

HOPES ORCHARD HAS REPENTED

Widow of Steunenberg Would Have Him Given Chance to Lead A Good, Honest Life.

IN HER HEART IS NO MALICE.

Says Moyer-Haywood-Pettibone Trial Is Beginning of Struggle Between U. S. and Organized Labor.

Seattle, June 6.—A special to the Post-Intelligencer from Walla Walla, says: "Harry Orchard has done many wrongs, but I hope that he has repented now that he understands their magnitude, and that he will be given a chance to lead a good, true and honest life after the present ordeal has passed." This is the statement of Mrs. Frank Steunenberg, widow of the former governor of Idaho, who was killed by a bomb planted by Orchard at the gateway of his home in Caldwell. Mrs. Steunenberg is attending the annual camp meeting and conference of the Seventh Day Adventists at College Place, three miles west of Walla Walla. She seems to be above hatred of the man who killed her husband, and her conversation would indicate that she has forgiven him. As to Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone, she expressed no opinion, saying she had not thought of their connection with the case. She is leading a secluded life, spending most of her time reading the Bible and other religious works. Her eyesight is poor, she says, and she prefers to read something that will do her good, rather than the reports of the trial, which, she says, tend to excite rather than satisfy. She shuns publicity, saying that her statements are often put in the wrong light, though she does not avoid the subject of the death of her husband when it is broached to her. She said today: "The trial of Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone is the commencement of a national struggle between the United States government and organized labor, and will eventually lead to a rebellion. Mr. Steunenberg always believed that a struggle for supremacy would come, though he did not know when. When he prepared his first message to the public, after having been elected governor of Idaho, he was at a loss as to the position to take regarding the unions, and often consulted me, but finally decided that if any trouble came up during his administration he would be fair with both sides, and act as he considered right. When the trouble did arise, Mr. Steunenberg was greatly worried, and one evening, after he had made his final stand, he told me he thought it would cost him his life. "The thought that his life was at stake did not influence him in the least in what he thought was right. After completing his term as governor, he never believed his life was in danger, and had practically forgotten the ordeal through which he had passed, as I believed he had. His assassination was a terrible shock. "Since his death I have learned there were several attempts made on Mr. Steunenberg's life before the horrible deed was actually committed. At that time Orchard was hiding behind some rose bushes in our front yard with the intention of shooting my husband when he returned home in the evening. When he finally arrived his brother was with him, and Orchard, thinking it was Mr. Steunenberg's son, allowed him to pass unharmed. One night when Mr. Steunenberg, our daughter and myself were at home, we were badly frightened by some one prowling around the house. We learned afterward that it was Orchard, who was there with the intention of shooting Mr. Steunenberg."

FEARFUL ITCHING BURNING SORES

Boy in Misery 12 Years—Eczema Spread Over Body in Rough Scales, Cracked, Inflamed, and Swollen—Case Pronounced Incurable, but Completely Cured by Two Sets of Cuticura Remedies.

HIS SKIN NOW FINE AND SMOOTH AS SILK

"I wish to inform you that your wonderful Cuticura has put a stop to twelve years of misery I passed with my son as an infant. I noticed on his body a red spot and treated same with different remedies for about five years, but when the spot began to get larger I put him under the care of doctors. Under their treatment the disease spread to four different parts of his body. The longer the doctors treated him the worse it grew. During the day it would get rough and form like scales. At night it would be cracked, inflamed, and badly swollen, with terrible itching and burning. When I think of his suffering, it nearly breaks my heart. His screams could be heard down stairs. The doctoring of my son made me full of misery. I had no ambition to work, to eat, nor could I sleep. "One doctor told me that my son's eczema was incurable, and gave it up for a bad job. One evening I saw an article in the paper about the wonderful Cuticura and decided to give it a trial. I tell you that Cuticura Ointment is worth its weight in gold, and when I used the first box of Ointment there was a great improvement, and by the time I had used the second set of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent my child was cured. He is now twelve years old, and his skin is as fine and smooth as silk. Michael Steinman, 7 Summer Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., April 16, 1905."

