

SOCIALISTS HOLD THEIR CONVENTION

Place in Nomination a Full City Ticket for Coming Municipal Election.

HOMER P. BURT UP FOR MAYOR

Platform Contains a Plank Aimed at The Police and the Courts— Issues of Campaign.

The Socialists of Salt Lake City held their convention at Unity hall yesterday afternoon, and placed in nomination a full city and council ticket for the coming municipal election. Homer P. Burt, for a number of years active in the interests of the party, and three years ago its candidate for Congress, was named as candidate for mayor. The office of city attorney was left for the city committee to fill, but otherwise a complete ticket was nominated.

The convention adopted a platform setting forth the principles of Socialism as applied to municipal government. Among the planks of the platform were demands for the initiative, referendum and recall in local affairs; the taking over by the city of public franchises and the conduct of all public works and utilities by the city for the public good instead of for private profit; that the city furnish work to all the unemployed within its borders; that the hours of work be eight hours a day; that all municipal work be done without contractors; that in all departments of the city government women be given equal pay for equal work; that the city establish better schools, kindergarten and better playgrounds; that the compensation of school teachers be made sufficient to attract to that service the best and most efficient; and that meals and medical attendance be furnished all school children. The aim of the socialist movement is declared to be the establishment of the co-operative commonwealth, and the furtherance of the cause that the vital issue in this campaign, as in all campaigns, is the contest between the working class and the capitalist class for the possession of the powers of government, and that this conflict is worldwide.

W. J. MORTON, CHAIRMAN.

The convention was called to order by W. J. Morton, who read the call. W. J. Morton was elected chairman and George E. Poole secretary. Committees on order of business and platform were appointed. In addition to the planks referred to the platform contained the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Socialist party denounces as tyrannical and infamous the use of the courts and police to delay and prevent public relief for the unemployed, and to intimidate workmen during times of industrial disputes. Be it further:

Resolved, That the Socialist party condemns the police interference with the right of free speech as not only unconstitutional, but utterly subversive of orderly progress in democracy. The right of free assembly in the streets—provided the thoroughfare is not blocked—is as sacred as the institution of free schools.

THE TICKET.

After the platform had been adopted, the business of nominating a ticket was proceeded with, as follows:

Mayor—Homer P. Burt.
Treasurer—E. C. Nelson.
Recorder—M. M. Johnson.
Auditor—Pauline Edwards.
Councilman, First Precinct—Robert Leggett, long term; Mary Paramore, short term.
Second Precinct—John L. Bell, long term; Olivia Johnson, short term.
Third Precinct—Alfred Sorenson, long term; E. C. Rubendall, short term.
Fourth Precinct—William Guy Sadler, long term; William J. Kohlberg, short term.
Fifth Precinct—J. C. Edgar, long term; George E. Watts, short term.
Campaign Committee—M. Mason, David P. Trille, E. C. Nelson, B. A. Lawrence and George E. Watts. The campaign committee was given full power to fill all vacancies on the ticket.

WHY DRUGGISTS RECOMMEND CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY

Mr. Frank C. Harriman, a prominent druggist of Portsmouth, Va., says: "For the past six years I have sold and recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is a great remedy and one of the best patent medicines on the market. I handle some others for the same purpose, but they are a larger price, but this remedy is so sure to effect a cure, and my customers are certain to appreciate my recommending it to him that I give it the preference." For sale by all druggists.

A-Y-P EXPOSITION RATES.

Via Oregon Short Line R. R.
$29.00 from Salt Lake to Seattle and return; on sale daily commencing June 1st. Ask agents for further particulars.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES.

Men as well as women and girls are served at the cafeteria in the Brooks Arcade building.

The class in advanced French is being organized. Mrs. Jennings will teach the class again this year. Any woman wishing to enroll may do so by notifying the general secretary, Miss Mabel Johnson, at the Brooks Arcade office.

For the past two years a traveler's aid society has been in the employ of the association and during the last two months two aids have met the trains. They have directed hundreds of girls and women to safe and sanitary lodgings and quarters and have aided and comforted many weary travelers. Many and varied are the experiences of the traveler's aid and two of the most recent are given: The little Finland girl who could neither speak nor understand a word of English, broke her fast in Salt Lake City the first time since leaving New York city, because no one thought to see that she had food. Through the traveler's aid the young girl, who was relieved of all her money by the confidence man, received our fare and friendly help to her mother in a distant town.

The general office, cafeteria, rest room, reading room and library are located on the third floor of the Brooks Arcade building. Elevator entrance on State street.

