SHOCKING FATE OF YOUNG CONDUCTOR

William A. Davis Falls Under Moving Train at Brigh-ham City.

RECKLESS DRIVING MENACE.

Chronic Runaway Girl is Off Again—
Mrs. Henderson's Alaska Mines
Turn Out a Bonanza.

Oct. 7.—The body of William A. Davis, the young railroad conductor who was killed at Brigham City yesterday morning by falling between two cars, was brought to Ogden yesterday afternoon and taken to the Lindquist undertaking parlors, where it will be prepared for burial.

As near as could be learned, Davis was acting as a conductor on north-bound freight train yesterday morning. When nearing Brigham City he was standing on top of the train. A short while after he was missed, and his body was found a short distance from the city by members of the train crew, who placed it upon the engine of the train and brought it to this city.

Shortly after the accident happened, a number of the railway employees went to the Davis residence at 2749 Grant avenue and broke the news as gently as possible to the unfortunate young wife, who was completely prostrated with grief.

The funeral arrangements, which are in the hands of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, of which order the deceased was a member, will be announced later.

MENACE OF RECKLESS DRIVING.

The question of cruelty to animals and reckless driving which has been referred to a number of times before in these columns, is the subject of a lengthy statement issued by Judge Gunnell of the juvenile court, who says that boys driving delivery wagons in the city pay little regard to the laws on recklessness or to those of cruelty

A great many people make the mistake of assuming that because Ivory Soap costs only a few cents a cake, it "isn't good enough to use for one's hands and face."

Why isn't it? Good materials properly combined, make good soap; and the materials used in the manufacture of Ivory Soap are the best.

to animals. At the present time delivery boys who have not been restrained in a number of months from reckless driving in the business district of the city are becoming a menace to the public and early action should be taken by the police or sheriff's departments.

BROWN BEAR KILLED.

Will and John Jaque, two young men of Layton, brought into Ogden yesterday afternoon a brown bear that they had killed early in the morning in the hills east of the town. The animal which weighed about 300 pounds, was placed on exhibition before one of the local meat shops.

CHRONIC RUNAWAY.

"Lonnie" Murdock, the 14-year-old daughter of Mrs. Thomas Haley, who ran away from her home about two months ago taking the family horse and buggy and $10 from her mother, has run away again. As of yore she took the family stock with her. The last junket started Monday morning while her parents were away from home. "Lonnie" brought forth the horse and vehicle and after making a report of the horse for money was only rewarded with 25 cents. She then drove from her home in the south part of the city to a friend living on north Washington avenue where she had prepared to spend the day.

When the mother of the girl returned home she found that her daughter had gone, she communicated with Probation Officer Jacobs and he started in a search for the girl. Yesterday Jacobs arrived at the home of Miss Sophie Ryan on north Washington avenue and as he entered the yard the Murdock girl saw him and immediately fled. All trace of her has been lost and the members of the sheriff's force have been called in to aid in the search.

MINE TURNS OUT A BONANZA.

According to advices received by Mrs. H. H. Henderson from Alaska a number of the mining claims in which she is interested had yielded magnificent returns. The statement was given out that $150,000 had been refused by Mrs. Henderson for a small interest in one of the claims. Mrs. Henderson will leave shortly for Seattle from which place she will set sail for Alaska.

ARCHIBALD BURNS MURDER HEARING

Judge Chidester and Jury Investigating the Slaying of James F. Jensen.

STATEMENT OF PROSECUTION

State Endeavoring to Show That Homicide Was Premeditated Murder—First Witness Called.

Special Correspondence.

Manti, Sanpete Co., Oct. 5.—Much interest centers in the Burns murder trial which began before Judge Chidester and a jury this afternoon. The case grows out of the killing last March of James F. Jensen, a prominent stockman of north Sanpete in his saloon at Mount Pleasant, by Archibald A. Burns.

The juryman selected to sit on the case are Lewis Lund, Peter Lund, C. J. Christensen, A. E. Allred, James H. Hansen, Ole Larsen, Jr., Peter Mortensen, Andrew Christensen, Peter Mathsen Jr., Lars J. Anderson, Gomer D. Llewellyn, Nephi Anderson.

The attorneys for the defense are J. A. Cherry, Jacob Johnson and William H. King, attorneys for the prosecution are County Atty. Lewis Larsen, Dist. Atty. Woods and S. R. Thurman.

Sitting near the defendant are his wife and baby, mother, sister and brother, Milton.

Mrs. James F. Jensen, in company with lady friends was sitting near the attorneys for the prosecution. The court room was nearly full when the case was called at 2:30.

County Clerk O. D. Eliason read the charge against Archibald Burns, that of the killing of James F. Jensen, commonly called Jim Fish, on March 21, 1908.

County Atty. Larsen in his opening address to the jury outlined the case for the state, which will endeavor to show that the slaying of Jensen was a premeditated murder. The trouble between the two men, the prosecution stated, began when the defendant, Burns, thrashed a nephew in the absence of the latter's father, Francis Jensen. Deceased entered a complaint against Burns for the assault, and strained relations ensued. Later, in the saloon of Jim Fish, defendant made an assault upon deceased, who drew a pistol but did not make use of it. The trouble continued until it culminated in the murder.

After the state had outlined its case, the witnesses were sworn and all executed with an injunction from the judge to have no communication with each other as to the case.

H. P. Jensen was the first witness. He testified that he had lived in Mt. Pleasant off and on for 50 years; knew Jim Fish, that it was named after James F. Jensen commonly called Jim Fish. He was also acquainted with Burns; was bartender at the time of the tragedy; had known Jim Fish for 40 years. On the 21st of March witness was in the saloon with Jos. Monson, Peter Sorenson and A. B. Waldeman, witnesses stated that he had seen Archibald Burns about 2 o'clock, said he went in and out three or four times; defendant went into pool room, where he remained quiet a while playing pool with Christensen and also drinking with him. As he drank he stood near Jim Fish but used left hand in handling the glass and held right hand in pocket.

As defendant came in the last time, he pulled faces at deceased who said, "That is an insult, something I won't stand for." In a few seconds, Jim Fish passed through bar room to folding doors between the latter and the pool room, and placing his hands one on each door, opened them and said to Burns: "What are you haunting me for you—(using a vile epithet) what are you following me around for, you big mouthed —?" As he finished the sentence Burns came to the door, drew his right arm, and both going through door with the head of deceased held against his breast. Two shots were fired before witness saw gun of defendant. Deceased fell and defendant walking around him shot twice. Deceased turned on one shoulder and drew his gun and fired a shot over his face and shoulder. Deceased entered floor about two feet from his head.

At this stage of the testimony the defense objected to several questions of prosecution, which were overruled and exceptions taken. Judge King then took witness in hand in a severe cross-examination, bringing out the fact that the deceased had been drinking and that full witness further testified that he did not hear Burns say, "Leave me alone, Jim, I don't want any trouble." The witness testified that he did not see Francis Jensen stab Burns in back and that the transaction with Peter Frantzen would not hinder him from seeing the tragedy because it happened before the shooting.

At 6 o'clock H. P. Jensen was still on the witness stand, having been there since 5 o'clock. A recess was taken until 9:30 Tuesday morning.