FOR WOMAN'S EYE

Too much stress cannot be placed on the great value of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills in antiseptic cleansing, thus affording pure, sweet, and economical local and constitutional treatment for inflammations, itches, irritations, relaxations, displacements, and pains, as well as such sympathetic affections as anemia, chlorosis, hysteria, nervousness, and debility.

Bradley, former manager of the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mines in the Coeur d'Alenes, said tonight that Orchard's movement quite fits in with his experience. "The attempt to poison us with strychnine in the milk," he said, "was mainly frustrated by my habit of early rising, my custom being to breakfast before anyone in the house. On this morning I noticed a bitter taste in the milk, spat it out and had the rest put out of the way. Several innocent lives were thus saved. This milk had only been delivered a few minutes before my tasting it." Bradley, continuing, related that he was so terribly injured by the explosion spoken of by Orchard that he was unable to clearly follow the accounts of the outrage. He referred to the allegation that the explosion which wrecked his home and himself was caused by an explosion in the front hall which was ignited by a match struck to light his cigar. "Possibly there were two explosions—the first the infernal machine and then an explosion of gas caused by the dynamite. The gas may have been the lifting force which threw me into the street."

The owner of the flat sued the gas company, and was awarded $10,000 damages, the explosion being attributed to a defective meter. The gas company took an appeal, which is now pending in the supreme court.

Orchard's confession having become a matter of court record at Boise, it is altogether probable that the record will be used in the gas company's efforts to get aside the judgment of the lower court.

SIGNAL POINT IN SCHMITZ' FAVOR

Blanco. Prosecution's Chief Witness. Said no Money Was Extorted From Him.

MAYOR'S CHANGE OF FRONT.

Was From One of Hostility to French License Renewals to Demanding That They Be Granted.

San Francisco, June 6.—A few minutes before adjournment of court this afternoon the defense in the trial of Mayor Schmitz for extortion, scored what they consider a signal point, during the cross-examination of one of the prosecution's chief witnesses, Antonio B. Blanco. Until the great fire, Blanco was proprietor of Delmonico's, one of the five French restaurants from whose owner the mayor and Abraham Ruef are accused of having extorted thousands of dollars under threat, "implied or not expressed," to prevent the reissuance of their liquor licenses. "Did Ruef ever tell you that if you didn't pay this money you would not get your licenses renewed?" asked ATTY. Campbell, the mayor's senior counsel. "No," replied Blanco, promptly, "he did not."

"Did the mayor ever tell you that?" "No."

"Did anybody ever tell you so?" "No. Nobody ever made that threat to me," said Blanco.

Four witnesses were on the stand today. Officer Charles F. Skelley, secretary of the board of police commissioners; former Police Commissioner Thomas Keegan and Dr. Joseph Poheim, and Antonio Blanco. The first witness tomorrow morning will be Joseph Malanti, proprietor of Delmonico's restaurant. He acted as agent for the other French restaurants and handed to Ruef the money which the prosecution claims was extorted and which the defense maintains was paid purely as a retainer and in pursuance of a legal contract by which Ruef was to act as attorney for the Frenchmen in the matter of securing the renewal of their licenses which has been held up by Police Commissioner Keegan and Hutton on charges of immorality.

Pierre Priet, who conducted the negotiations with Ruef on behalf of the other restaurant keepers and himself, and whose name appears as a signature to the contract alleged, is dead.

Former Commissioner Keegan testified minutely to the sudden and determined change of the mayor's attitude on French license renewals—from advising their refusal to demanding that they be granted—simultaneously with the appearance of Abe Ruef as attorney for the restaurants, and his testimony implicated the Walters' union in a plot to expose the immorality of these places as a result of union difficulties with their proprietors.

Former Commissioner Poheim told of the compelling by Ruef of a set of bogus regulations for the government of the restaurants; how he and the boss had laughed over these, and how, after they had been by Ruef submitted to the police board, the hold-up licenses were renewed.

