

AMERICANS ARE RUSHING FOR HOME

Number of Passengers Coming Over the Sea is Estimated At Forty-Eight Thousand.

SAID THEY SPENT $7,500,000.

London Shopmen Loud in Praise of Their Lavishness of Expenditure. —They Saved a Dull Season.

London, Sept. 9.—The rush of Americans for their homes has been unprecedentedly heavy and many experienced holiday makers who have postponed booking for their berths until the last minute are now regretting their tardiness. More boats of course are in the service this year than ever before; but the number of passengers who require accommodations is fully $,000 in excess of last year. The situation for the next six weeks may be summed up this way: Boats to sail, 60; number of passengers, 48,000; pieces of luggage, 240,000.

A peripatetic porter at Euston station declared Thursday that he had broken all records by carrying in 20 minutes 42 pieces of luggage for passengers by the special boat train for the steamship Baltic at Liverpool. He was not grumbling, however, for he had been tipped handsomely.

London hotel and shop keepers have probably never had a greater occasion to rejoice over the American invasion than this year.

Attempts have been made from time to time to estimate the amount of money transatlantic visitors leave behind them in London. The Daily Express, which now has tried its hand at the problem, calculates that something like 60,000 Americans have come over this year and have spent £1,500,000 ($7,500,000), chiefly in the metropolis.

This calculation is probably well inside the mark. It is based on figures supplied by one of the largest hotels, which alone has housed 6,600 Americans since March, and the average hotel bill of each has been 180 ($250). There are at least 100 hotels which can give similar figures, and if the average American spent $25 in London, the total stated is soon reached. Some, of course, spend less on shopping and live in boarding houses for 42 shillings a week, but others spend hundreds or even thousands of pounds on jewelry and dress. Go where you will in London at this period you will hear nothing but grateful recognition of American custom.

"Americans come to London for the specific purpose of buying," said a West End tailor. "Many of the men come here with half empty trunks and buy a complete outfit of socks, ties, collars, shirts, suits, shoes and hats. I have been kept busy with orders for lounge suits and frock coats at a time when business is at a standstill, so far as my regular customers are concerned."

"They will have flowers," said a florist, "and I might shut up my shop, for all my best London customers are out of town, but the American visitors keep things going. These roses that you see here," pointing to a magnificent bunch of pink roses, "are sold to wealthy American customers. Roses are their favorite flower."

American visitors have also staved off disaster from the river this year, but hotels and boarding houses get by far the largest share of the money which American travelers circulate in London. Next come the antique dealers, for the Americans are particularly keen on old china and Sheffield plate; then follow tailors, haberdashers, hatters, jewellers and miscellaneous tradesmen.

A RUSSIAN TRAGEDY.

Count Kamarovsky Shot by Nicholas Naumoff, Dies of Wounds.

Venice, Sept. 8.—Count Kamarovsky, a colonel of the national guard and councillor of state, who was shot at his residence here on Sept. 5 by Nicholas Naumoff, son of an ex-governor of Perm, died today.

Kamarovsky, who is a Russian, was dressing when Naumoff called to see him, and was permitted to go to the count's room. Immediately they came face to face the assassin fired and then fled. Although unable to speak, the count scribbled the assassin's name on a pad of paper. Naumoff, who is also a Russian and formerly lived at Perm, was arrested several days later at Verona, and confessed that he had shot Kamarovsky. He explained that for the purpose of settling delicate personal questions between himself and the count.

Madame Tsarina, with whom the count was acquainted and in whose favor he had insured his life for $100,000, was also arrested. Lawyer Prinkoff has admitted that the murder of Kamarovsky was arranged by Madame Tsarina. Naumoff being a mere tool. The women hoped to obtain the insurance on the count's life.

TAFT'S REPLY NOT POSTPONED

Discusses Bryan's Tariff Views And Declares That He Is Still for Revision.

BUT SAYS HE IS A PARTY MAN.

Realizes Danger to Country in Trying To Revise Tariff During a Presidential Campaign.

