proceeding thich upon the carpet, and tide and politics wait for no man. The notes of the requiem at the funeral of the deceased President on Monday next shall have died upon the altar, the political bugle will not arouse, and the various parties will march their hosts for conflict on bloodless battlefields.
The calamity by the new Executive will extra session of Congress in the fall, and the appearance and increase of the tariff appears imminent, in consideration of the fact that the executive successor has left by the adjournment of the Senate to February 2nd, the pro tem of the Senate, nor here any Speaker of the House of Representatives to act as President for the next March 1, 1892; the President of the death or inability of Arthur. This leaves the President-to-day with a single life event and so much of anarchy might possibly ensue in a self-appointed, practical and orderly committee temporarily deprived of an executive head, in the present President President Arthur should be at the step taken by John Tyler succeeded General Harrison in Presidency, April 4, 1841, and there was an extra session of Congress in order that a President of Senate and a Speaker of the House of Representatives may be promptly chosen. In all other instances in our history in which a Vice-President has assumed the duties of office, at least one member of the Cabinet has been available to take his place. There are several vacancies in the Republican ranks by death and resignation, which have been filled in their respective States, but the election of a President must precede the swearing in of any Vice-President.
The Revised Statutes prescribe that the oath of office shall be administered by the President of the United States to his taking his seat.
The duty of the Senate now being expired will give the election as soon as it can be held, and the members of that party. So the plot is laid.

body perhaps was more surprising the result of the autopsy on the President than the fact that physicians who had had charge case from the commencement, all had been so positively lo-
