

THE SAMOAN CONTROVERSY.

King Oscar of Sweden Decides in Favor of Germany.

DECISION IS ASTONISHING.

America and England Expected to Would Sustain Their Claims—Full Scope of Decision Not Yet Divulged.

New York, Oct. 22.—King Oscar of Sweden and Norway has decided the Samoan controversy in favor of Germany, says a dispatch to the Tribune from Washington, D. C.

This fact became known on the return of Mr. Grip, the minister of Sweden and Norway, from a long visit to his home. Mr. Grip called at the state department but did not, of course, disclose the decision of his sovereign, which must be formally presented simultaneously to the three powers concerned. The announcement will be astonishing to the governments of the United States and Great Britain, which were confident that they would establish fully the legality and propriety of the joint landing of marines at Apia in 1898 to sustain the decree of the Samoan supreme court and end the revolution.

The full scope of the arbitral decision of King Oscar is not yet divulged, and the extent to which it covers the claims for damages filed by the citizens of the three countries and of France may not be known for several days. These claims which were nominally the prime cause for arbitration, are insignificant, however, compared with the question of national honor on which the disputed and if the action of the United States and Great Britain had been sustained by the royal arbiter, would have fallen to the ground.

The Samoan dispute grew out of the concerted action of Rear Admiral Kautz of the United States navy, and Capt. Sturdy of the British navy, in landing a combined American and British force at Apia on April 1, 1899, for the purpose of making a reconnaissance and breaking up Matafafa's supporters, who were in rebellion against the reformed government. It was on this occasion the Philip Landsale, the executive officer of the Philadelphia; Ensign J. R. Monaghan and two enlisted men, Lieut. Freeman and two British sailors, were killed. Surgeon Lang, now one of President Roosevelt's physicians, was the medical officer of the landing party. The United States ship Badger was promptly sent to the scene, carrying an international commission, composed of the United States, Germany and Great Britain, and Von Sternberg, the German commissioner, and C. N. Elliott, the British commissioner. Claims amounting to nearly $200,000 were presented by the French, British and American residents on account of damages caused by the landing party. As the result of the investigation, the commission, the tripartite agreement of 1899 was abrogated, the islands being divided between the United States and Germany while Great Britain signed at Washington on Nov. 7, 1899, submitting the claims of Samoan residents to the king of Sweden and Norway for his decision. The matter being being whether the military action of the United States and Great Britain had been warranted. Immediately upon the decision, claims, most of them German and American claims rose to about $200,000.

In July, 1900, the king consented to act as arbitrator. He has now decided in favor of Germany, and the briefs containing the arguments on the main point at issue and the schedule of claims were submitted to him. Correspondence between the representatives of the three powers in Apia at the time, as spread on the records, was extremely bitter and full of reflections on the integrity and honor of the nations concerned, and there were frank declarations that if the naval forces of the United States and Great Britain had not been supreme in the absence of German warships a clash must have occurred which would have brought the United States and Germany to the verge of war.

The claims which are incidental to the larger question, were filed by citizens of the United States, Germany, Great Britain, France, Austria, Denmark, Sweden and Norway, Portugal and Switzerland and natives of Samoa. Citizens of the United States ask for $150,000 to reimburse them for their losses in the bombardment; Germany wants $193,518; subjects of Great Britain $6,235 and citizens of France $15,321.

Great Gushing Gas Well.
Worthington, Pa., Oct. 21.—The greatest gas well ever struck in Armstrong county, if not in Pennsylvania, is now sending into the air more than 100,000 cubic feet of gas every hour. It is defying all efforts to bring it under control. The well is on the Peter Kerr farm, a short distance south of here. The gas escaping, it is estimated, will supply a city of 100,000 inhabitants. In the 11 days that have elapsed since the sand was struck more than 220,000,000 cubic feet of gas, it is believed, have gone to waste.

Many Passengers Injured.
Cincinnati, O., Oct. 21.—A local train on the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton road today ran into an open switch near Elmwood and seven persons were injured, none fatally. Mrs. Ecker, wife of the conductor, C. E. Hays of Philadelphia, Mrs. Bleeks of Hamilton and Miss Irwin of Glendale sustained broken legs.

