

OPERATIONS AGAINST MOROS.

Captain Pershing Finds Fort Too Strong to Attack.

AWAITING REINFORCEMENTS

Believe of Macin Regard Their Position as Impregnable and Refuse to Treat.

Manila, Sept. 24.—Capt. John J. Pershing of the Fifteenth Infantry, operating against the Moros in the island of Mindanao, has found the Moro position at Macin, island of Mindanao, to be strong and has delayed his attack on it. He must throw a pontoon bridge across a swamp and possibly receive reinforcements before engaging the enemy. The captain made a reconnaissance close to the Moro position and found a fort on an elevation, close to the lake shore, flanked by swamps, virtually making the promontory an island. The Americans built rafta preparatory to attacking the Moros from the lake, and then decided to bridge the lake and make an attack from all points. The Moros of Macin regard the position as impregnable, and have refused to treat with Capt. Pershing.

REPORT ON PERSHING'S DOINGS.

Washington, Sept. 24.—The war department has received a cable dispatch from Gen. Chaffee from Manila, in which he says:

"Capt. John H. Pershing, Fifteenth Infantry, left Camp Vicars Sept. 18, with a battalion of infantry, troop of cavalry, and a platoon mounted battery, and toward Himig, nine miles south of Vicars, and in that vicinity took three forts at Ganan; 19th, visited Jaybas, took two forts; 20th, marched toward Sanic, took two forts, and communicated with two Moros. Macin is about 15 miles northwest of Vicars."

"Pershing fired on frequently when approaching Sanic. No loss of our troops. Moros report their loss 25 killed. Macin about 15 miles northwest of Vicars."

"Brig-Gen. Samuel Sumner instructed to limit the use of firearms as much as possible and not to destroy property, the object being to obtain promises of non-interference with our troops in the future. Gen. Sumner now at Camp Vicars."

PROTECT AMERICAN INTERESTS

More War Vessels Will Be Sent to West Indies.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Rear Admiral John B. Coghlan, second in command on the North Atlantic station, has been summoned to Washington to discuss the general situation in the West Indies before departing for those waters in his flagship, the Olympia. It is stated at the navy department that there is no present intention of sending the Olympia to the isthmus, but that it will be sent to some central point in the Indies to watch developments in the turbulent republics which border the Caribbean. The threatened war between Great Britain and Venezuela promises fresh complications in the latter country, and renewed outbreaks in Haiti are possible at any moment. The sending of Rear Admiral Coghlan with his flagship to the West Indies is the result of the determination of Secy. Moody to afford better protection for American interests in a region where protection is likely to be needed at any time. The San Francisco is expected to get away from Norfolk for San Juan, P. R., and it is said that when the Olympia reaches the Indies the San Francisco will be sent north again. Heretofore the United States naval representation in the West Indies has proved inadequate to meet the demands for ships which have been made from various quarters, and the navy department has decided to keep a force in the Caribbean which is able to cope with a single, double or triple call as the case may be.

The navy department has received a telegram announcing the arrival at Colon, yesterday, of the Panther with the marine battalion aboard. Commander McCrea, who has long experience in dealing with affairs in Central America has a valuable knowledge of the condition there, and his report will be of great value to Secy. Moody today in that subject.

FIRE CAUSES A PANIC.

Consequence Was Over a Hundred Peasants Perished.

London, Sept. 24.—A special dispatch from St. Petersburg says that while the peasants were attending a wedding celebration yesterday in a barn at Werby near Moscow, a fire was started from a cigarette and a panic ensued. Women and children were trodden underfoot. The fire spread rapidly and within a quarter of an hour over one hundred of the wedding guests had been suffocated or burned to death and many had been seriously injured.

Dr. J. W. Powell dead.

MAJ. J. W. POWELL DEAD.

Famous World Over as First Explorer of the Grand Canyon.

