NO LAW FOR IT.

THE preparations are complete for the application by S. A. Kenner, Esu., counsel for Belle Harris, for writ of hadeas corpus as soon as the Supreme Court sits, which should be on Monday, June 4th. A time will, no doubt, be set for the hearing. of the case, which, apart from the point involved in the alleged contempt of court for which the defendant is now in the penitentiary, contains elements that we believe will prove fatal to the judgment, and will cause her release from customers. It is impossible to make treason out of a creed or of the court for the course along the route of procession. But the order of Court does not require her to be put in a prison at all, and condering the nature of the case, her confinement in the penitentiary and the exposure to which she is now subjected is simply an outrage that we do not believe the Supreme Court will in any way countenance.

The complaint of the Grand Jury to the Court on which the action of the committing Judge was based, sets forth that there was reason to believe that Belle Harris was "the second wife" of a person not named. Is there any offence known to the law as being "a second wife?" We know of none, and we think the prying attorney who made out the charge will find it difficult to prove that the law has anything of the Albany mines are worked by machinery. that the law has anything to say taking a second wife may be altogether separate and different.

The Constitution defines treason strictly and the law caunot go outside of that definition. It is a "levying of war against the United States or adhering to its enemies." Polygamy, which is the obnexious and trouble-some plank in the Mormon platform, is not within the scope of this definition of treason; therefore any law making it thesen would be null and void. In every other part of the country polygamy is a felony, but in Utah, and even there it is relonious under United States law and one of the opening of the big ous under United States law and works political disability. There are other points in this case that, when considered by a court of competent jurisdiction, we think will be sufficient to defeat the small acheme, poorly concocted, which has so far resulted in an outrage upon a defenceless woman, to "preserve the dignity of the Court" which has let loose upon the community persons charged with some of the worst offences known to the law, but would not take bail for a woman with a nursing babe, who had committed no crime whatever.
