SAVE YOUR HAIR

TO LEARN HOW TO DO IT READ AND HEED WHAT FOLLOWS.

SAVE YOUR HAIR.—The laws of Health and Longevity demand it, the customs of social life require it. The matter is of great importance in every way.

BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR.—It is the surpassing crown of glory, and for the loss of it there is no compensation.

CULTIVATE YOUR HAIR.—For by no other means can it be saved and beautified.

LYON'S

KATHAIRON,

Discovered thirty-five years ago by Prof. Lyon, of Yale, to be the most perfect preparation in the world for preserving and beautifying the hair.

Besides being the best hair dressing ever produced, Lyon's Kathairon will positively prevent grayness, and will restore new hair to bald heads, if the roots and follicles are not destroyed.

It actually performs those seeming miracles, of which the following is

A FAIR SPECIMEN

I had been entirely bald for several years, constitutional, I suppose. I used a few bottles of Kathairon, and, to my great surprise, I have a thick growth of young hair.

COL. JOHN L. DOURANCE, U. S. A.

In every important respect the Kathairon is absolutely incomparable. It is unequaled.

1. To Cure Baldness.
2. To Restore Gray Hair.
3. To Remove Dandruff.
4. To Dress and Beautify the Hair.

BEAR IN MIND.—The Kathairon is no sticky paste of sulphur and sugar-of-lead, to paint and daub the hair and paralyze the brain. It is a pure and limpid vegetable lotion, intended to restore the hair by natural growth and reinvigoration. It is splendidly perfumed, and the most delightful toilet dressing known. No lady's or gentleman's toilet outfit is complete without Lyon's Kathairon.

EXTRA SESSION.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, 3.—Mr. Davidson called attention to the speech of Mr. Russell, printed in the Record, though not delivered, and pronounced some of its statements wholly and absolutely untrue. He added that the dippant manner in which the members charged fraud on others was altogether unbecoming the status which they occupied.

Mr. Springer, chairman of the committee on elections, reported back the bill relating to the contested election cases with a few unimportant amendments. He stated the only object of the bill was to permit the clerk of the committee on elections, when Congress did not meet until December, to prepare in vacation the records and briefs of contested election cases and have them ready to be presented to the committee when organized.

Mr. Harris opposed the bill because it gave a ministerial officer during the vacation of the House, power to break open the great seal of state. The bill goes over to another morning hour.

At the expiration of the morning hour, consideration was resumed of the bill reported from the coinage committee amending the statutes relating to coinage and coin and bullion certificates.

Mr. Warner submitted an amendment providing that gold and silver bullion which shall become the property of the government by a return of certificates to the Treasury in payment of dues thereto, shall be coined and paid out the same as other money. He made an argument in support of his substitute and quoted in favor of his argument from the writings and speeches of Hamilton, Jefferson and Webster. He spoke of the demonetization of silver as a felonious act on the part of the moneyed class, and argued that Congress had no right to pass that legislation. He asserted that not only was President Grant not aware at the time of his signing the bill which demonetized silver, of the effect of that act, but that two years subsequently neither the President nor his cabinet were aware of it. This was proved by the special message of Jan. 18, 1872, in which the President spoke of the time it would take to coin the silver necessary for the resumption of specie payment. At the time of the demonetization of silver, that act, he said effected the country very little, but when specie payment was resumed then its effect was felt, for the metallic valuation of currency was reduced from $1,000,000,000 to $400,000,000.

Mr. Fort reminded Mr. Warner that the ground had all been traveled over and silver had been remonetized two years ago.

