The action vas brought to compel the specific per-formance of a lease on certain prem-ises on State street, leased by plaintif rom defendants and to enjoin the de-fendants from ousting plaintif. Than tiff had a lease on the prop-erty for a term of two years, and it expired on Dec. 1, 1906. The lease also contained a provision for a renewal for three years at the termination of the original lease upon request of plaintiff. This request was not made by plaintiff until Dec. 3, 1906, two days after the termination of the original lease, and they refused to grant the renewal. In the lower court defend-ants demurrer was sustained and the case dismissed. The principal point at issue in the appeal is whether or not the request for the termemode in the original base. The supreme court holds that the request by plaintiff, was a pre-requisite to granting the renewal, and as design and a right to assume that no renewal was designed and hence their action in refusing to grant it was right, the action of the original lease, the defendants had a right to assume that no renewal was designed and hence their action in refusing to grant it was right, the action of the lower court in sus-taining the demurrer is held to be proper and legal and is affirmed.
