FIFTY-SIXTH YEAR.

BIGOTRY AT A DEAD MAN'S BIER

Dr. Paden's Sensational Denunciation of Well Known Mormon Hymn.

DECLARED IT WAS "ALL ROT."

That is Why "O My Father" and "Face to Face" Were Not Sung at Young Man's Funeral.

Dramatic and Extraordinary Scene at the Obsequies of Collin Sinclair, Killed by Train.

Ministerial bigotry clad in the mantle of anti-Mormon prejudice and personified in the gaunt and hungry form of Dr. Paden of the Presbyterian church, stood at the side of the bier of an unfortunate victim of a railroad accident in the funeral parlors of S. D. Evans on Wednesday of this week. This arrangement is a severe but a true one, and requires a statement of the facts in the case. And if, when it is made, the public will not have a righteous contempt for the peanut views and methods of such a religionist then the "News" mistakes the temper of its readers, both Mormon and non-Mormon.

ARRIVAL IN UTAH.

Some months ago Collin Sinclair, a young accountant, came to Utah from greenock, Scotland, where he was born and raised. He belonged to the Presbyterian church and is said to be of a good family. He brought with him a lot of introduction and endorsement from the pastor of his own church to Dr. Paden of the same faith. It was believed by his minister that it might be of some assistance to him in securing employment in the new world. The young man went to Dr. Paden's home, presented the letter and was received in due form. The doctor, it appears, promised to do what he could for him, but in the remarks made over his mortal remains made it clear that he had not been able to get anything substantial for him to do.

HIS NEW MADE FRIENDS.

Quite naturally Sinclair met and became acquainted with his own countrymen. Among them were a considerable number of Mormons. One of the latter, Mr. George G. Gray, residing at 104 Garfield street, offered him the comforts and comforts of his home and could secure work. Being an accountant, he preferred that line of employment, but failed to get it, and finally got some manual labor to do, working at the Elgin dairy, and doing such odd jobs as he was able to obtain.

CHANGED RESIDENCE.

But the Gray family was a large one, and the home life was crowded, and in proportion to its membership. He said, to remain longer would be an imposition and that he would have to change his residence, which he did with the best of feeling. He went to Salt Lake, met Frank and James Fowler, he next got work through them and went this time to stay at the home of one of them at 234 North First West street, and continued to remain there until the night he met his tragic fate, which was on July 10. On the afternoon of that date a friend, named Richardson, engaged at the salt works, having secured a better position for him, came to town and told him to go to Salt Lake. They had left the resort and had proceeded toward the shore, having passed the platform and being out a considerable distance on the trestle, when the train suddenly called to halt. The fellow jumped and barely missed death beneath the wheels. But poor Sinclair was not so lucky. He became excited and failed to get out of the way, with results already too well known.

"O MY FATHER."

On learning of his demise his friends in the city were greatly grieved. They recalled the pleasant times they had enjoyed together for the past few months, and particularly the evenings they had spent in song and story. Sinclair, like many other Scots, was fond of music, and during his residence in Salt Lake he had learned to love Mormon music. He created, moreover, a hymn, "O My Father," particularly appreciated to him, and he frequently spoke of it, saying how beautiful it was. It is not surprising that he should hear it often for his friends were principally among the Mormon people. A few of the latter knew of a weakness he had for the flowing bowl and did all they could to win him from it. Unfortunately they were not altogether successful, a fact that probably contributed to his death.

FOR DECENT BURIAL.

On ascertaining the sad fate that had overtaken him, his Mormon friends went immediately to the morgue where they viewed the remains and took action that prevented a pauper's burial by talking money given by the Scotch people of the city, Mormon and non-Mormon, most of it by the former. In making the funeral arrangements, his friends concluded that it would be an act of courtesy to invite Dr. Paden, to whom he had a letter of introduction when he came to Utah, and to those church he belonged, to preach the funeral discourse.

MUSICAL SELECTIONS.

The matter of music was also discussed and the decision reached to sing three selections, "Lead Kindly Light," "Nearer My God to Thee," both widely accepted Christian hymns, and "O My Father," the Mormon hymn, the deceased had come to so much love. Accordingly William Russell, a young Scotch-American baritone, was consulted with a view to singing these pieces, but Mr. Russell suggested "O My Father" and "Face to Face," the latter a standard Christian hymn. That seemed agreeable to both Mormon and non-Mormon friends and Mr. Russell secured an accompanist in the person of Miss Jennie V. Romney, an accomplished young musician of the Twentieth ward.

