DESERET EVENING NEWS.
Saturday, ... May 8, 1869.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

THE RETURN TRIP.—We are indebted to the Deseret Telegraph Line for the following particulars of President Young's return trip:

Cove Creek, May 7.

President Young left Cedar City at daylight on the morning of the 5th, and drove to Parowan before breakfast. Meeting was then held, at which President B. Young and Elder George Q. Cannon spoke. From there the party drove to Beaver; upon their arrival at the latter place they received an invitation from the Female Relief Society, to partake of a repast prepared at Sheppard's Hall. The Hall was spread with evidences of their skill in the shape of quilts and home made cloths of various kinds, and was ornamented with appropriate mottoes. The Society is in a flourishing condition and has bought a lot for the purpose of erecting a building for its use. In the evening a public meeting was held and addresses were delivered by Presidents D. H. Wells and Brigham Young and Elder George Q. Cannon, touching the labors before Female Relief Societies; the objects of their organization and the great good they can accomplish if their efforts be properly directed. The company left Beaver at 9.20 a.m. and reached here at 1.35 p.m. When the company left here to go south the roads were so heavy that it was with the greatest difficulty they could travel; the wheels of some of the carriages became so heavily clogged that they would drag without revolving; none of the company ever saw any roads, in Illinois, Missouri or Indiana, where the wheels of vehicles clogged with dirt as they did in passing over this road; but yesterday the roads were in fine condition. It rained considerably through last night and looks like rain today. The company started from here at 10 a.m. for Kanosh, there to hold meeting at 1 p.m. The members of the company are all well.

Fillmore. 8th.

The President's party left here at 8.50 this morning for Scipio.

THEATRICAL.—Last night there was a tolerably good house to witness the presentation of the Colleen Bawn. The performance throughout was good. Mrs. Phelps' song, "Captain Jinks, of the horse brigade" was received with great favor and encored. Mr. McKenzie had a very warm reception; his personation of Danny Mann sustained his previous reputation.

To-night the famous sensation play of "Under the Gaslight," containing the very exciting railroad scene, will be presented.

MARRIED by Elder Joseph F. Smith, on Tuesday, the 4th inst., Mr. Wm. Pead to Miss Susannah Johnson, late of Bedfordshire, England.

Millennial Star please copy.

THE LATE ACCIDENT.—On the 6th inst., Marx Goldsmith started for White Pine, in a buggie with Mr. H. H. Showers. When about six miles from the city, the horses became a little frightened; Goldsmith, fearing they would become uncontrolable, attempted to throw a Henry rifle from the buggie to avoid an accident; in doing so, however, the gun struck against the front wheel and went off, the ball taking effect in Goldsmith's leg, producing a dangerous wound. The ball entered about four inches above the ankle joint, and traversed the leg about 20 inches, coming out in the thigh about six inches below the hip joint. Mr. Showers soon succeeded in controling the horses, and taking one from the buggy, returned to the city for medical aid. Dr. Fowler went out and had the wounded man brought to the city. His wound is quite serious, and Drs. Anderson and Fowler, who are attending him, anticipate he will suffer a long confinement before he can recover.

MORE ABOUT THE JEREMY DIDLER "C."—We had a call this morning from a gentleman who confirms the statement of our correspondent "Prevention," with regard to the practices of the bogus trader "C;" he states that "C" is making use of the papers mentioned in "Prevention's" letter to gull the unsuspecting, and to carry the idea that he is furnishing a large establishment in this city. It will be well for the merchants to be on the watch.

EARLY CLOSING.—Our readers will notice a card signed by the merchants of this city, stating that on and after Monday next the 10th inst., they will close their stores at seven o'clock every evening. We heartily approve of this movement and hope the public will help the merchants to make it a success by doing their "shopping" at an early hour.

BRILLIANT ILLUMINATIONS of the City Hall, Court House, and other public buildings, and private residences, suspended illuminated mottoes, bonfires, &c., are to characterize the evening of the day of celebration, now expected to take place on Monday next.

THREE MEN KILLED AT RAWLINGS' SPRINGS.—On the 1st inst. a terrible shooting affray took place at Rawlings' Springs, Dakota Ter., terminating in three men being killed and about a dozen wounded. The difficulty arose out of a dispute between Messrs Wills & Smith, contractors, and a certain Henry Smith and his father, whom they engaged last fall to cut and haul 800 cords of wood. These latter cut and hauled 600 cords, but refused to complete the contract, whereupon Wills and Smith refused to pay them in full for the 600 they had delivered. The two Smiths then threatened to seize some of the stock of the firm for payment, when "Bill" Smith, of the firm of W. & S. collected a number of men to defend the stock. It was thought the matter would be amicably settled for, at about two o'clock, "Bill" Smith went to his office to settle for the wood, but just then "Henry Smith seized him by the throat and knocked him on the head. After much struggling they were parted by men attracted to the spot by the quarrel. But shortly afterwards, without any further words, a shot was fired through the door by one of the Henry Smith party. A general shooting then took place, and though it was done in a small room, no one was hurt. After the first volley, there was quiet for a time. Suddenly Henry Smith drew his revolver and pointed it at Healy, one of Bill Smith's men, who told him to put up his, as he had come to kick up the row and had first started it. Upon this, Henry Smith fired at Healy, but missed him. A general firing then commenced in the room, during which Henry Smith was hit. There were at least a dozen men in the passage way, at this time, where Healy was standing, when Smith again fired, though warned by Healy. A number of shots were now fired from the passage, one of which took Smith in the eye, passing through the brain. A general firing again commenced, when old man Smith was shot in three places. Another of the Henry Smith party was shot in the bowels, received three shots in the heart, and one finger shot off. Those three had died when Mr. Massi left on Sunday. Another of the same party had a ball in the mouth which came out near the nose, and also one in the back of his head. About twelve others on both sides were wounded more or less seriously."
