

asking for relief, declaring that their provisions had failed and sickness was increasing among them. The Porte promised their rations would henceforth be regularly distributed.

HAVANA, 21.—The earthquake in Venezuela, mention of which has been made before, occurred on April 14. The town of Cua, eight leagues from Caracas, was entirely destroyed, as were all the surrounding farms. The river Tug became heated to such a degree that the fishes sought refuge outside of the water. The shocks were felt in Caracas and were the heaviest since 1812. The property destroyed in Caracas will amount to $100,000.

HALIFAX, 21.—The accident at the Old Sydney Mines, this morning, was caused by the explosion of gas. Six men have been taken out dead, among them Greenwell, the chief overseer. It is thought that all are now out of the pit. The first to enter after the explosion were three brothers, named Sullivan, who succeeded in rescuing 13 of the cutters who were overcome by the gas. They were unconscious for some time, but all slowly recovered; 16 pairs of cutters were at work here. In the south side of the mine a large number of men were at work, but all escaped uninjured. One of the Sullivans was prostrated while searching for the dead, but fortunately was rescued by his brothers.

LONDON, 22.—The Standard announces that it is now more than probable that the congress will meet during the first fortnight of June; also, that owing to the unsettled state of public affairs in Constantinople, the English fleet will probably move to the Prince Islands.

The debate in the House of Commons was continued to-night, the members, as before, confining themselves to discussion of the legal and constitutional aspect of the question.

Fawcett was followed by the Attorney General, then Gladstone, who spoke over an hour. He hoped a division would be persisted in, no matter how small a minority. He repelled the charge that Lord Hartington's motion evaded a declaration of the policy. If government pursued European subjects in concert with Europe, and not by a policy of isolation, and allowed Europe to determine the method, it would go into the conference pursuing diplomatic aims by diplomatic means, refraining from warlike menace until the cause for war appeared. That would be the policy many liberals recommended.

Sir George Balfour, Sir George Campbell, and Mr. Newdegate, conservative, spoke in favor of Lord Hartington's resolution, and Forsythe, Grantham and others against it. The debate was adjourned to Thursday, when Cross will be the first speaker. The House filled up somewhat during Gladstone's speech, but at other times the attendance was scanty.

The London Press association understands that, replying to the request of the Duke of Westminster to receive a deputation with a peace declaration, signed by over 200,000 persons, the Marquis of Salisbury has stated that he is unable to receive the deputation on the ground that it was inconvenient to the public service to discuss the matter now.

A Constantinople dispatch says: In consequence of the incident at the Teheran Palace, the minister of marine has been suspended by Vessim Pasha. Other changes in the ministry are apprehended.

A special from Pera says: Twenty-one were killed and 17 wounded in the late riot.

Pacific news comes from St. Petersburg, Berlin and Paris.

A Berlin dispatch says: Count Schouvaloff expressed to Lord Odo Russell, the British Ambassador the hope that the negotiations between England and Russia would lead to a peaceful arrangement.

A Vienna correspondent, however, says: In order to appreciate the exact value of the announcement of a speedy meeting of the congress, it must be mentioned that it emanates from financial sources. As for political and diplomatic circles, they are more silent and reserved than ever.

A Vienna dispatch says the possibility of the congress seems to be generally admitted, although few have confidence in its results. Count Andrassy no longer has implicit faith in that mode of settlement.

According to Pera advices the Turkish delegates sent to pacify the insurgents have completely failed. Their return proves that the insurrection must take its course.

The debate in the House of Commons, last night, nearly collapsed, no one rising to speak. After Gladstone finished, the Speaker began by putting the motion, but just at that critical moment Sir George Balfour rose, and the House dwindled down to nine members before he finished, and to six while Sir George Campbell was speaking.

Two unarmored Russian war vessels, from Cronstadt, passed through the Sound clandestinely on Monday night; it is supposed their destination is America. Russian agents are in Sweden inspecting shipping, with a view to the purchase of cruisers.

