In 1901, 1902 and 1903 there were no large hunters operating through county cierks. Those years probably represent-ed the honest average of legitimate kills. With the bounty fixed at $1.50 per head for coyotes, instead of $1, the head for coyotes, instead of $1, the amount paid out in 1903 was $9,999.50, n 1902, $9,324, and 901, the year the law was enacted. $3,419. To buy furs right when you can get them for half price right from the manufacturer. Mchesy the Furrier, FOR MORE LIBERAL LAW. Men like Senator Clegg, who hails from Tooele, would like a more liberal-law, so that the sheepman can get some pay for a winter trip into the mountains after wild animals. Knutsford.

while he trims off the claws and cuts off the bead from the pelt. Then he must make out the bounty claim, and forward at once to the state auditor a memorandum of the application. The state auditor must then check this memorandum with the bounty claim when it comes in, before he issues the warrant

HUNTERS OF THIS SEASON.

HUNTERS OF THIS SEASON. The records of the past year show who are entitled to qualify as the greatest hunters in the state. First honors go to Wilford Nelson of Was-atch county, who at one time sent in 45 coyste pelts. Most of the kills are below ten pelts in number, and wolves have entirely disappeared, while the only mountain lions killed were by a party of Indians in San Juan county. They were three in number and were killed at the same frue. One or two killed at the same firse. One or two lynx were killed, a few wild cats, and a large number of coyotes.

COUNTY HONORS.

The principal hunters in each county make an interesting list, and show the revised size of kill: Beaver, Edward Twichell, 7 coyotes: Boxelder, Oscar Lind, 25 coyotes. Mr. Lind is a sheep man who lives in Junction valley. Cache county fails down all in a heap from the 20 wolves 17 mountain lions

If Clerk Wight had not been compelled to read the name of the complainant as it appears several times in the complaint. all would have been well but when he came to that part which reads, in sub-stance, "that the said defendant did steal, take and carry away the said sum from Iso Dragaslback-" (this is only part of the name as the machine balked at the balance). Mr. Wight gulped at a lump in his thread, swallswed the same and at-tempted to continue, but failed miserably. The defendant was represented by At-torney William Newton, who entered a plea of not guilty, and had the case set for hearing Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

New Creamery Company—The Loa Creamery & Produce company of Loa, Wayne county, has filed a copy of its articles of incorporation with the secretary of state. Its capital stock is $2,000, divided into shares of the par value of $10 cach. Moroni Lazenby is prosident; Walter Lazenby, vice presiden; S. A. Lazenby, secre-tary and treasurer; E. L. Morrison, manager, The company will conduct mountains after wild animals. When asked for his opinion of how it worked, State Auditor Edwards said that the law operated to spiendid advantage in that it was a hard law to beat, but was a good deal of a nuis-ance on account of the excessive amount of red tape required to get a bounty. In the first place the county clerk has to call in another official while he trims off the claws and cuts off the bead from the peit. Then he manager. The company will conduct a creamery at Loa.

Young Family Reunion-The Young Young Family Reunion—The Young family reunion in the Lion House this evening, promises to be very successful. Arrangements have been made for excellent music, and the young Young people will be able to have all of that pleasure they can desire. The older ones who may not care to dance will be entertained in the parlor and relic-room, recount-ing the "old times" and the "long ago." All descendants of Father John Young are cordially invited.

Selection of Orators-The selection Selection of Orators—The selection of six orators from a list of 12 names handed in, to compete in the annual high school contest to be held Feb. 21, will be made by the committee having the matter in hand this after-noon. The contest is under the sup-ervision of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Twelve seniors filed application to participate to the filed application to participate in the affair a week ago, but it was decided that six orators will be sufficient to occupy the time allotted for the oc-casion-one afternoon, Cache county falls down all in a heap from the 20 wolves, 17 mountain llons and 100 coyotes that represented a day's kill for John Casey two years ago, to a simple kill of four coyotes, charged to the credit of Walter Ho-gan. Byron Spry of Carbon killed 7 coyotes and 2 wild cats; Henry Jaques of Davis laid low 2 coyotes; Elegen Kofford and J. W. Smith of Emery shared high honors with 3 coyotes each; Lolen Kesler of Garfield broke all competing records with 5 coyotes and 2 wild cats. Out in Grand county Offle Scharf made a slaughter of 5 co-yotes, H. S. Hyait of Iron laid low 11 coyotes, Neils Mayer made a reputa-tion in Juab after killing 15 coyotes. His reputation, however, is that of be-ing one of the biggest sheep men in the section. FROM COYOTE TOWN. Broke Four Ribs-While assisting to remove the wreckage of the build-ings being torn down at Main and Third South streets yeaterday after-noon, Lewis Herrick received injuries including the breaking of four of his ribs. Herrick was climbing up a ladder which he had made by nailing strips on a partition. When about strips on a partition. When about 12 feet from the ground the strip on which he was standing broke and he was precipitated to the debris below. A physician was promptly called who cared for the injured man.
