LOCAL BRIEFS.

Los Angeles Times: Word has been received from G. S. Holmes at Salt Lake, who is building the big hotel at Fourth and Spring streets, to the effect that in the spring-summer contest, "Angelus," the prize of the new hotel, was submitted by sixty-four applicants, and that the $150 prize money will be divided among them.

Thorwald Pullman of Mill Creek, who served with the Utah batteries in the Philippines, died of pneumonia at the county hospital at Laramie, Wyo., last Monday. A few days ago, staggering in the street, he was arrested for drunkenness, but it was discovered that weakness and disease were the cause of this untimely exit, and he was taken to the hospital.

G. W. Whitson, a Chicago traveling man, stopping at the Kenyon, came to grief yesterday in City Creek canyon. The drummer conceived the idea that about the coolest way he could pass the Fourth of July would be to drive up City Creek canyon, and accordingly he hired a buggy from McCoy's livery, and secured the company of a young lady. All went merrily until about two miles up the canyon the drummer and his lady encountered a team and wagon. In trying to pass one side of the buggy got tilted up, and the drummer and his lady were dumped on the ground. The horse ran about a mile up the canyon before it was caught with a badly demoralized buggy and harness.

LITTLE GIRL DRINKS LYE.

Daughter of Sam Jenkins of East Jordan Nearly Kills Herself.

The little 3-year-old daughter of Sam Jenkins, of East Jordan, took a swallow of lye Tuesday morning thinking it to be something good. The screams attracted the members of the family and some neighbors who made her drink a large quantity of olive oil. The child is now out of danger and is getting along very nicely.

RUSSELL HARDING

BACK TO DENVER.

General Manager and Third Vice President of Missouri Pacific.

WILL BE NO CONSOLIDATION

He Says that the Rio Grande Western Will Continue to Retain Its Identity as a Utah Road.

General Manager R. Harding, third vice president of the Missouri Pacific, returned to Denver this morning over the Rio Grande Western in private car 100. Prior to leaving this city after his few hours' stay here he expressed himself as being impressed with the possibilities and the future before Salt Lake, which he had not visited for a number of years. Mr. Harding again affirmed that his visit here was of no railroad significance and that he was not inspecting the Rio Grande Western which had now become part of the Missouri Pacific system. He said that there would be little change manifested to the public eye as a result of the purchase of the Western by the Missouri Pacific. The Rio Grande Western, he said, would continue to be operated as of yore and that there would be no through trains over the combined systems as had been anticipated in some quarters. Beyond the through cars that had been cut on some time ago there would be no further changes.

Russell Harding, who was made third vice president and general manager of the Missouri Pacific last week, has for years past been prominently identified with Western railroading in connection with the Hill and Gould lines. Among other positions he has held in that of general superintendent of the Great Northern.

DENVER PROPOSITION.

A. & P. Tunnel Scheme May Be Used in Connection With Clark Road.

Denver Times: The incorporation of the Denver & Salt Lake Tunnel, Railway & Mining company is a matter of more significance to Denver than appears on the surface, especially when the Clark road from the Pacific to Salt Lake is taken into consideration, in connection with the statement made on the same day that the Clark road might be built to Denver.

When Mr. Harriman told Senator Clark that he could not build his road to Salt Lake because the powers that be did not want it built, and that if he reached Salt Lake he could not get his freight haulage out of that city, it was very evident that he did not know Senator Clark or his capacity for business. Dozens of men in Denver and hundreds of men in Butte could have told him that Mr. Clark seldom takes hold of anything that he is not prepared to carry through.

The A. & P. tunnel is in the line which forms the most direct passage through the range. Two other routes have been mentioned. One passes through at the head of South Boulder creek, another at the head of Middle Boulder creek. But if the A. & P. tunnel is put through by the time Mr. Clark's road is ready for it the fact will be a strong inducement for the selection of that route, and the three routes proposed are covered by not to exceed twenty miles in an almost direct line.

