The "Lost Ship."—In another place will be found the announcement of the grand sensation of the "Lost Ship," to be presented at the Theatre on Friday night, by Mr. Phil Margerita and a full dramatic company. Mr. Margerita has many admirers now in Conference, who with his host of city friends, will be glad of a chance to see him again before the footlights. He also has a big bill for Saturday. See his "ad."

The "Romance."—In another column see the programme, with full cast of characters for the beautiful and thrilling play of the "Romance of a Poor Young Man," to be performed to-morrow night at the Theatre, by the Home Dramatic Club.

The Careless Orchestra will furnish the music. Grand conference attraction. Get tickets to-morrow morning.

From Eden.—Among our callers to-day, was our old friend and fellow worker, Jas. A. Thompson, Esq., of Eden, who is down spending Conference. He says this season's crops are much better than last year. In addition to this he will continue the business of making to order and repairing boots and shoes, and will give employment to many persons as the demands of trade will warrant. His customers are conversant and neat, and with anything like reasonable encouragement, such as his long standing in the community justifies, he should make this last season's profitable one, and one by which he may be enabled to retire, his past reverses. Mr. Riser's reputation and general acquaintance should bring all his friends to his assistance. In this connection, especially since he asks for nothing but payment, the wants of which he is fully able to supply as anyone, and at
