BLUFF.

OIL BUSINESS BOOMING.

Death of Kisten Lofland Nielson, One Of the Handcart Pioneers.

Special Correspondence.
 Bluff, San Juan Co., Dec. 28, 1908.—The most pleasant weather for this time of the year ever known in this country now obtains, following some splendid storms.

The oil lands below here are drawing a great number of enterprising capitalists. At present there are five wells which have struck oil in some form or other. The managers are confident of success. The recent act of Congress, turning valuable oil lands into the reservation, doesn't seem to discourage them any. There are five machines that have not started drilling yet, two of which are on the road.

A beautiful flow of artesian water has been struck here, the volume will supply 49,000 gallons a day. They expect to drill down about a hundred feet farther and then shoot it, in the hopes that the question of water is at last settled. There will also be other wells sunk along the river.

The people are prospering here. The first settlers came in 1879, and by dint of good management those who have remained have made themselves independent regardless of the adverse circumstances to contend with.

DEATH OF A PIONEER.

Kisten Lofland Nielson was laid to rest here on the 21st inst. She was a native of Denmark, joined the Church there and came across the plains in the handcart company in 1855, suffered all the privations incident thereto. Her mother and brother died on the plains and her sister being of delicate constitution had to ride, while with the handcart, the perseverance of her people. Mrs. Nielson pulled a handcart all the way, being relieved the last half day. She was one of the first settlers in this place where all of her children are located. She was 73 years old. She is survived by one brother, John Lofland, of Salt Lake City, and a sister, Dortha Bayles, of Payson, also two sons, three daughters and 55 grandchildren, besides a host of friends who revere her memory.

Healing, bleeding, scurrying or blind plea yield to Doan's Ointment. Chronic cases soon relieved, finally cured. Druggists all sell it.

The new amusement hall has had a busy week, with dances, basketball games and children's dance and parties.

CELEBRATES 88TH BIRTHDAY.

John M. Myrdoock, an old pioneer of the valley, celebrated his eighty-eighth birthday on the 28th day of December last. A good number of the family were present. He is president of the high priests' quorum of Wasatch, and has been for the last forty years.

The road to the reservation is in good traveling condition. Trains are passing over every day. There is but one foot of snow in the Strawsbury. Snow is light also in the hills, about 15 inches.

DISASTROUS BLAZE.

A disastrous fire occurred last Saturday night out on the bench between Heber and Daniel ward. A stack of some 60 tons of lumber, with both ends, the supposed work of an incendiary. Some 20 men from Heber and vicinity went to work with shovels, both ends of the middle of the stack some 30 to 40 tons. There is no house within a half mile.

This week the statisticians report four marriages and six births, three boys and three girls. Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Bethune rejoice in the arrival of twin boys.

MORGAN.

ONLY ONE SALOON IN COUNTY.

Morgan City Goes "Dry" at Request of Citizens.

Special Correspondence.
 Morgan, Morgan Co., Jan. 2.—Morgan city falls into line as a dry town. Monday evening, Dec. 28, the town council was in session and discussed the advisability of raising the license on saloons to its limit, $1,200 per annum. This met with bitter opposition, the opponents claiming that by so doing only one of the two saloons would be out of business. A vote was taken which showed two for and three against the high license. After adjournment a petition was circulated among the citizens asking the city fathers to take immediate action in closing up these houses. A special session of the council was called by the mayor to act on the petition. The city charter gave them power to act in this matter, but when backed by the citizens' petition the vote was unanimous prohibiting the sale of liquor within the city limits.

This leaves one saloon in the county, that at Devils Slide. It is rumored that the citizens of the county will petition the county commissioners to close that one up as soon as possible.

John Edgington has sold his home in Morgan to Jos E. Francis and purchased property in Ogden.

Joseph Anderson has been busy greeting his old acquaintances since his recent return home from his mission in Chicago.
