

Regular meeting of the City Council to-night.

Mrs. Margette is irresistibly funny as "Father Tom" in Colleen Bawn.

Hon. Geo. Q. Cannon, Hon. John C.aine and P. B. Richards, Esq., left for Washington this morning.

Our esteemed contemporary the Ogden Herald comes to hand with conspicuous irregularity. What's the matter?

After a few weeks' visit to the East, Abram Gould, Esq., coal agent of the U. P. R. Company, is again in the city.

Regular meeting of the Alert Engine Company No. 2, to-morrow evening, (Wednesday) at 7.30 o'clock.

Mr. D. McKenzie's "Danny Man," in Colleen Bawn, is not surpassed by any actor on the stage, so far as we are aware. It is a life-like picture.

Mrs. Von Haake died suddenly, at her rooms, on First East Street, last night. A coroner's jury decided the cause was disease of the heart and lungs.

A noted chemist says he has found that the addition of a small percentage of formic acid, prevents clarified honey from fermentation, without injuring its flavor.

All persons interested in the subject of sidewalk on the west side of East Temple Street, between Second and Third South Streets, should read a notice which appears elsewhere.

There are messages at the Western Union Telegraph office for J. W. Bewell, P. W. Kahlbach, Miss Marie Debooth, Frank Eary, L. A. Styles, Andrew Smith, Geo. Holliday and Jno. Parkin.

At a late hour last night it was reported that Mr. C. J. Goldrick, editor of the Rocky Mountain Herald, was dying, and could not live until morning. The report will meet with almost regret.

The Central Pacific train from the west, due here at 9.10 yesterday morning, was two hours and forty minutes late. The detention was caused by the ditching of a special train of twenty-six empty freight cars at White Plains, on Friday last.

A culvert gave way just as the engine had passed over and the empty cars were piled high upon each other, burying a brakeman under the jammed and broken mass.

The disaster is said to have resulted in the greatest general smash-up that has occurred for years, the cars being piled together to the height of the telegraph poles.—Ogden Pilot.

Board of Trade.—The monthly meeting of the Salt Lake Board of Trade will be held in the Council House, Friday, December 1st, at 7 p. m.

Salt Lake Theatre.—After partaking of a substantial Thanksgiving dinner, numbers of people will want to go to the Theatre, and sit placidly during the process of digestion, enjoying the performance of Boucicault's notable play of "The Colleen Bawn."

An Extension Desired.—A petition will be presented to the City Council, this evening, numerously signed by the inhabitants of the north part of East Temple Street, asking that the Gas Company be required to extend their mains north from this office, without further delay, as contemplated in the charter granted them.

That the necessity exists for such an extension, is demonstrated in the early hours of each evening, when the dark glade formed by the avenue of shade trees along the Temple Block, forms a gloom intensified by leaving the better lighted portions of the street southward, that is dreared by female pedestrians, who hesitate trusting themselves in such lonely darkness, until some male pedestrian chances to come along to pioneer the way, as an escort of safety.

The attempts at robbery, by foot-pats, in the same vicinity adds another reason.

Supreme Court.—As stated in yesterday's News the Supreme Court met yesterday at 2 p. m., Chief Justice Hunter presiding, all three judges on the bench. Judge Emerson filed an opinion in Wm. Martin, respondent vs. M. M. Hill, appellant, appeal from the Third District Court, Judgment for $1,750, with costs, affirmed.

The same member of the bench filed an opinion in the people, etc., respondent vs. Joseph Biddecome, appellant. The appellant had been convicted of murder in the first degree and sentenced to hard labor in the Penitentiary for life. The judgment of the court below was reversed and a new trial ordered.

In Whitmore vs. Hardy, a rehearing was denied. The supersedeas bond was fixed at $2,300, and an appeal to the Supreme Court was prayed and allowed.

In Thacker vs. Haas, the judgment of the District Court was affirmed, Judge T. W. dissenting. Proceedings stayed ninety days. A rehearing was granted in the case of Snow vs. Crow, and in Davis vs. Utah Southern Railroad.

