Thomas Kearns has abandoned the idea of using marble in his mansion, because that in the Prisco beds have all been broken by volcanic action. At first it was thought that a substantial article could be found by going in a little deeper, but it did not so result. A large block of Sanpete white sandstone with the faces dressed in various styles, has been sent to Architect Neuhausen's office for Mr. Kearn's inspection, and it is likely that this stone will be used.

Mr. Thomas W. Sloan, who has just returned from a southern trip in the interests of the Mutual Life Insurance company, said this morning: "You have no idea how much interest the people in the country take in the steadily advancing circulation of the Semi-Weekly News. They are as eager that the pap uld reach its aim of 20,000 by the twentieth century, as the publishers themselves, and every time the figures change, showing that the circulation is steadily climbing, there is as much interest and comment over it as any other item of news the paper contains."

DESERET EVENING NEWS A MONUMENT TO HIS MEMORY.

Memorial in Stone to be Erected Over the Grave of President Woodruff by the Young Men of the Church-Meeting Tonight.

Men's Mutual Improvement Association will meet this evening for the purpose of receiving and considering letters already received in answer to circulars sent to the presidents of the associations throughout the Church, regarding a request for funds for the erection of a monument to the memory of the late President Wilford Woodruff.

It is proposed by the general board to rear a handsome, substantial and lasting testimonial to the life and works of this great and good man, who lived so quietly and accomplished so much during his sojourn upon the earth. That the response for aid will be hearty and generous there is no doubt. It is the intention to undertake the erection of the monument in the very near future and to have all the preliminary work closed up by April 15th.

The circular to which reference has been made is signed by Joseph F.Smith, Rudger Clawson, Nephi L. Morris and Thomas Hull, and is addressed personally to the presidents of the associa-tions. It reads as follows: Dear Brother:-Shortly after the death of President Wilford Woodruff in September, 1898, at a meeting of the general board of Y.M.M. I.A. the following report of a committee appointed to consider the matter of a fitting tribute to the memory of our beloved superin-tendent, was adopted: "As an expression of the love and reverence of the young men of Zion for President Wilford Woodruff, it is the desire of the associations to participate, as an organization, in the con-struction of a lasting monument to his

The general board of the Young | memory; taking such part as may be assigned us by the General Church Authorities and his family."

Preparations are now being made for Preparations are now being made for the erection of a monument over the grave of our departed leader and friend, and the undersigned have been appoint-ed a committee from the general board to arrange the details of our part in the matter; and we have decided to give the Young Men's Associations throughout the Church an opportunity to be dentified theyein in a quiet and to be identified therein in a quiet and and ask the members to donate a small amount each. We should be pleased to receive from each association not less than one dollar nor more than five dol-We place these limits because we do not desire the matter to be in the least burdensome, but we feel that every association can easily raise one every association can easily raise one dollar and many may raise more. Now, dear brother, please give this matter immediate attention and forward your amount without delay. We should like to have the matter all closed up by April 15th, at the latest.

President Woodruff was the especial friend of the young men of Israel and was the general superintendent of their especiations for tweaty years and we associations for twenty years, and we hope that this small request will be re-ceived by the young brethren with pleasure and all will cheerfully and quickly respond.

It has not yet been definitely decided what form the monument will take, what it will cost or of what material it will be constructed beyond the fact that it will be of stone, simple and unostentatious in character as was the de-ceased over whose quiet sleeping place it will be reared.

WELL KNOWN WOMAN DEAD Mother of Juror Jenkins Passes Away After a Long Illness.

Mrs. Eliza Ponton Jenkins, wife of the ate J. W. Jenkins, passed quietly to her rest shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon after an illness of more than a year past, caused by a general decline. Her funeral will occur from the family residence, No. 268 south Fourth West street, tomorroy afternoon at 2 o'clock. Prior to that her remains may be viewed from 12 o'clock noon un-til 1:30 p. m. Interment will be in the city cemetery.

Mrs. Jenkins was sixty-eight years of age and a native of England. She came to Utah with the handcart company of 1856, making the tollsome jour-ney across the plains on foot. Soon after her arrival here she became the wife of J. W. Jenkins, and bore him seven children, six of whom are now living, among them being the Jenkins Bros., the well known harness dealers of this city. It will be remembered that one city. It will be remembered that one of them was a juror in the Benbrook murder case, and that her serious illness was given as one of the reasons for him agreeing to a verdict of acquittal, he being ill and desirous of joining her at her bedside at which he kept faithful vigil to the end. The de-ceased was a member of the Fifteenth ward and an industrious worker of the Relief Soicety. She leaves many friends to mourn her departure.

AMUSEMENTS. h

The final performance of Denman Thompson's brilliant "Old Homestead" will be given at the Theater this evening. Last evening's performance went before a larger house even than on the opening night. The expressions of enjoyment were as strong as before, the admirable music being especially appreciated. A warm word ought to be said for the gentleman who plays the part of Seth. He is an admirable comedian and causes roars of laughter by his faithful portraiture.

Mr. Thompson called today on President Snow, to whom he was introduced by David McKenzie, an old time friend of the actor. Mr. Thompson was especially warm in his praise of the Salt Lake Theater and he said there were few in the country which had finer accoustic properties.

At the Grand last evening there was another big house to see "Wang" by the Grau Opera Company. It will run to good business all the week, matibeing given this afternoon and Saturday. . . .

The Orpheus club's second subscription concert drew the usual brilliant and fashionable audience at the Con-gregational church last evening. Mr. Peabody, the popular director of the club, was detained at home under quarantine, but his place was filled by Mme. Swenson, who showed her capability as well as her artistic taste, by the way which she conducted the through some beautifully executed and some difficult numbers. The work of the was excellent throughout evening, and it was accorded a big recall for its charming rendition of "Stars of the Summer Night" but it falled to respond. The "King Waldemar's Chase," by DeKoven, was also a strong number and well done. The club pre-sented as its vocal soloists Mr. George Crampton, a baritone, of Denver, who has lately sung with the well known Prof. Housley in his one act opera of "Pygmallon," and who and Miss Ferron of Ogden, Mr. Crampand Miss Ferron of Orden. Mr. Crampton showed himself the possessor of an excellent voice, which he used with great feeling, and his numbers were strongly applauded, the "Evening Star" selection being especially good, and the "Two Grenadiers" being rendered with fine spirit.
