

NEW MAN FOR NORTHWESTERN

C. & N. W. is Now Out After the Business in This Territory.

TRAVELING AGT. APPOINTED

J. H. Manderfield, from the General Department at Chicago, coming to locate in Salt Lake.

Since the expiration of the time agreement with the Union Pacific on traffic matters the Chicago & Northwestern has been busily engaged in building up its fences in order to secure any additional business that may be overlooked. With this end in view additional men are being placed in the field in Utah and contiguous territory with the object in view of poaching on the Milwaukee's preserves and incidentally giving the Union Pacific's latest ally a good run for its money.

Following out this policy J. H. Manderfield has been appointed traveling agent for the Northwestern with headquarters in Salt Lake. This addition to the existing capable force here will probably be felt, as Mr. Manderfield is a passenger man of experience in the general passenger department of the "Big Road" at Chicago. For some time prior to his appointment he had charge of the special excursion business out of Chicago for the Northwestern. He is expected to arrive in Salt Lake and enter upon his duties this week.

O. S. L. MACHINISTS. Men Meet to Consider the Union Pacific Strike Proposition.

The machinists in the employ of the Oregon Short Line at the big shops at Pocatello met on Friday night in executive session to discuss the Union Pacific situation. A similar meeting was also scheduled here last week. Just what decision was arrived at it is not at this time forthcoming.

GRANDMA MUNRA. Famous Old Lady Takes Charge of Huntington Eating House.

Since the Old Lady Cabin at Mescham was destroyed by fire through to Portland have mourned the loss of what has long been regarded as the best eating house on any railroad system in the country. It will be comforting news, however, to the traveling public to learn that Grandma Munra will next week take charge of the O. R. & N. and O. S. L. hotel at Huntington, which until six months ago was operated by the Pacific Hotel company. The fame of Grandma Munra with her long white hair and curl over her left shoulder is international in connection with her famous meals, as her picture has been reproduced in the national magazines on different occasions. The late Col. Pat Donnan's duty to Grandma still remains among the classics of the west.

TICKET BROKERS. Offer Rewards for Conviction of Black Sheep of the Business.

Some of the reputable ticket brokers are up in arms against the methods employed by the black sheep of the business, and with the end in view of a measure co-operating with the national protective bureau in the detection and prosecution of forgers of transportation. With this end in view F. T. Lindenberg, chairman of the American Ticket Brokers' association, has addressed a letter to the manager of the Pinkerton National Protective bureau: "Statements have been published in the leading newspapers of the country to the effect that your agency is to be employed by a combination of railway passenger associations to detect and punish criminals who may engage in the counterfeiting, forgery, or unlawful manipulation of railway tickets. In such employment your great agency must depend upon the cordial sympathy and support of the American Ticket Brokers' association. By authority of the association, I hereby offer to your agents a reward of $200 for every conviction in a court of competent jurisdiction of any broker guilty of such practices, and we will pay an additional $300 in each case if such criminal is a member of our association."

SPIKE AND RAIL. Assistant General Traffic Manager S. B. Babcock of the Chicago & Northwestern has returned from Denver.

F. E. Lewis, superintendent of dining-cars and hotels on the Oregon Short Line, is down from Pocatello today.

Both the Short Line and the Rio Grande now have big gangs of men at work harvesting and transporting ice.

The Oregon Short Line has commenced hauling round wood on the Montana division from Idaho Falls south. This is the first start of this weight to be put down on the division with the exception of a short stop during Beaver canyon.

Mr. Robertson and party of New York financiers arrived on the Rio Grande train No. 1 this morning in the private car "Olivette." After driving round the city and listening to an organ recital at the Tabernacle they continued on their way to California this afternoon.

Manager Edison of the Rio Grande has announced the appointment of William Coughlin as general superintendent of the Denver & Rio Grande and Rio Grande Southern railways, to succeed F. W. Fagan, who goes to the Colorado & Southern. Mr. Coughlin comes from the Kansas City Southern road.

A statement prepared by the Interstate Commerce commission shows that during the three months ended Sept. 30, 1902, there were 252 persons killed and 2,615 injured in train accidents. Other kinds of accidents, including those sustained by employees while at work and by passengers in getting on or off cars, etc., bring the total number of casualties up to 12,097, the killed numbering 845 and the injured 11,252.

WILL PROTECT ITSELF. Idaho Legislature Proposes Enactment of Public Health Law.

(Special to the "News.") Boise, Idaho, Jan. 19.—Senator W. C. Whitwell of Lemhi county, who is a physician by profession, has introduced a bill in the legislature providing for the organization of a state board of

Distress After Eating

Nausea between meals, belching, vomiting, flatulence, fits of nervous headache, pain in the stomach, are all symptoms of dyspepsia, and the longer it is neglected the harder it is to cure it.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Radically and permanently cure it—strengthen and tone the stomach and other digestive organs for the natural performance of their functions.