For the current expenses of the Young Women's Christian association $2,000 is necessary annually. Of this amount $2,000 is received from the boarding house, cafeteria, and membership, the remaining $2,000 must be made up through subscriptions. A campaign is being started to secure $25 and $50 pledges to cover the greater part of this amount.

The first social for this fall will be Friday evening, Sept. 24, at the Brooks Arcade. Some interesting talks and "Old National Park" will be one feature of the evening. All members and friends of the association are cordially invited.

YOUTH DISPLAYS NERVE.

Harold Lewis, with a Gunshot Wound in His Leg, Hikes for a Doctor.

Harold Lewis, a border in the High school cadet corps and residing at 22 Floral avenue, is lying in St. Mark's hospital with a bullet imbedded in his left leg, the result of boyish carelessness in the handling of a loaded revolver.

While handling a revolver Saturday afternoon Harold accidentally discharged the weapon, the bullet from the loaded muzzle plunging its way into the leg about four inches below the knee. This function the bullet had not been located although probed for, and it was decided that an X-ray operation would be necessary.

A striking feature of the accident was the nerve and grit displayed by the youth after the accident. Company with several plasters Harold had gone out towards the Country club for a Saturday forenoon outing. One of the boys had a revolver with him and Harold asked to look at it. While examining the gun he in some way pulled the trigger. With his wounded leg he ran for half a mile to the fire station at North and Tenth streets, where he was hurried to St. Mark's hospital.

City Attorney's "Opinion" On Slot Machines is Pa-thetic Comedy.

THE KING OF SIDESTEPPERS.

In Answering Fremont's Question He Puts a Riddle Up to The Council.

City Attorney Harper J. Dinning will deliver an opinion, tied up with a bow of blue ribbon, to the city council tonight on the status of the slot machine case. From advanced information, it is understood Mr. Dinning has kept as far away from the legal points involved as usual, and will simply submit a history of the case for the consideration of the councilmen.

In answer to the important part of the opinion asked for, Mr. Dinning employs an old chestnut of his—he asks the council a question: "How could a justice of the peace's decision possibly precede over the decision of a higher court, as is the Third district court?"

That is precisely what Councilman Fremont wants to know and that is why he introduced his resolution requesting an opinion. If Justice Hanks' decision does not interfere with Judge Armstrong's decision, Councilman Fremont will introduce a resolution requesting the chief of police to close up the slot machines at once.

Protests on the sewer extensions will be considered tonight. All of the petitions have not been received, but it is believed that there are enough names against the improvement to defeat it. The residents in the western part of the city are not in favor of the sewer and water mains, and they feel that this is enough for the present time.

The extensions are No. 228 and No. 225. The former, it is estimated, will cost $100,000, and the latter $125,000. Two extensions cover about 30 miles of lateral sewers. The serious objection made by the property owners is that they will be required to pay $2.50 a linear foot. Other extensions of the same depth have been constructed at a cost of $1.75 to the property owners.

The council will probably sustain the veto of Mayor Bransford of the Oregon Short Line franchise. The matter will be reconsidered and the council will ask the railroad company to submit a blue print which corresponds to the terms of the franchise giving the locations of the track which is to be constructed.

The claims for damages from high water will probably be brought up before the council in some shape tonight. It is probable that the council will deny all claims and then suits will be instituted in the courts.

PARDON IS DENIED DR. JIM DONALDSON

He Will be Permitted to Apply Again. However, for Clemency—Many Cases Considered.

"Dr. Jim Donaldson, who 'fleeed' William and Alexander McWhirter to a poker game three years ago, was denied a pardon Saturday by the state board of pardons although his application was signed by 432 persons, among them being William McWhirter, one of the victims, Willard Hanson, who was county attorney at the time, Sheriff Joseph C. Sherr, former sheriff, and a number of business men. The board denied the pardon without prejudice and he will be allowed to petition the board again stating further reasons why he should be pardoned if he desires. Fred C. Laubouron, district attorney, opposed the pardon in a letter sent to the board. Mr. Laubouron secured the conviction in his case and he thinks that Donaldson ought to serve out his ten years. He was convicted last January. The names on the application for a pardon were signed on January 14, a week before Donaldson was sentenced.

The cases of Harvey Bass and William Reese, convicted in Ogden, in connection with a holdup which resulted in a murder, will be considered next month at the regular meeting. There is some new evidence on hand which may prove that they were not guilty of the crime.

