

THE SEMI-WEEKLY NEWS

Issued Mondays and Thursdays and Contains All the Cream of the Daily and Saturday News.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Navajo Legion—The next monthly meeting of the association will be held Friday, Oct. 16, at 8 o'clock in the Bishop's office, Tithing yard.

Artisans Join Brotherhood—The Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners initiated 17 new members at last night's meeting, thus increasing the membership to 435.

Music at Services—At this morning's chapel exercises in the L. D. S. university, Howard Ensign favored the students with a baritone solo, and William Flashman played a flute selection.

Grapes from Dixie—The Southern Utah experimental farm is producing some splendid fruit this year. A sample case sent with the compliments of the Utah Agricultural college to the Deseret News proved to consist of boxes of grapes of a quality seldom surpassed in California.

Drop Boys' Election—The principals of the public schools are unable to cooperate with the Y. M. C. A. in the proposed boys' election, because the education does not approve of it. This turn of affairs makes it impossible for the Y. M. C. A. management to push the scheme further; so it will be dropped.

Many Inquiries Received—Secretary J. L. Perkins of the Salt Lake Real Estate Association is busy replying to many inquiries received from all over the country, as to conditions in this section of the country, but particularly as to Salt Lake as a place for residence. Mr. Perkins is sending out much literature in reply.

Boy at Eades Home—Mr. and Mrs. Jacob A. Eades of Murray, are receiving the congratulations of friends upon the arrival into their home of a baby boy, who made his appearance on the 11th inst. The first child of the family died nearly 10 years ago, making the advent of this last one welcome indeed.

Lecture on Des Moines Plan—Hon. Frank B. Sargent will lecture this evening, before the college club, on the Des Moines plan of municipal government. The Civic League is sponsoring the lecture, and it can be instructive to the public on the advantages of this form of local government.

Veterans Elect Officers—Sixteen new members were admitted at last night's meeting of the Indian war veterans in the Lambert Post, 422 Commercial office. The following officers were chosen for the coming year: J. B. Bean, captain; John C. Mackey, lieutenant; Will W. Calder, quartermaster; Lester M. Law, adjutant. The next meeting of the association will be held Oct. 22.

New Schedules in Effect—The new schedules for the street railway service went into effect this morning as foreshadowed in the "News"; and the night storage cars have been put into operation. The new schedules will be hereafter directed. Sixteen tracks have already been laid, the pits put in and cemented, and construction is being pushed on the barn structures of brick and steel.

Destitute Family—A case of destitution was discovered yesterday by the Salvation Army at 154 North Seventh West street, where a family named Sorenson was without food, the mother in bed with a child a few days old, two other children were in bed because they had no clothes to wear, and the father was out of work. The mother supplied clothes and clothing, and asked the charity inclined to extend a helping hand.

DON'T.
Don't think because you have taken many remedies in vain that your case is incurable.
You have not taken Hood's Sarsaparilla.
It has cured many seemingly hopeless cases of scrofula, catarrh, rheumatism, kidney complaint, dyspepsia and general debility—many cases that may have been worse than yours.
What this great medicine has done for others it can do for you.

Farmers, now is the time to prepare your land for dry farming. Read the pamphlet, "How to Make Dry Farming Pay," by George L. Farrell, the veteran Cash Crop Valuer, at the Deseret News Book Store.

BRIDE AND GROOM IN POLICE COURT

Glass of Wine and "Another Man"

Fail to Destroy Happiness of the Pair.

JUDGE DISCHARGES HUSBAND.

Comedy and Tragedy Figure in Melodramatic Performance Before His Honor—It All Ends Sincerely.

Admitting that she had taken "one glass of wine," which "went to her head," and also that her husband did not hit her very hard, there was a partial compromise, apparently voluntary on the part of the wife, when the case against Frank Remick was called before Judge D. I. Diehl yesterday afternoon. "Another man" also figured in the affair and at the conclusion of the case, his honor said that the husband was justified in part at least for striking his spouse, for which he was arrested early Tuesday morning following the assault, which took place in front of the Salt Lake theater. Judge Diehl ordinarily deals with an iron hand in cases where a man strikes a woman, but in summing up the features of this case, he said:

"I have never had any sympathy with a man who would strike a woman, and I realize that the defendant had no legal right to strike his wife, but a man finds his wife out at 1 o'clock in the morning or even later with another man and she has been drinking and refuses to accompany her husband home when asked to do so, I am not sure but that in a moral sense his action was justified."

BRIDE OF NINETEEN.
Mrs. Remick, aged about 19, and who was only married on Sept. 22, with the flame of burning shame on her cheeks, had to sit under the scrutiny of the crowded courtroom, while both the prosecuting attorney and the judge, in their denunciation of her conduct, expressed their belief that although not legally, yet morally, her husband had been fully justified in striking her.

Edna Remick, the wife, testified yesterday that she had met her husband at the Salt Lake theater, where he had been drinking, and on the way home met another acquaintance, one Myers. Then they had a drink of wine, which, according to her admission, "went to her head." Suddenly, while she was on her way home, under escort of this Myers, her husband, George Thompson, a street railway employee, interfered, asking Remick's reason for his violence. He was told by the angry husband that the woman was his wife and that he had a right to beat her up. Thompson's ideas of matrimonial ethics were at variance with Remick's and he asked Charles Hattman, another acquaintance, to get any change it happened that at 1 o'clock a. m. Tuesday, Remick found himself in the hands of the law, charged with assault.

When the case was concluded, Mr. and Mrs. Remick left the court room together, arm linked in arm and apparently very happy and contented. Public Prosecutor Edgar Rogers, in stating his views of the case to his honor, was inclined to the side of the husband, saying that he was not sure that under the same circumstances he would not administer the same punishment to an erring wife.

All sides being so harmonious in their views, the affair seems to have ended quite happily for all concerned.

TALKS TO STORE CLERKS.
Local Organization Hears Address by Field Secretary.

Miss Emma L'Anphere, field secretary of the Retail Clerks' association lectured to the local union last night, in federation hall. Her purpose is to establish organizations of retail saleswomen throughout the country, as parts of the national organization formed at Detroit 16 years ago. This has no organized branches all over the country, greatly bettering conditions of the retail clerks who have ever established. The lecturer stated that a specific object was to obtain better pay, for cheap help injures the business of employers. She asserted that no law compelling storekeepers to provide seats for their clerks, that many women clerks commanded only $3 and $4 per week, and the department stores are responsible for the moral ruin among the women help than any other cause, she declared. There were other addresses, with remarks given by the president, Austin Davis, one of the impromptu speakers, gave the few men clerks a scolding because there were not more men there. This was the business men's turn. Miss L'Anphere will speak again next Monday evening.

A BANK ACCOUNT AS A PERSONAL SAFEGUARD.
Do you realize that a bank account is your safeguard to health and happiness?

If you have a bank account, however small, and add to it consistently, you will have the strongest assurance against misfortune.

In time of sickness that money will enable you to pay your care and attention that bring restoration to health.

Should you become unemployed that money gives you something tangible back of you. You are ready for the emergency and will not be forced to take unsatisfactory employment or an unsatisfactory remuneration.

If you have a bank account business opportunities will be sure to come your way, and unprepared, at a loss to know where to go for ready money.

Only those who have a bank account can appreciate the full value of one. You are making a mistake if you are not saving money. Why not begin today? One dollar is enough to start.

On savings deposits we pay 4 per cent interest, compounded semi-annually.
