WM. W. FOSTER PASSES AWAY.

Honored Resident Answers Sudden Summons—Apoplexy the Cause of Death.

SEVEN FUNERALS ON SUNDAY.

M. C. Jacobs Succeeds H. H. Thomas in Fifth Ward Bishopric—Railroads Sued for Damages.

Ogden, Jan. 15.—William W. Foster, one of the best known residents of Ogden, was summoned to the great beyond very unexpectedly yesterday morning at his home 2354 Douglas avenue, from an attack of apoplexy. For nearly three years Mr. Foster had not enjoyed good health, and had not been able to follow his active life as heretofore, and for several weeks had been unable to go out but lie in bed. Yesterday morning his wife called him for breakfast. He arose and had partially dressed when suddenly he fell forward to his bed and expired. His aged wife on re-entering the bedroom was shocked to find him cold in death; his sons, who live near by, were quickly summoned, but nothing could be done for him as life was gone. For more than 30 years Mr. Foster has been a well known figure in Ogden, following the occupation of landscape gardener, and many of the most beautiful lawns and flower gardens in Ogden were laid out by him. The beautiful grounds surrounding the D. H. Peery mansion "Virginia," also those around the Central school and many others attest the skill and taste of Mr. Foster. He was an honest, trustworthy man, esteemed by all who knew him. He was born in England September 24, 1834, and came to Utah in 1852. He is survived by a wife and two sons, William P. Foster, leader of Foster's Military band of this city, and Frank Foster of the Grand Opera House orchestra. The funeral will be held at the residence on Douglas avenue Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Remains may be viewed on date of funeral between the hours of 11 a. m. and 2 p. m. Interment will take place in the Ogden City cemetery.

SUNDAY FUNERALS.

Four Adults and Three Children Buried in City Cemetery.

Ogden, Jan. 15.—One of the busiest days for funerals in Ogden for a long time was yesterday, when four adults and three children were laid to rest in the Ogden city cemetery.

The last sad rites over the mortal remains of William F. Critchlow were performed at the Second ward church, which was crowded with sympathizing friends, who assembled to pay a tribute of respect to the memory of a good man. The seventy-sixth quorum of Seventy, of which he was senior president, attended in body, as did also the police department, with which he was connected as desk sergeant. The services were conducted by Bishop Robert McQuarrie. The choir sang several beautiful selections, and solos were sung by Hagbert Anderson, Mrs. Mary Farley and Charles Farr. Earl West and Tillie Hancock sang a duet entitled, "Come Your Blessings." The speakers were Elders Solomon C. Stephens, John A. Boyle, James M. Brown,

'ONE LUNG GONE, THE OTHER AFFECTED.'

Had But a Slim Chance For Life.

Is Now a Strong, Solid Man

"I am a knife maker and worked for a number of years in the New York Knife Co.'s Factory at Walden, N. Y. First thing I knew I commenced to bleed from the mouth. Every time I coughed the blood spouted out. It was in the fall I got so bad, and the church people told me to prepare to die, for I would not live till spring. My home doctor could not do me any good, but advised me to go to New York City for examination. They finally took me to a medical college, and a whole lot of physicians made what they called a diagnosis. There were several students looking on. One professor had a little ivory hammer, and with this he pounded my chest, and held his ear close to listen. After a while the professor looked at me solemnly and declared, 'One of your lungs is about gone and the other is affected. There may be a slim chance for life if you quit working in that knife factory.' I went back home but didn't improve. I went back to an advertisement of Dr. Acker's English Remedy for the Lungs. I got a bottle from our home druggists, and Walker & Eaton, and it relieved me. Then I bought more, and my improvement was continuous, although slow. My factors were astonished and so was I. After Jack I tried to spit, because I was afraid it might be blood, and I wanted to know for sure. I have no fear now, for at last I am a solid man again. I want everyone to know the facts and that is why I tell them here." (Signed) A. H. Simpson.

We want every sufferer from Lung trouble (of any kind) to do just as Mr. Simpson did, try Dr. Acker's English Remedy. It will stand the most stubborn cases. When we say cure we mean it. —We know of thousands upon thousands of people that have proved this. Don't be afraid to try it—We guarantee that it is not an alcoholic medicine, that it is perfectly harmless—Buy a 25 cent bottle at once, just to try, and if it does not relieve you instantly, your druggist is commanded by us to give you really want to get well and wish to stay so, this is your opportunity. Don't wait another day. The investment is small; the results guaranteed.

UTAH COUNTY FARMERS.

