C. D. WRIGHT ON CARNEGIE'S PLANS

Washington, Dec. 10.—Hon. Carroll D. Wright, commissioner of the United States department of labor, today made the following statement as to Mr. Carnegie's endowment of a national university at Washington:

"The general discussion which has been carried on during the last twenty-five years in relation to the establishment of a national university in Washington has culminated in a magnificent plan and endowment by Mr. Andrew Carnegie. For a number of years the university idea held sway, but about two years ago the matter was taken up by the Washington Academy of Science and this body, in co-operation with the George Washington Memorial association, formulated a definite plan which differed radically from the earlier plan contemplated in the earlier years. This resulted last spring, as was then published, in the organization of the Washington Memorial institute. The plan was, in brief, as follows:

WILL SUPPORT PRICE OF COPPER

London, Dec. 10.—The Associated Press is officially informed that the Rio Tinto company has been approached by the Amalgamated Copper with the view of arriving at an agreement to support the price of copper. No conclusion has yet been reached, in spite of reports to the contrary. The negotiations are described here as having thus far reached the stage of preliminary consultation.

A MYSTERIOUS MURDER.

Mrs. Ada G. Dennis of Washington Found in a Dying Condition.

Washington, Dec. 10.—Mrs. Ada Gilbert Dennis, fashionable dress-maker, was found in an almost dying condition in her room at 3 a. m. today under circumstances that promise to rival the famous murder of Mrs. S. J. Dennis, who was found in a room at the same hotel, fractured jaw and broken and left ear almost severed from her head. Her left arm bore bruises indicative of a struggle and her clothing and bedding were saturated with blood. She was removed to the hospital, rendered unconscious, and a large force of detectives put on the case. The name of her assailant is unknown.

The general belief is that Mrs. Dennis was attacked while asleep in her back room on the first floor and that the first blow in all probability administered with the piano stool, which was thrown at her, rendered her unconscious. The preliminary investigation by the police fails to indicate that there was any struggle. Mrs. Dennis, in a conscious moment, while being carried to the hospital, said that some one had "hurt" her, but when pressed for details merely responded "Never mind." Robbery was apparently the motive for the crime, for on the table at the foot of the bed was a small box containing a pocket-book well filled with greenbacks and other coin. There was a bloody imprint of a hand on the piano lid in the room and a window in that room was open. It was supposed the assailant escaped through this window. When found, Mrs. Dennis was clad in her night garments and was in bed under the cover. She was partly conscious, although she has been unconscious most of the time since. The detectives are satisfied that several blows of the piano stool must have been inflicted with considerable force and that there was no outcry at least audible. Her groans, however, were heard by a woman on the third floor who was in the kitchen at the time. She was a woman named Livingston and a watchman who were two blocks away heard what they believed to be a woman's scream. Mrs. Dennis is about 47 years of age and is one of the best known women in business here. She is the widow of Walter Dennis, an actor. An operation was performed on Mrs. Dennis at the hospital this afternoon. Her little hope is held out for her recovery.

NICARAGUA ARRANGEMENT.

Not a Treaty Strictly Speaking but Simply a Protocol.

Washington, Dec. 10.—The arrangement entered into at Managua yesterday between United States Minister Merry and the minister of foreign affairs of Nicaragua, is in the nature of a protocol and was not, strictly speaking, a treaty. It is in effect a definition in advance of the character of a treaty that Nicaragua is willing to enter into with the United States in the event that the Hay-Pauncefote treaty is ratified by the United States and Great Britain. There are several reasons why a treaty, pure and simple, could not be entered into between the United States and Nicaragua in advance of the consummation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. A similar arrangement has or will be made with the government of Costa Rica to secure the necessary rights on that part of the San Juan river essential for canal purposes and possibly subject to Costa Rican sovereignty.

TARIFF MEASURE FOR PHILIPPINES.

Commission's Tariff Governs on Imports Into Islands—Dingley Law Rates Apply on Goods From There.

Washington, Dec. 10.—The Republican members of the ways and means committee today agreed upon a Philippine measure and later the entire membership of the committee, Democrats and Republicans, was called together for the first time. At an early meeting of the Republican members, Col. Edwards, chief of the insular division of the war department, was further heard as to the methods employed in framing the schedule of rates on imports to the Philippines. In particular he brought out the fact that care was taken to consult with the interested industries whenever a delicate question of adjustment arose. The war department showing brought out the fact that in effect the United States enjoys a preference under the present Philippine rates, for although no preference is expressed, yet articles are so described as to prefer the American products. Canned goods are specified as a marked instance of this, the description being such as to fit the American product and it a decided advantage over foreign canned goods.

