SALT LAKE CITY, - OCT. 4, 1909.

CONFERENCE NOTICE

The 30th Semi-annual general conference of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints will convene in the Tabernacle, Salt Lake City, on Sunday, October 2, at 10 o'clock a. m.

RELIEF SOCIETY CONFERENCE.

The October Semi-annual Conference of the Relief Society will be held in the Salt Lake Assembly Hall in this city, commencing Thursday, October 7, 1909, promptly at 10 a. m. and at 2 p. m.

"AMERICAN" BLACKLISTING.

A young man, a member of one of the oldest and most respected families in the State, entered the office of the city engineer the other day and asked for employment.

FARMERS AND LABORERS.

We cannot wholly agree with Secretary Wilson's statement that the farmers of the West are living in real luxury. While the average farmer is today fairly prosperous, yet the evidence from the farms to the cities continues unimpaired.

on. He is afraid to invest in Eastern securities, lest a bad year might bring trouble there. As a result he puts his money in luxuries instead of channels that might give a return.

Of course this is true of some farmers, and perhaps of more at this time than for many years past; but universal prosperity cannot be predicated of farming communities in general.

What constitutes real luxury is a question of relation. If the laborer is well housed and clothed, and has plenty to eat, what more should he ask? Why, he will next require leisure, education, art works, and especially power to command the personal services of others.

Altogether, the secretary has dashed off in a hurried way a few partial truths that will serve, no doubt, the good purpose of directing attention to the many-sided aspect of questions like these.

SECRECY OF THE CONFESSORIAL.

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican relates a story in which the question of the secrecy of the confessional is involved. A case was on trial at New Bedford, with a priest of the Roman church as defendant.

RUSSIAN CONDITIONS.

Advice from Russia are to the effect that the reactionary party is now working for the abolition of the constitution and the return of the reign of terror. One of their leaders is quoted as having said recently that there is no constitution except by the grace of the czar, and that, "what the czar has granted he can take away, for his power is absolute."

newspapers were fined for daring to publish that these sentences had been imposed. Poor, downtrodden Russia! Is it not strange that the civilized nations permit Russian conditions to exist without protest, or without any effort at helping the patriots to secure freedom?

Census takers should be people with taking ways. People who are looking for snags should buy steel traps.

Peace comes from preparedness for war as figs come from thistles.

A bond issue sometimes is over subscribed, but a newspaper never is.

Harry Whitney's position is not unlike that of a referee in bankruptcy.

"The Gentle Art of Making Enemies," is said to be Commander Perry's favorite book.

The Guntewoman predicts a scarcity of hair. On many bald heads it is already scarce.

Mrs. Annie Besant's idea of the drunkard's hell is that of a Tantalus in a sea of whisky.

Why is it that the police in some cities insist on acting as press agents for Emma Goldman?

The courts have decided a Turk can be naturalized. The naturalization laws can do almost anything.

Let all the citizens opposed to the Pseudo-American party remember that in union there is strength.

The President has delivered all of his set speeches. Will they now be published and sold in sets or singly?

How is it that statements of accounts never go astray in the mails while letters containing remittances do?

Recalling what Job said to Eliphaz we could Dr. Cook say to Commander Perry, "But now Perry hath made me wary."

It was the west wind and not the wind of the western sea that prevented the flight of the aeroplanes at the Hudson-Fulton celebration.

Is the power of the water-power monopoly greater than the power of the United States? It is a question in which the people are greatly interested.

For a long time after he gets his first automobile the owner keeps the horn tooting like a boy with his first whistle constantly blows it. It is music to the ears of both.

It is said of President Taft that while he favors the Roosevelt policies he has his own opinions. And why shouldn't he, having been a federal judge long before he was President?

If President Taft did not favor a postal savings bank system how many members of his administration would? In politics as nowhere else do the followers say to the leader, "Whither thou goest I go."

The ordinance excluding automobiles from the streets of Bar Harbor, passed by the town government, was declared unconstitutional by the law court, the highest tribunal in Maine, in a rescript handed down the other day. A word to the wise automobilist is sufficient.

THE CHILD AS AN ASSET.

Springfield (Mass.) Republican. There is undoubtedly a very grave problem connected with the birth rate. The church in past times furnished a religious motive for large families, and this tended to counteract the natural tendency of the birth rate to decline from economic causes as the period of infancy came to be prolonged in an advancing civilization.

AS THEY PLEASE.

New York World. A great many Americans are not politically in harmony with the old usage. "When confronted by 100 wells screw neither." Nearly all of them refuse to vote when they do not care about the result, and what better way is there of reducing the precipitate and the trifling?

BIG FARMS UNNECESSARY.

Denver Republican. In harmony with the policy of conservation, the farmers are learning that to increase the fertility of the soil is to produce results formerly attained by bringing a larger acreage under cultivation. The value of land for agriculture is measured by its productive power, and thus forty acres may be as valuable as eighty if it produces as much.

ideas of the thine of taxation upset. India retires; China subjected to a mass of new impressions; the distance across the Atlantic further shortened; the distance across our continent about to be shortened, wireless improved; the everlasting power of sentiment dramatically illustrated in the fall of Chingomow. In the cave man lived today he could hardly repeat his now famous declaration, "Romance is dead." By science, contrary to many years, wonder and mystery have been increased.

THE OPTIMIST'S CORNER

By George F. Butler, A.M., M.D. A large quantity of water is necessary to carry on the functions of the animal economy. When shall this water be taken into the system? It may be introduced during the day, when thirst requires, but it is a good practice to drink a quantity of water on rising in the morning and on going to bed at night.

JUST FOR FUN.

Hudson to Fulton: "You supply the steamboat and I'll supply the River."—Life. The education of that boy has been very much neglected; he never got more than a root and a half of it.
