

LOCAL NEWS.

FROM FRIDAY'S DAILY, FEB. 15.

United.—Yesterday Mr. William N. Anderson of the 6th Ward and Miss Martha Hodges, of the 16th Ward, were united in marriage. The young couple are amiable intelligent and worthy. They have our best wishes for their welfare.

Salina.—R. M. Humphrey, of Salina, Sevier County, states that the people of that place have donated within the last few months, $3,000, for a new meeting house. This is a good showing, as there are but few families there. The weather, at writing, was very cold, but general health good. Only a few more working settlers are needed to make a beautiful town of Salina.

Third District Court.—Proceedings before Chief Justice Hunter on Friday, Feb. 15, 1884:

People, etc., vs. James McKnight, assault, etc., to do bodily harm; defendant arraigned and pleads not guilty. Allowed to go on the preliminary bond.

Chas. F. Blandin vs. Mason M. Hill, motion of plaintiff to strike out motion withdrawn, and comes on to be heard on motion to strike out parts of amended complaint.

Wool-Growers' Convention.—From our dispatches we learn that Charles Brown, the Denver Chairman of the Wool-Growers' Association, has issued a call to the wool growers of Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska, Utah, Wyoming and New Mexico, to meet in convention at Denver, March 12th, for the purpose of forming State organizations and combinations to prevent a further reduction of the tariff, which is threatening the wool growing industry of the West. The movement is strongly endorsed by all prominent citizens in Colorado.

The "Instructor."—The contents of the Juvenile Instructor for February 15th, are as follows:

The Star-Fish, (illustrated), by Homespun; A Thrilling Adventure, by John Nicholson; History of the Church; Lord Nelson; Our Theological Class, by Uriel; Night Scenes in a Great City, by Kennon; To the stake Superintendents of Sunday Schools; Life is full of Toil and Care, words by J. H. Wallis, Music E. F. Parry; Travels in India, (illustrated), by Wm. Fotheringham; Scientific Proofs of Spiritual life, by J. H. W.; Topics of the Times, by the Editor; Chapter for the Little Ones; Interesting Incidents; Easy Science Lessons; by Sunny; What is the Gospel? by J. C.; Editorial Thoughts; Desires.

Don't be "Deceived."—A gentleman of our acquaintance informs us that this morning Brother Benjamin Blake, of the Seventh Ward, told him a tall spare man about 55 years of age, called on him last evening and solicited money and clothing to forward to a company of immigrants on the plains of Colorado, two-thirds of whom were "Mormons," in a state of starvation.

Brother Blake gave him a little money. The man said the old clothes could be sent to a house near the Theatre. He represented that the Colorado immigrants were there by counsel of the Church, and that they were all "going back" in the spring. The man did not give his name, but said he came here in 1860. He had many names on his list of persons who had paid him money—men women and children. He said the people here were "deceived."

Our informant, supposing the man to be a fraud, intimates that a word of caution through the News might not be out of place. All we have to say to the people already "deceived," is this: Don't be any more so by humbugs who go about abusing the Church of which you are Members, in order to get their names into print and gain a little cheap notoriety, under pretense of a charitable sentiment.

OUR VISITORS.

WHAT THEY ARE DOING ABOUT TOWN AND ITS VICINITY.

We have stated in another place that the Wyoming Legislative party, together with the Utah Assembly, attended the Theatre last evening to witness "Skipped by the Light of the Moon," by the Harrison-Gourlay combination.

This morning a number of the visitors from our sister Territory, accompanied by the City Council committee, called on President John Taylor at his office and remained quite a while, passing the time very pleasantly conversing with the President on different topics of the times.

Others visited the Z. C. M. I. Shoe Factory and other places of interest in the city and at about a quarter to 2 o'clock this afternoon, the entire party, together with Governor Murray, Secretary Thomas, both houses of the Utah Legislature, and numbers of prominent citizens, took carriages for Fort Douglas.

They arrived there at about 2.30 o'clock, and at the McCook Opera House were cordially received by the Commanding Officer, staff officers, and other officers and ladies. After music by the regimental band, Gen. McCook, in well chosen words and in the name of the officers and ladies of the Post, welcomed the Governor and both Legislative parties. He good-humoredly said that to-day the officers and ladies had nothing to do but make a complete surrender, and he hoped that all would feel entirely at home.

