

PRESIDENT REACHES THE PACIFIC COAST

Arrived in Seattle Two Weeks After Leaving Boston—Goes To Tacoma Then South

MEETS AN OLD SWEETHEART

Finds Love of Country Everywhere And Local Pride Increasing as He Goes Further West.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 29.—President Taft reached the Pacific coast tonight just two weeks after his start from Boston. During all of this time he has been steadily heading for the west. Here a new phase of the journey begins, and when he leaves Seattle for Tacoma on Friday afternoon and leaves that city at midnight his course will be south until Los Angeles is reached, and then comes the turn once more to face the rising sun.

The president and his party were met at the union station by a reception committee of 200 men and women. The president's first stop was at the hotel where he was to stay. He was then taken to the station where he was to meet his old sweetheart, Mrs. Josephine A. Taft.

The visitors entered automobiles and proceeded to the Harbor club, half a mile distant, where a reception in honor of the president was given by Mrs. Richard A. Ballinger, wife of the secretary of the interior.

After half an hour at the club the president and his party went to the Hotel Washington, which will be the home of the visitors until their departure for Tacoma Friday morning.

In his Yaluking address the president also took occasion to pay a tribute to Senator Wesley L. Jones of Washington, who joined the party at Spokane yesterday. Gov. Marion E. May of Washington, in introducing the president, declared that it was through him that the Pacific coast had recognition on the national ticket of the Republican party, and for vice president in 1912, he "placed in nomination the Hon. Wesley Jones."

PRAISES SENATOR JONES

"In nominating Senator Jones for a place on the ticket," said the president, "I do not say why Gov. May should not name him for the presidency, for you are not in the habit of taking a back seat out here. You only want the best. Wherever you put Senator Jones he can be counted on to do the right thing at the right time, and that, too, without any brass band or fireworks to tell that he is doing it. If you nominated him for the presidency I should be glad to go before the country and testify to my own knowledge of his worth and ability, as I am doing here."

In the throng that greeted the president at the clubhouse were a large number of Grand Army veterans and the members of the Woman's Relief corps.

"I am honored by the presence of the Grand Army men," said the president, "and by the ladies who, while they do not wear uniforms, suggest the presence of the woman's relief corps. I have had the pleasure of meeting Grand Army men at many places on this trip, and it is most inspiring to have brought back the memories of the time when it cost blood and courage and they will some day rise to call you blessed. It cleanses, beautifies and preserves the teeth and imparts purity and fragrance to the breath.

In most of the homes of the day and save the country. And it is pleasant to know that just out in the desert country, away from the battlefields where the heat of the nation's life was conducted, we find the homes of that war who fought but here even after so heavy a struggle, in order to build up a new vigor and to add to the strength, the expansion, the wealth and the necessity of the country which they saved.

"Just in front of me," continued the president, "I see a monument that bears back many memories, that I always like to refer to and emphasize. This monument is intended to be to one of those who in effect gave up his life in the far distant Philippines in order that the duty which this government had there should be performed and a superstition extended and held given a people who by the providence of God were put under our guardianship."

Only those who have been in the Philippines know the sacrifices and the hardships to which our boys in those islands were exposed. Only those who have been in the Philippines know and have a proper pride in what they did there. For they were called upon not only to meet a foe most dangerous, fighting in oriental fashion, but after they had conquered them they were put in a position where they had to exercise a self-restraint and a guardianship and an independence of action that only men in the American army are capable of, and so whenever I meet one who has been in the Philippines there is a bond between him and me that makes me happy, and I hope that in the audience which I am addressing there are a number of those who went out there and now retain in secret recollection the hardships which they had to undergo and the beauties of those far-distant gems of the Pacific ocean."

CLIMAX APPROACHES

In a speech at the luncheon tendered him by the Commercial club of North Yakima, President Taft said:

"I have been going west and I have been approaching a climax. I found that the people in Chicago were fairly well satisfied with that large city and thought everything centered there and shaped itself with reference to Chicago. Then I came to Minneapolis, then to Des Moines, then to Omaha, then to Colorado, and there I struck the region of the apple. The peaches played some part in it, but the apple was dominant. I came to Utah and I found it still stronger, and then up into Idaho and then to Spokane, where I did not find that Spokane was likely to lose any steps in progress because of lack of appreciation of Spokane, by the people of Spokane and now, going through Yakima valley which I have been delighted to visit and which certainly is a gem on the surface of the

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO.