In Vogel vs. Walker, the judgment of the lower court was affirmed, Emerson dissenting. A rehearing was granted.

In Salt Lake City vs. Hollister, the judgment was affirmed and the supersedeas bond fixed at $250. The motion to dismiss the appeal in the case of Thompson vs. Jacobs was continued till next term.

Substantial Improvements.

Description of the Denver and Rio Grande Western Depot.

Any person familiar with that former landmark, to which Salt Lake owes many of its oldest and used-to-be best buildings—the Old Adobio Yard—and has not recently been on the ground where it was located will be repaid for the trouble of visiting the spot.

On going upon the depot grounds the visitor is at once struck with the substantial character of the buildings erected by the Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad company. At present a comparatively small structure, at the northeast corner of the block, is being temporarily used as a passenger depot, but the foundation is already in for a large and handsome building to be devoted to that purpose.

The new freight station, contiguous to which are six tracks, is just completed. The building heretofore occupied for that department was torn down to-day, and Mr. A. J. Lamborn, the gentlemanly assistant freight and passenger agent, moved into his new quarters this morning.

At a late hour last night it was reported that Mr. C. J. Goldrick, editor of the Rocky Mountain Herald, was dying, and could not live until morning.

The smoke stack, adjacent to the shops, is a model specimen of brick-work. It is 95 ft. high, 12 ft. square at the base, tapering till it reaches a square of six ft. It is erected with mathematical precision.

The blacksmith shop is 52 ft. by 14 ft., with foundations of the most solid character, including piles, concrete and masonry, for its tripod.

Some of the new scenery will be introduced on Thursday and Saturday evenings, in the "Colleen Bawn" and "Under the Gaslight."

From North Carolina.—This morning we received a call from Elder Edward M. Dalton, of Parowan, Iron County, who returned last evening from a mission to the Southern States.

The woodworking shop will be an immense affair, but will not be erected until next spring. The foundation for it has already been laid. It will cover a surface of ground 52 ft. by 190 ft.

The woodworking shop will be an immense affair, but will not be erected until next spring. The foundation for it has already been laid.

During our visit yesterday, we looked into the office of Mr. W. J. Brockway, the master mechanic, and found him up to the ears in business, at his table, covered with drawings of various kinds, which artists have a halo of mystery about them, like the dead language of an extinct race, to the mind untutored in the intricacies of technical mechanism.

The company is making rapid strides in traversing this part of the great Continent, and opening up parts of the country, even within the borders of Utah, hitherto comparatively unknown.

Sudden Death.—About half-past ten o'clock last night a colored man whose room is in the upper part of a building, in the front of which is a millinery store, on First East St., a short distance below Second South, heard a dull thud in a lower room, as if produced by the fall of a heavy body. He went below to a room occupied by Mrs. Pauline Von Haake and her three children, and found that lady lying upon the floor in a corner, apparently lifeless.

She continued to breathe about fifteen minutes, when she expired. Coroner Taylor was summoned, and placed an officer in charge until 8.30 o'clock this morning, when an inquest was held. It appeared from the evidence given before the jury, that the deceased had been affected for some time with distressing symptoms, such as blood spitting, pains in the chest, etc.

Several German citizens were present and kindly proffered, notably Mr. Follsch, to take charge of the child, and assist in the removal of the body to the return of her husband, who is engaged with a surveying party on the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad. Mr. Von Haake has been telegraphed to in regard to the occurrence.

The family have been in Utah a little over one year, and came from Germany only a brief period previous to that time.

George W. Thatcher, Esq., is down from Logan, looking well and hearty as usual.

Dangerously Ill.—Major Richard H. Hopkins, a well known old resident of this city, has been dangerously ill for several weeks past, suffering, we understand, from Bright's disease of the kidneys, and is now so low that death may ensue at any time.

Address to the Young.—Last evening, under the auspices of the Mutual Improvement Association of the Fifth Ward, President Joseph F. Smith delivered an interesting address in the school house.
