FRAGMENTS.

Cow lost. See advt.

The Governor delayeth his coming. Now get ready for the Twenty-fourth.

The police officers report a pretty quiet Fourth in their line.

PRERAGAN was fined $15 this morning for exposing his person.

The grateful shade of Liberty Park was appreciated by quiet picnickers yesterday.

Two brothers-in-law were arrested for fighting on First South Street this morning.

A CHINAMAN was arrested yesterday for shooting off fireworks and scaring a team.

SEVERAL cases of drunken and disorderly conduct were disposed of by Justice Spiers to-day.

ABOUT 1,800 people spent the Fourth at the Lake, and all seemed to have had a glorious time.

The water still continues to recede and the danger is over, though the damage is not diminished.

A FIRST Ward car was switched off into Third South St., yesterday afternoon with a broken wheel.

CALLER: fever of the fatal type is prevalent in Ogden. Several deaths have occurred, one yesterday, a child of Theodore Smith, Esq.

The Union Pacific don't run any more Pullman cars to Salt Lake. If you are going east you can't get your sleeper till you reach Ogden.

The visiting nine from this city were badly beaten by the Ogden base ball club yesterday. Now let the latter play the champions on the 24th.

The fireworks at Washington Square last evening were splendid—the best ever seen here, one spectator says. There was an immense attendance.

BISHOP HARDY was out riding yesterday afternoon, and toward evening was one of a party of picnickers in Sugar House Ward. He seemed lively as ever.

The Sunday schools of this city will be discontinued to-morrow morning in order to give the teachers and pupils a chance to attend President Calder's funeral.

The base-ball match on Washington Square yesterday afternoon resulted in a routing victory for the Reds. The Olympics seem to be everywhere over-matched.

JAS. PRACKER, has re-opened the Sears' family store on Second South Street, between 7th and 8th East, and has a full line of groceries, etc., which he offers at lowest market prices.

A PARTY of patriots who celebrated the nation's independence in a quiet little grove south of this city yesterday, had fifty-six pieces of artillery along in the shape of that many canons of various sizes.

LEWIS S. HILLS, Esq., of the Deseret Bank, and S. H. Hill, of the U. C. Railway, went out to Lost Creek, Thursday evening, on a fishing excursion, and returned last night with between 70 and 80 lbs. of fine trout. Who can beat that?

MISSISSIPPI & ROTHBERGER advertise that they have secured the negatives, taken by Friedman & Co., of homes in various cities and towns of this territory. Those desiring copies can order by mail and they will be furnished at reasonable rates.

BUCKLE & SON, the popular clothiers of this city, have a large stock of summer goods on hand which they want to make up and sell. You can get a cool, easy fitting, comfortable suit at any price from $25 up to $100, and no questions asked.

Just at the hour of our going to press Thursday afternoon the fire bell gave notice of a blaze in the 15th Ward. The engine and the News reporter were soon on the spot and were soon away again on flaring that it was only some dry lucern burning.

Six carloads of excursionists went to Ogden with the Sixth Ward Brass Band. The fireman's celebration was well attended. Joseph Stanford, Esq., was the orator of the day; F. A. Shiles, Esq., read the Declaration of Independence, and Judge Williams made a closing speech. Ogden was all alive.

We are requested to state that the Rev. Mr. Hill will deliver a discourse at the Methodist Church on Sunday evening, occasioned by the 108th anniversary of "Independence Day." Subject: "Is our country advancing toward or receding from the ideal best government?" The public and visiting strangers are cordially invited.

By the running away of a team in the 21st Ward last Thursday, James Castleton got wedged in between the wagon box and the wheel and was scarily bruised. He had presence of mind enough to reach into the wagon and lift out a little child, which he was thus able to place in safety. His face and arms were cruelly cut and lacerated, but he was some better yesterday.

A CIRCULAR letter was sent to the Bishops of this city several days ago, in which the Presiding Bishopric applied for the names of persons in their respective wards who had labored on the Jordan River to prevent its overflowing, also the number of days thus employed. This is desired as a matter of record, yet up to the present time but very few have responded to the call. The matter should not be delayed by those interested.