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 7.—Secy. Taft today lifted the gage of controversy hurled at him by William Jennings Bryan. He spoke at Olympia and Tacoma to two big audiences, under the auspices of the chamber of commerce of Tacoma. Mr. Taft traveled from Portland to Tacoma today and was the guest of the same organization at a banquet tonight. During his stay in this city he and his family were the guests of Mr. S. A. Perkins, proprietor of the Ledger and News.

Ten thousand persons cheered him this afternoon, in this city at Wright's park, where he spoke in the open air. He said in part:

"Mr. Bryan, in discussing some of my views on the tariff and other matters, has done me the honor to call me 'the great postponer.' With respect to the tariff, I was in favor of revision last year, and I am still in favor of revision, but I am a party man, and I hope a practical man, and I realize the lack of wisdom and the danger, both to the party and the country, in attempting a revision of the tariff in the midst of a presidential campaign. I am convinced that the Republican party, as a party, will come to a revision of the tariff immediately after the next presidential election, and I am in favor of practical results, not of theories and platforms, but of doing the things which should be done. If it cannot be done this year, I am in favor of doing it next year."

"For two presidential campaigns Mr. Bryan urged with all the eloquence and force possible the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1, but now he is postponing the issue until he can bring it forward again as a panacea in times of financial disaster, for which it is fitted, not as a real remedy, but as a means of getting into power."

"Secondly, he is now emphasizing the subject of anti-imperialism and the oppression of the Philippines, but he postponed the issue of anti-imperialism until by his effort, the treaty of Paris was adopted and the sovereignty of the Philippines was transferred from Spain to the United States. This is really the only place of actual affirmative constructive statesmanship with which Mr. Bryan's name has been connected, and he has now for eight years been engaged in attempting to explain that away. He postponed his anti-imperialism issue until he had fastened the Philippines on the United States by bonds that will not be dissolved until we have discharged our full duty in those islands."

"Mr. Bryan went round the world. It was fondly hoped by the Democratic party that by reason of this experience, he had become 'safe and sane,' and would unite again the different elements of the party. Instead of that, he demonstrated that the trip had not produced the hoped for result, and he delivered in Madison Square garden his famous speech of government ownership. The effect was to destroy the rosy anticipations of his triumphal candidacy. In many Democratic quarters the government ownership reform was repudiated, and so what did Mr. Bryan do? He postponed that issue indefinitely. In the face of this record, I submit that his courage in calling another 'postponer' should command the greatest admiration."

FAMOUS CLIFF HOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE.

San Francisco, Sept. 7.—The famous Cliff House of this city, San Francisco's first attraction for tourists, was razed to the ground this evening. Fire broke out in the building about 4:45 o'clock, and an hour later a blackened heap of ruins was all that remained of the historic structure. The house was built of wood and, famed by the lively ocean breezes, the flames made such headway before the nearest fire company arrived, that it was realized that the place was doomed, and more attention was paid to saving adjoining property than to the burning building. The Cliff House had been closed for some time, as the new lessee, John Taft, was remodeling the interior. Workmen were about the place until noon and then departed for the day. How the fire started is a mystery.

This was the second Cliff House to be destroyed by fire. The building which was burned today was erected about 30 years ago by Adolph Sutro of Sutro tunnel fame. It was owned by the Sutro estate and was valued at $50,000. Taft estimates his loss at $50,000, on which there is $35,000 insurance. The Cliff House was ranked as one of the best known resorts of America. Located on a rocky promontory beyond the Golden Gate, directly above the lashing waves of the Pacific ocean, and affording a close view of the seals diving in the rocks near shore, it was a strong attraction for visitors, and from its broad porches hundreds of thousands of people obtained their first view of the mighty waters. The magnificent Sutro baths nearby were not damaged.

NEWFOUNDLAND FISHERIES.

Modus Vivendi to Regulate Fishing By Americans Made Public.