PADEN CAUSES SENSATION.

Finally the time for the funeral services arrived. The new friends of the young man turned out in considerable numbers and the musicians' hall was almost filled. Dr. Paden had come to preach the sermon and the musicians

HON. TOM L. JOHNSON.

Who is to Preside at the Great Welcome Demonstration to be Given W. J. Bryan on His Return Home From His Trip Around the World.

New York, July 14.—Plans for the reception to be tendered to William Jennings Bryan in this city upon his return the last week in August from a tour around the world were mapped out last night by the plan and scope committee appointed by the Commercial Travelers' Anti-Trust league. Lewis Nixon presided. On his arrival at the battery the morning of Aug. 26, Mr. Bryan will be met by the reception committee and will be escorted up Broadway to Central Park, across to Fifth avenue and then to the Victoria Hotel, where he will rest until the evening reception at Madison Square garden. Mayor Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland will preside in the evening. Governor Folk of Missouri is chairman of the reception committee on which Democratic United States senators and congressmen, Democratic governors and mayors and chairmen of Democratic state and national committees will be invited to serve as honorary members. Former Governor William L. Douglas of Massachusetts was scheduled to head a committee to secure the co-operation of the business interests of the country in the reception. Alexander Troop of Connecticut has announced that he would bring a state delegation from his state and many other state delegations are expected.

HE WAS IN HIS PLACE READY TO SING AND PLAY. THEN IT WAS THAT AN EXTRAORDINARY SCENE OCCURRED. DR. PADEN STEPPED FORWARD AND SAID TO MR. RUSSELL:

"Let me see what you are going to sing."

"Very well," replied Mr. Russell, who showed him a copy of "O My Father," and was about to extend to him a copy of "Face to Face," but by this time the narrow minded preacher was pale and trembling and exclaimed, "You can't sing all that here."

"All right," said Mr. Russell, thinking Dr. Paden was pressed for time, and wanted only an excerpt rendered, adding, "I will just sing the first two and last verse."

But here the truth dawned upon those assembled when Dr. Paden declared, "No, you can't sing that, the last verse is as bad as the rest. It is all rot."

By this time it was apparent that the reverend gentleman was laboring under a spell of intense religious fanaticism, and Mr. Russell promptly responded, "Very well, I will not sing at all."

A DRAMATIC SCENE.

The scene was a dramatic one, and women wept and men were indignant beyond expression at the insult that had been offered them and the musicians who promptly went away. And that is why there was no music at the funeral of Collin Sinclair, and that is why his friends have no use for the kind of religious consolation offered by Dr. Paden. Small wonder they were not favorably impressed with his sermon, and that they felt themselves grossly affronted when they were not permitted to listen to a favorite funeral hymn, and one that their dead friend had often listened to with manifest feeling and expressed admiration—friends, too, who had secured money enough to give the dead boy a respectable burial, and pay every obligation connected therewith.

THE "OFFENDING" HYMN.

Probably no hymn of this generation has made such a lasting impression upon those who have heard it as "O My Father," which is reproduced in its entirety for the information of those who may not be familiar with its words and sentiments. It is as follows:

O my Father, Thou that dwellest in the high and glorious place: When shall I reach Thy presence, And again behold Thy face? In Thy holy habitation, Did my spirit once reside? In my first primeval childhood, Was I nurtured near Thy side?

For a wise and glorious purpose Thou hast placed me here on earth, And withheld the revelation Of my former friends and birth. Yet oft times a secret something Whispered "You're a stranger here," And I felt that I had wandered From a more exalted sphere.

I had learned to call Thee Father, Through Thy Spirit from on high; But, until the key of knowledge Was restored, I knew not why. In the heavens are parents single, No, the thought makes reason start! Truth is reason; truth eternal Tells me, I'm a mother there.

When I leave this frail existence, When I lay this mortal by, Father, mother, may I meet you In your royal courts on high? Then, at length, when I've completed All you sent me forth to do, With your mutual approbation Let me come and dwell with you.

The various departmental sessions later also drew many delegates. The time of the regular forum session was taken up with the beautiful ceremony entitled "The Salvation of the Flag," conducted by Rev. George T. Welch of Chicago, field secretary of the Union. SAN FRANCISCO CLUBS DROP BOXING.

