Assistant County Attorney Hanson Replied to Counsel For Defense.

CLINCHING SUMMARY MADE.

Former Senator Arthur Brown Riddled Reasoning and Conclusions of # Atty. Varian.

With the exception of a few minutes at the opening and close of yesterday afternoon's session of the hearing of Chief of Police George A. Sheets, the entire time was taken up with arguments for the state by Atty. Arthur Brown, and Asst. County Atty. Willard Hanson.

Hanson, Atty. C. S. Varian closed his speech for the defense on his motion to dismiss the charge against Sheets of withhold-ing information from a magistrate and compounding a felony, soon after the session opened, and Atty. Soren X. Christensen had just begun the closing arguments for the defense when the session was resumed until this mornsion was resumed until this morn-

Following the conclusion of Judge Varian, in which he roundly scored Atty. Braffatt for his part in securing a hearing for the McWhirters, Willard Hanson opened arguments for the state, giving way after a brief speech to Atty. Brown. Mr. Hanson said in part:

ATTY. HANSON'S ARGUMENT.

"I am sorry that Judge Varian referred to anything outside of the testi-mony in this case in the course of his argument. He has said that a partisan press has convicted Sheets before his press has convicted Sheets before his trial. Be that as it may, it is certainly not in the record of this case, and should not be considered, but since he has advanced the point. I only wish to say this that if a partisan press has found Chief Sheets guilty, a partisan press has also declared him innocent, and has gone farther and endeavored to besinirch those public officers who were merely trying to do their duty in the case. the case.

"However, I repeat, it has nothing to do whatever with this case, which must stand on its merits, without reference to whatever view may be taken one way.

to whatever view may be taken one way-or the other by the press. "Judge Varian says there is nothing to show that Chief Sheets was in any way instrumental in protecting or har-boring the culprits. Why, Chief Sheets had one of the gang in his very of-fice. Think of it! Wby didn't he arrest him on the spot? Didn't George Sheets pay over $750 in order that the Mc-Whirters could be gotten out of town, and the robbers could go their way and rob some more? rob some more?

A GOOD COMPARISON.

"Haven't we the right to suppose that Chief Shets suggested to Bell during conference in the corridor that of the stolen money be returned their to the McWhirters as an easy way of getting rid of them? "Dare Judge Varian stand there and tell your honor that George Sheets is a collector of the loot of thieves and robbers and returns one-tenth of it to the victims? This is their only defense, and on that defense Judge Varian wants your honor in the name of justice

Wants your nonor in the name of justice to dismiss this defendant "The able attorney for the defense apparently tried to throw aspersions on Attorney Mark Braffett. He calls him "Sherlock Holmes." It is an apt comparison and surely if that is a good illus-tration, then George Sheets is the Morlarty, the lieutenant of the gang of Salt Laks what made the robbers sud-denly fies from the city like a flock of wild birds? Were they afraid of Chief Sheets? Oh, no. Through some crafty understanding they learned that the McWhirters had returned and were complaining. "The evidence of Sheets in the swin-dle is apparent all through this case. Where the footprint is upon the sand, the nature of the animal that left it can be determined. From the nature of Sheets' actions in this robbery all through, there must be but one conclu-sion, and that was that he was a mem-ber of the gang. "When McWhirter asked Sheets If the fact that the money was in thous-and-dollar notes would not be a clue to the discovery of the robbers, the chief the discovery of the robbers, the chief replied that bills of that denomination were very common. Maybe they are around police headquarters, but the or-dinary individual knows that bills of that denomination are rarely seen ex-cept in banks. The clue was a good one, and subsequent developments have shown that if followed up by the police department the discovery of the cui-prits would have followed.

AFRAID OF REPORTERS.

"The chief told the victims of the rob-"The chief told the victums of the rob-bery to keep away from reporters, and when his favorite reporter comes into his office in full possession of the facts in the case, the chief hushes him up and the story of the atrocious robbery is quieted. It may have been wise of the part of the chief to have kept if from rublication had he housed to from publication, had he hoped to catch the thieves, but since he was making not the slightest effort to capture them what harm could have re-sulted from the story being given to the upblic unless it was that the chief the upblic unless it was that the chief was afraid to have the public know the facts in the case. "Til not follow the invitation of Judge Varian to make a public speech in re-gard to the newspaper version of this case. I believe in staying within the evidence and within the four walls of the court mome in making my arguthe court room in making my argument.

CITY THICK WITH THUGS.

"Judge Varian stated that the chief was without authority to arrest a felon without a warrant. If this is the case, don't wonder why the city is so thick with thugs. As a matter of fact, the chief is given express permission to cause the arrest of any one whom he has reasonable grounds to believe is guilty of a felony."

Atty. Brown closed, after citing a number of cases to prove his conten-tion, and Atty. Soren X. Christensen was beginning arguments for the de-fense in closing the case, when Judge Armstrong adjourned court until this morning.

WOUNDS, BRUISES AND BURNS. By applying an antiseptic dressing to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before inflammation sets in, they may be healed without maturation and in about one-third the time required by the old treatment. This is the greatest discovery and triumph of modern surgery. Cham-berlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. It is antiseptic and when applied to such higuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness and prevents any danger of blood poisoning. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your home and it will save you time and money, not to mention the in-convenience and suffering such injuries entail. For sale by all druggists.

industrial school and the de_f and dumb school buildings by the storm of Satur-day was not as great as reported. The total damage to both institutions will not exceed $1,500. At the deaf and dumb school a 72-foot smokestack was blown down, the side of the boilerhouse was slightly damaged and a number of win-dows were broken, making a total dam-age of about $220. The industrial school buildings fared much worse. The fire wall of the main building was damaged on such an extent that it will nearly all have to be rebuilt, this will cost about $1,250. The other dam-age to that building consisted of broken windows and injury to the side of the boilerhouse.

FORMER SENATOR BROWN.

Atty, Brown reviewed the evidence as did Atty. Varian, but his conclusions were very different in their character from the same basis of testimony. Unwere very different in their character from the same basis of testimony. Un-like the arguments of Atty. Varlan, it was not necessary to pass important blocks of testimony in order to cinch arguments, and make them plausible. The summary of McWhirter's testi-mony as given by Atty. Varian is vastly different from the alleged summary in the administration press, which was printed recently in a badly distorted manner, and it checks with that of Atty. Brown with the exception that certain parts were not overlooked by Brown. In part he spoke as follows: "There is no need of splitting hairs over the legal aspect of the offense al-leged to have been committed. There is such a succession of acts committed as shown by the evidence as to prove five or six separate offenses of which the defordant is collive.