President Holliday, Speaker Jones and members of the Wyoming Legislature were then called forward and, informally introduced to the officers and their ladies, after which Governor Murray, President Cluff, Speaker Sharp and the Utah Legislators were called forward and introduced in like manner. General handshaking followed. There was no set programme; music, speeches, dancing, etc., were to be the order of the afternoon. Governor Murray, Secretary Thomas, and members of both Legislatures would be among the speakers. The officers and regimental band were all in full dress and presented a fine appearance.

The News is indebted to General McCook for courtesy extended to its reporter, who accompanied the visiting party and telephoned the above particulars at half-past 3 p.m. At that hour the seats were being taken out of the Opera House and everything in preparation for a dance. The party from this city will return, accompanied by General McCook and the officers and ladies from the Fort, in time for the Grand Civic Ball in the Theatre this evening.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY, FEB. 16.

Icelandish Weather.—At Randolph, Rich County, the snow is very deep and the cold extreme, the mercury going down to 88 below zero on the night of the 11th. At 10 a.m. of the 12th it was 12 below zero, with the sun shining brightly. Rather Icelandish weather that.

Our Business Agent.—Mr. Joseph Bull, of this office, leaves on Monday morning for the East, on his sixteenth annual trip in the business interests of the DESERET NEWS. He will visit Chicago, St. Louis, Racine and other Wisconsin cities; many of the principal cities in Ohio, New York, Boston, and the States of Indiana and Kentucky. We wish him a pleasant and successful trip.

Third District Court.—Proceedings before Chief Justice Hunter Friday, Feb. 15, 1884:

In the divorce case of Lucy J. Hill, vs. Alexander S. Hill, a motion was made on behalf of defendant to quash and discharge the service of summons, etc. The motion was argued by J. R. McBride for defendant and by A. Brown, Esq., and C. H. Gilchrist for Plaintiff. Submitted.

A Dangerous Practice.—On Thursday last some boys were using flippers in the vicinity of the residence of Brother Joseph Bull, in the 17th Ward. A missile propelled by one of these implements of mischief sped through a window, passed within an inch or so of the head of an infant child of Brother George R. Emery, and went clear across the room. Had the pebble struck the baby it would in all probability have killed it. This morning the same boys were inside Brother Bull's lot engaged in the same dangerous pastime. The name and address of one of the lads were obtained and if a stop is not put to the practice some arrests by the police will be the result.

Suit for Damages.—Mr. W. K. Reid, of Manti, came to Salt Lake last Thursday to engage counsel to defend himself as Justice of the Peace and the Constable of Manti, in a suit for $5,000 damages brought against them in First District Court, by one Madsen for alleged false imprisonment. It seems that Madsen got into a row and knocked down another person, some time ago, for which offense he was arrested and fined, and in default of payment, which he refused, was committed to jail, where he remained one day and then paid his fine and was released.

Being advised that he could not be legally imprisoned for the costs, he brought a certiorari suit against the Justice in the First District Court, Judge Emerson deciding in his favor, notwithstanding the fact that he had not suffered imprisonment for costs and had settled the whole matter by payment. Madsen now brings suit against the Justice and Constable for false imprisonment. Jacob Johnson, of unsavory reputation in Sanpete County and here, is Madsen's attorney and, it is understood, the instigator of the whole affair.

Willie Tufts.—The abducted child, Willie Tufts, about whom the local press has had considerable to say of late, was brought back from Columbus, Ohio, yesterday afternoon and restored to its father, Mr. Elbridge Tufts, of this city. The particulars of the kidnapping, with its consequences upon parties engaged in it, some of whom are now in confinement or held in bonds for the part they played in the transaction, have already been published in the News.

It is only necessary now to state that on February 1st Mr. T. F. H. Morton, with power of attorney from the father of the child, set out for Columbus to get the child from its grandfather, William Tanner, and bring it home to this city. The result was as already stated, and so ends the matter as far as relates to the principal parties. What is to be done with those concerned in the abduction as subordinates, is yet to transpire.

Mr. E. Tufts called at the News office to-day, bringing the boy Willie with him. He is a bright little fellow, but the father says looks paler and thinner than when taken away.

WYOMING EXCURSIONISTS.

GRAND BALL AT THE THEATRE—RECEPTION OF THE GUESTS—RETURN OF THE VISITORS TO WYOMING.

Our description of the manner in which the Wyoming Legislators were being entertained by the civic and military authorities of this Territory, closed yesterday afternoon with a necessarily brief sketch of the reception given by Gen. McCook and the officers and ladies at Fort Douglas.