Mr. Warner replied that the Bland bill, while remonetizing silver, did not re-establish a bi-metallic standard, and it was for that he was contending. The legal tender paper currency was as much money as if it were gold or silver coin. He asserted that in England gold had depreciated in purchasing power between 15 and 20 per cent. within the last fifteen months, and the question was whether a standard which was thus changing should be adhered to. If value of money was being constantly changed, it was easy to see all relations of values were overturned and industry was necessarily paralyzed. He regarded the success of the 4 per cent. loan as the saddest commentary that could be made on the country. It proved only one thing. It proved absolutely that there was no profit in the United States on productive capital or industry, and that the American people with its educated brain, its skilled hand, and its industrial equipments was earning no profits. If he had his own way, the light of another day should not fade from the sky till every one of the financial measures, wicked and wrong throughout, was torn from the statute books. (Applause.) The effect of the provision of the bill allowing unlimited coinage of silver would be to increase the value of silver and to decrease the value of gold; that was the sort of compensation which belonged to the bi-metallic system and tended to retain the equivalency of the two metals. In conclusion, he urged a return to the standard of the fathers and the giving to the people a currency that had the element of unchangability to the fullest extent possible. That could only be by allowing unlimited coinage of both metals. (Applause.)

EASTERN.

The Panama Outbreak!

NEW YORK, 3.—Additional details of the Panama outbreak give the number killed in the streets as 35. The state and national troops fought all day and night, neither side gaining much advantage. The state troops hastily organized, armed with Remington rifles and having possession of two pieces of cannon, took possession of the city as the Corron de Nairn, on the eastern side of the Cathedral Plaza, and steadily opposed any possible advance of the nationals. Hostilities ceased on the morning of the 18th, through the intervention of Bishop Paul and other clergy, the nationals surrendering unconditionally to the state forces, and being held as prisoners of war.

Cheating the Government.

James A. Harriott, John C. Maxwell alias Wm. Maxwell and John Daily, have been arrested on a charge of forging applications of discharged soldiers for additional bounty and with collecting the amounts. It is said that the ring of which the men arrested are said to be members, has defrauded the government of over $10,000.

The Caucus, and Comments on its Action.

CHICAGO, 3.—All the journals have specials giving a full account of the secret caucus of the democrats yesterday, all agree as to the general points, and also agree that the results were unsatisfactory as the proceedings were inharmonious and incomplete. The Inter-Ocean says: Late at night, speeches leaked out. Ewing favored moderate compromise, advocating the sending of riders on both bills as separate measures to the President. Mills, of Texas, opposed this, saying, "We must not give an inch. The President can sign these appropriations with the political legislation attached, or he can have no appropriations." Stephens, of Georgia, advocated separating the riders from the bills. Converse, Warner, Blackburn, Knott and Chalmers all spoke, agreeing with Mills that there must be no backdown or anything resembling it. Lefevre made a stalwart democratic speech. He said if the democrats wanted to make fools of themselves by backing out now they could do it, but he would not back out with them; generally, northern democrats were more radical in their expressions than southerners. Blunt, Tilman and Shelby said advices from their districts led them to believe the people would not sustain the withholding of supplies under any circumstances. On this, several northern members replied their people were not troubled, and would sustain them in withholding supplies until the [illegible] constitutional laws were wiped from the statute books.

The House democratic caucus committee this morning, it is understood, agreed upon a measure to be submitted to the caucus, if concurred in by the Senate committee, which, under the title of the bill to prevent military interference at the polls, consists of the sixth section of the vetoed army appropriation bill with the words, "civil officers" stricken out and the proviso added, "Nothing in this bill shall be construed as preventing the use of the army to enforce the process of United States courts or to put down resistance against the United States by armed men." The democratic members of the House of Representatives, to-day, held another caucus and determined a line of action in regard to the army appropriation bill, and agreed upon the exact terms of the measure to be separately passed in lieu of the sixth section, it being also agreed that all consideration of the remainder of the bill shall be deferred until this independent political measure shall have been acted upon by the President. It will provide in substance that sections 2,002 and 2,003 of the Revised Statutes shall not be construed as authorizing the presence of United States soldiers at the polls except under the orders of the President to repel armed enemies of the United States or in pursuance of constitutional requirement, upon the application of the legislature of a State, or of the governor, when the legislature cannot be convened to repress domestic violence. The bill will be accompanied with a short preamble. Among the titles suggested for the bill were the following: A "Bill to protect the ballot box from military interference;" a "Bill to prevent the army and navy from interfering with the freedom of elections;" a "Bill to prevent the control of elections in the States by the army and navy of the United States;" and a "Bill to prevent the use of the army at the polls and to promote the freedom of elections." It is understood the title finally adopted is a "Bill to prevent the interference by the army with the elections." The action taken by the caucus is substantially in accordance with the amended report presented to-day by the committee, to whom the whole subject was recommitted yesterday.

