

FRAGMENTS.

JUSTICES Speers and Peper were before the grand jury to-day.

MARSHAL IRELAND went north to breathe the balmy air of Ogden to-day.

The largest and finest lot of albums ever exhibited in Utah are at Savage's.

THERE are now four cases of diphtheria and two of scarlet fever in the city.

The December term of the Third District Court commences on Monday next.

CHAS. MACGREGOR, of Park City, will leave for Boston to-morrow, via the D. & R. G.

Will the grand jury make another report on "morality" before being discharged to-morrow?

CHAS. W. BEERY, of Butte, Montana, will leave for New York to-morrow, going over the narrow-gauge.

THE suit of E. Selis et al. vs. George F. Atkins et al., was on trial in the Third District Court to-day.

JOHN LEWIS, who was arrested for drunkenness last night, was fined $5 in the police court this morning.

J. M. DAVIES, of Halley, Idaho, will be a passenger on to-morrow's D. & R. G. train for New Orleans.

A GRAND transformation scene is being prepared for the forthcoming production of "Iolanthe" at the Theatre.

ATTORNEY J. L. Rawlins, of this city, has been appointed to prosecute the libel suit against the editor of the Ogden Herald.

THE pigeon shooting at Hot Springs takes place on Wednesday next, the 23d, instead of Christmas day, as we stated yesterday.

THE coroner's jury, at the inquest over the remains of Wm. K. Parker, returned as their verdict that the cause of death was an apoplectic fit.

FREDERICK KESLER, JR., was admitted to the bar as an attorney, in the Third District Court to-day. The examining committee were Attorneys J. R. McBride, J. A. Marshall and R. Harkness.

THE funeral of Sister Susan Hunter, relict of the late Bishop Edward Hunter, will take place on Sunday next, at the service to be held in the Seventeenth Ward school house, at 11:30 a. m. Friends invited to attend.

HERBERT PEMBRIDGE is exerting himself to catch the holiday trade in the line of toys, books, stationery, etc., and the display which his show windows as well as his saloons and counters contain is really tempting.

THINK will be a grand ball given in the Theatre on the evening of the 23rd instant, by the attaches of that establishment. The "boys" have attended faithfully to their duties during the past year, and in recognition of their services they are sure to receive.

WE have noticed that several newspapers have charged the instigation of the libel proceedings against C. W. Hemenway, in the First District Court, to Chief Justice Zane. Up to a few days ago Judge Zane had read the article claimed to be libelious, or even heard its contents.

MR. VARIAN stated in the First District Court at Ogden, yesterday, where he had been subpoenaed as a witness in the libel case, that he would like to get back to Salt Lake as soon as possible. If the gentlemen want him very bad, it might not greatly inconvenience Salt Lake to accommodate them.

YESTERDAY, at the Deseret Hospital, Dr. W. E. Anderson, assisted by several other surgeons, successfully performed the difficult operation of amputating the thigh of Thomas Briggs, of Bonanza, Davis County. Mr. Briggs has been a sufferer for about thirty years, having been confined to his bed for two years.

THOMAS BRADDEE was found guilty of petty larceny in the justice's court at Ogden yesterday. Braddee, a miner, the named E. Seemiller occupied the same room in the Central Hotel, and yesterday morning the thief took Seemiller's watch from under the pillow and decamped. He was soon captured, however, and the watch restored to its owner.

A YOUNG Men's Christian Association is to be organized at Butte, Montana. There is no doubting the fact that Butte needs some Christianizing influences to lead her people in the paths of virtue, but unless something better is offered than the bogus-Christianity sought to be foisted on the "Mormons," she would be quite as well without.

SAYS the Herald of the new Edmunds bill: "Should it become law, it would prove quite as annoying to those who are most active in helping the 'Mormons' as it would to the 'Mormons'—provided, as a matter of course, the courts and Federal officials charged with the administration of the law are fair and impartial." Don't cling to any such delusive hope. "The law, as intended by the committee," will fix all that, as experience has shown. "Fair and impartial" means "anything to down the 'Mormons,'" nowadays.

LOCAL NEWS.

TWO indictments.—David M. Stuart, Esq. of Ogden, was arraigned in the First District Court yesterday, before Judge Powers, on two indictments charging him with unlawful cohabitation with his wives. He entered a plea of guilty to one indictment.

