BY TELEGRAPH

FOR THE DESERET EVENING NEWS LEASED WIRE.

AMERICAN.

Wired From Washington.

WASHINGTON, 18.—Major Nicholsen, in command of the United States Marine Corps, to night received the following dispatch from Lieutenant Taylor, commanding a detachment of marines at Pensacola Navy yard: One private died of yellow fever; three are in the hospital; two are doing well; one is very sick. The command is in a new brick building, upper story, cool and healthy. It is too late now for an encampment; the excitement and work would perhaps develop new cases. we are strictly quarantined. In addition to Surgeon Martin, ordered from New Orleans to Pensacola, the employment of a civilian physician has been authorized by the Navy Department. It is understood the civilian surgeon whose services were sought, refused to accept an engagement for less time than twenty-one days at the rate of $100 a day. The telegraph operator at the Navy yard declined to remain longer at his post unless compensation at the rate of $10 a day was made. The operator's terms were acceded to, and if necessary to have assistance for the doctor, Martin demands a civilian surgeon; this also will be acceded to.

Decision was rendered by Juge Mills in the police court in the civil rights case of the Rev. George H. Smith (colored) Norwich, Conn., against James M Bell, proprietor of a restaurant. The ground of complaint was that Bell denied accommodations in his restaurant to plaintiff on account of the latter's color, and suit was brought to enforce the criminal provisions of March 1st, 1875. The court holds that under the common law, an innkeeper is bound to take in and receive all travellers and wayfarers: and that by the act of March 1st, 1875, it is made a misdemeanor to discriminate against travelers on account of race or color, regardless of any previous condition of servitude. The restaurant keeper has a right to establish certain regulations as to hours for meals, and designate certain places for seating customers; but such hours and seats must be for sale by all, and if any discrimination is made it must be upon some principle, or for some reason that the law recognizes as just and reasonable, and not on account of color, race or previous condition of servitude. All the guests of the inn or restaurant must be given equal privileges, and the place designated for them must be accessible to all respectable persons at a uniform rate of charge. From these principles it follows that the defendant, in discriminating against the complainant Smith on account of his race and color, was guilty of a misdemeanor and incurred the penalty of the second section of the civil rights act of 1875. Judgment is entered accordingly. This case is, in some respects, a novel one, since it is the first attempt to enforce the penalty under the second section of the civil rights act, which makes the violation of the law a misdemeanor; and it is the first effort to enforce the criminal provision of the law in territory where the Congress of the United States has exclusive and absolute legislative jurisdiction.

On Thursday last, Surgeon General Hamilton received a telegram from the President of the Board of Health, Pensacola, announcing the appearance of yellow fever at the Navy Yard, and requesting aid to establish a cordon around the Navy Yard. The Collector of Customs at Pensacola was immediately directed by the Acting Secretary of the Treasury to employ ten patrolmen to aid the Board of Health in maintaining quarantine. The Collector last night reported that forty men will be required for service as a patrol line, five miles in length. The Surgeon General, with the approval of the Acting Secretary, to-day telegraphed the Collector as follows: "On filing an affidavit by the Mayor of the city and President of the Board of Health that they are unable to employ sufficient quarantine force, employ as many men as necessary. Tents and disinfectants will be shipped to-day from New Orleans."

Private information has been received from Pensacola to the effect that Surgeon Owens is down with yellow fever; that there are five cases in the yard and three outside, and there is danger of its spreading. Assistant Surgeon Madden and a civilian physician are looking after the sick.

Depravity and Disaster.

