

OGDEN.

Ogden, Utah, Nov. 22, 1894.

Fatal Accident.

William English, who has been employed as a teamster at Ogden, was a passenger for numerous weeks in Ogden, with a very serious accident at the railroad yard last evening about 6:30 o'clock, which proved fatal, as the unfortunate man died about 10:30 P.M. He was driving a heavy, very heavy wagon across the tracks, a switch engine, which could not be seen because of some bushes which were in a ditch 100 feet from the wagon, and English was thrown upon the track, and the engine, to which he had run, struck him, and, in the reverse, threw him off, when the wagon passed over both legs below the knee. Both legs were amputated, but death came so suddenly that no efforts could be made to save him. English was a most popular and humble man, kind and courteous, and respected by all who knew him. His unfortunate family have the sympathy of the community.

Notes.

A telegram was received from General Lew Wallace that he will go to Ogden Saturday morning to attend his son's funeral. General (Gordon) Kimball, who is at present quite sick.

Suit was commenced in the Fourth district court by E. E. Bolger against C. A. Mitchell and Nancy Mitchell, to recover a mortgage on certain real estate given as security for $8,000, bearing interest at 7 per cent.

LOGAN.

LOGAN, UTAH, Nov. 22, 1894.

The Langfellow Society.

A most complete and interesting review of the life and character of the poet Robert Burns was given at Monday evening's session of the Longfellow Library Society of the American College, by Prof. E. C. L. Lewis, of the College faculty, in an impromptu spirit the week, and among people of the great Session had been well liked and reviewed. Burns was chosen as the author of his composition. A fine speech. A fine review of the poet as a man, who, notwithstanding his many shortcomings and lack of tasteless tact, always maintained his position simply owing to the royal literary merit of his compositions. The effort was incongruous appreciated by the audience of students and others that filled the college Chapel.

Mrs. Jessie Estes rendered very pretty, by piano accompaniment, a representative piece of "Wickenshaw Ferry."

A song by Mrs. Macmillan and an oration on the determination of Club by Walter M. Hayden concluded a very passing and instructive program.

Notes.

A few new elegant houses which have been erected in the last year or two in the Riverdale section of Ogden, were dedicated on the 18th inst., by County Superintendent Samuel P. Quinn, who offered the eulogistic prayer. Congregationalists are encouraging the efforts of the trustees of the new High School of Logan, presiding, George L. Farrel, Bishop of the ward, and Superintendent Quinn.

Yesterday Isaac Quincy, one of Logan's promising young men, led to the hymn-sing after Miss Hallieven. A very pleasant reception was given to the young couple last evening at the residence of the groom's parents in the Second Ward. Mr. and Mrs. Quincy were overwhelmed with their numerous friends.

On Tuesday Oscar Smith was appointed by the probate judge in Cache County as the transmitting agent at St. Louis.

PROVO.

PROVO, UTAH, Nov. 22, 1894.

Notes and Personal.

John M. Hansen of Fillmore, is in attendance at the First district court. The case of the Chamberlain Manufacturing Company vs. Max Petersen, appealed by defendants from the Justice Court in Salt Lake, was dismissed upon motion of plaintiff's attorney.

In the case of Noland, Morris & Co., vs. W. H. Miller, another appeal to overturn the judgment was made to the Justices at Moab, with directions to issue the process.

John W. Tullis has commenced suit against Anna Marks and Willard Martin to recover possession of a place of amusement in Juab County. His suit is for $10,000 damages and $500 a month rent from June 1, 1893, to the 1st of November, 1894. Anna Marks has discovered a vein of green rock. In the meantime, east of Oly City, so far as known there is the only deposit in the Territory of green rock like quartz, at least five, and the discovery has yet to prove profitable to Mr. Tullis.

Brown & Swart's Glass Works have now a fairly good business and everything is placed in the market. Two men, David and Harry, will appear in Ogden, Washington, D.C., for examination of their glass works, and they may be called in to inspect the glass works.

The charge against Robert W. Scott, U. S. revenue collector, of robbing money from H. J. Johnson, now serving justice in Wyoming, was withdrawn, as there is no right to prosecute him in the criminal courts.

A Ruddy Glow
on cheek and brow
is evidence that the body is getting proper nourishment. When this glow of health is absent assimilation is wrong and health is letting down.

Scott's Emulsion

taken immediately arrests waste regardless of the cause. Consumption must yield to treatment that abates waste and builds flesh anew. Almost as palatable as milk.

—From the "Daily Standard," Ogden, U. S. A.

—From the "Daily Standard," Ogden, U. S. A.