Albert Whitaker, convicted of assault with intent to kill, had his twenty-year sentence commuted to the board in ten years. He will receive the usual credit for good behavior. In case he is a model prisoner his term will expire in six and a half years.

"Nick" Haworth, who was sentenced to life for the murder of a night watchman, was before the board again Saturday with a petition for a pardon. It was decided to reconsider it before the case was considered again.

The list of applications considered and the disposition of them, is as follows: For pardon—A. P. Sherwood, formerly denied; Edward A. Sorenson, assault with intent to commit murder, case continued thirty days; Charles Denison, grand larceny, continued sixty days; Simon C. Powell, involuntary manslaughter, denied; Nathan F. Haworth, ordered republished for the October meeting.

For commutation—George Edwards, obtaining money under false pretenses, denied; James McGovern, burglary in third degree, denied; Harvey Bass and William Reese, murder in second degree, continued thirty days to procure transcript of testimony; A. S. Higman, forgery, released on parole February 26, 1909, continued thirty days; Frank Perry, burglary in third degree, denied; Herman C. Franke, forgery, continued thirty days; Fred Hawet, burglary in second degree, denied; John Purrey's application for restoration of credits was continued thirty days.

For parole—Samuel E. Doman, statutory offense, denied without prejudice to a future application; Gust Bore, robbery, continued thirty days at his request; Edwin K. Mann, statutory offense, granted; December 19, 1909, pardon granted to take effect December 31, 1909; Charles Taylor and George Taylor, burglary in third degree, denied.

THE WESTERN CLIMATE. Weather Bureau Memorandum on Conditions on Pacific Slope.

Following are the climatic conditions obtaining during the week ending Sept. 13 in the Pacific slope states as reported by the weather bureau:

Wyoming—Cheyenne: The first half of the week was warm, but the last half cooler, the temperature averaging slightly above normal, with no damaging frosts. Rain was quite general the last of the week, with more cloudy weather than usual.

Colorado—Denver: The opening and closing days were cool, and the week's mean temperature was below normal. Frequent rains occurred, with large amounts in the eastern counties. No snow occurred in the mountain districts the closing days of the week. Sunshine was deficient.

Arizona—Phoenix: The mean temperature and sunshine averaged about normal, and the precipitation was below. The season's average rain practically added on the 11th, and there was a general and decided change from summer to autumn temperatures on Sunday and Sunday night, with light to heavy frost in the northern counties.

Idaho—Salt Lake City: It has been an exceptionally cold week, with the lowest temperature for several years during the same period. The 11th and 12th averaged 35 to 38 degrees below the daily normal. General cold rain fell on the 11th throughout the state, except in the extreme southern counties, with considerable snow in the mountain districts. The storm was followed by light to killing frosts in the higher valleys of the state, but the damage was slight as the season is well advanced.

Washington—Seattle: The temperature was higher than the normal, except near the coast, and the precipitation was below normal, except in the southern portion of the state. General rains occurred on the 10th, with cool weather. The normal amount of sunshine was received.

Oregon—Portland: The first half of the week was unusually warm, but the last half was much cooler. Good rains fell in the western counties on Sunday and in the eastern counties on two days. Sunshine was normal. No frosts or high winds occurred.

California—San Francisco: No rain fell. The temperature averaged from 2 to 4 degrees above normal in the interior, also in the San Francisco bay section, but slightly below normal south of the Tehachapi. Brisk northerly winds prevailed in the Sacramento valley on the 11th. There was less fog than usual on the coast. Sunshine averaged above normal. The winds were mostly northerly. Excellent weather for drying and curing.

HEALTH IN THE HOME. The parents' classes of Liberty state were addressed yesterday morning by physicians of the city on sanitation, ventilation and the prevention of diseases in general. Parents were urged to keep their homes free from rubbish of every kind that would be likely to breed disease. The necessity of plentiful supply of fresh air was also discussed, as well as the need for the exercise of care in getting a pure food supply, especially in milk, which is a great carrier of disease germs. The danger resulting from the exposure of food to flies was also explained and people were advised to carefully keep food covered so that they could not have access to it.

FUNERAL OF DR. MERRIHEW. The funeral of Dr. E. C. Merrihew, the Sugar ward dentist, was largely attended yesterday afternoon from Masonic hall, Dr. C. I. Douglas of Mt. Moriah lodge conducting the ceremonies. The interment was at Mt. Olivet. There was an unfortunate misunderstanding at the funeral between the Odd Fellows and the Masons. The