San Francisco, July 14.—Boxing has been dropped from the list of sports controlled by the Pacific Athletic association and in future no sanctions for exhibiting will be granted to clubs. Such action was taken at a meeting of the association at the Olympic club last night without a dissenting voice. As a result there will be no more four-round bouts for medals. This action was taken on account of the fact that at the national tournament recently held in this city so-called amateur boxers demanded either cash prizes or trophies of more value than designated by the association.

THE BLACK MESA FOREST RESERVE

It Has Been Created by Presidential Proclamation in Graham County.

IN ROUGH ARIZONA COUNTRY.

It Lies Between the White Mountain Indian Reservation and the Gila Forest Reserve.

(Special to the "News.") Washington, July 14.—By presidential proclamation an addition to the Black Mesa forest reserve of Arizona has been created, comprising about 20,000 acres and located in Graham county, between the White Mountain Indian reservation of Arizona and the Gila forest reserve of New Mexico, directly north of the mining town of Clifton, which is connected by railroad with the Southern Pacific at Lordsburg, N. M.

ROUGH COUNTRY.

The country included in the addition is extremely rough, full of precipitous hills and peaks and intersected by narrow canyons. There are practically no true valleys in an agricultural sense, nor is there much soil among the rocks almost everywhere exposed. The streams, usually intermittent, have a rapid and destructive run-off after the severe storms of the region, which of course the nature of the country. The climate of the addition varies from the dry and warm arid region of the southern part to the cooler northern portion of higher altitude and proximity of the mountain range to the north. The forest cover may be said to be scant, and to have its chief economic value as a protection cover to prevent in so far as possible the disastrous floods which have but recently caused the tremendous loss of property to the mining industry.

TO KEEP GOATS OFF.

At present the forest is inadequate as a protection cover, making it necessary to restrict cutting, especially along water courses, to prohibit the grazing of goats in the reserve, as they destroy the young growth on which reproduction depends, to make plantings where it is feasible.

The industries of the region are mining, grazing, and wood cutting. The area to the south is the second largest copper producing district in the United States, one mine being the third largest individual producer in the country. A forest cover that would tend to prevent floods or at least to alleviate their destruction would be of immense advantage to the mining industry, for in the past year they suffered losses amounting to nearly $600,000 from this source.

CATTLE INTERESTS STRONG.

The cattle interests are in strong support of the new addition, because it will mean to them a conservation of the grazing areas, but more than all, the exclusion of goats from the range, a step that must be taken since the latter inflict irreparable injury on the young growth on which reproduction depends. In order not to work too great a hardship upon the owners of goats it is proposed to allow them to remain for one year, and after that to reduce the goats by one-fifth of the original number each year, so that in five years none would remain, and ample opportunity would have been given their owners to dispose of them without loss.

GOAT MEN MAD.

Naturally the goatmen are opposed to reserve and a certain amount of opposition may come from the householders of the towns whose fuel wood, because of restricted cuttings, will be made somewhat more expensive. The lumbering operations are almost at a standstill, and the timber trade, which has been a source of income to the people of the region, mainly as a protective cover to prevent floods, also to conserve the grazing, and eventually to give an increased fuel supply, though at first this will be restricted.

MISS SUTTON CHAMPION.

Newport, England, July 14.—In the Welsh ladies' championship tennis contest today Miss May Sutton of California, and F. H. Daumery beat Mr. and Mrs. Raikes in the mixed doubles, 6-1, 6-1.

Miss Sutton and Miss Perry, owing to heat Miss Paritt and Miss Baubler in the doubles handicap, 6-1, 9-1. The American thus retains this title.

KANSAS CITY GAS ORDINANCE.

Kansas City, July 14.—The upper house of the city council this evening after a lengthy session, passed a gas franchise ordinance, the chief features of which are that natural gas is to be supplied at not exceeding 25 cents per thousand feet, and if the cost of natural gas should be exhausted, manufactured gas is to be supplied for not more than 15 cents per thousand feet. The franchise is to run 30 years, but the city may secure ownership of the plant at the end of 10 years by purchasing all outstanding bonds. The measure has the support of Mayor Henry M. Beardsley. The Kansas City Missouri Gas company, which now supplies the city with artificial gas, charges $1 per thousand feet for gas.

ANNIE IDE—BOURKE COCKRAN ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

Santa Barbara, Cal., July 14.—The formal announcement of the engagement of Miss Annie Ide, eldest daughter of Gov. Gen. Henry C. Ide of the Philippines, to Congressman W. Bourke Cockran of New York, took place at Santa Barbara, though it will be news to society in many cities of this and other countries where Miss Ide and Mr. Cockran are well known.