Meet and Discuss Permanent Organization—No Advance in Beet Prices.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, Utah Co., Jan. 15.—A meeting of Utah county farmers and beet growers was held in the court house Saturday. The meeting was called to order by Vice President Johnson of the Utah County Farmers' association, who stated that there was some unfinished business of that association, and that after this was transacted the meeting would be turned over to the beet growers.

Judge Miller of the Utah lake commission, reported that the commission had not yet received sufficient data on the rise and fall of the waters of Utah lake for 1905, and asked for an extension of time, which was granted.

Prof. E. S. Hinkley of the committee which had met with the Timpanogos Fruit Growers & Shippers' association, an organization to be incorporated for the marketing of fruit and agricultural products, reported the object of the new organization. He proposed a county organization to comprise all who were producers of agricultural products. He announced that a department of horticulture and a department of animal industry would be added to the departments of the Brigham Young university, and he was in hopes that this would prove a great advantage to the farmers of the county, and result in making all the farms in the county experiment farms. Prof. Hinkley moved that a committee of five be elected to formulate a plan of organization. F. C. Johnson spoke in favor of organization. The motion was laid over to be considered in the meeting of the beet growers' association, and the meeting adjourned.

NO ADVANCES IN PRICES OF BEETS.

The beetgrowers' meeting was then held with Mr. Scott in the chair. A. N. Holdaway of the committee appointed to circulate a petition for a 25-cent raise in price of beets, and to present the same to the Utah Sugar company, reported a meeting with the Utah Sugar company in Salt Lake City, last Thursday. The meeting had been very satisfactory, and while the officers of the company had refused to advance the price, the committee had been treated with courtesy, and had been invited to send an auditing committee to examine the books. If the farmers so desired, Mr. Holdaway, however, was satisfied that this was an inopportune time to press the company for an advance in price.

Walter Scott and E. C. Johnson also reported upon their visit to the Sugar company, agreeing with Mr. Holdaway. The report was accepted.

The election of the committee to make preliminary arrangements for a county organization, as proposed by Prof. Hinkley at the previous meeting, was taken up, and the following committee elected: A. N. Holdaway, Walter Scott, Prof. E. S. Hinkley, Dr. John A. Whitson, E. C. Johnson.

AGRICULTURAL LECTURES IN B. Y. U.

Dr. Whitson announced that Prof. Louis Merrill would lecture in the University on agriculture every week, and invited the farmers to attend the meetings which were held Mondays. The invitation was accepted with a vote of thanks.

The meeting adjourned to meet at 2 o'clock, January 27, at the court house, when the report on organization will be presented.

FIFTH WARD CONFERENCE.

H. C. Jacobs Succeeds H. H. Thomas As Bishop's Counselor.

Ogden, Jan. 15.—Ward conference was held yesterday in the Fifth ward, services being held at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and 7 o'clock in the evening. The reports from Bishop John Watson and the other officers of the ward were most satisfactory. The various organizations are in a progressive condition, and doing excellent work. At the evening session President L. W. Shurtliff spoke very interestingly on his trip east to the dedicatory services of the monument erected to the memory of the Prophet Joseph Smith.

Bishop's Counselor H. H. Thomas tendered his resignation because of having many at Leadville, where he was removed from the ward, and H. C. Jacobs, Sr., was sustained and set apart to fill the vacancy. Beautiful music was furnished by the ward choir, under the direction of Prof. Joseph B. Lantyne.

RAILROADS SUE FOR $2,000.

An action has been commenced in the Second district court against the Rio Grande Western and Colorado Midland Railroad companies by Mrs. Isabel Carter, in which damages of $2,000 are asked for. It is alleged that on July 18 last, Mrs. Elizabeth Colley, mother of the plaintiff, entered into an agreement with the railroad company at Leadville, whereby she was paid for a ticket from Ogden to that place, the same to be delivered to the plaintiff at Ogden, but when Mrs. Carter called for the ticket, delivery was refused her. Her father died at Leadville, Colo., on July 18, and it was for the purpose of attending the funeral that the ticket in question was desired. The refusal to deliver the same prevented her from attending in attendance and she became ill as a result of the disappointment through which she incurred medical expenses amounting to $100. Judgment is asked for in the sum of $2,000 and costs.

Miss Nellie Gram of Idaho Falls underwent an operation for appendicitis last Sunday morning at the Ogden General hospital. She is now doing as well as possible.

If the farmers so desired, Mr. Holdaway, however, was satisfied that this was an inopportune time to press the company for an advance in price.
