DESERET EVENING NEWS: SATURDAY, AUGUST 10, 1901.

Poor lady! She doesn't know how is to have the bacon too the basement of the house a too moist. And she doesn't know b precious time she is wasting r over trivial matters which woldable and which, comretting with real troubles, amount to this particular type the trouble with this particular type temblindity is that she burdens every-temblindity is that she burdens every-temblindity is that she burdens do not nais of tear-compelling trials. One nais to run around the block at the glimpse of the bobbing algrette on efore she is at arm's length

What do you think has bened? The plastering fell down in lining room. And my table fern is the dining room. And my table term is wreck. Yes, and I got that new hat home yesterday, and it's just a sight. Looks as if it were made for a woman boks as if it were made for a woman is rears old. I feel awful about it." "Never mind," says the gentle op-timist. "Just send it back and get anr. That's not worth crying about. the wrecked plastering-it's not but it isn't as if the children ad the whooping-cough, you know.' But that does not console her. S She beins right away to tell you how her mother-in-law tried to instruct her how to make ginger-bread with baking weige-just as if she her-elf hadn't ten making ginger-bread for goodness only knows how many years! . . .

And so it goes. There are quite too. many whiney-mts perambulating around loose. Some them should be taken off into dark emers and told a thing or two. Most of these whiney-cats are whiney-cats scause they mistake their imitation troubles for "really" ones. Too bad, isn't it?

They make life so unpleasant for the path optimists who are obliged to meet them day after day, month after month and year after year. They are living discouragers.

If the wise man Solomon advised parents to use the rod, if he said that a father that makes a plaything of his child shall weep afterward, that is not bianding kind and patient education. he condemus only weak and foolish prents who indulge their children's every whim and fancy.

The greatest difficulty in education is The greatest difficulty in calculation is that of bringing up children who lack ensibility. Impulsive and sensitive starres are capable of terrible mis-takes, their passions and presumition may lead them away, but they have meat resources and often return from ar away. Early precepts are like an invisible germ, which grows and bears full after experience has come to the

at Their Best, or Worst-Where the Author of "Home"

ber that the Tusinian plastre is ex-changeable at the rate of one and a half plastre for one franc. The most famous of the bazars are the Souk-el-Attarin, or market of the perfumers, the Souk-el-Tusic scheme are are the Souk-el-Turk, where arms are sold; and the Souk-el-Serajin, or bazar of the saddlers, full of splendid em-broidery on leather. The trade of Tunis, both foreign and domestic, is something amazing. Its linen and wol-en and re-cap manufacturies alone employ upwards of fifty thousand people, and its morocco leather embroidery and perfume distilleries as many more and perfume distinctions as many more Anong its exports are also sponges, tunny-fish, gold-dust, senna, wax, hides and elephants tusks. This city is the center of the caravan trade of northern Africa, and pothing can be more interesting than to stand at one of the great gates and observe the life and movement of these secondar many.

and movement of these peculiar means of commercial travel. Toward evening, oriental life may be seen at its best in the Halfa-ouine, or central square, where Moors and Arabs, Greeks, Nublans and all the rest of them congregate, to smoke their chibouques and drink their coffee, enjoy solemn games of chess and listen to the interminable tales of professional story tellers. Another most interesting place to the American visitor is the Protestant cemetery of St. George, belonging to England, but used by other Protestant nations. It is in the Maltese quarter and you must go to the British con-sulate for the keys. It was here that John Howard Payne, author of "Home.