The bells of the State Road had a genuine scare this morning. She drove up to a well known planter's, remarking: "Mr. —, please take this horse and repair it where it leaks." "Which horse?" "That one right in the back of the buggy." "There's no horse there," said the man of the soldier. "What?" shrieked she, "have I lost it?" and back she went at a rattling six minute gait, and succeeded in finding the missing article stretching its length of fifty feet half buried in the dust of the road.

PROVO FENCIBLES.

WHAT GORTH ON AT PRESENT.

Elder Joseph Marion Tanner, son of Myron Tanner, leaves Sunday afternoon for Europe, on a mission. A surprise party and Bible presentation in his honor took place at the Third Ward meeting house last Monday night.

Brother James E. Talmage, formerly a graduate and later a professor of the B. Y. Academy, who has spent the past two years in the East, commencing his education, is home once more, having arrived a week ago Thursday. He will resume the duties of a teacher at the Academy, succeeding Elder Tanner, also a graduate of the institution.

Scene at the Provo City Council last Tuesday night. A rule of the assembly is that none but members may speak. Counselor S., on the prohibition bill, is offering a substitute. Door opens and enter his four-year old son, stare hat on, who seeing the assembly of Solons, stares like a scared rabbit for a moment and then ejaculates: "Is my papa here?" "Yes, my son," says the speaker, pausing, "what is it?" "Ma wants a dollar," exclaims the young hopeful. General outburst. Mayor D., equal to the occasion. "The rule of the house is suspended." Exit boy with a "dollar of his daddy's."

The glorious "Fourth" was formally ushered in by a salute of thirteen guns, in honor of the thirteen original colonies. But the boys, and men with boys' brains, kept up an incessant rattle of firecrackers and roar of muskets throughout the night, much to the disgust of the quiet-loving but sleepless community. An old gentleman who had not counted on quite so much patriotism, and had betaken himself early to bed to get his sleep out before the cannonading began, rose up from his restless pillow about midnight, exclaiming: "To wonder if their 'tarn fool things there was five hundred and thirteen original colonies!"

TRANSIENT.

Fatal Accident.—News of a fatal accident just comes over the wire as a special to this paper. At 8.30 this morning a fatal accident occurred between Rock's Station and Burr's Corral on the U. C. Railway, about 23 miles south of Deseret, by which Arthur C. son of H. C. Haskell, foreman of section 40, was killed. Mrs. Haskell seriously and Mrs. Fillmore, wife of an employee on the same section, slightly injured, and several others more or less bruised. It appears that the employees of section 40, 41 and 42 were returning with two loaded cars loaded with their wives and children, from Neels, where they had been spending the Fourth, and while running gaily along and about half way home, a little girl on the leading hand-car accidentally slipped and fell directly under the following car. Before the car could be checked by the foot-rest on the first car broke, propelling the boy and three ladies, with nursing babies, under and about the following car. The little girl escaped with a few slight bruises and the loss of her clothing, which was torn from her, but the boy's skull was completely crushed under the wheels, death ensuing almost instantly. Mrs. Haskell is thought to be seriously and Mrs. Fillmore slightly injured. Both ladies were former residents of Payson, where the body of the child will be interred.

Change of Time.

—In this issue appears the new Time Card of the Utah Central Railway which takes effect Monday July 7th. There are some important changes which should be noted to avoid confusion. The Atlantic express leaves at 7 instead of 7.30, which allows more time in Ogden for breakfast and transfer. A new local express is also added, leaving Salt Lake at 10.30 a.m. and returning at 4.30 p.m. This mid-day train should be a great accommodation to our business men in traveling between the metropolis and the north, as it enables them to attend to mail and other business before leaving the city, and returns early in the afternoon, thus avoiding an unnecessarily long stay in Ogden.

The trains leaving Ogden at 11 a.m. and Salt Lake at 6.40 p.m. are taken off.

The train leaving Salt Lake for the south at 3.35 p.m. has been changed to leave at 4.27 p.m. to allow our southern friends a longer time in the city. This train, however, will only run for the present between Provo and Ogden, having been taken off south of the former point.

To the Lakel.