Although the engagement has been known for some time, the official announcement came from the executive mansion in Manila and would neither confirm nor deny the rumor.

Bourke Cockran first met Miss Ide during the trip of the Taft party to the Orient. Miss Ide and her sister joined the party at Manila and making the trip with it to Japan and China. On their return from the Orient last fall Miss Ide and her sister came to Santa Barbara and last January Mr. Cockran came out from New York and in company with Miss Ide, her sister and some friends from this city, made a trip through southern California and to the Grand Canyon. It was on this trip that the romance which began on shipboard culminated in the engagement announced yesterday.

No date has been fixed for the wedding as yet, but it is certain it will take place about the return of Gov. Gen. Ide in October.

DREYFUS HAS BEEN REINSTATED

The Official Journal Publishes the Decree Announcing Fact and His Promotion.

BESIEGED BY MANY FRIENDS.

Hundreds of Congratulations Have Reached Him by Mail, Telegraph and Cable.

Date for Receiving His Sword and Donning Uniform Awaits His Assignment to a Regiment.

Paris, July 14.—The celebration of the French national holiday today is assuming special significance in connection with Dreyfus resuming his place in the army. The Official Journal this morning published a decree announcing his reinstatement and promotion and inscription of his name on the list of chevaliers of the legion of honor.

Dreyfus, who remains in his apartment, is besieged by many friends who are congratulating him on his final success. Hundreds of felicitations have reached him by mail, telegraph and cable. The date of his receiving his sword and putting on his uniform awaits his assignment to a regiment.

The condition of Under Secy. of State Sarraut, who was dangerously wounded in the breast yesterday in a duel fought with M. Puiglies-Conti, following the passage of the law restoring Dreyfus to the army, is stationary. He passed a calm night, and no complications have developed. The doctors held a consultation this morning and diagnosed the wound as a perforation of the pericardium of the right lung. They are not prepared at present to pronounce a definite opinion regarding his chances of recovery, but another consultation which will be held today is expected to result in a more favorable determination.

HARTIE DIVORCE CASE.

Several Sensations Are in Course of Development.

Pittsburg, July 14.—Expectations of more sensations today in the case of the Hartie divorce case were based on the fact that Augustus Hartie, the millionaire oilman; John L. Welches, his friend, and Clifford Hoce, the negro coachman, were to be arraigned this afternoon before Alderman Foster M. King on the charge of conspiracy to defame Mrs. Hartie.

Asst. Dist. Atty. John S. Robb admitted today that a confession made by Hoce would be used in the prosecution of the case. What it contained he refused to divulge.

It is probable that the hearing of the case will not be resumed Monday, as the 40 famous letters are still in the custody of the state's counsel, Atty. Freeman, counsel for Mrs. Hartie, says he will not be ready to proceed with the trial at that time unless he gets the letters.

John L. Welches, who is charged with conspiracy in connection with Augustus Hartie and the negro, Clifford Hoce, has been subpoenaed by Mrs. Hartie, and it is said will be called next week to testify in the case.

TAFT AND PHILIPPINES.

Invited to Visit Islands But Has Made No Decision.

Washington, July 14.—In answer to a direct question as to whether or no he intended to visit the Philippine Islands next spring, and if so whether that decision might be taken as a decision that he had decided to decline the offer of a place on the supreme court bench, Secy. Taft today said that he had received an invitation from the Philippines to be present at the opening of the first native assembly next June. So far he had not come to any decision, but it might be stated that whether he accepted the invitation or not the decision would have no effect whatever upon his potential office as secretary of the interior. He might as a justice visit the islands quite as well as while he occupied the office of secretary of war.

FATHER, MOTHER AND THREE CHILDREN MURDERED.

Winston-Salem, N. C., July 14.—James Lively, his wife and three young children, were murdered in their home one mile east of Barber's Junction during the night by robbers who then after looting the house, set fire to the bed on which Mrs. and Mrs. Lively lay.

Two other daughters who were sleeping up stairs were awakened and taken down just in time to extinguish the flames before serious damage had been done. It is thought that the robbers killed their victims with clubs.

Lively was a wealthy merchant and farmer and the family was one of the most respected in that section.

Deputy Sheriff Hutchins started for here with his blood hounds on a special train from Raleigh. Two negro suspects have been arrested. One of these is quoted as saying a few days ago after Mr. Lively had refused to allow him to cut his wheat "the old man was out of his grain but he'd never live to eat it."

Gov. Glenn offered a reward of $250 for the arrest of the murderers.