Sweet Home," was first buried, and here may still be seen the monument which "his grateful country" tardly erected. You remember that he was United States consul to Tunis, where he died, in the spring of 1852. Thirty-one years later, after his immortal song had become dearer to more hearts than any ever written, his body was transported to the land of his nativity and relatered in heartiful Oak 200 and reinterred in beautiful Oak Hill cemetery near Washington, D. C., at the expense of the late millionaire philanthropist, Mr. W. W. Corcetan, In which, by the way, is the best in Tunis

-is a handsome memorial window, put in by British subjects in this far coun-

Throughout the regency of Tunis ex-under the sun is exposed for sale in the open street, presents a series of surprises to the stranger, Like most oriental towns, "Tis distance lends enchantment to the view.' Seen from the Gulf of Tunis-ten miles away as the crow flies, and sixteen by the railway-it is a verifable dream city, "with battlements high in the hush of the air and the turrets there-on." its white houses rising in there and with a background of dark hills and olive groves. To the southward, a broad and fertile plain, cultivated to the utmost with wheat, corn, cotton and tobacco, stretches to a bold range cotton of Louintains; and close by on either hand, glisten the waters of the great sait lagoons, between which the city stands on its narrow isthmus.

The Turis of other days had a cir-cumference of about five miles, en closed within double walls, the outer ramparts pierced by four imposing gates; the inner wal s, which were very high and massive, by six gates. The greater portion of these ancient de-fences long since disappeared. The marine gate stands all by itself-a lofty and picturesque landmark, but of no possible use, since the walls on both sides, which once gave it raison d'etre. now exist only in the name of the nearest street, "Rue des Ramparts." The other gates, grim monuments of the past, are the Bab el Abd-es-Salem, Bab el Hathers, and Bab-es-Sadjen, towards the Bardo Palace, which is the present seat of government, two miles from the city proper; the Bab Sidi Adulla, under the citadel; the Bab Sidi Alewa, on the road to Zaghouan; and the Bab-es-Soueka, on the coast road. All these gates are guarded by soldiers, and one never wearies of watching the strange processions that are constant-ly filing through them-camels, dromedaries of the desert, donkeys laden from head to tail, wonderfully capari-soned Arab chargers, Greeks, Turks, Moors, Nublans, native Jews and Europeans, each in the peculiar costume of his nation. The narrow canal, cut across the strip of land which separ-ates the Gulf of Tunis from El Bahira --the shallow lake on whose farther shore the city is situated-is commanded by a strong castle and several detached batteries. There are also the three forts built in the time of Charles V-Bordj Manoubia, Bordj Filfila and

The site of the English sanctuary was granted by the bey, and the neat little iron building. lined with wood, was erected by subscription. Bordj-er-Rebta-the latter an extraordinary specimen of mediaeval military architecture. The twin hills back of the town are each crowned with a fortress-that of Sidi bel Hassan being cept-strange to sav-in the sacred city of Kerouan, Christians are religiously the oldest and quaintest, and therefore excluded from entering any on the mosques. The greatest one in Tunis most interesting, although modern mdmosques. The greatest one in Tunis city is Djamaa ex-Zeitouna, "Mosque of the olive trees," a sort of university, or Mohammedan monastery, in which nitions of warfare would no doubt knock it to pleces like an egg-shell. The other hill, called Belvedere was the first position occupied by the French troops in 1881, and the remains of their intrenched camp on the summit are still distinctly visible from a The stress of Tunis are mostly narrow, irregular and excessively dirty and the houses of dull exterior. interspersed by bandsome mosques and palaces of Saracenic architecture. The city is divided into quarters, distinct and separate, occupied by the respective nationalities that comprise its popu-lation — Italians, Maltese, Greeks, French, Moors, Arabs, Turks, Berbers and Nubians, numerically in the order named, fully one-fifth of the whole number being native Jews. The Europeans live at the southeast end, where the streets are wider, better paved, and th whole aspect of things more modern. The palace of th By, with its beautiful marble courts and galleries is not more interesting than the ordinary Moorish nouses, with their prisonlike exteriors. Each covers a large space, being built around a quadrangle, in the centre of which is a small fish-pound or fountain To visit the castle of Bardo a permit is necessary, which the traveller can obtain only through his consulate. The European quarter, between the Marine gate and the lagoon, is rapidly taking

MANY ITEMS OF INTEREST which you can ill afford to pass are placed in line for the week's selling. It's the loss incurred through reductions like these, but rather the added power such bargainf give us for larger operations and the changin, of stock.

BULLETIN OF THE WEEK'S SPECIALS.