Mr. Russell's proposition to impose 80 per cent of the Dingley rates and Mr. Tawney's to repeal the export tax in the Philippines, was voted down, 2 to 5. The Cuban commission, through Chairman Payne, asked for a hearing but upon Mr. Russell's motion they were advised that no hearing would be given until after the holidays, the object being to postpone the matter of Cuban reciprocity until after the holidays. The committee was formally organized and sub-committees appointed. The bill agreed upon is designated a temporary measure and provides that the tariff laws of the Philippines commission shall have full force and effect. Upon all goods coming from the Philippines to the United States the present rates of the Dingley law shall be levied and collected. The same tonnage taxes shall be levied upon vessels coming into the United States from the Philippines as levied upon vessels coming from foreign countries until January 1, 1905, with a proviso that the coastwise laws of the United States shall not apply to foreign vessels plying between the United States and the Philippines. All duties and tonnage taxes collected either in the Philippines or in the United States are to be covered into the Philippine treasury. Articles exported to the Philippines subject to internal revenue tax shall be exempt from such tax and pay only the duty provided for in the Philippines. The Democratic members were informed of the program regarding the bill which includes regarding it on Friday, and pressing it after one day's debate next Tuesday under a special rule.

CHRISTMAS "NEWS" PRIZEWINNERS

Mrs. Mary T. Kelly Captures Fifty-Dollar Premium for Best Story—Of the Sixteen Poems Submitted J. G. Weaver is Awarded the Twenty-five Dollar Prize.

The members of the Deseret News editorial staff, to whom was assigned the duty of passing on the merits of the various stories and poems submitted for prizes offered for the Christmas News, have completed their labors and made their report.

Of the twenty-two stories submitted, the committee was unanimously of the opinion that the best was that entitled "The Song of the Acan," by "Siva." On opening the envelope inscribed "Siva" the author was found to be the well known local writer, Mr. J. G. Weaver. Other poems which should be given complimentary mention in the opinion of the committee, "A Christmas Poem," by "Anatole," "A Christmas Greeting to the Singer," (inscribed to Miss Gates) by "Nathan Lawrence," "Birth of Christ," by "Luh," "Life" by "L," "Glory to God," by "Pexave Elvjt," and an unnamed poem by "Zero."

An odd coincidence in connection with the competition this year is that both Mrs. Kelly and Mr. Weaver were the successful winners two years ago. The prizes offered by the "News" are fifty dollars for the story, and twenty-five dollars for the poem.

PEERY APPRAISEMENT SET ASIDE.

Judge Rolapp Makes an Order This Morning Upon the Motion of The Attorney for the Estate Which Ignores Inventory And Revokes Appointment of Appraisers.

Peery estate have erred in that they have in their report to the district court largely underestimated the values of the real estate and stocks held by the various corporations; also in the several parcels of real estate, and by omitting to include in their report the large mansion residence, thereby unjustly depriving the estate of a large amount of fees. Therefore he resolved that the county attorney, Mr. Halverson, be instructed to investigate the matter and take such immediate steps in the premises as may be necessary to secure a just and equitable report of all property values, real and personal, of the said Peery estate.

This resolution was adopted by the board unanimously, they feeling that the rights of the county must be protected. The law provides that a fee of $75 must be paid to the county clerk for filing an estate valued at $50,000, and an estate valued at more than that amount an additional $2 for every $1,000 of the estate must be paid the clerk for the filing. The appraisers valued the estate at $113,000, but it is believed by many people that the estate is worth at least twice that amount. County Attorney Halverson will take the necessary steps to protect the county in the matter.

ANTI SCALPING LEGISLATION.

Scranton, Pa., Dec. 10.—The first business to come before the convention of the American Federation of Labor this morning was the introduction of additional resolutions. Unanimous consent was necessary, and First Vice-President Duncan of Boston, protested against taking up the time of the delegates by the presentation of resolutions at this time when they could easily have been presented last Saturday when the constitutional limits expired. The resolutions dealt with the piano makers' label, several boycotts and the agreement between the piano makers and the wood workers regarding their trade jurisdiction. The committee having charge of the John B. Lennon, of Birmingham, Ill., of the Journeymen bakers' union, vigorously opposed the resolution. Senator Tanagerius de la Roca, who was in the city, was going outside a legitimate field in considering such resolution and the organization withdrawing of any ground. Lennon said many of the ticket scalpers were criminals and told of a case where 4,000 tickets had been forged and sold by scalpers.