Antonio Blanco testified that he and the proprietors of the Pup, Delmonico's, Marsh and Sand Tortois had raised a fund of $10,000 to be paid to Ruef, "as a lawyer and the political boss," for "taking care" of their licenses for them. Asst. Dist. Atty. Heney conducted the examination for the state. Former Judge J. C. Campbell cross-examined for the defense.

After adjournment Mr. Heney was asked when Ruef will be called to the stand. He replied that he was unwilling to say, because he did not want to "give Mr. Campbell a chance to prepare for Ruef's cross-examination."

Today's attendance on the trial was larger than ever before. Crowds pressed about the locked doors of the Bush Street synagogue before the opening of court this morning and afternoon, and during the sessions every pew in the large auditorium was filled and scores of persons stood. Late in the morning witnesses the women without at the suggestion of Mr. Campbell that they might save themselves embarrassment by doing so.

MIGRATION TO SIBERIA.

St. Petersburg, June 6.—The migration to Siberia has assumed unprecedented proportions. Statistics from Jan. 1 to May 15, Russian style, showing that 233,000 persons passed Tchelyabinsk. The daily average in May reached 3,200. Most of these were actual settlers, returning families forming only 12 per cent, whereas formerly this percentage was from 10 to 20. Thousands of emigrants are in camps at stations along the line waiting for river steamers to convey them to their new homes. The bulk of the emigrants in previous years looked west of Lake Balkal. Now a large proportion are continuing eastward and are beginning to fill up Trans-Balkalia, Amuria and Primorsky, including Manchuria. The Japanese influx into Manchuria, which constitutes a serious but peaceful menace to Russia's position in East Siberia.

METCALF URGES CONSTANT PREPAREDNESS FOR WAR.

Annapolis, Md., June 6.—The members of the final section of the graduating class of the naval academy received their diplomas from the hands of Secy. of the Navy Metcalf today, in the presence of a large assemblage, which included Admiral Tilden of the French navy, French Ambassador Jusserand, Admiral Tatham, von Aschberg of the Dutch navy and Gov. Warfield and the official board of visitors. Secy. Metcalf, in his address, spoke of the honor, integrity and bravery of the American naval officers. Speaking of the future of the Atlantic fleet last March, he said: "These men can shoot straight, so if there should ever be a war, they would be the first to open fire. No American need fear the outcome."

Secy. Metcalf urged constant preparedness for war. "It would be the height of folly," he continued, "for this nation, until the nations agree upon arbitration, to leave itself open to attack or defeat. The navy we have at hand, however, never, no nation can ever obtain footing on American soil."

MAYORALTY VOTE RECOUNT.

McClellan Makes Public His Message To Legislature on Matter.

New York, June 6.—Mayor George B. McClellan today made public his message to the state legislature in opposition to the bill passed for a recount of the votes in the last mayoralty election in this city. It was announced at the city hall that McClellan, president of the board of aldermen, and acting mayor, who presided at the public hearing on the recount measure, here this week, would send his veto of the bill to Albany tomorrow.

"The bill is, in its face," says Mayor McClellan in his message, "dishonest and unfair."

He notes the failure to provide for a full recount of all the votes, and declares that he, as a successful candidate, is denied the right of asking for a recount in a single one of the districts other than those named in the bill.

"Such a law," he continues, "makes it possible to overthrow the soundest and fairest election ever held, provided only the plurality is small enough to make such an attempt worth while."

"Mr. Hearst, neither in his original contest nor by means of proposed legislation such as this bill, has ever sought but has continually aimed at a partial canvass of those districts where I received pluralities."

SMEETMEN ASK MORE.

Helena, Mont., June 6.—It developed today that on Monday a demand had been made upon the management of the Helena plant of the American Smelting & Refining company for an advance of 30 cents in the daily wage of 16 days in which to accept or reject the demand. The matter has been taken up by the local officials of the company in New York. The company today made announcement of the inauguration of a bonus system, whereby employees of less grade than foremen are given a 20 per cent bonus on the completion of their work, or a certain number of shifts. This became effective June 1. The plant is the largest of the company in the Intermountain section.

