BONDING PROJECT READY

April 28th to Vote—Phoney Check Filed—Court Matters—Pastor Dairy Bought.

Alter Brewer, the well known wholesale merchant, has bought the Pasture Dairy company. The purchase was made yesterday at a receiver's sale, the price paid being $2,500, just one-tenth of the amount for which the company was capitalized about three months ago. The buy was a bargain. It is said, for Mr. Brewer, as he gets the entire dairy plant, situated in the Kiesel block on Grant avenue, and the operating plants at Perry, Layton and Plain City.

The plant is practically new, having been used only a few weeks, but it was run on too extravagant and expensive a plan by the former management and was almost bankrupt before it had been sold. A receiver was appointed to run it, but after ten days' trial he reported to the court that the business was being conducted at a daily loss. The court then ordered the receiver to sell the plant at a small price, hardly enough to satisfy the claim of Fred Kiesel against the company. Mr. Brewer expects to put the plant in operation right away and to make it a paying industry, which no doubt it will when run on an economical scale.

UP TO THE PUBLIC APRIL 28TH.

At a meeting of the city council last night it was decided that the proposition to bond Ogden for $50,000, the amount to be used in the construction of sewerage in what is known as district No. 3, it will go before the voters April 28. The matter was talked over, and judges of election were appointed.

The proposed construction is a very important piece of public work, as it provides for sewers in nearly all of the thickly settled districts that are not now supplied, comprising part of the territory on the bench and extending south to the city hall.

The trustees of the State Industrial school appeared before the council and withdrew their application for permission to extend the water mains to the school, and asked instead permission to construct a canal. The permission was granted.

The council appointed caretakers of the three public parks and fixed their salaries at $40 a month. They are: City park, W. J. Stenwall; Lester park, Rodolph Kramer; Liberty park, John Wheeler.

On recommendation of the police committee the city council voted to install a patrol wagon as a regular feature of the police department. The rig, together with team and driver, is not to cost more than $100 per month. The night-bus system was also adopted for the patrolmen. The chief of police was instructed to install the same on April 1.

Another bid man by the name of James McPherson was arrested last night by Captain Brown and Detective Smith. He was charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, or with larceny, according as it develops whether the name signed to a $5 check which he cashed at the White Elephant saloon, was his name or not. McPherson, on being taken to the station, confessed the crime, and says he recently got out of the Idaho state penitentiary. The officers learned in the afternoon that he had cashed a check and they went to get him. They were present at the White Elephant when he worked the graft, and they immediately took him into custody.

PHONEY CHECK GRAFT.

TO BE SOLD OUT.

The property of the Ogden Sewer Pipe and Drain company will be sold at public auction. At a conference held yesterday by the stockholders of the company it was decided to go out of business and sell the property on April 20.

COURT MATTERS.

An action has been commenced in the second district court by Walter Blake against Sarah Huxton to quiet title to certain real estate in Ogden City.

The complaint alleges that the plaintiff is owner of the said real estate, but that the defendant has started to tear down the partition fence between the property of plaintiff and the party owning the property on the south, all without plaintiff's permission. Wherefore plaintiff prays for a restraining order restraining defendant from continuing to tear down the fence for $25 damages and decree of court declaring plaintiff owner of the land, also for costs of suit.

In the case of Charles R. Reed against D. A. Smyth et al the defendant was granted permission to file amended answer and cross complaint. In the case of Marion Winslow against J. H. Winslow, Jr., an order was entered continuing hearing on citation for contempt of court.

LAND SLIDE REPORTED.

At the regular meeting of the board of county commissioners a considerable amount of routine business was transacted.

Each of the commissioners made quite lengthy reports on the bad condition of the roads throughout the county, caused by the continued storms and thawing during the past few weeks, but decided that very little can be done until the weather is more settled and the roads dry up some. Commissioner Wilson reported that a small land slide had occurred in Ogden canyon, but that the indications are that a very large one may take place at any time, near the Cold Water canyon comes into Ogden canyon, and he desired to warn the people going through the canyon to be on the lookout.

Chairman Stanford reported that during the last quarter $31,715 had been received in the poor fund and only $78.50 disbursed. This being the smallest amount used for poor purposes during any quarter of the present board's administration, Mr. Stanford also reported the conditions at the county infirmary to be very satisfactory. The inmates are all enjoying fairly good health.

Through a lengthy letter to the board from the state board of health, attention was again called to the importance of all deaths being properly registered and reported.

The semi-monthly payroll and bills were allowed and ordered paid. County physician reported that there are no cases of contagious disease in the county and no cases of indigent sick at the hospital or lodging houses.

OPIMUM JOINT RAIDED.

The police last night raided an opium joint on lower quarter fifth street and arrested Chinese Tom and Harry Denters, a waiter in the Weber club. They appeared in the police court this morning when Denters was fined $10, a sum which he was unable to pay. The case will be set for trial on April 1.

CLEAN UP PLACE.

The city board of health held a meeting last night and approved a report submitted by Sanitary Inspector Powers on the condition of the Grand opera house. The inspector found the place very unsanitary and in great need of cleaning up, and the board passed a resolution authorizing the inspector, with the city attorney associated, to compel the opera house management to give the place an overhauling before another performance takes place, which is on Thursday.

Family Trouble Causes Peter Tryon to Suicide, a Prominent Man.

Special Correspondence.

Helper, March 27.—A suicide occurred at a ranch a few miles east from this place this afternoon when Peter Tryon, a prominent Helper citizen, shot himself. He was a well known citizen of Helper, killed himself. He used a Colt's revolver, placing the muzzle at the side of his right ear and his brains were literally blown out of his head, and, of course, death was instantaneous.

The act is attributed to family troubles. Some four or five months ago he was married to Mrs. Lavina McComb, of Helper, and it was to her home here that he came today to terminate his life. After the marriage he lived in the neighborhood of the cattle ranch, and after a few weeks' residence there the couple disagreed and he seems to have been driven to suicide by the family troubles.