GEN. MILES ROBBED.
Loses His Valuable White at a Reception in Honolulu.

Honolulu, T. H., Oct. 15, via San Francisco, Oct. 21.—The Hawaiian Securities company is about to incorporate under the laws of New Jersey, with a capital stock of $12,000,000 divided into 120,000 shares. The new corporation is to own the stock of four well known plantations in Hawaii—Hawalei Agricultural company, Ono, Wailua and Honouliuli. The British cable steamship Colonia, arriving here on Oct. 10, brought to Hawaii the first Pacific cable message transmitted from Vancouver to a point near Fanning island. The line is the longest stretch of cable in the world, being 3,625 knots in length. The cable was laid in communication with the end of the cable about 100 miles from Fanning and came here to join the cable steamship Anglia, which is to take up the work where the Colonia left off.

Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles, commanding the United States army, arrived here on the 9th of this month, on the transport Thomas, and remained in Honolulu two days, during which time he paid a visit to Pearl harbor and examined the Honolulu coast line where the new fort is to be erected.

DID NOT KNOW SHE HAD KIDNEY TROUBLE

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

Gertrude Warner Scott Cured by the Great Kidney Remedy, Swamp-Root.

DR. KILMER & CO., Binghamton, N. Y. Vinton, Iowa, July 15, 1891.

Gentlemen:—My trouble began with pain in my stomach and back, so severe that it seemed as if knives were cutting me. I was treated by two of the best physicians in the country, and consulted another. None of them suspected that the cause of my trouble was kidney disease. They all told me that I had cancer of the stomach, and would die. I grew so weak that I could not walk any more than a child a month old, and I only weighed ninety pounds. One day my brother saw in a paper your advertisement of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy. He bought me a bottle of our drug store and I took it. My family could see a change in me for the better, so they obtained more and I continued the use of Swamp-Root regularly. I was so weak and run down that it took considerable time to build me up again. I am now well, thanks to Swamp-Root, and weigh 148 pounds, and am keeping house for my husband and brother. Swamp-Root cured me after the doctors had failed to do me a particle of good.

(Gertrude Warner Scott.)

Women suffer untold misery because the nature of their disease is not correctly understood; in many cases when doctors, they are led to believe that womb trouble or female weakness of some sort is responsible for their ills, when in fact disordered kidneys are the chief cause of their distressing troubles.

The mild and extraordinary effect of the world-famous kidney and bladder remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. A trial will convince anyone—and you may have a sample bottle sent free, by mail.

SAMPLE BOTTLE OF SWAMP-ROOT FREE BY MAIL.

EDITORIAL NOTE.—If you have the slightest symptoms of kidney or bladder trouble, or if there is a trace of it in your family history, send at once to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., who will gladly send you by mail, immediately, without cost to you, a sample bottle of Swamp-Root, and a book telling all about Swamp-Root and containing many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women cured. In writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure to say that you read this generous offer in the Salt Lake City Daily Deseret News.

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular fifty cent and one dollar size bottles at the drug stores everywhere. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

On the evening of the 10th the general was the victim of a robbery which for a time was thought to mean the loss of some valued documents. A valise containing some jewelry and money was stolen from the room of Lieut. Col. Maus, aide-de-camp to General Miles, in the Hawaiian hotel. The theft took place during a reception and dance given in honor of the distinguished visitors, and was detected early in the evening. On the following day the valise was recovered a short distance from the hotel. It had been cut open and some jewelry and money was taken, but the papers were untouched. Gen. Miles resumed his journey to the Philippines on the Thomas on Oct. 11.

Col. Cody to Ill to Hunt.
Red Lodge, Mont., Oct. 21.—For several years Col. W. F. Cody has annually participated in a hunt for big game in the Big Horn mountains of Wyoming. He has invariably chaperoned a distinguished party of hunters to the mountain fastnesses of that section. The people of Cody, Wyo., had come to look forward to these hunting parties with pleasurable anticipation, and are sorely disappointed at the news that reaches them from Las Vegas, N. M., that Col. Cody is in poor health and in all probability will have to forego participating in the big hunt this year.

