21. His health was good. Meetings were being held with good results. The Saints felt alive to their duties, and a lively interest was felt in the work by the young people.

Elder K. T. Burton wrote from London, Sept. 26—"We are all well and are endeavoring to do the best we can to forward the great cause of truth in our conference, wherever we think our labors will be the most available. I am much pleased to learn that we are soon to have more help from Zion; the field is large and the laborers are few. Our meetings in some of the branches are well attended, especially Sabbath evenings, and some are being added to the Church by baptism almost every Sunday, and thus, if not making such rapid strides, the cause of truth is steadily marching onward; the Saints are rejoicing in the gifts and blessings of the Gospel as enjoyed by the ancient people of God. On Wednesday, 23d, we organized a branch of the church at Deptford, and expect soon to organize another at Croydon. Elders Hardy and Carrington are now out preaching, and working with much zeal, earnestness and joy at the bright prospects of the latter-day kingdom."

NEW BOOKS.

"Epochs of History" is the title of a series of most excellent historical works now being issued by Scribner, Armstrong & Co., of New York, designed especially to supply to those who have but limited opportunities to study history, with the salient points and facts of the great historical epochs of the world.