Scissors Skirt Supporters Japanese Fans Toilet Soap Writing Tablets

Shoes Boys' Coats Men's Rubber Coats Men's Trousers Cushion Covers

Dress Goods Wrappers Night Gowns Corset Covers Shirt Waists

Silks

Sale of Men's Trousers. Notion Necessities Cheapened.

The notion store will be alive with interest this week. The dainty little things one can pick up for small cost makes it well worth the trip; and besides the dainty things there are always us ful articles your daily need is calling for, but which you're almost sure to forget unless reminded of them-we'll tell you of some of them now:

STEEL SCISSORS of best quality steel, the keen cutters which don't lose their edge in a day-selling here and every where at 50c, 60c and 65c the pair, your choice of 37

SKIRT SUPPORTERS, the common sense brand which al lows no sagging of the skirt. Most women have been gla they're only 15c to get them at 25c, but this week

WAVING PINS-The Williams waving pin which is considered the best in the land for JAPANESE FOLDING FANS which make their own breezes. They're neat little fans and at the price you may want several to provide against loss at the lake, the excursion, the mountain trip. Sell 7c the year round at 15c, for the week

INK TABLETS of good quality in note and packet sizes, worth every bit of the Sc we sell them for-Mon- 4C 40 day and week

LETTER TABLETS of extra good quality in note and packet sizes for which we ask 15c-Monday and week...... 10r which we ask 15c-Monday 10c

TOILET SOAPS.

GLYCERINE TOILET SOAP - The kind so thoroughly transparent, which comes in habars, and always sell at 15c the bar, for Monday half-pound 8c

BABYSKIN SOAP-Wineburgh's babyskin soap put up 2 cakess in package at 25c the package-Monday and week 15c

VIOLET SOAP- Crushed Violet toilet soap put up two

A second seco
Do the right thing by your legs, they've been you props many a day when things were'nt coming your way Good time now to dress them neatly, respectably, while trouser prices are on the run. Don't stop to think what kind you need, all kinds are here and in best makes too-such as Paragon and Cohn Goldmans. For Monday and wee these prices prevail:

$4.00 to $4.50 trousers for $5.00 to $5.50	 $3.35
$5.00 to $5.50 trousers for $6.00 to $6.50	 $3.95
$6.00 to $6.50	 $4.95
$6.00 to $6.50 trousers for $7.00 to $7.50	 $5.35
$7.00 to $7.50 trousers for

About Shoes We Wish to Sell This Week.

Never a day but what the shoe man lays aside an iten. or two of particular merit to join with others in opening up the new week for a rousing push of business. He's been working as hard for you this week as ever, if these items are to have their say. OLD LADIES' COMFORTS, with plain toes, elastle sides and good common sense shapes throughou what we call beauties, but full to the brim of foot case. Were $1.50 the pair, now throughout. $1.15

WOMEN'S VICI KID, hand turned button shoes of Wright and Peters make, mostly narrow widths, $2.15 were $4.50, now MEN'S CALF SHOES, with plain toes, in Congress

now S1.98

features of the ordinary boot, bersome

Were $6.00, now ...

BOYS' CALF BOOTS, about 25 pairs left of these kickabout-boots. Turn the boy loose in the mountains with a pair of these and he'll never break his ankle or skin his 87c shin. The sizes run, 1 to 5. Were $2.25, now

MEN'S HIP RUBBER BOOTS, for fishing or irrigation, of best quality rub WRAPPERS.

NIGHT GOWNS.

CORSET COVERS.

SHIRT WAISTS.

prices are changed for you like this-- quality and description, to close out ...

Up to 1.50 wrap-

For 25 Cents.
Address: THE DESERET NEWS
1901 1901
IAWC
LAWS
MILITO
Now Ready
•
PRICE:
Leather, - $2.00
Paper, = = 1.50

DESERET NEWS.

Three New Maps Just Issued.

(Utah & Idaho on one side, the World including population of counties and towns according to the 1900 census, with a brief sketch of every country

Size 27x31% inches, value 75 cents;

in the world.

ent to any adress

on the reverse side.)