Haven, Mo., Sept. 23.—Major J. W. Powell, director of the bureau of ethnology at the Smithsonian institution at Washington, died at his summer home here. He had been critically ill for some days.

Scientists in Washington placed Maj. Powell in the foremost rank of the geologists and anthropologists in the world. He had been identified with the scientific world since the early sixties.

Maj. Powell's most notable scientific work, from the viewpoint of scientists here, was his exploration of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado in the sixties. His fellow workers say that he was not only the first man who went through the Colorado canyon, but the only one who so far ever has traveled its entire length from Green River station to the mouth of the canyon.

This exploit, scientists say, was one of the most notable geographical, geological and ethnological explorations and surveys in the history of North Ameri-

no other application so soothing, cooling, and refreshing as

Millions of Women use CUTICURA SOAP for preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, for clearing the scalp of crusts, scales, and dandruff, and for stopping itching hair, for softening, whitening, and soothing red, rough, and sore hands, for baby rashes and chaffs, in the form of bath for annoying irritations and inflammations of women, or too free or often-saline perspiration, in the form of washes for ulcerative weaknesses, and many salutary, antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves, as well as for all the purposes of the toilet, bath, and nursery. CUTICURA SOAP combines delicate emollient properties derived from CUTICURA, the great skin cure, with the purest of cleansing ingredients and the most refreshing of flower odors. Nothing can induce those who have once used these great skin purifiers and beautifiers to use any others.

country, which has been under consideration and in process of actual formation for the last six months, has been abandoned, at least for the present, says the Tribune. The decision not to contemplate the combination is due in a large degree to the attitude of the national administration toward trusts as outlined by President Roosevelt in his recent speeches, and to the possibility in the event of a consolidation Congress might remove the tariff on cattle.

It was learned last night that a final meeting of the heads of the firms known as the Big Four packing houses in Chicago had been held, at which it was agreed to end all negotiations at once.

This was followed by an order issued from the offices of Swift and Company, that the firm's employees should immediately discontinue the inventory of property and stock, which had been ordered and started for the purpose of tabulating a report of the financial standing of the company which was to be made to the government.

Killed by Boiler Explosion.

Pueblo, Colo., Sept. 23.—The locomotive of a freight train going north on the Denver & Rio Grande exploded to-night a mile from Monument, on the divide. Engineer George M. Andrews of Denver and Fireman Thomas Philburn of Pueblo were killed. The explosion occurred without any warning and the cause is not known. The engine was a new one, having only just been received from the works. Although practically nothing remains of the locomotive but the trucks, the track was not damaged and but little injury was done to the train.

Maj. Bridgeman Arrested.

Butte, Mont., Sept. 23.—Major M. L. Bridgeman, recently removed as Indian agent at the Fort Belknap agency, was arrested today by Special Agent McNichols on a charge of falsifying his accounts. The federal grand jury has indicted him on 39 counts. The alleged false accounts and fraudulent vouchers aggregate about $18,000, and cover a period of 22 months prior to last April, when Bridgeman was suspended.

Nance O'Neil Lost Money.

London, Sept. 23.—In an interview today with a representative of the Associated Press, McKee Rankin, the manager of Nance O'Neil, the American actress whose illness, as announced last night, caused the closing of the Adelphi theater here, where she has been since Sept. 11, as Elizabeth in "Elizabeth, Queen of England," explains that the real reason for stopping the performance was the shortage of cash. The losses incurred by Miss O'Neil's season have been heavy. Mr. Rankin estimates that $20,000 is not sufficient for all claims. Since Saturday the theater has been besieged by supers clamoring for their wages, which Mr. Rankin is now engaged in settling. He attributes the failure of the work to the theatrical clique which is trying to get the Adelphi out of the hands of the Gatti syndicate.

Injured by a Grizzly.

New York, Sept. 23.—A dispatch to the Associated Press, dated Mammoth Hot Springs, Wyo., and signed H. G. Young, says that S. Osgood Pell of New York, sustained severe injuries to his left arm in a fight with a grizzly bear, which he finally killed.