Washington, Sept. 8.—The modus vivendi to regulate fishing by Americans in the treaty waters of Newfoundland, which was concluded in London yesterday by an exchange of notes between Ambassador Reid and the British secretary of state for foreign affairs, was made public today by Acting Secy. of State Ade. Mr. Reid's note recited the agreed terms of the modus vivendi and is dated Sept. 4. Great Britain's reply, while dated Sept. 6, was not delivered to Ambassador Reid until Saturday night. The modus is in the terms a substantial renewal of last year's arrangements. It is to continue for the season and until the long-standing controversy regarding the fishing question shall be settled by arbitration. In the meantime any of its provisions should be modified by some amicable agreement between the Newfoundland authorities and the American fishermen, not derogatory to the rights of the United States and acceptable to the British and American governments.

GEN. S. M. MILLS DEAD.

New York, Sept. 8.—Brig.-Gen. Samuel M. Mills, U. S. A., retired, died this afternoon at Galilee, New Jersey, soon after being stricken with apoplexy.

22 HORSES CREMATED.

Spokane, Wash., Sept. 8.—Fire tonight destroyed the barn of the City Day Scavenger company in this city, and 22 head of horses were cremated. Only four head of horses owned by the company escaped, and they were out at night. Thirty tons of hay were also burned, and loss is estimated at $10,000, with $5,000 insurance.

PETTIBONE'S TRIAL.

Will be Postponed Until Senator Borah's Trial is Over.

Boise, Ida., Sept. 7.—The state filed a motion in the district court today for continuance of the case of George A. Pettibone, which was previously set for Oct. 1. The defense opposed the motion but Judge Wood, although making no formal ruling, said it would be necessary to continue the case until the trial of Senator Borah is concluded. Judge Wood announced that he would make his ruling next Tuesday. Atty. General of the prosecution, who is defending Borah, said the government claimed it would require four weeks to try the Borah case, but the defense is of the opinion it will not take more than two weeks.

ON WAY TO WEDDING KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

Hot Springs, Ark., Sept. 8.—During a heavy thunderstorm today Edward Barnes was killed by lightning while riding in a wagon. A boy riding with him was found unconscious. The team of horses lay dead in the road. Wedding guests had assembled in anticipation of the marriage of Barnes and when he failed to appear at the appointed time search was instituted and his body found.

G. A. R. VETERANS TOO FEEBLE TO ATTEND CAMPS.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 8.—Amid gaily decorated streets veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic have been arriving all day for the forty-first national encampment, which will be held here this week. Fifty thousand veterans are expected. This may be the last encampment held elsewhere than Washington, D. C. At the business session of the organization a resolution probably will be introduced asking that place as the permanent meeting place of the organization hereafter. It is also probable that within a few years the annual encampment will become only a meeting of delegates, for the veterans, it was stated by Grand Army officials tonight, are becoming too feeble to attend the meetings in a body and to take part in the annual parade.

The encampment program begins Tuesday.

DRESSMAKERS SMUGGLERS.

They Have Thirty Trunks Seized By Customs Officials.

New York, Sept. 8.—Foreign gowns, lace and lingerie, the value of which is said to be $30,000, were seized by customs inspectors today on the arrival of the French liner La Savie. Most of the goods which were contained in 30 trunks were the property of a number of dressmakers returning from Europe. Practically all of the trunks seized bore inspection labels which the customs officials declare were either forged or stolen.

Women Avoid Operations

When a woman suffering from female trouble is told that an operation is necessary, it, of course, frightens her.

The very thought of the hospital, the operating table and the knife strikes terror to her heart. It is quite true that these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but a great many women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after an operation has been decided upon as the only cure. The strongest and most grateful statements possible to make come from women who by taking made from native roots and herbs, have escaped serious operations, as evidenced by Miss Rose Moore's case, of 307 W. 26th St., N. Y. She writes: "Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured me of the very worst form of female trouble and I wish to express to you my deepest gratitude. I suffered intensely for two years so that I was unable to attend to my duties and was a burden to my family. I doctored and doctored with only temporary relief and constantly objecting to an operation which I was advised to undergo, I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; it cured me of the terrible trouble and I am now in better health than I have been for many years."

This and other such cases should encourage every woman to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before she submits to an operation. Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women