15

help of reason. At least we can interest them in instruction and appeal to their ionor, but we have no such hold on these naturally indolent. Then doughts are always distractions, the Their is never where it ought to be, cannot even be touched to the nick by punishment, they hear everybing and feel nothing.

Teach them by example the differ-me between decelt and discretion and how prudence consists in saying little, never making silly or confused remarks and distrusting one's self more than others. ...

It is very important to begin the education of girls early in infancy. As a rule they are then in charge of indisever women, yet that is the time when impressions are deepest and will have s great effect upon their whole life.

Do not fear to sympathize with their Miteinfirmities; it will give them courue to let you see them. False shame is a dangerous evil and one most ur-tent to cure, for if we are not not careful it renders other lils incurable.

A foily most frequent among girls is become passionately fond of most mölfferent things. They cannot see two persons disagree without becoming thiant partisans. They abound in affetion with or without cause. They see to fault in those they love and no good In those they dislike.

Although women have not the same occasions to show their courage as men. teventheless, they should possess it: owardice is contemptible everywhere: a woman must know how to resist foolsh fears and stand firm against utforeseen perils; she should neither weep her became alarmed, except when she has great cause, and even then she sught to be sustained by faith.

Tenacity of Purpose Brings Success

In scarcely anything do we need wiscom more than in the matter of influfacing the nature of our children's acd, with children who are able and advice and influence rect rather than personal tles in their way and then Put oppor leave then test their themselves. In order to at and develop their power of persi ncy it is well to interpose alight. their path once acity of purpose is the bed. Nek of as in any career, and we want to fit out if our child has it. If he returns again and again to a thing nam which he has been distracted, and patiently quers difficulties, we may be is made of the right 😻 sure urs well for the destiny of # child : tries his tears after a mishap and a to work to repair the disthe reater failures of life he will not tone of those who is continually calling out upon his "bad luck," instead of attempting to mend it.

Traffic was blocked on Fifth avenue. is both directions was strung out a long line of street cars and miscellanereshed to the point of disturbance, thus congestion. pla ordinary, every-day kind of d stopped directly opposite big stores and despite all A br efforts to urge him on his way, not a step would he move.

Some suggested a few fire crackers; thers hinted at fire without crackers: and sill others youchsafed that the fire tepartment might prove effective, but the mig wouldn't move. The driver, who, it might be incidentally said was in ash man, had a pretty fair-sized dub and knew how to wield it, too, but many time he administered a few permaking thads, the crowd yelled in disral and still the horse stood on. little woman, who had made her through the crowd, now stepped the arena. She walked to the to the arena. She walked to the ing in the situation. Then she smilled really at the people and pointed The property of the proper and pointed. People began to understand. The little subannet, and with a glad shake of subannet, and with a glad shake of subannet, and with a glad shake of suband, he allowed progress to march suband. - Unidentified.