Their Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthily some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings many diseases and symptoms—headache, backache, nervousness, hot dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart action, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

Mrs. Joseph Slater, 555 West Third South St., Salt Lake City, Utah, says: "The statement I gave for publication in 1908, recommending Doan's Kidney Pills still holds good and I gladly confirm all I then said in their favor. You may continue to publish my testimony, and I will be glad to do so. I am still a sufferer from the kidney trouble which I suffered from for many years. I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and they have cured me. I am now as healthy as a horse and I can do all the work I wish to do. I am now a member of the Commercial club of North Yakima, and I am proud to say that I am a member of the same club as the president of the United States."

earth. I am glad to find the spirit increasing until I reach the topmost of civic enterprise and commendable municipal conduct in Seattle.

FIRST TAFT MEETS AN OLD SWEETHEART

North Yakima, Wash., Sept. 29.—President Taft met an old sweetheart of his here today, and proudly boasted of the fact when he addressed a great throng of Yakima valley citizens in front of the courthouse.

While the president was breakfasting in his car, the Mayflower, a card was brought to him. On it was the name of Mrs. Betty Hodges, who formerly was Mrs. Ben Evans of Cincinnati. Mrs. Hodges was warmly welcomed on board and was introduced by the president to all his breakfast guests, including Gov. Hay, senator Jones and others.

When he was speaking at the courthouse, Mr. Taft complimented the Yakima people on their splendid apple orchards and declared that his love for apples created a bond of union between him and the people of this section.

"And there is another bond between me and the Yakima valley, although perhaps I ought not to say it in so public a place. I found an old sweetheart of mine here today," declared the president, amid a shout of laughter. "You don't know who she is, and I can not go to tell you," continued Mr. Taft, "but before she gets through she is going to be one of the most successful farmers of your district. At any rate, if she can cultivate the soil and will of the fruit as she did the men in my neighborhood she is bound to succeed."

UNITED STATES WILL MAKE NO PROTEST

Washington, Sept. 29.—The statement that this government has decided to make a formal protest against the treaty between China and Japan is declared by competent authority to be unfounded. It is said to be doubtful whether Secretary Knox has given the matter any serious consideration.

The provision in one of the treaties that China must consent to Japan before she can extend her present railway system in Manchuria is not regarded with favor here and it is said that Japan by exacting such a condition is violating that article in the Portsmouth treaty whereby Japan and Russia agreed not to obstruct any measure which the Chinese government might take for the commercial development of her empire.

It is also pointed out that while Japan has arranged with China for building railways in Manchuria for which Japan is to furnish a part of the capital, her insistence on China's consulting her before building any extension of the imperial Chinese railways, practically precludes the introduction of other foreign capital for this purpose. This provision in the treaty is probably the most objectionable.

The provision whereby China grants to Japan the exclusive right to operate jointly with Chinese capital the mines on both sides of the Antung-Mukden and South Manchurian railways does not meet with approval here. In a large measure, it is said, control of the mining resources of a very large part of South Manchuria might prove prejudicial to the interests of the Chinese railways which may be constructed later.

GEN. GRANT MARCHED FOR GOOD GOVERNMENT

Washington, Sept. 29.—Gen. Frederick B. Grant, commanding the department of the lakes, and Secy. Dickinson discussed informally at the war department this afternoon the criticism which has been directed at the former because he appeared in the uniform of his rank at the head of a recalled temperance parade in Chicago last Saturday.

Just what passed between the two was not disclosed. Mr. Dickinson said he had mentioned the subject to Gen. Grant when he called at the department on his recent visit to the Hudson-Fulton celebration in New York. In the absence of the latter, which W. M. McKim, of the executive board of the United States for Local Self-Government has mailed to the secretary of the department, the matter could not be treated officially, and it is believed the secretary's reference was local.

Earlier in the day Gen. Grant justified his action in appearing in the parade on the ground that it was a demonstration in favor of good government and was not a temperance parade. Inasmuch as no orders were issued to Gen. Grant to march in the parade, Secy. Dickinson holds that the former's presence there could be regarded as an official action on his part, and the government's stance of abstention in the subject of the demonstration.

COL. W. R. MORRISON DEAD.

Waterloo, Ill., Sept. 29.—Col. W. R. Morrison, for many years a leader of the Democratic party and a veteran of the Mexican war, died tonight. Mr. Morrison was elected to Congress in 1862. He retired from Congress in 1887, and in the same year was appointed to the international commerce commission by President Cleveland, remaining in that position for 10 years.

WHY WHITNEY DID NOT GO BACK

Engines of the Jeanie Were Not Working in a Satisfactory Manner.