Horse Kills a Ranchman.
Saratoga, Wyo., Oct. 21.—A report has reached here from Baggs that C. D. Cheatham, a prominent ranchman, was killed by his horse falling upon him as he rode near his ranch. The particulars of the accident have not been ascertained.

Oil for Street Sprinkling.

Berkeley, Cal., Oct. 21.—Under the orders of the town trustees of Berkeley the experiment of placing oil on the streets is now being made with a view to making its use permanent should the present demonstration warrant. Such action, according to the computations of the town engineer, would mean a saving of $5,000 a year to the street department. Experiments are being conducted upon two different kinds of streets. The macadamized street is being treated to a coat of oil, and the result of the oil on the surface of the road is being observed.

ALL READY FOR WRESTLING MATCH

"Terrible Turk" and Jim Galentine Will Meet Tomorrow Night.

WILL BE A FIERCE CONTEST

Barring Accidents the Fistic Will be Far Between—Both Men Are in Good Condition.

The old stage at the Salt Lake theater will again creak under the weight of a couple of heavy wrestlers tomorrow night when Jim Galentine and Morabiah, the "Terrible Turk No. 2," will meet and settle the question of who's who or which is which on the mat.

In view of the big crowd that gathered to see the Turk try to throw four men in an hour on the 13th, the management expects to see the famous old play house packed to suffocation tomorrow night, and judging from the interest there seems to be in the match, there will be no disappointment in the matter of attendance. Friends of the wrestlers tried to induce them to raise the prices for tomorrow night's match but this the management would not consent to so that the price of admission will be the same as in the first match.

Both men have been training for all they are worth since they signed up for the match, and they are in the pink of condition in every respect. The Turk will have the better of the argument in the matter of weight. He will tip the beams at 240 pounds at least, while Galentine will weigh 160 or 170 pounds. The latter has gone along with his training in a steady, confident way and his friends declare that he carries a big package of surprises up his sleeve, and that he will hand them to the Sultan's man tomorrow night. The Turk has met and defeated some of the best men in the country and naturally his manager feels confident that his man will soon dispose of Galentine. But one thing is quite certain and that is, barring accidents, there will be a long bone racking struggle before either man gains a fall.

Under the conditions of the match the first is to be a catch-as-catch-can, fall, the next to be Greco-Roman, Galentine's style, and the man winning the quickest fall will have the right to decide what style the third fall shall be. There are to be a number of interesting preliminaries, but just what they will be has not yet been decided upon. The program will begin at 8.15.

STUDENTS STILL AT IT.

Making Great Preparations to Defeat Colorado Aggies Saturday.

The university football squad is putting in hard luck these days in the hope of getting in perfect condition to administer a sound thrashing to the Colorado Aggies who are scheduled to meet the local champions on the gridiron next Saturday afternoon. If steady, conscientious work will fit a team for a determined struggle, then the varsity boys will be there with the goods. Coach Holmes is using all the footballists at his command and will present a line-up calculated to bring home the money. Individually, the men are in perfect shape and as a team they are showing improvement in every hour of practice.

McCoy Goes East.

Tom McCoy, who has been in Boise City looking after his horses, entered in the races, has gone to Omaha. He was suddenly called there on account of the serious illness of his mother. While Tom is away his brother will take care of the horses.

Worked Hard Yesterday.

The high school football eleven put in a hard day's work yesterday preparing for the game Saturday with the Ogden team, and Coach Boyle says it was the hardest day's work they have ever done in practice. They practiced many new plays both in attack and defense and learned quite a number of new tricks calculated to disconcert the Junction city lads. They declare they will stand up to the big and powerful team on a Utah gridiron, but would come down from Ogden that the boys there are saying nothing much but saving wood and being powerless to resist the attack, he began to crawl for the fence on his hands and knees. He succeeded in reaching it and faintly as he fell over the fence. He was found later and cared for.