The Sixteenth Ward Brass Band gave an excursion to Black Rock on Tuesday, July 9th, the proceeds of which will be used for the purchase of uniforms for the band.

The boys were out swimming on Thursday and play very well indeed for beginners. They have arranged a programme of interesting games and trials of athletic skill, and all who take part in the excursion will be sure to enjoy it. Their advertisement will be found in another column.

Home's Mission.

—Only to give all the brethren an opportunity of attending the funeral services of our departed brother, President David O. Calder, it has been decided to suspend all Home Missionary appointments for to-morrow.

ANDREW M. CANRON, President of the Stake.

Sunday School Union Meeting.—The regular meeting of the Deseret S. S. Union will be held in the Assembly Hall on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. A full attendance of officers and teachers is desired. Elder Henry W. Naisbitt will deliver a brief lecture upon "The Sunday School as a Social Force."

The 10th Ward Sunday School will be reported by its superintendent, The school will furnish the singing exercises and also doorkeepers for the occasion.

JOS. H. PARK, July 4, 1884, Salt Lake S. S.

A Useful Work.

—Mr. Leslie W. Snow, of this city, has the agency for "Adams' Synchrological Chart or Map of History," which he exhibited and explained in company with Mr. W. R. Steele, in our office last evening. The chart is 2 1/2 feet in length, but is folded within the covers of a conveniently-sized atlas, and is, we would think, an actual necessity in the school-room and also in the family as an aid to the comprehensive study of history. The different nations of the earth from the beginning up to the present time are represented by parallel colored lines, which merge into each other where nations have amalgamated, or diverge and separate where nations have split up into two or more subdivisions. The Roman Empire, for example, is indicated by a small picture at the time of the founding of the city; from this beginning the empire increases in breadth as the boundaries of the nation were extended until it embraced nearly all the civilized world. Then the subdivision of the realm into Eastern and Western Empires and the final dissolution into the more modern principalities of Europe are all clearly represented and can be understood at a glance. The arrangement of the current of events as connected with the stream of time is ingenious yet simple, and the whole work will commend itself as a useful and speedy assistant to the study of history. It is well recommended by educators of different nations, and has received the encomiums of local teachers in these parts.

A Phenomenal Incident.

—Doctor Anderson, of Ogden, was an interested participant in a curious occurrence which took place on Farr's mill-race, northeast of this city, last Thursday afternoon, the details of which have been narrated to us by Byron Lorin Farr, now in town. It seems that the Doctor and his little son were standing on the banks of the stream fishing just above the dam, where the water was 12 or 15 feet deep. Suddenly he became aware of the fact that the waters were either beginning to rise with fearful rapidity or that the banks were melting away from under his feet. Without stopping to see which idea was correct or what the cause of the phenomenon might be, he seized his boy and ran, being however compelled to wade the rushing waters waist deep before reaching a place of safety. Arrived there without injury, he turned to look at the spot where he had been standing, when he beheld the bottom of the race, which was made of heavy rocks, from 30 to 100 pounds in weight, now elevated high and dry above the surface as much as it had previously been below it, with great rents gaping in the banks and dam through which the mad waters were now pouring with uncontrolled fury. As investigation of the wonderful occurrence proved that a land slide from a steep bluff on the opposite side of the millrace had come down with such tremendous power as to force itself right under the dam and the adjoining bottom of the canal, lifting the whole thing nearly thirty feet into the air. These persons escaped with their lives is nothing short of miraculous. The damage done would amount to about $2,000, besides which the mill is stopped, and the farming land which was watered from the canal is suffering, pending the repairs at the scene of the disaster.

Woman's Work.