THE Real Conspirator.—Senator Edmunds, the arch enemy-in-chief of the grand conspirator against the welfare of the people of Utah, is not resting upon a bed of roses as some of his admirers suppose. A correspondent of the New York World says he is in very poor health, and that under no circumstances would he have felt equal to assuming the duties of presiding officer of the Senate. His stomach has been troubling him very much lately, and the question here is, Does his conscience ever trouble him now and then?

The Question.—The moral issue now so much a subject of controversy among those who favor and those who are opposed to the work now engaged in by the local authorities, can easily be divided as to what it is, and why it is, if they desire to do so. In the first place, the endeavor to suppress crime, even if detected by the press and courts elsewhere for ages, and consequently cannot be classed as a "conspiracy" in any sense; in the next place, a sin becomes a crime when it is made so by law, and it is not conspiracy to attempt to uphold the law. Those who seek to look with disfavor upon such work will have no trouble finding an excuse for so doing, but it is not such an one as is entitled to recognition.

Sad Death of an Estimable Woman.

It is a long time since we have had occasion to record a more lamentable death than occurred in this city about noon yesterday—that of Sister Mary Ann Tuddenham Reynolds, wife of Elder George Reynolds. What makes her departure all the more sad is the fact that it has undoubtedly been hastened by the untimely crusade which for some time past has been waged against the Latter-day Saints, because of their religion, by their enemies, and of which her husband has been a rather conspicuous victim.

The prosecution to which Brother Reynolds has been subjected because of having two wives, whom he honorably supported and acknowledged, which commenced more than ten years ago, and his subsequent imprisonment in the Detroit House of Correction and Utah Penitentiary are matters of history with which most of our readers are familiar. Many of them are also aware that efforts have more recently been made to still further prosecute him for the same "offense" for which he paid so dear a penalty, as a terrorizing example to others.

Possessing naturally a nervous temperament, the anxiety which Sister Reynolds has felt for her husband during so many years has preyed upon her health. Especially has this been the case since it became necessary for him to leave his home a few months since to avoid arrest, and for some time past it has been apparent to those who were familiar with her that her health was thoroughly undermined. She has shown indications of dropsy of the lungs, and the troubled condition of her mind rather than any other cause is to be attributed the fact of her prostration on Thursday last and her premature delivery of a child on Friday, which lived only about a half hour, and was the result of pleuro-pneumonia, from which she died.

Sister Reynolds was born at Bayswater, London, on the 19th of September, 1816, and in 1841, was married to Elder George Reynolds in 1855, and became the mother of eleven children, seven of whom survive her. She was an excellent woman, greatly beloved and respected by all who knew her, and to whom will sympathize with the family in their bereavement, while being consoled with the assurance that she has won a martyr's crown, having died a victim to the persecutions which so many of the Saints are now suffering for righteousness' sake.

Death of Sister Hunter.—There passed from life in this city, at 7 p. m. yesterday, one of the noble women of Zion—Sister Susanna Wann Hunter, relict of the late Bishop Edward Hunter of reverend memory.

Sister Hunter was born February 18, 1825, in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania; was baptized about 1848, in the same State, and a year or two thereafter she came to Utah, where she was married to the late Bishop Edward Hunter in 1845, by whom she had three children, Edward E. W., Margaret C. W., and Daniel W. Hunter. She came to Salt Lake in 1847, sharing with the Pioneers of Utah their sufferings and vicissitudes, and she has been an invalid for the greater part of the last 25 years, suffering from prolonged consumption.

Sister Hunter was well known in the community of Latter-day Saints as a noble woman, quiet and unpretentious in her way, but always the ready friend of the poor, and one who excelled in every good and kindly grace. She was the busy scenes of this mortal life has been made in her journey through mortality. She sacrificed home, friends, relatives and every natural inducement of comfort for her faith in the principles of eternal truth, as revealed in the latter days. Her rest will be glorious and exaltation in eternity will be her reward.

Sheep Business Overdone.—A gentleman who is largely interested in the stock business in this city, from a visit to Rush Valley informs us that sheep-raising is being raised overdone in that region; that nearly every farmer, great and small, of that part has gone into the business; that the country fairly swarms with flocks, and that the range, once so excellent and apparently inexhaustible, is now very poor and by no means equal to the wants of the animals feeding upon it. True, the desert which extends farther west is still capable of affording a winter range for vast numbers of sheep when the snow falls in sufficient quantity to supply them with water, but little or no snow has fallen there yet this season, and when it does come it is doubtful whether all the sheep-owners who are depending upon it for a winter range are going to find room or feed for their flocks.