Lee Hart, of Chicago, of the Theatrical Stage Employment alliance, and E. A. Bagard, mayor of Fairbury, Neb., who repudiated the Glass Bottle Blowers, leaders who favored the resolution. He maintained that ticket scalping was legitimate business and was the main of cheapening railroad travel.

The discussion was continued by W. J. Croke, of Marion, of the Flat Glass Blowers; C. Sherman, of the Chicago Metal Workers and Eugene O'Rourke, of the New York Typographical union, who favored the resolution, and Sheldon A. Hiss, Detroit, who was a Congressional minister and a member of the Senate, and Dennis Hays, Philadelphian, of the Glass Bottle Blowers, who repudiated the resolution. The matter was then adopted by an overwhelming vote.

The previous question was moved after Mr. Lennon had made a motion to lay the resolution on the table, which was lost. The resolution was then adopted by an overwhelming vote.

SHEEP WAGON MISSIONARIES.

From the local sheep market on State street between Second and Third South streets there issued today a sheep wagon containing two young men missionaries and a great amount of the literature of the Utah Gospel mission of Cleveland, Ohio. The outfit is one of the Rev. J. N. Nutting's missionary equipments and is bound for the southern portion of the state, where they will proceed with the work of "converting" the Latter-day Saints. The wagon and outfit have the only one doing work in Utah the Rev. Nutting having laid out one wagon for the winter and disposed of the team. It is also stated that the real reason that there is now only one wagon touring Utah is that the Rev. Nutting is in trouble; he is, he cannot get missionaries to leave under him in the state, and three of the five that he had sent to the East, two in Cleveland and one in Chicago, making it impossible generally with him and his band of directors to secure the good service by the Rev. Nutting while he and the missionaries are here to induce them to come here this summer.

It is stated on excellent authority that the Rev. Nutting is a missionary who has been in the state for some time and that they would be glad to take care of them if they came to Utah and that they would do a charitable work if they came. It appears that they were not well received in the state and that the Rev. Nutting, by sending the outfit of the return trip to one of them and leaving the other two to borrow the money necessary to make the return trip. These missionaries are, however, especially addressed with the Rev. Nutting's methods and the literature furnished them by the Gospel Mission society. It is stated that the entire outfit with the literature and association was raised over the methods of the Rev. Nutting and the literature distributed by him. Some of the local ministers simply could not conscientiously endorse the literature distributed by the Utah Gospel Mission of Cleveland and it is stated today that the Rev. Nutting and his methods and the local ministers simply could not conscientiously endorse the literature distributed by him.

DISHWASHER AT WAR.

Fights Gallantly Under Fire of Glassware and China.

J. Coyle, a dishwasher and proprietor of a second South street restaurant, got into an altercation last evening from which the crowd that gathered extracted the most pleasure. Coyle had been employed by Shaffer and yesterday the former received his week's wages. With a business dispatch worthy of a letter case, Coyle went straight to a saloon and proceeded to try and create a shortage in the whiskey market. But several "bottles" had him stopped and he sat down to a quiet drink. His mind reverted to his case and then a train of imaginary wags set him on fire and he made a quick step to the restaurant. The proprietor saw him coming and locked the door. Coyle proceeded to address the beer in language that was as opposed to be the exclusive property of the local ministers and he was not to be given a correct imitation of the wooden doll act. But he was overpowered by the crowd and he was not to be given a correct imitation of the wooden doll act. But he was overpowered by the crowd and he was not to be given a correct imitation of the wooden doll act.

NO INTOXICANTS AT SALT AIR BEACH

Action Taken at Directors' Meeting of the Company Today—Experiment to Be Tried for One Year.

No whisky or intoxicating drinks of any character will be sold at Saltair next season. This was determined upon unanimously at this morning's monthly meeting in the Church offices of the directory of the Salt Lake & Los Angeles road. This action was taken after careful consideration of the results of selling liquor at the great resort during the years that it has been opened, and there was not a dissenting vote in the full meeting of directors.

This action was taken as covering only the season of 1902, as an experiment, and is in accordance to the preference of President Smith, whose views strongly in favor of temperance have been well known. If the result fulfills the expectations of the directors, intoxicating drink will not be sold any more at Saltair.