MINERS' STRIKE SETTLED.

One That Has Been on in Black Hills For Five Months.

Deadwood, S. D., June 6.—The strike of miners which has practically tied up business in the Black Hills for over five months, was settled last night at a meeting of the Terry Peak Miners' union. The strike was called on Jan. 1 on the refusal of the mine operators to grant the eight-hour day to their employees.

The proposition made by the operators, that the miners consent to a reduction of 25 cents a day for a period of three months, was accepted by the union, and the agreement was signed today. The reduction in pay means $225 per day for miners and $275 for shovellers and helpers. The union in the hills have signified their intention of taking the same action as the Terry Peak and operations in the mines will begin Monday. About 200 men will be employed. The mines affected by the settlement are the Regal, Vasey, 2 Golden Reward, Imperial, Dakota, Ludberg, Deer and Weller, Highland, Clifton, Maitland, Gilt Edge, Maid, Golden Crest and the North Homestake.

OUR CONSULAR SERVICE.

Secy. Straus Thinks Corps of Commercial Attaches Should Be Added.

New York, June 7.—At the monthly meeting of the chamber of commerce a letter from Secy. Straus of the department of commerce and labor was read in which he expresses the belief that our consular service should be supplemented by the establishment of a corps of commercial attaches. Secy. Straus' letter was in reply to a resolution adopted at the last meeting of the chamber urging upon the department the necessity for more complete information from American government representatives abroad on foreign tariffs and foreign trade generally. The secretary reviews the progress already made in more complete and accessible consular reports, and in the work of the consular agents now sent abroad to study foreign markets of the various industries. He adds that he thinks a departure should be made in the direction of the commercial attaché system employed by England, France, Italy and Germany, our officials in trade, through which they are able to obtain a broader and more general view of the situation in the markets than is possible by our own business interests. Secy. Straus remarks that international competition for the markets of the world has grown much keener and more active in recent years, and demands greater vigilance and exertion on the United States part than heretofore.

Madrid, June 7.—At a brilliant yesterday one of the terrors was a wealthy Mexican, Senor Vicente Sefura, who had himself very intrepid and was enthusiastically applauded by the public. He gave his share of the gate money to the poor.

PICKED UP IN PIECES.

Man Who Fell From Balloon at Height Of a Thousand Feet.

Barcelona, June 7.—As the balloon Clero ascended from the gas works here yesterday, a glider took hold of the cord and evidently wanted to make the ascension with the Count of Mendoza and his brother, who were in the car. The balloon ascended rapidly to a height of 1,000 feet when the man lost his grip and fell to the ground. He was picked up in pieces.

STOLYPIN RESIGNS.

Pavia, June 7.—A St. Petersburg dispatch to the Petit Parisien says that Prime Minister Stolypin, after a long conversation with the emperor, offered his resignation.

Lo, the Poor Indian.

We don't suppose there's a place on earth where a man's patience is so often put to the test as in a printing shop. We got another dose last night. Just as a printer was going to put a galley of type in the form for the "Dinky Daily Kansan," the whole thing fell to the floor in one conglomeration of pl. The scintillating thoughts that we had conjured out of the editorial think tank were in the same inseparable mass as the statement that "Tim Tumbleton" has bought the new top but—look out girls! It made us a little shy last evening, but the people of this town have overlooked our shortcomings so often in the past that we feel confident they will be kind in their judgment again this time. But say, it does take a printing office outfit to have a galley of type pick—Concordia Kansan.

Lace Made of Leaves.

"I'll trim your Easter street gown, madam," said the dressmaker, "with a lace made of leaves—Fayal lace, from the Azores." He exhibited the lace. It was no less beautiful than costly. "The women of Fayal make it," he went on, "out of the fibers of the leaves of the century plant. If you stop at Fayal on your next South Atlantic passage, don't fail to see these women at work, for they are the only makers of the lace left in the world today. The peasants of Abissola once possessed the same art. They made of the century plant's leaves a black lace—very beautiful, but it would not wash."
