The youngest club in the Massachusetts federation is the Camaraderie of Cambridge, organized four months ago. The avowed object of the club is "the mutual improvement of its members by the promotion of good fellowship and the highest form of social life," and the by-laws embody several rather original ideas. Membership is limited to 100 young women between the ages of 18 and 35. Last the fact that the age limit has expired should escape the memory of any member, another by-law provides that "the club may by a vote of a majority of its members remove any name from the roll of membership, when in its judgment the best interests of the club demand it." Alternating with afternoon meetings, there will be held regular evenings at which "members will not be admitted unless accompanied by a man."

A Cleveland Mothers' club adds to its announcement of a meeting the pleasing statement that the children who come with their mothers will be cared for and entertained during the program.

FEMININE FLOTSAM.

Princess Marie Bonaparte, great-granddaughter of Napoleon Bonaparte, is one of the richest heiresses in Europe, certainly the richest imperial heiress. She is just about to come of age, having been born July 2, 1882, and it is said that a grand match is designed for her.

Princess Marie's mother was the only daughter of M. Bianchi, the founder of the famous Casino at Monte Carlo, from whom she inherits a fourth share in the vast income derived from the gaming tables. The other shares are divided between M. Bianchi's two sons and his daughter, the Princess Ratazzi.

The average net profits of the Casino are about $5,000,000 a year.

Princess Marie's mother died at her birth, and her father, Prince Roland Bonaparte, who is descended from Prince Lucien, the emperor's youngest brother, has never married again. He is a great savant and his daughter shares her father's taste, presiding with great charm over his salon, where all the savants of the world visiting Paris are made welcome.

She is an enthusiastic motorist and a particularly successful photographer. She was a gravity and strength unusual in a girl and, though she had many suitors, she has never given any indication of a desire to marry.

Her greatest delight is a combined motor and photographing tour. She has explored all the most picturesque bits of France, bringing back a remarkable series of pictures.

Her facial resemblance to Napoleon is striking, and she is exceedingly proud of it. In the salon at her father's mansion, at No. 10 Avenue d'Iena, in Paris, is a portrait of Napoleon I when about 24, and the Princess is the exact image of him at that period of his life.

$1.00 A YARD FOR HANDSOMEST SPRING DRESS GOODS

Up to $2.25 a Yard.

A SPLENDID EARLY SEASON OFFERING.

NO sale that has been, no sale to come, ever surpassed or will approach this. Unheard of, almost, is it, to take the freshest of new season goods and clip away half and more than half of their regular, rightful price—as with lot after lot of these. If, then, the spring gown is not tucked comfortably away in the wardrobe, better give due heed to such an offering. Very nearly every kind of color and fabric any one might want, Broadcloth, Panamas, Knickerbocker, novelty suitings, tweeds, granites, mohairs, twine cloths, cables, checks, mixture effects and fancies. All 46 to 54 inch dress goods. Sold until now at $1.25, $1.50, $1.75, $2 and $2.25 a yard. Monday and week one priced—$1 a yard. SAMPLES OF THESE WILL NOT BE CUT.

See Sunday Papers for News of Wonderful Silk Sale.

Cotton Fabrics Considerably Under Regular Prices.

IN THIS FIRST OFFERING we have exactly twice the amount of goods ordered. A misunderstanding, unexplainable all around and so away they are to go at half price:

St. Andrew zephyrs and Scotch madras in every color and pattern known to this kind of fabrics, new, here only long enough to determine upon their despatch, 36c a yard quality, commencing Monday—17½c a yard.

Excellent oxfords—handsome Oriental stripes, blue, tan, black, green and fancy striped, as well, white grounds, regular 60c a yard, reduced to 45c.

Choice suitings, several pieces of the season's favorite styles, sold at $1.25 a yard, reduced to 88c.

English nainsook, excellent quality, soft and fine, right for all kinds of white sewing, 12 yard bolts sold always at $1.50 and $1.65, Monday and week—$1.25.

50c to $1.25 Leather Belts—19c

CLEANING OUT of leather belts and just about every imaginable kind is to be found in the lot. Black and all colors, different kinds of leather, different style buckles and fastenings. Formerly 50c to $1.25 each belt, Monday until gone, choice—19c.

Two Money Saving Offers of Lace Curtains

SUCH a plentiful stock and broad variety of ruffled curtains as this, is not to be found within a radius of many miles hereabouts. A saving and choice, then, like unto this offered for Monday and Tuesday should be duly pondered:

Choose from all ruffled swiss curtains here, figured and dots, up to $1.50 a pair for 90c.

Choose from all the ruffled bobbinet curtains here—dainty, artist of kinds—up to $2.50 a pair for $1.75.

Tally Cards, Mirrors, Toilet Water.

PINAUD'S ARCADIAN LAVENDER WATER, very choice, in 5 ounce sprinker bottles sold at 75c each, but a little lot for a three day's sale today, Tuesday Wednesday—38c.

Hand mirrors with best of French plate glass, in burnt and polished wood backs, some celluloid, two different sizes, all regularly priced 25c up to $2 each, Monday and while they last, maybe three days—HALF PRICE.

Odd lines of tally cards—suitable for most any kind of party favors—different colors, shapes, sizes, designs, divided into two groups for clearance. Those that were 25c a dozen now—14c; the 35c up to 50c for 18c a dozen.

Men's Balbriggan Union Suits at Half Price.

SPRING GARMENTS—last price, to be sure, but that doesn't in the least detract from their goodness. Fresh looking as some of the newer sorts in stock. Natural color ribbed balbriggan, gray, pink and blue effects; surplus necks; all sizes, $2, $3, $4, $5 union suits. Monday and week if they last so long—HALF THESE PRICES.

$1.75 a Yard Grade Axminster Carpet—$1.50.

IN PATTERN DESIGN, in color, in quality, the equal of the best $1.75 a yard Axminster this store has ever sold. Strong words will think, when our business career numbers close to the half century mark. Naught to fear, though, is there in a thing facts. Come, examine. Six different patterns, beautiful colorings, borders to match. Laid on your floor—$1.50 a yard.