on a too cosmopolitan air. Its one wide avenue is bordered by stately houses, including the French residency, the principal hotels of Tunis, the Ro-man Catholic cathedral, several banks, club-houses and the inevitable cafes. From this avenue wide streets are gradually branching off in all directions. One of these leads to a fine market place, which reminds one oddly of the Fulton market in New York, except in the latter place dromedaries are not seen, nor women wrapped from head to foot in white sheets, like stage ghosts. Another street leads to a lovely public garden, which the Italian rallway company has recently laid out. Just north of this European quarter, the Maltest are congregated in numbers great that their habitat has come to be known as Malta es-Segheira, or "Little Malta." They are said to be the quietest and most industrious people of the province, always working hard and living frugally, with the one end in view, of getting rich enough to go home to their native island. The lower part of the city and the faubourgs nearest to it are given over to "hristians and Jews, the upper portion being reserved exclusively for the Mohammedan population. This Moslem quarter is built in the form of an amphitheater, crowned by the Kasha. The square in front of it named Souk The square in front of it hands sola El-Islam, contains the Bey's palace and two handsome rows of shops, built in Moorish siyle, with the queerest of as-tronomical clocks in the middle, which tells not only the hour but the day of the month and the moon's age. En-closed within these four sides is a re-gular Arabian Night's garden-the sunniest and sleepiest of places, full of brillant flowers and humming birds, and tame white doves that perch upon the antique clock and peer into its face with a funny air of anxiety to know the time of day. The interior of Tunis is a confused network of dirty alleys, crossed by two or three slightly wider streets, which run diagonally its entire length and still further complicate the plan for the stranger. A few years ago these were almost impassable, owing to deep mud and filth in winter and equally annoy ing dust in summer; but of late years a good many municipal improvements have been carried out, dictated by the French, who really rule the Bey. Now the streets are tolerably well lighted with gas, and for an African city, are kept remarkebly clean. More attractive than anything else to the stranger are the native bazars, which still retain their original char-acter amid all the changes that are go-ing on around them. It is a perfect labyrinth of lanes, so narrow that the tail houses on either side made perpet-nal twilight in them, yet further shad-owed with banners and matting. The trades generally keep together, so that the purchaser has the advantage of comparing prices. Among the goods displayed are silks in every variety, perfumes and essences of rare quality, Jewelry, abcient coins, native costumes, arms, inlaid work, and earpets. The isual rules regulating commercial dealings in all oriental countries apply here with double force, to-wit: avoid a great many young Moors and Arabs receive a religious education. It was founded as early as A.D., 698, by Hassen el-Ghessani el-OudjdI, under the reign of the Khalife, abd-el-Male) ben Merouan, on the site of the cell of Being in the a Christian anchorite. very heart of the busy city, surrounded on all sides by bazars, nothing can prevent infidel eyes from gazing into outer courts, but no feet but of the faithful have ever penetrated beyond

Next in importance is the Djamas Sidl Mahrez, distinguished by its enormous dome, surrounded by smaller cu-There are numerous other polas. nosques, medrassas or Mahommedan colleges, zaouias and marabouts, but as we cannot get inside of any of them. they are of little interest to the for-The mansoleum of the Beys eigner. alled Turbet el-Bey, is worth visiting It has a great number of domes, all covered with gorgeous green tiles, and the interior is wonderfully decorated by plinth, pllasters and entablature of ose colored marble, sculptured in the Italian style.

The Kasha, which forms one side of the square, in which the town house of the Bey is situated, at one time contained the ancient palace of that then more powerful ruler, and immense barracks for the accommodation of Janissaries, as well as bagnios for Christian slaves. It was here that ten thousand of these slaves rose on their ceepers, when Charles V. was attacking Tunis, and turned the tide of battle in his favor. Now all the old buildings have been demolished and handsome barracks constructed for the French troops, nothing but the interior wall of the ancient Kasba remaining. The native troops have been reduced to a single battalion of the once powerful Tunisian army. These are the body-guard of the Bey, now well-drilled and equipped, no longer to be seen bare-footed and knitting stockings while on guard, as in days not long gone by. THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Forty-two volumes will be added to the public library Monday morning, Aug. 12, 1901, as follows:

MISCELLANEOUS. Bigelow-The Children of the Na-Borchgevink-First on the Antarctic Continent. Chamberlain-Things Japanese, (Ref-

Clodd-A Primer of Evolution. Erasmus-Famillar Colloques, three columes. Erasm5e-In Praise of Folly. Frisk-Mners' and Assayers' Text-Book. Fyles-The Theater and Its People.

Hackett-The Gavel and the Mace. Reference.) Haves-Stable Management and Ex-

Krausee-China in Decay, Maithews-Notes on Speechmaking. (Reference.)

MEDIEVAL TOWNS. Assisl-By Gordon.

Florence-By Gardner. Moscow-By Gerrare. Nuremberg-By Headlam, Perugia-By Symonds. Rouen-By Cook. Paret-The Woman's Book of Sports. Poe-Works. Buckner Edition, six

columes Racine-Dramatic Works, translated Rogwell Robinson-The Philippines: The War and the Pe Rothweil-The Mineral Industry for Seton-Thompson - Bird Portraits. (Reference.) Whymper-Scrambles Amongst the Worcester-Book of Genesis in the Light on Modern Knowledge.

