HOW SOME NOME VOYAGERS FARED.

Montana Man Writes Describing His Unpleasant Experiences.

THE BOAT WAS OVERLOADED.

Ground Will Soon Be Broken for the Million Dollar Smelter—Buckeye Lease—Mining Notes.

The letter of a Butte man, published in the Miner of that city, tells of his trip to Cape Nome, and describes some of the hardships of the voyage.

The writer of the letter was one of the Montana soldiers who went to the Philippines. He says in part: "I will describe the trip in part by telling you that it is 50 per cent worse than a transport. Our sleeping quarters were on the same deck as we had on the transports to and from Manila, though fore and aft amid ship on the same deck were 100 head of horses and cattle. Some of these died, as it was too hard a game for them. The only way one could get anything to eat was to buy it. Some of the passengers engaged bunks from members of the crew, paying from $2 to $5 for the same. Fortunately we had fine weather, except that it was cold. I think many of the passengers would have been dead by now if we had had any rough weather. The food furnished the passengers was the same as on a transport, only four times as dirty."

The writer of the above letter left on one of the first boats leaving Seattle this last May. Most of the first vessels going to Nome made a specialty of freight and then appear to have loaded on as many passengers as they could carry. It is the old story, however, and it does not seem to make any difference where a new supposed Eldorado exists, those who join in the stampede are bound to suffer some hardships and inconveniences. It was the same with those who first went to Klondike. It is probable that the mails will soon bring other accounts similar to the above from passengers who have left Montana to hunt gold on the beach of Nome.

THE NEW SMELTER.

It is expected that work will commence at once.

It is expected that ground will be broken in a few days for the new $1,000,000 smelter near Murray. The defects in the title to the site have, it is said, all been straightened out.

WHEAT ON THE RISE AGAIN

Advance in the Cereal Causes a Sagging of Wall Street Business.

Some Improvement in Leading Stocks, but the General Tendency is Down—Live Stock Fairly Steady.

New York, June 29.—American stocks were supported in London this morning and yesterday's advance continued here at the opening. Some of the leading stocks rose above the opening level, particularly sugar, which touched 11 1/4.

Otherwise the tendency was downward on realizing, with tobacco, the grangers, and the tractions, most prominent. In some of the obscure stocks there were sharp gains, Pullman rising four points. The market was quite active until the level of prices fell back to near last night, when it became dull. An advance in wheat quotations was reflected in a gradual sagging of stock prices, during which the earlier gains in the railroads were wiped out. There was a marked contraction in business as the decline proceeded, which brought some support to the market by midday.

The bond market displayed an upward tendency on a good demand.