Killed in Freight Wreck.

Escaped Convict Shot.

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 23.—Ed Hansen, the counterfeiter who escaped from the government penitentiary on McNeil's island yesterday, was shot and captured today at a point on the east end of the island by a rancher who was in the posse hunting for the prisoner. Hansen was taken back to the prison on a stretcher, and surgeons were summoned from the state hospital for the insane at Steilacoom to attend him. His condition is critical.

ca. It was partly undertaken in connection with the Smithsonian institution and partly by means of his own private resources. His work as director of the government geographical and geological surveys in the Rocky mountain region in the early seventies was largely responsible for his selection for executive responsibilities later in this city. This Rocky mountain district was one of four surveys of the territories which, in 1878, were combined into the present geographical survey.

GERMANY AND HAY'S NOTE.

That Country Not Called Upon to Lead the Way.

Cologne, Sept. 24.—The Koelnsche Zeitung, which is frequently inspired from Berlin, refers to Secy. Hay's Roumanian note as follows:

"However pitiable the position of the Jews in Roumania may be individual states must ask themselves whether an affair, which concerns foreign subjects, justifies them in imposing their jurisdiction upon these subjects. Great Britain and the United States must make it clear how they conceive the whole business is to be managed. Germany, by itself, is in no way concerned in the question. The fact that the treaty of Berlin was signed in Berlin does not impose the obligation of defending it upon Germany any more than upon the other signatories. It follows that we by no means feel called upon to play the leading role, the more so as we are under no illusion as to the difficulty of the enterprise.

"Roumania would have done better to frame her Jewish legislation otherwise than she has. The measures taken by Roumania are hopeless. When she realizes this fact she will perhaps modify her legislation, inasmuch as it is very much to her interest that the Jewish question disappear from the order of the day."

Amalgamation for Veterans.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 23.—The Spanish war veterans today voted in favor of the amalgamation with the Spanish-American war veterans. Capt. Wilson I. Davenport of Chicago, a representative of the united service men of the Spanish war, was tendered the floor for a fraternal speech in the course of which he referred to the possibility of amalgamating the different associations of Spanish war veterans. He said that to extend the movement toward amalgamation, "and," said Capt. Davenport, "if amalgamation can be arranged on a basis that will be just and equitable to all you will not find me in the way." At the conclusion of his address the colonel went into executive session.

GOES TO GERMANY.

Particular Travelers Demand the Importation of American Articles.

"I had drunk coffee since babyhood, and although I was very nervous and dyspeptic, I could not and would not believe that coffee had anything to do with it," writes an American lady now living in Munich, Germany.

"My physician convinced me that coffee was at the bottom of all my troubles, and I tried many things to take its place, but nothing satisfied the craving for real coffee. At last, one day in a half-hearted, despairing mood, I bought from the grocery some Postum Food Coffee. I tried it and that was the way I had inherited my taste for coffee and also my nervousness, laughed and said, 'Don't you know that nothing can take the place of well-made coffee, half Java and half Mocha, with plenty of rich cream?' 'I replied, 'I firmly believe it,' I replied, 'I am getting more nervous every day, and can hardly eat anything at all, and Dr. S., like the rest of the physicians, tells me it all comes from coffee.'"

So next morning I personally made a pot of Postum, following closely the directions—and such a surprise! The color was a rich, dark, winy brown, and a pleasant aroma greeted the nose. I confess I feared to put it to that test for fear of another disappointment. But not so with my daughter, who eagerly made the trial and fairly shouted:—'Hurrah! Mamma, you have found it at last.' I tried it and that ended our coffee drinking for good. The flavor was full and rich and left nothing to be desired.

In a short time, my dyspepsia disappeared and as for nerves—my daughter and myself almost forgot that such things existed, until we came to Germany and I had to go back to coffee and we are again as nervous and dyspeptic as we used to be. But we don't intend to let it go on: I have written to America for a good supply Postum Food Coffee, and I have it in the future at any cost. Life is miserable to us without Postum.

