

New York, Nov. 4 .- The revelation by a son to his mother of a secret mar. riage and parental refusal to be rec onciled to it, is believed to have been the impelling cause of a double tragedy in a large uptown apartment house here today. The victims were Mrs| Re pecca Veit, a wealthy widow, and her only son, J. Nelson Veit, a Wall street broker, the circumstances of the affair indicating that the mother was shot by the son and that the latter then took his own life by inhaling illuminating The bodies of both were discovered today. Mrs. Veit lay dead in her hed from bullet wounds in her head and body, and her son was found or the floor of the bathroom in his mother's apartment, lifeless from asphyxiation. An aunt of the suicide, Miss Anna Veit, discovered the bodies when she sought to awaken Mrs. Veit, in whose apartment she had spent the night. J. Neison Veit, who was but 27 years old, went to his mother's apartments last night and dined with her and Miss Anna Veit. Miss Veit said today that Veit used the telephone to talk to some one in the city during the evening and finally left to watch the election returns. The two women talked together for some time afterward and then retired, each in separate rooms. Veit evidently returned to the apartment some time during the night, but no one has been found who saw him enter. Miss Veit slept undisturbed, and the fact of the murder and suicide was not learned until several hours after the double tragedy had occurred. The police made the discovery today that Veit, who was supposed to be single, was married secretely in October of last year. His mother, who spent several months each year in Europe, had only recently re-turned from France, and the coroner's theory is that her discovery of her son's marriage precipitated a quarrel between them culminations is the several between them, culminating in the trag-

Late today the police found Mrs. J. Nelson Velt, widow of the dead man, in another uptown apartment house, where she had been living with Velt for a month past, having been away from New York much of the time since her marriage with Veit in October, 1907. Mrs. Veit said that she had not met her husband's mother and did not know whether or not the mother was aver fold of the marriage. Her husband, she said, left early last night and tele-phoned to her about 10:30 o'clock that he would be home in half an hour. She did not hear from him again, she said. The dead woman was the widow of the late Felix Veit, a wealthy broker and senior member of the firm of Veit, Lyon & Co.; well known a few years go in Wall street fter the father's death J. Nelson it succeeded to the management of the firm, but the firm was broken up later and J. Nelson Velt went into the brokerage business for himself. Mrs. it, the mother, had a fortune of he veit, the mother, had a fortune of her own and maintained a luxurious apart-ment in this city, and usually spent the summer in France, where she had a thateau. Mrs. Veit said the mother and son had always been very much devoted to each other.

REICHSTAG ASSEMBLES.

REICHSTAG ASSEMBLES. Borlin, Nov. 4.-The reichstag re-ussembled this afternoon. Long before he designated hour the members gath-bred in the lobbles and the committee youns and discussed the position of Jhancellor von Buelow. Neither the chancellor nor any min-ster appeared at today's session, and he exceptionally full house faced a 'ow of empty ministerial seats. Four interpellations were moved, ask-ng the chancellor to explain the impe-ial interview. Two were by Social-ists, one by a Radical and another by a Conservative. The house carried by a large majority a resolution to post-one discussion of these interpellations to another sitting. The impression to-lay is that Prince von Buelow will a e supported by a majority in the touse.