—From Slater E. B. Wells, who returned yesterday from a few days' visit in Summit County, the following items of her journey have been gathered. She left Salt Lake City on Saturday morning, June 29th, taking the Union Pacific route. At Echo, where she was met by President W. W. Clegg, of Summit Stake, and Sisters M. J. Atwood and Ruth Pack, in whose company she proceeded to Evanston, where a meeting was held with the Relief Society, Mrs. Mary Whittle presiding. The next morning she went to Almy and met with the Sunday School, occupying a short time in speaking to the children. The Sunday School is in a very prosperous condition, under the Superintendency of Brother Adin Brown, who seems well qualified for the position. The afternoon meeting was addressed by President Clegg, who occupied all the time. In the evening the Relief Society held their meeting, Mrs. Martha Woodhouse presiding. Monday morning, by the appointment of the Bishop and with the permission of Pres. Clegg, a meeting was called for the purpose of organizing a Primary Association; Slater E. B. Wells officiated in organizing and in accordance with the suggestion of the Bishop and others the following officers were appointed: Mrs. Sarah Horsley, President; Mrs. Martha Alston and Miss Maggie Russell, Counselors; Miss Jennie Russell, Secretary; Miss Jeannette Beveridge, Assistant-Secretary; Master Franklin Burton, Treasurer. Forty members were enrolled at this first meeting. On Tuesday, July 1st, she met with the Relief Society of Coalville. The House was well filled, and Mrs. Sarah Wilde presided over the meeting. Everywhere the meetings have been exceedingly interesting and the sisters were found to be fully awake to the duties devolving upon them.

The Ladies of Summit Stake.

are making great preparations for a Fair to be held in Coalville early in August, the object being to raise money to purchase glass for the new Stake house now being built at Coalville. Great interest is manifested in the enterprise, young and old are preparing articles both useful and ornamental, to place on sale, and Committees of able and efficient active sisters have the arrangements in charge. The enterprise will undoubtedly be a complete success. Sister Wells returned in good health feeling much better for her trip.

Fire Alarm.

—About 1.15 o'clock this p.m. flames were discovered leaping up the sides of a small frame building at the back of Asmusen's jewelry store, and threatened for a moment, considerable adjacent property. One of the first persons on the scene was Dr. H. Z. Richards whose garden hose was on the instant brought into requisition. The firemen took no time in bringing their apparatus to bear on the devouring element, with the result that it was overpowered within a few minutes. The damage done will probably be less than $200, though the consequences, owing to the proximity of other dry wooden buildings, might have been disastrous. The shed is used as a carriage house by Mr. Asmusen, and the upper part is filled with crockery ware belonging to Little & Boudry. This was for the most part uninjured. The origin of the fire is not known, but it is thought to have started in a pile of straw and rubbish on the north side of the shed.

Visitors from England.

—This afternoon we had a pleasant call from Mr. Arthur Sykes, of Stockport, England, and Capt. O. P. Richardson, of Ankerley, North Wales. They will stop here a couple of days and will then proceed to San Francisco. They have visited the principal cities of the East, and are now viewing the Great West. They are both in good health.

1789—The great French revolution commenced.
1843—The revelation on Celestial Marriage was first written.
Peril.—A large audience witnessed the performance of "Peril" last evening at the Theatre. But there was no enthusiasm in it. Celebrating the Glorious Fourth the folks, perhaps, and the fervor of the Home Dramatic Club were not in the mood for little applause. Mr. J. D. Spencer attracted the most marked attention and performed his part to the life. Mr. H. M. Wells as the aged but energetic Baron gave us a good piece of character acting and deserved high encomium. Mr. C. G. Jones played his character to perfection, and rendered his lines with a distinct enunciation than usual. Mr. B. S. Young performed his small part admirably. Miss Edith Clavering as a charming and effective manner was all that could be desired. Miss Blanche Clavering made an excellent Susan Taperly and Miss Whitney sustained her character with fidelity. The minor parts were acceptably rendered and the music under Prof. Careless, while not very good during the stage performance, was deservedly applauded in its orchestral pieces between the acts. "Peril" will do to play again.

Sports on the Square.

—In the 100 yards race at Washington Square yesterday afternoon there were four entries. "Oille" Bass won in about 11 seconds and took the goblet, H. Parry, second.
The final race for the gold and silver medals of the Bicycle Club was closely contested. Mr. Wood took the first having won it five times, and Walter Jennings got away with the silver one.
The handicap bicycle race for a silver goblet was won by Mr. Cartwright. There were four starters.
There was large attendance of spectators who were kept in good humor by the efficient endeavors of the Sixteenth Ward Band.