That the tunnel will be built is assured by J. E. Ratchford of Syracuse, N. Y., and J. W. Snyder of New York City, both of whom are interested in the company, and left for the coast yesterday after a trip to the tunnel. The company will have no difficulty in securing all the money needed. In fact, all the money required is already assured. Nothing will be done this season except to get the company in shape for the commencement of operations, but next spring the work will start with a full equipment of machinery and a force of men sufficient to keep the route open at all times.

The estimated cost of the work is not far from $1,000,000. The exact distance through the mountain is four and one-eighth miles. Of this a little more than a mile has already been driven, leaving 16,500 feet to be constructed. A bid has been received from an Idaho contractor to build 10,000 feet for $600,000, and the remaining 6,500 feet will cost no more in proportion.

The tunnel will not be used for locomotives until it should be sold to a railroad company, the intention of the company being to operate it as a separate enterprise by electricity. An electric road will be installed next spring to bring the waste rock out, and the plan of operations is to haul the cars through by electricity and deliver them to locomotives at either end. The dimensions of the tunnel will be 13x12 feet—large enough to permit the passage of the largest sized furniture cars. The outer shell of the mountain has been pierced on this side through the hardest granite, and the breeze is now in the big porphyry dike which traverses the range and which is soft enough to permit rapid progress to be made.

A mining proposition the tunnel will be of great importance. Already several large veins have been cut that show assays of good values, and when operations are commenced some of the best of the veins will be drilled upon. It is thought by many who have examined these ore bodies that it will be but a short time before the output of these mines will pay the greater part of the expenses of driving the tunnel. Some of the veins which have been cut are of liberal size and good values and there is no doubt that they will be made very productive.

The railway features of the enterprise, however, of the most important nature at the present time. Neither the incorporation nor any of its others of the company will say anything in regard to an association with the Clark syndicate, but there is evident an understanding in the event that Mr. Clark should find it necessary to build to Denver. If Mr. Clark says that he will build to the Missouri river he will do so, and if he does he will find the railroad tunnel through the Rocky mountains ready for his trains.

ARE IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Directors of the San Pedro Road Arrive on the Pacific Coast.

San Francisco, July 5.—Several of the officers of the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake railroad have arrived here. In the party are United States Senator Thomas Kearns of Utah, a director of the company; R. C. Kerens of St. Louis, first vice president; J. Ross Clark, of Los Angeles, second vice president of the road; and T. E. Gibson of Los Angeles, third vice president and general counsel. They will leave for Los Angeles in a day or two. Senator Kearns said: "This road is going through without a fall and the work will be done as expeditiously as circumstances will permit."

Mr. Gibson said that the matter that had been occupying most of his time and attention on his present trip was the injunction proceedings brought by the Oregon Short Line to prevent his company from occupying the old abandoned Oregon Short Line grade in Lincoln county, Nev.

The case was tried before Judge Hawley in the S. circuit court at Carson City last week, but a decision has not yet been rendered.

Randolph Resigns.

San Francisco, July 5.—Epes Randolph, Supt. of the Southern Pacific company at Tucson, has tendered his resignation, to take place at the end of the present month. He has been offered the management of the Huntington Electric railroad interests in Southern California and will accept the responsibility.

FOURTH OF JULY ACCIDENTS

No Fatalities, but a Long List of Mishaps Some Severe Injuries.

There were many hysterical people in the city yesterday who just knew that some boy would get killed before the fireworks went off, but fate was on the side of the boys so far as any fatality is concerned, although it seemed in order to avert one of the laws of nature had to be reversed in several instances.

The most serious injury happened to James Goff, an operator in the Western Union telegraph office. A cannon cracker exploded near him and a portion of the shell struck him in the face with such violence that it tore open his lip and knocked two of his teeth out. He was attended by Dr. Behie, who took several stitches in his lip.

The fireworks on a stand in front of Koltz's store blew up last night when one of the sky rockets struck Jack Dunson, a twelve-year-old boy, in the face. The lad was taken to his home at the Argyle rooming house, where his wounds were dressed by Dr. Fisher.