The effect of the provision adopted by the democratic caucus to-day for enactment in lieu of the sixth section of the vetoed army appropriation bill, is to make each State the judge whether or not federal military intervention is needed in any particular instance "to preserve peace at the polls." It does not interfere with the existing right of United States civil officers to employ a civil force to execute their functions, and it therefore apparently obviates the objection to the sixth section as originally passed, upon which the President based his veto of the army appropriation bill. In view, however, of the fact that he emphatically condemned the practice of putting "riders" upon general appropriation bills, the caucus, to-day, decided that it would be wise to send this measure to him separately, in order to leave him no possible means of evading the political issue, should he be so disposed. The general belief is that the President will sign this bill and that his approval will be promptly followed by the grant of the necessary appropriations for the army's support.

Washington Chat.

WASHINGTON, 3.—A confidential adviser of the President said it was very doubtful whether the President would approve any political measures presented to him. Had the propositions now pending been sent to him before any of this political legislation, there is no doubt but that the majority would have been approved, but now that it had been made purely a political matter the President would doubtless be controlled by the wishes of his party.

Ex-Secretary Borie, before he left Philadelphia to join Grant, told a friend he did so at the earnest solitation of many friends of the ex-President in order to persuade him not again to become a candidate, to risk defeat, and go down to history as a defeated candidate. Letters from Grant express great disinclination to accept another nomination.

Hayes a Man of Peace.

The President received the Universal Peace Union to-day, and in reply to an address said: "It is hardly to be expected that I should make any formal reply to the address just delivered to me or to the remarks just made. As a matter of course, any reply upon a matter of such importance should, to be of value, be carefully and maturely considered. As I have not yet given this subject careful consideration, and not caring to reply on the spur of the moment, I will not make any formal answer. I will say, however, that with the general sentiment which is the foundation of all such movements, I am heartily in favor. That is, perhaps, all I should say. I am very glad to have met you."

The delegates wished the President to understand his prevention of encroachment on the lands of the Indians in the Territories in observance of treaties with the Indians, met with the strong support and appreciation of all well disposed people of the country. The President said: It is certainly a gratification to me to know you take sides with us in that matter. The stand we have taken will be made fast. The question of how to deal with the Indians is always one of difficulty. It should be met honestly and with integrity in carrying out our treaties with them. The God-given golden rule should be our guide in dealing with them—do unto the weaker nation as we would have the stronger nation do unto us. The visitors then retired.

Tobacco Tax.

The House committee on agriculture considered to-day the bill introduced by Representative Dibrell repealing the tax on tobacco in the hands of the producer and appointed a sub-committee consisting of Dibrell, Hatch, Henry, Godschalk and Anderson to confer with the commissioner of internal revenue.

The Cox-Alston Trial.

ATLANTA, Ga., 3.—Cox, on trial for the murder of Alston testified to day that he was concerned with Senator Gordon in the convict labor business, they dividing the profits together with Alston. The defendant finally sold out, Alston acting as his agent. It was about the terms of Alston's remuneration for making the sale that the quarrel grew. Alston's share was so great, that to pay it would have beggared the defendant. Alston threatened to stop the trade and defendant threatened to expose the convict labor business. Alston threatened to kill defendant if he did so. Witness told Alston to arm and meet him, which was done at the capitol. Alston shot him twice once in the mouth and once in the hand, and dazed by the noise and effects of the shots the defendant then fired through the smoke at Alston and saw him fall. He only shot in self-defense. Alston was his best friend and he did not want to kill him.

The Pocasset Tragedy.

BOSTON, 3.—Freeman, the Adventist of Pocasset, who murdered his five-year-old child on Thursday, was arraigned at Barnstable to-day, with his wife, who is held as an accessory. Both insist God will fully justify their action and relieve them from human penalties. A number of Advent neighbors sustain Freeman in his course. Many of them are well-to-do farmers. Some of those present at the meeting at Freeman's house on the day of the murder will be arrested on the charge of being accessory to the deed.

