

and go and call forth the rest. That will be here in a little while. When a man comes upon the borders of three-score years and ten he begins to prepare and look to where he shall be buried; though he may live a little longer the sands of life will soon be run out. There are now many in this congregation who will soon see the allotted number of years for man to live. I shall see it in less than five years more. Whether I shall live over that time is no matter to me, if I can do the work designed of the Lord for me to do.

I will here notice what Bro. Joseph F. Smith was talking of this morning. It was said to Joseph Smith, the prophet, "according to your faith and the teachings of your Elders, nobody will be saved but you, Mormons; now, Mr. Smith, will all be damned but the Mormons?" Joseph Smith replied, "yes, and the most of them, unless they repent and do better." To be damned is to be banished from, or be deprived of living in the presence of the Father and the Son. Who will live with him? Those whom I have already mentioned. They will come up and inherit the highest glory that is prepared for the faithful—those who live as father Abraham did, and improve upon every means of grace, and upon every privilege given to them of the Lord. What is going to become of the others? Bro. Joseph F. Smith told us the truth this morning. None will become angels to the devil except those who have sinned against the Holy Ghost. There exists many intermediate states between the highest glory, where God the Father dwells, and the lowest kingdom among those kingdoms which are not kingdoms of glory. "In my Father's house are many mansions," said Jesus. The mansions in His Father's house are many, and they are ready to receive the people of this world who have lived according to the best light they have; and they contain all who have lived upon the earth from the beginning to this time, and they are capacious enough to receive all who will live to the end of time. John Wesley, and other great ecclesiastical reformers, could not attain to the same glory, by their own acts, while in the flesh that they would have done had the fullness of the Holy Priesthood been upon the earth in their day and they had possessed all the glory and power and keys of it, and lived faithful to its requirements all their days. They cannot be crowned as Gods, even the Sons of God. Will they be saved? They will. In a kingdom? in a good kingdom? A kingdom full of glory, full of light and joy, more than ever entered into the heart of man to conceive. While they lived it never entered into their hearts to conceive of the glory they do or will enjoy. If they have committed wrongs, and repented of them, the blood of the Savior will cleanse them from all sin, except the sin against the Holy Ghost, which is a sin unto death. The Apostle John writes, "If any man see his brother sin a sin which is not unto death, he shall ask, and he shall give him life for them that sin not unto death. There is a sin unto death. I do not say that ye shall pray for it. All unrighteousness is sin; and there is a sin unto death."

I have endeavored to give you a few items relating to the celestial kingdom of God, and to the other kingdoms which the Lord has prepared for His children. The Lamanites or Indians are just as much the children of our Father and God as we are. So also are the Africans. But we are also the children of adoption through obedience to the gospel of His Son. Why are so many of the inhabitants of the earth cursed with a skin of blackness? It comes in consequence of their fathers rejecting the power of the Holy Priesthood, and the law of God. They will go down to death. And when all the rest of the children have received their blessings in the Holy Priesthood, then that curse will be removed from the seed of Cain, and they will then come up and possess the priesthood, and receive all the blessings which we now are entitled to. The volition of the creature is free; this is a law of their existence, and the Lord cannot violate His own law; were He to do that, He would cease to be God. He has placed life and death before His children, and it is for them to choose. If they choose life, they receive the blessings of life; if they chose death, they must abide the penalty. This is a law which has always existed from all eternity, and will continue to exist throughout all the eternities to come. Every intelligent being must have the power of choice, and God brings forth the results of the acts of His creatures to promote His kingdom and subserve His purposes in the salvation and exaltation of His children. If the Lord could have His own way, He would have all the human family to enter into His church and kingdom, receive the Holy Priesthood and come into the celestial kingdom of our Father and God, by the power of their own choice. May the Lord bless you. Amen.

The household effects left at the Arlington Mansion by Gen. Lee, or rather the fragments remaining of them, were yesterday delivered to the party authorized by Gen. Lee to receive them. This was done, the National Intelligencer says, under an order of the President. It appears nearly everything of any value had been stolen. Many valuable heirlooms, including some of the family portraits, were taken from the frames, packed in boxes and stored in the upper loft of the mansion since 1861. These boxes had been broken open and everything of real value taken away, and the letters and private papers of Gen. Lee scattered over the loft.