Mrs. Lydia Brown was on a car going to her home at the corner of L and Third streets last night, when a large firecracker, lit by some one unknown, exploded near her. A portion of the shell struck her on the forehead, inflicting a painful wound. The shock and the pain startled her into unconsciousness for a short time. She was taken into the Goddard Pitts drug store, where Dr. Waters attended to her wounds.

A young Dalquist lad, who lives on the corner of First North and Second West streets, had his face and hand burned yesterday afternoon while touching off some powder. It was feared at first that his eyes had been put out, but his injuries, though painful, were not so serious as that.

James Dunson, son of W. E. Connell of south West Temple street, sustained severe burns in the face while trying to set off a cannon.

Harry Moss, an employee of Johnson & Smith's restaurant, is carrying a badly burned hand around with him, as the result of an unexpected explosion of a giant fire cracker at the Salt Palace yesterday afternoon.

The explosion of a toy cannon last night inflicted severe burns on the faces of Victor Hafen and Eddie Lusty, two lads living on Emerson avenue.

TRIED TO KILL HERSELF.

Mrs. J. Reggel Swallowed an Overdose of Laudanum.

The prompt arrival of Dr. Hanchett at 221 south Third West street, last evening, was all that saved the life of Mrs. J. Reggel, the wife of a laborer who is said to have left her and gone to Idaho because of domestic disagreements. While her sister was busy cooking the dinner, the unfortunate woman slipped out and bought a half-ounce bottle of laudanum. Her sister saw her swallow the contents of the bottle and alarmed the neighbors. Mrs. Reggel would give no reason for her attempt on her life, but it is said that brooding over the loss of her husband was the cause of her rash act.

TROOPS FOR FORT DOUGLAS.

Officers of Eighteenth Regiment With One Battalion Coming Here.

Fort Douglas is to again become the lively, thorough military post that it once was in the days of the Twenty-fourth. Society will receive an infusion of new blood and the business of the city will be stimulated by the arrival of the new troops. By a recent order of the war department, Fort Douglas will be the headquarters of the Eighteenth regiment, infantry and the Twelfth battery, also is the "Twelfth" battery. One battalion of the Eighteenth went to Manila in July, 1898, two companies sailing in the Colon with Utah batteries. A. The soldiers of the regiment have distinguished themselves for their brave and faithful service in the islands. Since the latter became quiet the companies have been garrisoning various towns in the Philippines.

Lieut. Brian H. Wells of this city was commissary officer of the regiment until 1900, when he was transferred to the Philippines. While there may be other changes among the officers, the staff was as follows at the time of General MacArthur's last report: Col. J. M. J. Sanner, Lieut. Col. William M. Van Horn, Maj. George N. Walker, Major Henry M. Adams, Maj. William B. Wheeler, Capt. Munroe McFarland, Capt. George W. Martin, Lieut. B. H. Wells, Lieut. Harold B. Fluke, Lieut. Edward S. Walton and Lieut. William F. Grote.

COPPER INDUSTRY DEVELOPMENT

A government publication says that copper consumption in the United States and Europe, attains its greatest magnitude within the past two years and a half, production being strained to keep pace with the necessities of its use. There have been times when production was hardly able to meet the demands of the legitimate trade. According to a German authority on the metal trade, in 1900 the 1890 census, production of copper aggregated about 275,000 metric tons, an increase of $200 tons as compared with the preceding year. Toward this total the United States contributed 268,300 tons.—Pittsburg Herald.

RESORTS FILLED TO OVERFLOWING

Every Point of Amusement is Visited by Thousands.

WELL BEHAVED MULTITUDE

Fourth of July Record Smashed at Saitair, Calder's Park, Salt Palace and Lagoon.