At the conclusion of this very pleasant affair, the carriages and cutters which conveyed the members of the Wyoming and Utah Legislatures, Federal officials and others to the Post, were once more called into requisition and their distinguished occupants were brought back to the city, in time for a brief respite from activity before the opening of the grand civic ball tendered in honor of the Wyoming party by the municipal authorities at the Salt Lake Theatre.

At eight o'clock the scene in the vicinity of the Temple of Theatres, turned over for this occasion to the devotees of Terpsichore, was one of great activity. Carriages and other conveyances arriving at and departing from the stage door—the only entrance used last evening—and the gay stream of guests pouring into the illuminated interior, which was fitted up grandly for the occasion, formed a spectacle of splendor and animation dazzling to behold.

After passing the Rubicon of the genial Harris, stationed as a faithful sentinel at the ticket-taker's table, the newcomers were ushered across the adjoining apartment and there separated, "ladies to the right, gents to the left," and relieved of their wraps and extra apparel in dressing rooms prepared for the purpose. Rejoining after these preliminaries, at the grand entrance at the north end of the ball room, the gentlemen and their ladies were ushered without any further ado into the midst of a magnificent scene; floor, parquette circle and galleries, filled with "fair women and brave men," gliding through the mazes of the dance, gazing in admiration at the brilliant spectacle before them, laughing and chatting gaily with each other, or conversing quietly in more retired places.

The ball room was elegantly decorated, the Stars and Stripes being conspicuously displayed in various parts. At the north end of the hall, just over the refreshment buffet, a large scroll appeared, on which was written in mammoth letters, "Utah Welcomes Wyoming."

And indeed it was a welcome Everybody felt at home, and notwithstanding the mixed character of the assembly—civil, military, ecclesiastical, judicial, legal, and every other professional or every-day vocation being represented,—all joined in with hearty accord to mutually extend the hand of welcome and fellowship, out of respect to the occasion and the distinguished guests in whose honor the affair had been inaugurated.

Among those present, besides the Utah and Wyoming Legislators, were President John Taylor, President Joseph F. Smith, several of the Apostles, the Presidency of the Stake; Governor Murray, Secretary Thomas, the Utah Commission, General McCook and others from the Fort, Mayor William Jennings and the City Council, and a multitude of others too numerous to be thought of, let alone mention. It is safe to estimate that close on to a thousand people participated. The ball was opened by prayer offered up by President Joseph E. Taylor. President John Taylor led out in the grand march at 8 o'clock.

During an interval between dances, Mayor Jennings addressed the assembly, giving words of welcome and good cheer to the Wyoming guests and inviting them to be the first at the refreshment buffet at the north end of the hall, where a most tempting collation, due to the skill and efficiency of Chef de Cuisine, S. F. Ball, and his corps of assistants, awaited the approach of all inclined to indulge in the substantial and dainties of the festive board.

Towards midnight many began to retire, but the ball went on into the "wee sma hours," until everybody was thoroughly satisfied. It was closed by benediction, from Elder Charles W. Penrose. The music was furnished by the Pederson Orchestra, of the Opera House, and music it was, of the highest order to be heard in local ball-rooms, while Currie and Goodman, as prompters, were as usual all that could be desired in their line. The floor-managers, Messrs. Wells, Phillips, Ottlinger, Pyper and Hampton, were very efficient indeed, and worked with the utmost good will and amiability for the enjoyment of all. A handsomer, more brilliant assemblage never graced the interior of the Salt Lake Theatre, and the Mayor and City Council have every reason to feel proud at the splendid success of their grand complimentary ball.

According to an invitation extended by President Taylor, a delegation of the ladies of the Wyoming Legislative Excursion party, accompanied by several gentlemen of the same, met at the Gardo House this morning with a number of Utah ladies. The time was passed very pleasantly in general introductions and conversation. There were no formal speeches, or resolutions, but a very pleasant hour was spent by these representative ladies of the two Territories becoming mutually better acquainted.

The names of the Utah ladies present are as follows:

E. R. Snow, Smith, Emmeline B. Wells, Hannah T. King, Ellen C. Clawson, Margaret G. Clawson, Mary A. Freeze, Nellie Colebrook, Elmina S. Taylor, Priscilla Jennings, Bathsheba W. Smith, Amelia E. Young, Prescindia L. Kimball, Helen Mar Whitney, Mary L. Horne, Romania B. Pratt, Emily H. Woodmansee, Emily H. Little, Mary Ann Taylor, Sophia W. Taylor, Maggie Y. Taylor, Sophia T. Nuttall, Agnes T. Schwartz, Annie G. Sharp, Sarah M. Kimball, Ida Taylor, Leonora Taylor, Mary T. Schwartz, Mrs. A. M. Cannon. Besides those from Wyoming, the only gentlemen present were President John Taylor, Prest. L. J. Nuttall, Bishop H. B. Clawson, Mayor Wm. Jennings and Elder George Reynolds.