Chicago University Offices.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Plans are being prepared for a large building in the business district for the Chicago university, to cost $2,000,000. It will be located in the business offices of the university; the proposed musical college of the institution, and in addition, the Central church and the Thomas orchestra will be tenants. A large hall, with seating capacity of 2,500 persons, will be a feature of the new structure. Negotiations for a suitable site are pending, but the location most likely to be secured, it is said, is in Michigan avenue, near the fine arts building.

A Great Apple Crop.

Boston, Oct. 22.—The apple crop throughout the country this year, according to the estimate of the correspondent of the New England Homestead, will be 4,000,000 barrels, against 2,000,000 barrels in 1901. In the older established orchard sections in the middle and eastern states, the increase over last year's failure is very pronounced. In the central west there are also sharp gains, while in the southwest, a territory last year favored by exceptionally good yields, the crop this season is unusually deficient. As for quality this is far from satisfactory in the central and western states and in New England it is very much better.

THE WAY TO TACKLE.

Old Man of the Game Gives a Few Pointers.

This is the advice of a football veteran to the young man about to seek glory on the gridiron:

"In the first place it is better to miss a man than to tackle him high—in other words, to catch him above the waist. If you have learned to stand and run with your body bent down, there will be little likelihood of your failing to tackle him."

"Look at the other man's knees and give for them. Don't let the idea enter your mind that you must miss him, or you will surely do so. Just as your shoulder strikes his knees, circle your arms as far around his legs as possible and pull in quickly, giving a sharp lift with your elbows away from your sides, or otherwise you will do all the work with your forearms."

Next learn to tackle when the other man is running, and at all times throw him hard. It won't hurt either of you, and you have got to go at it with all your might. Give him a sharp lift. If he is running on a line at right angles to the one on which you are running, let one side of your body drop so that the flat of your chest will strike his legs. This brings your body also in front of him and helps to stop him."

ISELIN TO MANAGE BOAT.

New Racer to be Built by the Herreshoffs.

New York, Oct. 22.—It has been definitely settled, according to the Herald, that Iselin will be the managing owner of the new boat which the Herreshoffs are to build for the America's cup. He was in full control of the Vigilant that defeated the Valkyrie. It was managing owner of the Defender that beat the Valkyrie III, and also of the Columbia, winner over Shamrock I.

With Columbia carrying the racing flag of E. D. Morgan, and experienced yachtsmen not chosen to look after Constitution and the new boat with Mr. Iselin on the quarterdeck, there will be some close racing before the committee on challenge shall have selected the boat to defeat the Shamrock III.

RETURNED FROM EUROPE.
Directors of Olympian Games Discuss the Outlook.

New York, Oct. 22.—Henry J. Furber, Jr., of Chicago, president of the Olympian games commission, with former Judge John Barton Payne, Laverne W. Hayes and Benjamin J. Rosenthal, directors, have returned from an extensive tour of Europe, where they went with a view to ascertaining the attitude of the nations upon the games to be held at Athens in 1904.

"We found that there was a conflict of rules," said Mr. Furber, "and secured from the Comité International Olympique, its consent to allow that American rules shall govern the games. We aim in the forthcoming games to give something never before achieved. We will have in addition to the games certain exhibition features. We wish to have every field of physical activity of every nation reproduced.

"These deductions will cover the ethical side of the nations. We will define of athletes for men in every position in life, for a student, for an athlete and for the man whose occupation is neither one nor the other. A display of warships with a rendezvous at Toronto and maneuvers off Chicago, also is being discussed. From promises we have received it also will be the largest encampment of troops ever held in this country. We want to make it an international encampment and to that end committee appointed by us, while in Europe, are working to secure troops there."

Do Good—It Pays.
A Chicago man has observed that, "Good deeds are better than real estate deeds—some of the latter are worthless. Act kindly and gently, show sympathy and lend a helping hand. You cannot possibly lose by it." Most men appreciate a kind word and encouragement more than substantial help. There are persons in this community who might truthfully say: "My good friend, cheer up. A few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will rid you of your cold, and there is no danger whatever from pneumonia when you use that medicine. It always cures. I know it for it has helped me out many a time." Sold by all druggists.