Accept no substitute for Hood's. "I had dyspepsia twenty-five years and took different medicines but got no help until I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Have taken four bottles of this medicine and can now eat almost anything, sleep well, have no cramps in my stomach, no burning and no distress." Mrs. WILLIAM G. BARRETT, 11 Olney St., Providence, R. I.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

health, to consist of the governor, attorney general, state engineer and other members to be appointed by the governor—six in all. The introduction of this bill revives the discussion of the need of Idaho for such a board, there being at present no state board of health.

At the present time very little attention is paid to keeping a record of births, deaths, epidemics and other data concerning the general health of the residents of the state. There are county boards of health, but they have jurisdiction only within the boundaries of their respective counties, and there is no provision under the present law for them to co-operate in cases of epidemics.

The state board is intended as a central organization and the county boards are to be required to act in conjunction with it in the prevention of epidemics and contagious diseases and in the general betterment of health conditions.

Under existing conditions, there is no provision as to what shall be done in the event of a board refusing to act. The failure of the present system was illustrated in the epidemic of smallpox which recently broke out in Lemhi county—Senator Whitwell's home. The doctors there refused for a long time to recognize the disease that was epidemic as smallpox. The Utah state board of health, acting in the absence of any state authority in Idaho, sent a representative to Salmon City, and officially proclaimed the disease to be smallpox. The local health board then showed a willingness to act, and at once established and maintained a vigorous quarantine.

The bill has been prepared with great care. Senator Whitwell has had the assistance of other physicians in drafting it.

NEWS OF THE GUARD.

Troop A Will Elect Captain to Succeed Captain Summers, Resigned.

Troop A of the guard is to have new commissioned officers all round. Capt. Summers has resigned as he leaves to-morrow for his former home in Georgia where he will remain and Capt. Covdale of H company, First infantry, is regarded as having an excellent shot for the succession. The names of Earl Smith and Tod Caine are mentioned most prominently as the successful candidates for the lieutenantcies.

F company, First infantry, of Manti held an election Saturday night, when David Nielson was chosen first lieutenant and Ernest Jorgensen second lieutenant.

Adj.-Gen. C. S. Burton has a 30 days' leave of absence from the state.

PEOPLE ARE INDIGNANT.

Residents of American Fork Stirred Up Over a Maliciously False Report.

The people of American Fork are justly indignant over a report in a morning paper to the effect that a certain party was used to deliver an address here last night because, forsooth, he was under quarantine in that city. The report, says Dr. Noyes, who speaks with the authority of the mayor, is a base and malicious fabrication from beginning to end. The fact is there are but four quarantined cases of smallpox in the entire town and two of these have recovered sufficiently to have the flags removed. Dr. Noyes states that the publication of such reports is damaging to the community, and that if such a thing were to happen, and that inasmuch as they are absolutely without foundation in fact, business men generally feel to resent them with all the power at their command. American Fork, he believes, is just as free from smallpox and all other contagion as any other town in the entire state.

DEATH OF MRS. GRAHAM.

Mother of John C. Graham Succumbs To Heart Trouble.

(Special to the "News.") Provo, Jan. 18.—Mrs. Elizabeth Leyland Graham, wife of the late Wm. C. Graham, died this morning at 6 o'clock at the home of her son, John C. Graham, from heart trouble and general debility, after severe suffering for several months.

Mrs. Graham was born in Liverpool, England, December 5, 1818, and was the daughter of William and Sarah Ellis Leyland. Her mother died at the age of 27, having joined the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in 1825, left Liverpool for Nauvoo in 1841 and died while crossing the Missouri river before reaching her destination.

The deceased was married in 1838 to William C. Graham, who died in this city April 11, 1892. She became a member of the Church in August, 1841, and on March 6, 1860, emigrated from England to New York, where, with her husband and two of her sons, she remained for over two years, when they left for Salt Lake City, arriving here Oct. 17, 1862. For many years they resided in the First ward, Salt Lake City, and in March, 1880, they moved to Provo, where the deceased has since resided.

Mrs. Graham has been in feeble health from the time of her husband's demise, and in July last her son, John C., brought her to his home from a long sojourn, and she has been carefully and tenderly nursed by the family until she passed away.

She has three surviving sons, John C., William and Joseph L., all of whom live in Provo, 25 grandchildren and 13 great grandchildren. She was an earnest, devoted and exemplary Latter-day Saint, highly respected in the community in which she lived, and will be affectionately remembered by hundreds of her friends and acquaintances, both in Salt Lake and Provo.

DEATH OF MRS. COOK.

Mrs. Ellen Howard Cook died at her home in the Second ward this morning, from general debility, at the age of 75 years. She was born in Canterbury, Worcester, England, and came to Utah in 1821. In 1822 she married the late Thomas Cook. One daughter and several other relatives survive her. The deceased was a kindly, industrious woman and a faithful Latter-day Saint.

RICH TROUBLES AIRED IN COURT.

Father Says His Son Has Threatened His Life.