It looks as if the time had about arrived for a different policy to be pursued in the raising of sheep in this country, when, instead of depending upon the public domain for their support, the owners will have to purchase ranches for them to graze upon and make provision for feeding them at least a portion of the year. Many stock and sheep raisers in other parts of the Territory are already making preparations to this end, and those who neglect these necessary precautions are likely soon to find themselves with starving animals on their hands and no means of supporting them.

It Goes On.—The case of the people vs. Frank Foote, for resorting to a house of prostitution for lewdness, was tried before Justice Speers this afternoon. Three witnesses were examined on the part of the Territory, their testimony agreeing in all substantial respects, each showing that the house visited (Fanny Davenport's) was ill-famed, and that the defendant resorted there for the purpose which he was charged with. He offered a defense for the reason that there was none to offer, it being without mitigation or excuse. The case being made out, the Court adjudged the defendant guilty and sentenced him to be imprisoned three months in the county jail and to pay a fine of $300 and stand committed till the fine was paid. An appeal was, of course, taken at once, Messrs. F. A. Whitaker and S. H. C. Ewing becoming the sureties.

An interesting feature in this case was a scrap of the evidence adduced. Foote and the Davenport woman, during the occasion forming the basis of the trial, were engaged in conversation, and he was heard to say to her "Road House" (meaning the notorious place down the State road). She said no, but was running the one where she was at the time also, to make more money. The alleged "conspiracy" becomes dimmer as investigations proceed.

E. W. THOMPSON, JR., of this city, has just returned from a trip to Colorado, where he has been looking after his extensive cattle interests.

PACIFIC COAST NOTES.

CULLED FROM WESTERN EXCHANGES.

The new Catholic cathedral on Van Ness Avenue, San Francisco, is to cost $100,000.

Grace Hawthorne is winning high encomiums from the California press, by her rendition of "Camille" at Anderson, Cal., Dec. 14th. Edward Burghardt, a shoemaker, was found dead in his bed. Heart disease was the cause of his demise.

John Dotti was drowned (on Sunday last) by his boat capsizing in Felt's lake, near Menlo Park. He was out hunting with two friends, and went on the lake for ducks.

The Cathedral (Nov.) True Financier says: "If the administration keeps on reducing Nevada's mail service much longer, we won't have a daily route left in the State."

On December 14th, at Marysville, Cal., E. B. Burlingame, a carpenter, dropped dead from heart disease, while planning the floor of a room in N. D. Kildee's residence.

There were three ineffectual attempts to fire Chinatown, San Francisco, Cal., Sunday night, Dec. 13th. The Chinese insist that there were three men who made the attempt, one of whom was colored.

At Victoria, British Columbia, Dec. 14th, the old steamer Albatross, a steam vessel in the Pacific Ocean, was sunk in the harbor. It is thought she can be raised. Mischievous parties are supposed to have scuttled the ship.

Col. G. W. Waters, father of E. F. Waters, of the Boston Advertiser, and W. G. Waters, pressman of the Morning Call, died in San Francisco on Monday evening from gas asphyxiation. Col. Waters was a native of Massachusetts, 88 years of age.

On the night of Sunday, Dec. 13, the residence of S. Miles, at St. Helens, Oregon, took fire, and the entire building was in flames before the family was awakened. The entire contents of the building, including the family wearing apparel, were destroyed, the family barely escaping.

Miss M. Duchesne, of San Francisco, was found in her room at the Lamoine House Oakland, Cal., on the morning of Dec. 14th, unconscious from the effects of escaping gas, and was resuscitated with difficulty. It is supposed that after extinguishing the light she unconsciously turned on the gas.

Leon Renaud, a young Frenchman, went to Oakland, Cal., on Sunday night and gave himself up, saying he had shot his brother-in-law, Pierre Mirason, at the ranch of his father-in-law. It seems the man had a difficulty over grape-vine cutting, and Renaud discharged a load of bird-shot in Mirason's face. The latter was not dangerously wounded.

The internal revenue collections in the San Francisco district for the week ending December 12th were: Beer, $7,133; Spirits, 11,675; Tobacco and cigars, 9,249; Miscellaneous, 1,121; Total, $29,229.