FICTION. Babcock-The Tower of Wye. Crowninshield-Valencia's Garden. Gibbs-In Search of Mademoiselle. Hargard-Lysbeth. Kester-The Manager of the B. & A. London-The God of His Fathers. McCutcheon-Graustark. Rizal-An Eagle's Flight. Venable-A Dream of Empire.

in box at zec the box-Monday and

An advance line of novelty cushion covers has just reached us. They're an out of the ordinary thing of a pecullar kind of crepe and have prints of interesting Japanese subjects and strange geometrical designs. We should think them to be culla environmente but he that as it may that culiar kind of crepe and have prints of interesting Japanese them to be quite serviceable, but be that as it may, they bear marks of striking originality. Size is 24 inches square and they are marked to sell at 35 and 50c each.

LOUISINE SILK, the most durable, the least crushable, the newest weave of all silks is out tomorrow and rest of week bidding for takers at a third off

If you buy silks at all, these, by reason of their many qualities lay first claim to your attention; their most striking peculiarity-which may be called a virtue-is that of smoothing out so beautifully after a severe crushing or We show thirty different shades in plain, check, rumpling. figure and brocade. A waist, a skirt or a full gown will be a good investment now for they forecast a high degree of favor for fall wear. They've been selling at $1.40 and $1.50 the yard, but Monday and week..... $1.00

SICILIANS and BRILLIANTINES-Suitable for entire gown, separate skirt without lining and nothing in the world to equal them for bathing suits. We have them in two shades of navy blue and medium and dark grey. For the week the saving in price is this-more of a staple nature, and usually a few are kept in stock the year round for evening and party wear; hence the cut the week One-Fourth Olf is less severe. For SAMPLE WHITE WAISTS share the same deep pricefor.... $1.00 cutting of the colored ones. They're not regular stock, but were purchased at a "convenient figure," which allows us loss at One-Half Price Walker Brothers Dry Goods Co. resent a "cumsha," etc., etc., while as | Shanghal-side, for "can do" no one can do without it. The word, "pidgin" means business, and in this "business" English com-

OF PIDGIN ENGLISH.

The $1.25 quality

The $1.50 quality ..

THE QUEER LINGO

"Pidgin Engish," or "broken China," is a queer lingo, mainly English, but containing also Chinese, Portuguese, Malayan and East Indian words. It orginated in China, when the pioneer English merchants settled in Canton. and persons. belong?" How formed sentences. Travelers in China are apt to imagine that "pidgin" merely consists its substituting the letter "r" for "l," and substituting the letter "r" for "l," and in the liberal, although meaningless, distribution of double "e," but it is, oh the contrary, a really ingenious sim-plification of English, which makes many words, in addition to their own, duty, do that of several others. Various text books containing Chi-nese phrases and the equivalent "pid-gin" exist, and are studied, not only by servants and tradespeople, but of-ten by natives of higher degree. Even a dignified Mandarin will occasionally repair to the office of one of his foreign. friends and ask to have some article in "To pay" is also give, and to hand, "He gave me a present" is "He have pay my one plecee cumsha." "Hand me that shawi" is "Pay me that piecee shawl friends and ask to have some article in an English or American newspaper turned for him into baby talk. quickly find a book and bring it down-stairs to one, is "Boy! fightee go top-side, look-see what-side one piecee book have got chop-chop. Catchee, bring downside, pay my." "Top-side" and "down-side" express heaven and hell, Moreover, the expressive gibberish Moreover, the expressive gibberish colors the speech of foreigners, even in their intercourse with one another. For instance, no foreign resident of Shang-hal could describe a restive, ill-con-ducted horse by any other word than "bobely;" a note is always a "chit," a Peking-side, tsin-side, etc. "Where" is "What-side." "Where is it?" "What-side have got?" 'Chow-chow" means food and to eat. 'To squeeze' 'not only implies physial compression, but also to exact a commission. "To squeeze too muchee" is to cheat. "To be preity" is to be "good looksee," "to be ugly." "baa lookse," or "no good looksee."-San Francisco Call.

