DETERMINED TO GET STATE CAPITOL

Weber Club Offers $500,000 for Capitol Building and Will Oppose Tax Proposition.

IN THE HANDS OF INSANE JAP.

Thrilling Experience of John Canfield Of Terrace—Trades Assembly Planning Big Celebration.

OGDEN, May 26.—Determined efforts are being put forth by Ogden city to secure the state capital. The movement recently started by the Weber club, offering to raise $250,000 for the building of the capitol in this city, has so enthused the citizens in general, that they are going to use every effort to win out.

The question of bringing the state capital to Ogden was the subject of a special meeting of the city council held last evening which was largely attended and much enthusiasm shown. A resolution was passed in which the efforts of the people to secure the state capital for Ogden were commended. It was also voted that in the event Ogden is successful in securing the state capitol that the city will furnish it with water free of charge perpetually.

The council voted to call upon the people of the city to join with the Weber club and defeat the one mill tax levy for capitol purposes which comes before the people June 5, for their vote. The question of securing the capitol for Ogden is paramount and Ogden has united on the question. Every business man of the city who has been approached on the subject says he is in for the movement, and will do all in his power to aid the city. Since the offering of a site at Thirty-second street and Jefferson avenue by Horace Peery and Ralph H. Hoag for the capitol without any cost and the generous response of the citizens, the Weber club has doubled its offer and will guarantee $500,000 for a capitol.

The Weber club officials state that there is absolutely no use of levying a special tax upon the people for a capitol when it can be built without cost to the state, and with this end in view will make the proposition to the taxpayers of the state.

IN THE HANDS OF INSANE JAP.

OGDEN, May 26.—According to a report received at the Ogden offices yesterday, John Canfield of Terrace, Utah, had one of the most unique and thrilling experiences on Monday with a crazy Japanese shepherd and probably owes his life to railroad men who rescued him from the demented little brown man.

From what could be learned in the case, the Jap, while in the employ of H. P. Larsen of Terrace, as a shepherd, began to show signs of insanity. Canfield was delegated to take the man to the railroad and thence to Brigham City, where he would be turned over to the county authorities. The two started on the trip but soon the Jap became restless. He turned the tables on Canfield, overpowered him and made a lunatic man of him. Canfield was compelled to walk almost the entire distance from Terrace to Lucin, a distance of 22 miles, and was almost ready to collapse when he was rescued by railroad men. The Jap was taken to Brigham City, where he will be examined as to his sanity.

the big four-state labor day celebration in this city. A copy of the resolution as was adopted will be forwarded to the various trades and labor assemblies in the intermountain states asking them to join in the movement.

ELIOT MURDER CASE.

OGDEN, May 26.—The second day of the preliminary hearing in the case of the State of Utah against Clarence Ernest, colored, charged with the murder of Charles Staples, also colored, which was held before Judge Murphy in the municipal court, testimony favorable to the defendant was brought out.

The principal witness was Henry Page, who testified that he saw a knife in Staples' hand on two occasions, shortly before he was killed. He said the first time was when Staples had had trouble in Ernest's place with the dealer of a card game and was standing at the bar drinking. The next time he saw the knife in the man's hand was when he left the place and went out to the street shortly before he was shot. This is the first witness who has testified as to seeing a knife in Staples' hands shortly before the shooting. After hearing the testimony of one of two witnesses the hearing was continued until Thursday morning.

The money to be used in the entertainment of the visitors during the encampment.

DIVORCE SUIT FILED.

OGDEN, May 26.—In the district court this morning, a suit for divorce was filed by Sarah Smith against Nicholas Smith. Cruelty and habitual drunkenness are the grounds of complaint. The parties were married in Salt Lake City, Jan. 18, 1901, and have one child, of which the mother wants the custody. She also asks for attorney fees and alimony. A restraining order was issued against defendant to prevent his disposing of any of the family property pending the suit.