When we used it, Postum proved the most gentle of conquerors and brought us with benefits in the way of strengthened health and quiet nerves." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

APPEAL OF THE BOER GENERALS

They Issue a Manifesto to the Civilized World.

THEY ASK CONTRIBUTIONS.

It is to Believe Distress in Transvaal—England Refuses to Grant Further Assistance.

Amsterdam, Sept. 24.—The Boer generals, Botha, Dewet and Delarey have issued a manifesto in the shape of an appeal to the civilized world. This document recalls how, after the terrible struggle in South Africa and the Boers were compelled to accept the British terms of peace, the generals were commissioned to proceed to England to appeal to the new government to allow the distressed and in destitute the colonies, and in the event of the failure of the mission to appeal to the civilized world for charitable contributions.

Continuing, the generals say that having failed to induce Great Britain to grant further assistance, it only remains for them to address themselves to the people of Europe and America.

After setting forth how sweet it has been, during the critical days they had passed through, to receive constant marks of sympathy, the generals take this opportunity to express, on behalf of the people of the late republics fervent thanks to all those who had assisted charitably the women and children in the concentration camps, prisoners, etc. "The small Boer nation," goes on the manifesto, "can never forget the help it received in its dark hours of suffering. Our people are completely ruined. It has been impossible to make a complete inventory, but we are convinced at least 20,000 houses on Boer farms and many villages were burned or destroyed by the British during the war. Everything was completely laid waste. The war demanded many victims, the land was lashed in tears and our orphans and widows were abandoned. We are appealing to the world for contributions to assist the destitute and help in the education of children."

The generals reiterate all desire to have the minds of the people and declare: "The sword is now sheathed, and all differences are silent in the presence of such great misery."

They say the small amount given by Great Britain, even if multiplied tenfold, would not suffice to cover the war losses alone.

"We solicit the hearty co-operation of all existing committees in the various countries which we are on the point of visiting with the object of establishing a satisfactory organization."

The manifesto is signed by Gens. Botha, Dewet and Delarey.

PALMA PROTESTS.

Against Removal of Military Records to Washington.

Havana, Sept. 24.—One month ago President Palma wrote a letter to Washington asking that all the military records now in charge of Chief Clerk Steinhardt be kept in Cuba for at least one year, as they were absolutely necessary to conduct government business. President Palma did not receive a satisfactory reply to this request, and last week the war department sent orders to its agents here to send immediately to Washington the records in the auditor's office. Preparations are being made to comply with these orders. President Palma, however, strongly objected to the removal of the documents in question and has protested to Washington in the matter. He says the Cuban government is now paying all the expenses of keeping up the auditor's office and is willing to continue to do so and that it is a matter of justice to allow the government to have easy access to the records.

The third resolution sets forth that a cable connecting neutral territory with the territory of a belligerent must not be cut in a territorial or neutralized sea, and in the open sea only within the limits of effective blockade.

The fourth resolution says that the liberty given to a neutral state to transmit telegrams must not degenerate into disloyal and manifest assistance to a belligerent.

Wife Stabs Her Husband.

New York, Sept. 24.—On an alarm from the Maspeth police, an ambulance was sent early today, from a Brooklyn hospital on the four mile run to the home of Joseph Alstrefski. The ambulance surgeon found the man lying on the floor in a pool of blood.

"My wife stabbed me," he gasped. "She had been drinking and was abusing our daughter when I came home. I protested and she stabbed me."

The woman lay on a bed apparently asleep. The surgeon began to work on Alstrefski's wound while a policeman ordered the woman to get up and go with him to the station. He turned his back. The woman jumped up, snatched her husband's razor and before the policeman could turn around to stop her, cut her throat from ear to ear. Then both man and wife were hurriedly carried to the hospital, but the physicians said neither could recover.