SAN FRANCISCO, 18.—News of an atrocious murder supposed to have been committed last Monday was suddenly revealed to-day. The murdered man was Nicholas Skerrett, a real estate dealer, and a well-known resident of this city. His body was unexpectedly discovered in a closet of an empty house, 1129 Ellis street, belonging to deceased, by a person who went in for the purpose of renting it. The stench on opening the door disclosed suspicions of a crime having been committed, and without proceeding further the party reported the case to the police authorities. Search was made and the corpse found lying on a small bench in an advanced state of decomposition, but nothing to indicate by what manner he came to his death, beyond the marks of blood on the stair-case. Skerret has been missing since last Monday, but it was supposed he had gone to Sacramento on business. This supposition was confirmed from the fact that two telegrams were received from there bearing his signature, one addressed Samuel Dixon, stock-broker, the other to Donohoe, Kelly & Co., bankers, to the effect that he was engaged in selling some property, and would not return for several days. The only information so far obtained is that on Monday last he was seen to enter the house with three men from Nevada who were negotiating for the purchase of the house and two others adjoining, belonging to Skerrett. Shortly after the neighbors saw the three men come out of the house, but not accompanied by Skerrett. This fact did not excite suspicion, and the matter was forgotten until it was disclosed yesterday by a person who sought to rent the premises. The deceased was possessor of considerable wealth, aged sixty, with no relatives here except a young nephew. Expert detectives have been detailed to work the case up.

St. John, N. B., 18.—News is received here that the schooner Charles A. Samuels from Santos Brazil via Penedo for New York had become a total wreck. No particulars have been received.

Boston, 18.—The Glenn House, Watertown, containing about 400 rooms, is burned. It was chiefly patronized by cattle men.

Texas Cyclone and Lightning.

News' Waco special: Information has just reached Waco that on Thursday afternoon a cyclone struck Oglesby, demolishing a station house and a store, scattering the goods all over the prairie. One man was blown a distance of two hundred feet.

A young man named Harris, at Pecan Grove, in Carreyell County, this afternoon, was struck by lightning. He and his horse were instantly killed.

Yellow Fever in New Orleans.

GALVESTON, Texas, 18. — The Evening Print publishes the following: The belief obtains credence in this city among some persons who are in communication with friends in New Orleans, that there has been at least one case of yellow fever in that city within a few days, although there has been no official announcement of the fact by the Crescent City authorities.

A Mysterious Schooner.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., 18 —An unknown schooner is reported sunk off the beach on Friday evening and the affair is surrounded with considerable mystery. She was of about 300 tons burden and said to have been pursued by a steamer. The report says that both vessels were putting for the shore under full sail and steam, and, when about five miles out, the schooner suddenly sank and all on board were supposed to be lost. The steamer remained at the spot where the schooner sank about half an hour and then steamed away to the eastward, out to sea. The schooner is said to have carried the black flag.

SUNDAY NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

THE PRESIDENT'S PICNIC.

Camp Arthur.

CAMP ARTHUR, Gros Ventre River, Wyo., 17, via Fort Washakie Aug. 19 —At 6 30 o'clock this morning the President and party mounted their horses and started from Camp Isham. We marched down the valley of the Gros Ventre, crossing that stream to the north side about 10 miles from our camp of last night, thence the trail diverged from the river passing through canyons, and over mountains of considerable elevation, although the grades were not very steep. After marching about 15 miles we arrived at a low mesa on the river which was so attractive that the whole party voted we should remain here to-night. In honor of the President, Gen. Sheridan has called the camp "Camp Arthur." Shortly after our arrival, rods and reels were gotten in shape and the entire party went fishing. Gen. Stager made the largest catch, Senator Vest the next and the President third. Captain Clark came in this morning from a two days' hunt after elk and deer. He had but little success. All the party are well and enjoying the fishing, hunting and mountain air with the keenest zest.

One of Skerrett's Murderer's Captured.

SAN FRANCISCO, 19.—From the description given of the three men who visited the house of Nicholas Skerrett the real estate broker found murdered yesterday evening, the detectives have succeeded in arresting one of the murderers. He proves to be an ex-convict named Wright Leroy, formerly a shrewd well-read attorney of Oakland, Cal. While residing there he forged a number of deeds to town lots hypothecating them for considerable money. Being detected he was sent to San Quentin prison for seven years. He was discharged only last May. When the detectives had made sure of their man, he was at once charged with the crime, but denied everything. Being confronted with some of his own handwriting showing how he had been implicated in designs upon Skerrett's property, he finally acknowledged that he had been engaged by two men, John D. Townsend and Wm. Miller, who claimed to have large mining interests in Denver, to act as broker for the purchase of Skarett's property. After making this admission the prisoner was confined in a solitary tank and a few hours latter sent word to the chief of police that he had something to communicate, stating that what he had previously said was all lies and that he now wanted to tell the truth. He thereupon confessed to being implicated with Townsend and Miller in a scheme to obtain possession of Skarrett's money, but denied having anything to do with the murder. The plan concocted was to propose to Skarrett to purchase his empty houses and while viewing them, Townsend and Miller should choke him until he had signed checks on Donohue, Kelly & Co., for the money he had on deposit. On the day appointed Skarrett accompanied the men to the house where the body was afterwards found. Leroy says he refused to go with them and knows nothing of what took place and refused to make any further statement. The chief detective believes the deed was unintentional, that not being able to force Skarrett to sign the check, the men kept choking him till death ensued. Skerrett, the murdered man was a California pioneer who arrived here in '49.