HE HAS ALWAYS HATED HIM

Mr. Rich Left His Family in England And Had Not Seen Son for Many Years.

Judge Diehl was called upon this morning to arbitrate the controversy between Ernest H. Rich and his father, E. H. Rich. The former was arraigned on the charge of battery. The defendant was represented by Attorneys Booth and Irvine, and the prosecution was conducted by assistant City Attorney Schuller and Attorney Snow. It was a case of father vs. son.

THE FATHER'S STORY.

Mr. Rich, the father, was the first witness. He testified that he was 52 years of age. He said that the relationship between himself and the defendant had been strained for several months, and that they had not been as father and son should be. "My son has made repeated threats against me," said Mr. Rich, "and he said he would never let me alone until he got me in my grave. He said he had always hated me and always would hate me. Several times he has walked into my house and abused me shamefully. On the morning of Jan. 7, he would not let me go home. I called him a cur and he struck me. I was knocked down and then I called for help. I got up and went into Frewin's store and asked for protection."

LEFT FAMILY IN ENGLAND.

On cross-examination, Mr. Rich admitted that when he left England he left his wife and four children there, of whom Ernest was one. He did not see Ernest from that time until he was 21 years of age. Mr. Rich said that, until Ernest's mother got a divorce from him he sent every dollar he earned back to his wife and children. Ernest admitted that he had trouble with his father about some property. He denied ever having threatened the life of the defendant.

Mrs. Hart testified that she saw the elder Rich on the ground after the fight. Mr. Arthur Frewin testified that Mr. Rich ran into his store for protection.

BROTHERS TESTIFY.

Edgar E. Rich, half brother to the defendant, testified that on the morning following the trouble, the defendant said to him: "I had trouble with the old man and I will show him he can not put up with me. He got just what he deserved." Witness said the defendant then called him by names and threw a brush at him. The defendant then seized a cleaver and threatened to use it, but witness pulled a revolver and threatened to fill the defendant with lead.

Ernie E. Rich testified that the defendant said to him on the morning of the trouble: "If I had had a chance I would have stamped your father's face into the ground." Witness admitted that the relationship between the brothers and Ernest was strained.

FATHER WAS SICK.

Mrs. E. E. Rich testified that the complainant was very sick on the morning of the alleged assault. The lady said she heard Ernest say, on one occasion that he would blow his father's head off. At that time Ernest was armed with a butcher knife.

THESE FOR THE DEFENSE.

The prosecution rested at this point, and the defense had an inning. Mrs. J. E. Reid was the first witness for the defendant. She declared that she saw the elder and younger Rich meet and that the father struck the first blow. The defendant then struck his father and they exchanged several blows. The elder Rich fell to the ground and the defendant picked his father up.

When court adjourned at noon, the case was continued until 2:30 this afternoon.

WAS GUS STREIT.

Idaho's representatives arrived here this morning and are now coaching for the contest, which gives promise of being vastly more than ordinary interest. Carlson of the Utah school and the question to be discussed is, "Resolved that United States Senators should be elected by Popular Vote." The Utah boys taking the affirmative, Idaho has selected as one of the judges Attorney Daniel H. Wells, which has been selected Prof. J. H. Paul. These gentlemen will select a third to assist them in passing on the merits of the respective debaters.

SAYS FIRM IS IN BANKRUPTCY

Josephine Pratt Wants Petition to Issue to This Effect.

AGAINST PRATT & CARROLL.

Alleges Fraud on the Part of Certain Members in Transferring Interest in the Business to Others.

Josephine Pratt, of the firm of Pratt & Carroll, milliners of Salt Lake, filed a petition in the federal court today praying that service of her bankruptcy petition with a subpoena, be made upon Maggie May Delong and H. S. Osterwald, and that the partnership may be adjudged by a decree of the court to be bankrupt.

The petition sets forth that on Dec. 31, 1902, H. C. Osterwald caused to be issued an attachment against the interest of Maggie May Delong, nee Carroll, in the partnership of Pratt & Carroll, for the sum of $300 indebtedness in favor of Osterwald, whereupon Maggie May Delong assigned and disposed of her property to her husband, "John Doe" Delong, for the purpose of defrauding her creditors. That on or about Jan. 2, 1903, the attachment was released and discharged by H. C. Osterwald, the consideration being an assignment by the Delongs of an undivided one-half share in the stock and fixtures of the business which are and remain subject to the partnership debts and liabilities.

The petitioner then proceeds to allege that this transfer was executed unknown to her and without her consent, and that H. C. Osterwald has been since that time attempting to dispose of his interest in the business for a merely nominal sum and has admitted the insolvency of the partnership in writing and its inability to meet its obligations.

The petitioner concludes that she is unable to pay her share of the indebtedness of the concern and her partners, Maggie May Delong and H. C. Osterwald, and she petitions for a decree of bankruptcy.

There was a light fall of snow today, although the heavy lead color of the skies promised enough to make it decent sleighing.