The China famine relief committee received a telegram from Shanghai announcing that there had been a rainfall in several provinces; that sowing is general, and the prospects for a harvest encouraging.

There has been no further disturbances in the strike district in Lancashire, in consequence of the precautions taken by the military and police. The hopes of a settlement of the differences has not been abandoned. Spinners and card-loom hands oppose the ballot on the questions at issue, but the weavers at Blackburn and other towns vote to-morrow. It is believed the result of the voting will have an important effect on the other strikers. Meantime the strike is extending. The notices of the 10 per cent. reduction expired at Todmorden and Ramsbottom last night. The operatives resolved to resist the deduction.

The Duke of Atholl, yesterday, had two interviews with the Queen at Balmoral Castle, and afterwards addressed a public meeting, declaring that the prospects for peace were very favorable.

ST. PETERSBURG, 22.—The Agence Russe and Journal de St. Petersburg warn the public against the pessimist news from Constantinople where, they say, endeavors are being made to prevent an understanding between England and Russia.

The Czarowitch, telegraphs to the Moscow association of merchants for a contribution of 400,000 roubles towards the formation of a volunteer fleet.

The Emperor will, to-morrow, receive the Shah of Persia.

BERLIN, 22.—Count Schouvaloff, in conversation with other diplomats, described the proposals he was carrying to England as pacific. He seemed confident they would not be rejected.

Baden Baden is again proposed as the place for the congress to meet. It is thought the proposals will be generally accepted.

Narvaez was a Spanish soldier and a devout Catholic. As he was about to die the priest asked, "Do you forgive your enemies?" The reply was a grim one: "I haven't any—I shot them all."

Our morality is too apt to be governed by our opportunities. It is never right to take what we can't get hold of, and, under such circumstances, we see our duty very plainly. But when things are within reach, the ordinary conscience takes a quiet dose of morphine, and, after that, does not hold itself responsible for what happens. Illustration:—"Do you see any grapes, Bob?" "Yes, lots of grapes, and ripe ones, too; but there's dogs." "Big dogs?" "Yes, awful big." "Then, Bob, come away; those grapes don't belong to us."

GANG & SULKY PLOWS.

IMPROVEMENTS are constantly being made in all kinds of labor saving machines, and more especially in farm implements, and farmers are learning that the saving of time and labor can best be accomplished by using the best implements manufactured. In this connection we wish to speak more particularly of the

made by Avery & Sons of Louisville, Ky., which we have recently examined at the sales-rooms of

J. W. LOWELL & CO.,

of this city. About 60 of these plows have been sold by them in the last few weeks, probably a larger number than has ever before been sold in this Territory since its first settlement. Farmers are getting tired of being jerked and twitched around all day by following the old style of plows, and find that by using the

which is a beauty to look at, as neatly built as a carriage and about as comfortable to ride on, they can do their plowing with comfort, and even a child can handle it and do a man's work. We do not wonder that scarcely any other style of GANG OR SULKY PLOWS are sold in this market, for the Avery is unquestionably the BEST manufactured, as hundred of the leading farmers of Utah will testify.

We give below a letter from Mr. John Rouse, of Goshen, known as one of the oldest settlers and leading farmers of this Territory, who has tested the AVERY PLOW and knows its merits.

GOSHEN, Utah, Feb. 19, 1878.

J. W. Lowell & Co.,

Gentlemen,—A twelve year old son of mine plowed 60 acres last fall with the Avery Gang and Sulky Plow, eight acres of which were plowed 12 inches deep and laid leveler and better than any other plowing I have seen since I left England; and I consider myself a judge of such work. My boy can handle the plow with ease. As for the draft, three horses can handle it readily in breaking with the sulky plow, and the same team is sufficient for the 12 inch gang plow in old land. I am well pleased with the plow, and do not know where it can be improved.

Yours respectfully,
JOHN ROUSE.