AS TO DR. COOK'S EFFECTS.

Did Not Know at Time That They Were of Such Great Importance.

New York, Sept. 29.—The following dispatch was received by the Associated Press tonight from Harry Whitney, the New Haven hunter, who arrived at St. Johns, N. F., yesterday by the schooner Jeanie on his way home:

"St. Johnsville Crossing, N. F., Sept. 29.—So many questions are being asked me by different papers that I decided to make the following statement through the Associated Press: My reasons for not going back to Elah after Dr. Cook's things were that the engines of the Jeanie, one of the smallest boats that ever went to the Arctic, were not working satisfactorily and we were depending partly on sails which later we had to do entirely. "There was no reason why the Jeanie could not have gone back, but not knowing that Dr. Cook's things left with me were of such importance as they have since turned out to be, I did not return. In addition I had promised the Eskimos, who were with me after much oxen in Kilmorland, certain things which I expected on the ship coming for me, but they were not aboard the Jeanie and I did not want to return and disappoint the men. Another reason was that I wanted to sell my hunting trip, which I was able to do by not going back, but by cutting across Smith sound from North Star bay and following the edge of the ice south.

"I do not believe that either Dr. Cook or Commander Peary if placed in my position would have done any differently than I did, nor would they, having started south for civilization, have turned back. I had never seen Dr. Cook until I met him at the Arctic. He told me he had been to the north pole and I was pledged not to reveal this fact to Commander Peary, but I could say that he had gone farther north than Peary in 1905.

"Commander Peary to my knowledge knew nothing about what had been left with me by Dr. Cook except that I mentioned instruments, clothes and food and also a narwhale horn. Dr. Cook's belongings, left in my charge, were placed in boxes which were nailed up. Then I saw the Eskimos cover them with rocks.

"No one could have been kinder to me or shown more consideration than Commander Peary did while I was on the Roosevelt and he said he would be very glad to have me remain aboard and return with him instead of joining the Jeanie. (Signed) "HARRY WHITNEY."

COOK IN PHILADELPHIA.

Philadelphia, Sept. 29.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the Arctic explorer, came here today to deliver a lecture tonight. He received a most enthusiastic reception.

His ride from the depot, where a great crowd met him, to the city hall, where he was officially welcomed by Mayor Heyburn, was a continuous ovation.

Once on the train he hoped to have a few quiet moments in which to prepare his lecture for tonight. The passengers, however, passed and repassed his seat to get a glimpse of him and shake his hand, and Gov. Fort of New Jersey, who was on the train, spent 20 minutes with him.

Dr. Cook's right hand is literally caked with so much handshaking and he is now compelled to offer his left hand.

At the city hall he was tendered a reception under the auspices of the city of Philadelphia.

There were no scientific men present to meet the explorer.

ADMIRAL SCHLEY CANCELS ENGAGEMENTS

New York, Sept. 29.—Prompted by experience, Rear Admiral Winfield S. Schley, retired, has cancelled all engagements for entertainments here and will immediately seek seclusion in Washington.

Admiral Schley, whose health is not good, has attended various dinners and other functions in connection with the Hudson-Fulton celebration and incident to the north pole controversy, in which he has taken a prominent part, and it has had a bad effect on him, he says. Fearing a breakdown, the admiral has cancelled all invitations and has made arrangements to return home.

S.S.S. CURES BLOOD POISON

When the blood becomes infected with the virus of Contagious Blood Poison, the symptoms are soon manifested. The mouth and throat become copper-colored spots appear, a red rash breaks out, the hair begins to come out and usually sores and ulcers show themselves on different parts of the body. At the first sign of the disease S.S.S. should be taken, for the trouble is too powerful and dangerous to trifle with. If allowed to run on the tendency is to work down and attack the bones and nerves, and sometimes it makes a complete physical wreck of the sufferer. The disease can make no such headway if S.S.S. is commenced and used according to directions; its progress can be stopped, the poison removed, and health preserved. S.S.S. goes into the blood and removes the insidious virus, cleanses the circulation and makes a complete and permanent cure by driving out the cause. S.S.S. quickly takes effect on the blood, and gradually the symptoms disappear, the health is improved, the skin cleared of all spots, sores and blemishes, and when S.S.S. has thoroughly purified the circulation no trace of the disease is left. S.S.S. is a purely vegetable remedy, cures Contagious Blood Poison because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers, tested and proven for more than forty years. Home treatment book and any medical advice free to all who write.