FOREIGN.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The Scull Race.

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE, 3.—The weather to-day was lovely, Hanlon was first afloat shortly before 11 o'clock, attended by Bright. The spectators were numerous. The tide was well on the flood. After an exercise spin, Hanlon allowing Bright a long lead, dashed off at 32 to the minute, taking a tremendous sweep and pulling his stroke light through, and traveled a rare pace without easing from Level Bridge to Suspension Bridge at Scotswood, having covered the entire course in the most satisfactory style, without showing distress.

Hawdon, attended by Parcy and ex-champion Higgins, started shortly after Hanlon at his top racing speed, doing quite 40 to the minute, going in excellent form and doing full credit to his reputation as a pretty and finished oarsman. After a short distance he eased to 38, passing Paradise he was striking 36, which rate he maintained until half way up the Houghs, where he quickened to 38, finishing at Suspension Bridge full of dash.

GERMANY.

The German Statesman on the Tariff.

BERLIN, 3.—Bismarck, in the Reichstag, yesterday, during the debate on the tariff, said he would not enter into the question of free trade nor protection, but one thing was clear, that through the widely opened door of its import trade the German market had become a mere storage space for the over production of other countries. They must therefore shut their gates and take care that the German market which was now being monopolized by foreign wares should be reserved for native industry. Countries which were closed had become great and those which remained open had fallen behind.

UTAH DIRECTORY

FOR 1879-80.

H. L. A. CULMER & CO., PUBLISHERS.

OFFICE OF

SALT LAKE DAILY TIMES.

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, March, 1879.

TO THE CITIZENS OF UTAH: WE ARE about to publish a general and complete Directory of Salt Lake, Utah, Davis and Weber Counties, giving name, occupation and residence of every citizen, and in addition, will be a correct Business Directory of every City and town in Utah, giving name, business and residence of every merchant, dealer or manufacturer in the Territory; thus constituting a work long needed and that will be of immense value and interest to the country, and especially to the business portion of the community.

Incorporated into the Directory will be a concise and reliable account of the various advantages which each city presents, whether manufacturing, mining or commercial; its public buildings and institutions, together with all other practical information that will be of value to the general public.

An efficient corps of experienced men have been engaged in this work throughout various parts of the Territory, and are now making a record of the residents and business houses of SALT LAKE CITY. They will also dispose of the limited number of pages which the book will devote to advertisements, and we respectfully solicit for them the information and support that a work of this character deserves. The Directory will be sold only by subscription. Price Three Dollars.

Respectfully,

A CONQUEROR OF CONSUMPTION!

HALL'S BALSAM

FOR THE LUNGS,

ERADICATES

Coughs, Colds, Pneumonia, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, and all Diseases of the Breathing Organs.

HALL'S BALSAM

Is the LEADING SPECIFIC for CONSUMPTION.

It soothes and heals the membranes of the lungs, inflamed and poisoned by the disease, and removes the cause entirely. It flies across the chest which accompanies it.

CONSUMPTION

is not an incurable malady, for thousands of cases, given up to die, right remedy, HALL'S BALSAM in that remedy.

DON'T DESPAIR OF HEALTH, for the benign specific may cure you, even though professional aid fails.

READ THE FOLLOWING:

Dr. D. D. Wright, of Cincinnati, Ohio, the published says personal testimony:

"I have prescribed Hall's Balsam in a large number of cases and always with success. He advises that in no case, of recent origin, every appropriate remedy for the cure of Consumption to this moment, should be given, commencing to take the Balsam.

John Kuhn, of Lafayette, Ind., writes:

"One year ago I was so ill apparently in the last stages of consumption and got so low our doctor said I could not live twenty-four hours." Mr. Kuhn finding no relief after taking nine bottles of HALL'S BALSAM he is now in perfect health, having used no other medicine."

The above brief extracts are taken from a

MASS OF EVIDENCE

which has been accumulating during a period of TWENTY-NINE YEARS, proving an efficacy of HALL'S BALSAM in all cases where the breathing organs are affected, and showing the entire safety with which the remedy is used by the youthful and medical profession. Sold by all Druggists. Price $1.00 per bottle.