A very dangerous one hundred dollar counterfeit note, on the Central National Bank in this city, is in circulation. The only way the public can protect themselves will perhaps be, for the present, to refuse all one hundred dollar National Bank notes, except they are received from sources of well-known respectability. One of the peculiarities of the counterfeit is that the "t" in the word maintain, on the right hand of the bill, is defective, and looks like the letter "i." The counterfeiter can soon remedy this defect.

Files by the City of Paris today furnish further explanations of the advance in the price of breadstuffs in the English market, reported by cable.

The heavy rains and long-continued high winds have inflicted serious injury upon the crops in most of the agricultural districts both in England and Ireland. In the Moorland region the loss will be partially heavy, the crops remaining in the fields having sprouted and become discolored, so that they will, it is feared, only be fit for cattle feeding, while the standing crops have rotted at the bottom. Barley, oats, peas and potatoes have all experienced more or less damage.

From Scotland the reports are uniformly unfavorable, and the same observation applies with even greater force to Ireland.

The St. Petersburg Borson Zeitung says, all preparations on the mainland and the soundings in Behring Straits, for the completion of the line of telegraph between Russia and America, are nearly finished, and in the course of the present year the telegraph will be constructed over a distance of 3,500 miles beyond Reuel.

A correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette gives the following statement of the Papal difficulties: While preparing for flight, the Pope is also contemplating the possibility of his being detained a captive at Rome, and as a precaution, has drawn up a secret bull, delegating his full powers to a Cardinal, whom certain reasons prevent my naming at present. Directly the holy father is taken captive, or deprived of his apostolic liberty, the said Cardinal will repair to Vienna or London, and there publish the bull which is now in his possession. In this document Pius IX names him as his alter ego ad tempus vicar of the universal church, that is, Pope ad interim. All catholic bishops, all priests, and all the faithful are, during the captivity of the sovereign pontiff, to address themselves to this organ of the Pope reduced to silence, and who will be the interpreter of Peter in bonds.

The Post's money article says, the loan market is easy, the supply of capital is superabundant and, at present rates, favors borrowers; Commercial paper unchanged, the stock market irregular; Government securities steady, but dull; railroad shares buoyant and excited.

The Commercial's money article says, the upward speculation in stocks is still rampant. Governments rather more active; old five-twenties being more in demand. Gold is rather easier for the moment.

Certain parties in this city being engaged in putting in circulation spurious Mexican bonds, the Secretary of the Mexican Legation in Washington has issued a circular announcing that no bonds can ever be considered valid and binding on the Mexican Republic unless they can be approved by the Minister accredited to the government of the United States. This condition being in accordance with specific instructions received from the Mexican Government.

THE HUNGARIAN LEADER

DEAK.

Sir John Bowring thus describes the foremost man of the day in Hungary: "Universal opinion recognizes in Deak a man of rare intellect, deep and varied knowledge, of emphatic eloquence, indefatigable inquiry, and love of labor, and of most cordial and enduring affection. Tall and stout in person, broad-shouldered, with massy head, short hair, marked eyebrows, brown and bushy moustache; his impressing appearance is tempered with bright blue childish eyes, and a fascinating smile. Toth says: 'His sharp logic, his clear intellect, his fruitful experience, are mingled with singular moderation, unselfishness and discretion. Brilliant flashes of wit adorn his words of wisdom, and his utterances are so spontaneous, so natural, so unexpected, so ready, that his right to leadership is recognized almost as a matter of course. His influence is legitimacy of mental superiority. He is not a light to extinguish, but rather to welcome other lights. He never wounded the self-love of another, not even of a political opponent, and a hearty "hear! hear!" from the lips of his public adversaries is a frequent tribute to his honesty. His language is truthful, thoughtful, unadorned, but fluent and flowing, and so faultless in expression as to lose nothing of its warmth and power when submitted to the severest criticism. He is the orator of peace, of order, of conciliation; always listened to because never intruding. His courage is never wanting on occasions worthy of its exercise, but he wastes not on trifles. His policy has ever been to surrender nothing that is essential, but willing to make the concession serve, as it often does, to strengthen the essential.'"