The Wyoming Legislative party, having finished their visit, which they all unite in declaring to be one of the most enjoyable incidents in their experience, left by special train for home at 1 o'clock this afternoon. We need not add that their stay in our city, brief though it has been, will always be remembered by our citizens as a happy and notable event in our history. We heartily wish the distinguished party a safe and prosperous journey to their homes.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY, FEB. 13.

Primary Associations.—The Stake Secretaries of Primary Associations are earnestly requested to distribute blanks to the various branches and obtain complete annual reports in order that concise Stake reports may reach the central board by March 15th, 1884.

LILLIE FREEZE,
Secretary Central Board of Primary Associations.

Robbery in Ogden.—The Ogden Herald says on Wednesday last, the Omaha House, on Lower Fifth Street, was the scene of one of those occurrences which, of late, have given Ogden a rather unenviable reputation. In the afternoon of the said day a mulatto entered the establishment and asked for a bed to sleep, as "he had been up all the night before."

Instead, however, of retiring to his couch, he went through several rooms, finally landing in a private apartment of the proprietor, where he ransacked a bureau by means of a skeleton key abstracting eight silver watches and one gold watch and chain. He also "went through" a valise belonging to a railroad man.

He then disappeared and the last seen of him was his jumping on a U.C. train bound for Salt Lake City. To this place Deputy Sheriff Brown followed him as soon as informed of the fact; but up to last accounts the black-browed bird was still at liberty.

Wandered Off.—Jonathan Bentley, of the Tenth Ward, a demented and harmless individual, left the home of his brother, Joseph Bentley, about three weeks ago, and wandered off and has not since been heard from. His brother, Joseph, a carpet weaver, whose place of business is three doors west of the Theatre, would be very thankful to have his anxiety relieved by information of the missing man's whereabouts.

It is feared that he might have been caught out, somewhere away from inhabited portions, and perished from cold in the late severe spell experienced in this locality. He was a man about 64 years of age, of slender build and medium height, and had on two coats, the outer one a dark homespun, and a pair of light pants.

For some time previous to leaving home, he had been unusually low spirited, though nothing had happened to cause it as far as could be learned. One day he went into a neighbor's house and wept bitterly, and the next morning, which was Monday, he wandered off and has been missing ever since. His brother has written to Kaysville, where the lost man sometimes went, and to other places, but up to the present time has learned nothing of his relative's whereabouts.

EXCOMMUNICATIONS.

Notice is hereby given that William Boulton, of East Bountiful Ward, Thomas Harris, Thomas J. Brandon, of Centreville Ward, and William H. Bone, of Kaysville Ward, have been excommunicated from the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints for apostasy, by the High Council of the Davis Stake of Zion.

WM. R. SMITH, Prest.

Jos. E. ROBINSON, Clerk.

Dated at Farmington, Davis County, Feb. 15, 1884.

NEURALGIA.

A lady in Virginia, after using the Treatment for two weeks, writes:

"I am a great deal stronger than when I commenced its use.***One thing I must tell you. It stopped the neuralgia. I took cold and feared that I would have it for two or three weeks, as I generally stood the pain for that long before I would take chloral, the only thing that ever stopped it before, and I disliked to take it so much that I would put it off until I thought I could not live for the agony. But this time it only lasted two days. When I began the Compound Oxygen I could scarcely sit up an hour; now I can sit up most of the time."

Our "Treatise on Compound Oxygen," containing a history of the discovery and mode of action of this remarkable curative agent, and a large record of surprising cures in Consumption, Catarrh, Neuralgia, Bronchitis, Asthma, etc., and a wide range of chronic diseases, will be sent free. Address, Drs. Starkey & Palen, 1109 and 1111 Girard St., Phila.

All orders for the Compound Oxygen Home Treatment directed to H. E. Matthews, 606 Montgomery Street, San Francisco, will be filled on the same terms as if sent directly to us in Philadelphia.

A Nebraska farmer has sued a young man for fuel, board and other articles consumed while the defendant was "sparking" his daughter. This will prove an awful warning to the rural swains who take no thought of time in this favorite country pastime and will give the American parent some hold on the girl of the period.