Laura Brotherton has brought suit in the superior court of San Francisco against George Bernhard for $20,000 damages for breach of promise of marriage, alleging that in January last the defendant promised to marry her, but has since refused to carry out his contract, her damages in the sum of $20,000. Bernhard is a saloon keeper.

The Colonist, of Victoria, B. C., has been sued for $30,000, on Sunday, for the same place, for $5,000, for a libel on Judge Walker, by publishing a report of the evidence of McNamee, the dry dock contractor, before the Supreme Court at Ottawa, which alleged that Walker, while Premier of the province, was interested in the dry dock contract.

The whaling bark Amethyst, which went north from San Francisco during the past season, has not yet returned to port, although the other vessels of the fleet have been in some time. There is much speculation concerning her among ship men. It is supposed she is in the hands of the British, and is being used for the purpose of the whaling ground and supposedly on her way to port.

John F. Elliott was arrested at Gilroy, Cal., for forgery, on December 13th. The facts of the case are as follows: A Portuguese presented a check at the Bank of Gilroy for $200, payable to the order of Henry Miller. The check was signed by Henry Miller in favor of Elliott, and indorsed by him. The banker immediately recognized the signature, and requested the Portuguese to produce the check, and bring him before the check was valid. The banker retained the check, and sent it to Deputy Sheriff, while the Portuguese went in search of Elliott. The finding found him, that person entered the bank with an injured man, and said: "Well, why are you making so much fuss about that check, for it is all right. I got it from Miller, and he is the owner of the bank." The fact is that Miller was not in the city at that time. At a signal from the bank official, the Deputy Sheriff arrested Elliott, and in default of $4,000 bail, he was retained in the custody of the Sheriff. Elliott is the same person who instigated a recent publication in the San Francisco News, accusing Miller of killing and feeding diseased beef to men on the Bloomfield ranch. It is probable that falling into the trap, he resorted to the denier expedient of forgery.

TERRITORIAL ITEMS.

CULLED FROM LATEST EXCHANGES.

James Kelly, a man aged 40 years, a resident of Clarke County, Washington Territory, while driving an ox team, December 15, fell over the front end of his wagon, and his neck being caught by the wheel, he was instantly killed.

The Ogden Herald announces that Mr. T. R. Miller will organize a brass band department of that journal in this city. The remains of an unknown man, supposed to be that of a sheep-raiser, were found near Carr Station, Wyoming, on Saturday last. The man had evidently frozen to death, and the body was interred at Greeley on Sunday.

On Dec. 14th, Thomas T. Parmelee, living on a farm 10 miles from Seattle, Washington Territory, arose from his bed at 11 o'clock at night, and went to investigate a noise at the door, taking a pistol with him. In the darkness, he fired a shot, and the bullet passing through his brain, killing him instantly. The discharge of the weapon was undoubtedly accidental. Parmelee was from Wisconsin, where he was book-keeper in a bank at Mineral Point for seventeen years.

The Great Mining Case.—The arguments in the celebrated Beck-Eureka mining suit, which has monopolized the attention of the First District Court for so many weeks past, were closed yesterday, but a decision is not looked for before February, and it may not be given even then, as Judge Powers has a great mass of evidence to consider and will find it necessary to make another personal visit to the mine before it can be rendered. In the meantime John Beck is in possession of the disputed property, and is apparently unconcerned as to when the decision is to be given and confident as to the result.

DR. O. C. ORMSBY is down on a brief visit from Logan.

BISHOP D. K. UDALL, of St. Johns, Arizona, who was sentenced to imprisonment in the Detroit House of Correction some months since on a trumped-up charge of perjury, has been pardoned by President Cleveland and is now on his way home.

How High.

The focal distance of spectacle glasses may be found by placing the eye of a measure 20 or 40 inches in length against a smooth wall or other suitable ground, in plain view of some well-defined object a few rods distant, as, for instance, a building or window on the opposite side of the street. Then place the edge of your lens on the measure, and move it backward or forward until a spectrum is formed. This point will represent sufficiently near for all practical purposes the exact focal distance. The lens, but if you are in any doubt on the focus, go to E. J. Swamer's jewelry store, where every sight can be suited with gold or steel rimmed, true jeweled spectacles, chains, diamonds and precious stones in single pieces and sets, rare gold and silver patterns, new designs in silverware, for breakfast or tea sets. A full line expressly imported for the holidays, which we expect to sell out by about New Year. Call and see their fine goods. Low margins and full guarantee with each article.