The board also decided to repaint the pavilion in the spring, and the serious question of water deep enough for bathing was considered. It was decided to have an engineer examine the premises and make a report with a view to building a platform out from the west of the pavilion far enough to reach the required depth of water in case the level of the lake should not rise to the necessary height by another season.

Manager McAllister stated after the meeting that on last Decoration day he picked up 150 empty whisky bottles, and that several bunches were gathered up during the season. The above new rule does not prevent people from bringing beer or other alcoholic stimulants to the beach in their lunch baskets, but there will be nothing in the line of intoxicating drinks to be purchased on the premises. However, temperance drinks can be had as much as may be desired. The results of this new policy will be watched with great interest.

MET DEATH IN A SALOON BRAWL.

Nicholas Odgers Dies From Injuries Received Last Night in a Fight—Thomas Hill, City Water Works Employee, Arrested, Charged With Having Caused Old Miner's Death.

As a result of a drunken brawl in Batley & Jennings saloon at 76 east First South street at 10:30 last night, Nicholas Odgers, a miner 35 years of age, and known among the miners as "Uncle Nick," is dead and Thomas Hill, who has for several months had charge of the Waterworks in City Creek canyon, is under arrest at the police station charged with causing Odgers' death.

The dead man was found in the back room of S. W. Potts' saloon at 66 east First South street by Officer Simpson. He was sitting in a chair with his head resting on his left shoulder. His head face and hands were marked with blood and bruises on the left side of his head. Evidence of a severe beating. He also was bruised and swollen in the lower part of his body.

Acting Coroner Dana T. Smith was notified and after viewing the body ordered it removed to Evans' undertaking establishment and an inquest will be held tomorrow morning.

S. J. Coomb, an eye witness to the trouble which occurred in Batley & Jennings' place, is being held at the police station pending a thorough investigation of the case by the authorities.

The dead man was unmarried and has no relatives in this part of the country. From letters found in his pockets it was learned that he had a sister residing in British Columbia and a brother, Thomas Odgers, in Stockton, Cal.

JUMPED ON HIM.

According to the best information obtainable, the trouble between Odgers and Hill occurred shortly after 10:30 last night. Both men had been drinking heavily, and it is known that Odgers has been on a protracted spree for at least two weeks. The men were drinking together but somehow they became involved in a row and began fighting. Odgers was knocked down and Hill jumped upon him and began beating him about the face when a bystander interfered and pulled Hill off the ground. A few minutes later Odgers was taken into custody by Officer J. D. Brown this morning.

COOMBS' STORY.

"I saw the men come together," said Coombs to a "News" reporter. "I saw Odgers and Hill. I don't think Hill intended to kill the man. I saw them striking at each other and Hill got Odgers on the floor and was punching him in the face when I grabbed him by the coat collar and pulled him off. I told him to be quiet or he would get into trouble, but he kept trying to hit the man. While I was holding him back, Hill broke George's head at Odgers on the ear and sent him home. Coombs said he was sure that Hill was his friend and wanted to save him from being arrested.

"In a few minutes Tommy Hill said he had to go to work and said he guessed he would go. Then I went out with his brother and we had a drink together at Bonnet's saloon and I put Odgers in the car and sent him home. Coombs said he was sure that Hill tried to get at Odgers a second time, but he prevented him from doing so. It was after that Hill said he had to go to the Waterworks and went out of the place.

LAY ON THE FLOOR.

Odgers, on entering Potts' place, removed his coat and hat and lay down around the place for a few days, on one paid any particular attention to him. Potts said it was about 11 o'clock last night when he entered the place, and he found Odgers on the floor. About an hour later, the porter told Potts that the man was sick and had a "rattling" in his throat. Potts said he then called the doctor and sent him to the place. The doctor found the man dead and he was not to be given a correct imitation of the wooden doll act.

DREW A RAZOR.

C. S. Pascoe Indulges in a Cutting Affray Last Night.

C. S. Pascoe, a laborer, sallied forth last night with a razor in hand to carve out a future for himself. He brought up at the Continental saloon on West Temple, where his opportunity loomed up. He got to quarrelling with the crowd over the drinks and when he pulled his razor the toppers fled in consternation. He landed on one man, against whom he seemed to have a particular grudge and managed to nearly cut his fingers off. Officer Hempel appeared on the scene and gathered Pascoe in.

This afternoon the case against C. S. Pascoe was dismissed in the police court on the motion of the complaining witness.