Pure Cow's Milk,

made sterile and guarded against con-tamination, from beginning to baby's bottle, is the perfection of substitute feeding for infants. Borden's Eagle Brand Condensed Milk has stood first among infant foods for more than forty years.

Plump cheeks, flushed with the soft glow of health, and a pure complexion make all women beautiful, HERBINE imparts strength and vitality to the system, and the rosy hue of health to the cheeks. Price, 50 cents Z. C. M. I.

MUSIC LOVERS.

All who desire information of the address, etc., of Sait Lake's music teachers, chould consult the Musicians' Directory, published on the Dramatic and Musical page of the Saturday "News." To bld a servant hasten upstairs,

NEW CATALOGUE OF

CHURCH WORKS Just issued by the Deseret News, Send for a free copy. Special terms to deal-ers, agents and canvassers.

$4.48 THE WOMEN'S OXFORDS we tald you so much man man man about last week have mostly walked out, but what few remain on the table are great samples of shoe excellence-price considered. They were $2.25 to $4.50 pair, now S1.20 "THE CREAT transportation and an and a state of the second state of the secon SALT LAKE Wrappers, Night Gowns, Corset Present and Past," Covers, Shirt Waists, at Little Prices Companyane and a construction and a construction of the JAMES E TALMACE, Ph. D. F. R. S. E., F. G. S. Professor of Geology, University Whatever your choice may be in color, style or quality of wash wrapper you are most likely to find it here today in of Utah. the cool, airy, summery kinds we have on sale. It's your chince for a saving and may as well take it, for wrappers ----are everyday needfuls the year round. For the week the A Book of 116 Pages, beautifully illustrated. The 95c first complete and authentic work on the renowned saline sea. Price 25 Cents. A good time to supply your night robe needs. Every gown in the house of muslin or cambric, lace or embroidery trimmed and selling up to the $1.75 $1.00 Postage prepaid. For sale by the Deseret News and all news dealers. Of colored lawn with vallencienne lace trimmings in blue i ..... pink and lavender. While not a universal favorite they're a fad of the season and may be what you're looking for. $2.00 kinds for $1.00 操作操作操作操作操作操作操作操作操作操作操作操作 E LETTER HEADS, THE COLORED ONES of every style. One-Half Price BILL HEADS, THE WHITE ONES by reason of color distinction are ENVELOPES, COUNTY RECORDS, BANK STATIONERY, INVITATIONS, PROGRAMS, AND ALL OTHER FORMS OF PRINTING BINDING. PROMPTLY TURNED OUT BY THE Deseret News.

We Make a Specialty of RUSH ORDERS. 第十级十级十级十级十级十级十级十级十级十级十级十级

B. H. ROBERTS' NEW BOOKS,

Which have been in course of preparation for several months, are now ready for delivery.

"THE RISE AND FALL OF NAU-VOO."

An invaluable work for Mutual Improvement associations, price $1.25. "MISSOURI PERSECUTIONS."

The first supply of which was exhausted, is now again on sale. Price $1.25. Special terms to classes, quoruma, Sunday schools and Mutual Improvement associations.

paratively few words need be learned. Thus "my" stands al-- for "I" and for "me." "Belong" in addition to filling its own proper position, replaces the verb "to be" in all its moods, tenses "How are you?" is "How fashion you clong?" "How have you been?" is How fashion you have belong?" Lacking time and patience, these met-did not study Chinese, but the natives with whom they dealt goon learned many English words, of which, in accordance with Chinese idiom, they "Thank you; I am very well," is "My thankee you; just now me belong No. 1." "Do you think the weather will be fine next month?" is "How fashion you thinkee next moon weather belong No.

And the way to reply. "I and not sure the weather will be fine next month; I am afraid there will be a great deal of rain" is "My no savey true weather next moon belong No. 1, my alla same fear catchee plenty rain come down."