Death of Judge Black.

WASHINGTON, 19 — Judge Jere Black died at 2 o'clock this morning.

New York, 19.—A dispatch from Washington says: The report of Judge Black's death was received, but not thought to be correct. Dr. Garner, consulting physician, had heard nothing during the day and discredited the rumor when first reported to him this evening.

York, Pa., 19.—The immediate cause of his death was taxmania, produced by absorption of retained urinary deposits superinduced by constriction of the bladder. Prior to the operation of Thursday, Dr. McKenna, of York, who had spent the day with the patient noticed the appearance of unfavorable symptoms about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Dr. Meisenhelder, who relieved Dr. McKenna also noticed the change for the worse, and from that hour the increasing gravity of his symptoms indicated a gradual failure of the vital forces. Judge Black suffered greatly during his illness, but his last moments were without acute pain and he passed quietly away, retaining consciousness until within a few minutes of his death.

York, Pa., 19.—Judge Jeremiah Black died at ten minutes past 2 this morning. Though not unexpected, his death was a sudden shock to the community. On Saturday morning he seemed better, but the improvement was too slight to justify hopes of recovery. An unfavorable change began about 4 in the afternoon and he gradually grew worse, but remained conscious almost to the end and died peacefully. From the beginning of his illness Judge Black believed he never would recover and was perfectly resigned. Mrs. Black, Lieut.-Gov. Channey, T. Black and wife, Henry Black, Mr. and Mrs. Hernsby, A. B. Farquahard and Dr. Musenhelder were present. Many telegrams of condolence have been received. The funeral will take place on Tuesday at 5 p.m., The remains will be interred at Prospect Hill Cemetery. Dr. Powers of the Christian Church, Washington, will probably officiate at the funeral. Shortly before Judge Black died he said to his wife:

"How can I fear to cross the river when my father waits for me on the other shore," and added, "Would I were as comfortable about all I leave behind unfinished in this world," and then breathed the following earnest prayer:

"Oh thou most beloved and merciful and heavenly Father, from whom I had my being, and in whom I have ever trusted, if it be thy will, grant that my suffering end, and that I be called home to thee, and Oh my God, bless and comfort thou my Mary."

SUNDAY NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

American Monopoly.

LONDON, 19.—The Pall Mall Gazette this morning in a leader upon the subject, state that there are good reasons to believe that Mr. Mackey's new step is taken after full consideration, and with the full determination to break up the present monopoly in the American telegraph system, and assumes to see in it the beginning of a gradual breaking up of those close alliances among American capitalists, which at present constitute what it calls the most absolute and most odious monopolies of the present age. It is pointed out that if the enormously rich men of America, instead of combining as to how to manage monopolies through directores, should use their wealth in individual, competing enterprises, the profits to each must be greater, and the national development must be accelerated, the price of labor must increase; antagonism between labor and capital must be diminished; corruption in politics must disappear, and the general prosperity of the American people be vastly augmented.

The Plague.

The deaths from cholera in Egypt on Saturday were 310 including 50 at Cairo. Another death from cholera has occurred at Beyrout, in Syria.

She hopes for the same success which attended her former foreign venture, and says that the dream of her life is to be able to return to England and found a theatre in London which she would call The Langtry.

Bombardment of Hue.

Paris, 19.—It is affirmed that the bombardment of Hue by the French began on Saturday. Admiral Heyon, minister of marine and of the colonies, ordered six gunboats to be constructed for Tonquin. It is stated that France informed that power that any ships that attempted to land arms in Anam would be liable to seizure. It is believed that this warning is principally leveled at a large export of arms from American ports.