The Salt Lake public can perform the rare feat of turning out en masse, jostle together for hours and never get cross or disrespectful. This was demonstrated yesterday at Saitair where there were 10,000 people, at Lagoon, where there were over 4,000, at the Salt Palace where there were 5,000 and at Calder's where there were over 15,000 people. This is a remarkable record of a two-fold nature. It sets an unprecedented pace for numbers and is a rare performance for behavior. Saitair, the princely place in this broad land, never before entertained such a large crowd on the Fourth of July. But the vastness and old resort has become a warm friend and has graciously and healing waters are being more sought after every year.

Manager Latham very wisely put the trains on a twenty-five-minute schedule which proved to be a wise thing indeed, for every train was loaded to the grounds. Manager McCall also testified himself in seeing that his guests were comfortably taken care of. There were a number of deputy sheriffs at the beach, but they only came off with strained eyes and cramped necks, caused by looking in the faces of the bathers. The police approach to anything criminal during the day was a "peeping Harry," who was trying to look over the young ladies' bath room. In the evening he was escorted to the train and shipped into the city with a sharp admonition to stay there if he wanted to keep out of trouble.

Twice the bath room and bathing facilities were exhausted, and people had to wait. It was past one o'clock this morning when the last train reached the city from the beach.

CALDER'S PARK CROWDED.

Calder's Park was a compact mass of humanity from 10 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock in the evening. It is estimated that 15,000 people passed through the gates during the day. The races in the afternoon and the fireworks in the evening were the two chief attractions, and both were very pleasing.

THROUGH AT SALT PALACE.

Over 5,000 Salt Lakers thought they could best promote their happiness by going to the Salt Palace. And from appearance, they made no mistake in their choice. The crowd at the bicycle races was the largest of the season. Every inch of seating room was taken up and many had to stand. About 2,500 people witnessed the races. After the races the Palace was absolutely filled up with those who wanted to see the "Mikado," the old time favorite. The living pictures were inaugurated by the "Mikado" and the crowd thrice to the delirium of the crowds. The pictures are the finest of the kind that have ever been seen here, and will undoubtedly prove a great hit with the Salt Lake people. The truly artistic to his design and fortunate in securing handsome people to pose for her.

RECORD-BREAKER FOR LAGOON.

The authorities at Lagoon had about as many people as they could take care of yesterday. The crowd numbered about 4,000 at one time. There was a constant stream of people coming and going. The many diversions of the resort were indulged in and the great crowd was kept happy. The last train load got in about midnight.

TO BE A PUBLIC SPEAKER.

You Should Talk as Though Perfectly at Ease Before an Audience.

In managing his voice the speaker when he is engaged in earnest conversation, commonly and naturally falls into the best of his own mind. He is not conscious of the fact that he is speaking. Suppose you are sitting about a table with a dozen friends, and some subject is started in which you are deeply interested. You engage in earnest conversation with one of them or one of them at the other end of the table. You are perfectly at ease, not caring in the least for your manner or tone of voice, but only for your thought. The tone you adopt then will ordinarily be the best for you in public speaking. You can, however, learn from teachers or friendly critics to avoid any harsh or disagreeable fashion of speech that may be fatal to you in private conversation.

Next, never strain your vocal organs by attempting to fill spaces which are too large for you. Speak as loudly and as freely as you can, and let the more distant portions of the audience hear you. You will find that that way very soon your voice will increase in compass and power, and you will do your best beyond its natural capacity. Be careful to avoid falsetto. When imitating the tricks of speech of other orators, even of famous and successful orators. These may do for them, but not for you. You will do better in imitating the best of the natural capacity of other men in public speaking than in private speaking.

Never make a gesture for the sake of making one. I believe that most of the successful speakers whom I know would find it hard to tell you whether they themselves make gestures or not, they are so absolutely unconscious in the matter. But with gestures as with voice, get teachers or friendly critics to point out to you any bad habit you may fall into. I think it would be well if our young public speakers, especially preachers, would have competent instructors select among their listeners, after they enter their profession, to give them the benefit of such observations and counsel as may be suggested in that way.—Scribner.
