

DELEGATES LEAVE FOR THEIR HOMES.

Eleventh Annual Convention of Utah Club Women Brought To a Close.

ONE OF THE BEST YET HELD.

Splendid Papers, Sweet Music, Delicious Luncheons and a General Good Time.

Special Correspondence.
Logan, Oct. 21.—The closing session of the Utah Federation of Women's Clubs was held this evening, and tomorrow the delegates will leave for their respective homes, well pleased with their reception in this city. It is the consensus of opinion that the eleventh annual convention was perhaps one of the best yet held, and it will doubtless prove of great value to the respective clubs.

The second day's session was held in the auditorium of the Agricultural college and began with an address of welcome by College President W. J. Kerr. The welcome extended was most cordial and brought forth two responses, one from Mrs. Kinney and one from Mrs. Mary F. Allen of Park City. The college quartet rendered two splendid selections, after which unfinished business was taken up, and reports were heard from officers and chairmen of the various committees. The treasurer reported a balance on hand of $254.

WHAT WOMEN READ.

Miss Lydia B. Jessup of Salt Lake read a most excellent paper on "What Does the Modern Woman Read?" The paper was on the humorous order, and was well received by all present. The speaker included in her treatise all classes and held that the women's clubs had caused a healthier and more wholesome taste for literature, and that the day of the trashy novel was past. "What Redemptive Can Do for the Small Club," was the subject of an interesting paper by Miss Julia Allen of Springfield, who pleaded for an exchange of papers and a more general interchange of ideas among club members. A paper prepared by Mrs. Wight of Park City, and dealing with the work of critics generally.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE.

Open parliament was conducted by Mrs. Corbin after which Mrs. Dalling of the Agricultural college read a convincing paper on "The Value of a Domestic Science Course." The speaker held that the value of such a course was rapidly being recognized throughout the country, and that learned professors have decided that the baking of a sweet potato or the cutting of the simplest garment is as potent a factor in its way in the development of the power of reason, and analysis as is a demonstration in chemistry or a problem in algebra. Experiments have shown that the young girl who takes the studies in the domestic science course is only better fitted to take the studies which are considered more suitably suited to the masculine mind.

AN INTERESTING FEATURE.

One of the most interesting features of the session was the open parliament, in which every subject presented was freely discussed by club members. As the day was limited the discussions had to be cut short and it was the opinion of those present that in future more time should be devoted to this part of the convention programs. In addition to music by the college quartet Mrs. Nellie Thatcher Sloan gave a delightful vocal solo with violin obligato by Miss Linhart of the college. During the noon recess the delegates were escorted to the large reading room on the second floor of the college building, where the domestic science department served a delicious luncheon.

THE RACE QUESTION.

The evening session opened with a splendid paper on "The Race Question," by Mrs. D. H. Calder of Provo, but who recently came here from the east and has given much attention to the negro question. The lady held that the negro was the whitest of the burden, and that inasmuch as he was brought here by whites, they were in duty bound to care for and protect him. The speaker illustrated her talk with clever dramatic sketches showing the development of the blacks from the savage state to the present, and closed with brief accounts of such types of the race as Booker Washington, Paul Lawrence Dunbar and Linnet, the artist.

HON. WILLIAM BOURKE COCKRAN.
Who Speaks at a Big Democratic Rally in the Salt Lake Theater on Monday Evening Next.

The local Democracy is preparing for a big demonstration in this city on Monday evening next. No less an orator than the eloquent Bourke Cockran of New York is to be the star speaker. The meeting is to be presided over by Hon. F. S. Richards, and music will be furnished by one of the big bands—presumably Held's.

Mr. Cockran is on the way to the Pacific coast. He has been making a whirlwind campaign across the country, and in a number of places has made direct answer to Senator Fairbanks, the Republican vice-presidential candidate. He is known throughout the United States and Europe as a most magnetic and able speaker. Cockran is a native of Ireland, fifty years of age, and a lawyer by profession. He was educated in Ireland and France, and came to the United States in 1871; taught school in a private academy and later became principal of a large educational institution in Westchester county, New York; then a lawyer, soon becoming prominent in the politics of New York city; made noteworthy speeches in national Democratic conventions in 1884 and 1892, opposing most vigorously the nomination of Cleveland; member of Congress from 1891 to 1895, as a Democrat.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.

Before adjourning Mrs. A. J. Gorham, as chairman of the resolutions committee, submitted the following, which were adopted:

"Whereas, The eleventh annual meeting of the Utah Federation of Women's clubs has been held in Logan, and

"Whereas, Everything conducive to comfort and happiness has been arranged and executed by the citizens of Logan;

"Resolved, That the club women in convention assembled take this opportunity of expressing their sincere thanks and deep appreciation to all who have directly or indirectly contributed to the delights of this occasion; and,

"Resolved, That we express our special gratitude to all the members of the Logan clubs who through their various committees have left nothing undone for our welfare, to all these who have so graciously opened their homes to us, to those who have so carefully arranged for our transportation to and from the various meetings, to the faculty and students of the Agricultural college and the Brigham Young academy, and especially to the domestic science departments of those institutions for the delicious luncheons which, while they refreshed us at the sumptuous time proved conclusively to all that practical work was being done in these schools; to those who furnished the music and to those who have given their time and talent to the preparation and delivery of the excellent papers which have been heard in the annual meeting."

KIESEL COMMENDS.

Urges Utah Irrigators to Attend the Convention at El Paso.

Hon. Fred J. Kiesel of Ogden continues to commend the El Paso convention and to urge Utah irrigators to attend the big gathering. The regular call has already appeared in the Deseret News a number of times, but in addition thereto, Mr. Kiesel urges that the following have space:

Supplementing the official call for the Twelfth National Irrigation Congress at El Paso, Texas, I would call upon the people of Utah to respond as they always have done, by sending their most representative and enthusiastic irrigators as delegates, that they may aid in making the El Paso congress the best of them all. When we reflect how much good has already resulted from the eleventh congress, held at Ogden, it is not too much to say that the El Paso congress will surpass all previous congresses held, as a new element will be introduced, especially from the southern states, which section has, on account of its rice fields, a deep interest as well as the regulation of its rivers, by the holding in check and removing the flood waters at the heads of the Missouri and the Mississippi rivers. El Paso is making a supreme effort and this congress is sure to have international importance, as it will in all probability bring up international questions in the settlement of waters of the Rio Grande. The citizens of El Paso are now erecting a hall specially for the congress, and are raising large sums for entertaining their visitors. I am advised that the delegates from Utah will receive marked consideration inasmuch as they were our guests a year ago, and they feel and are anxious to reciprocate and show us that inspired by our doings they will not only try to emulate, but excel us. If we have at Ogden succeeded to obtain recognition, and our puny efforts have done this much as to inspire all the arid country which is manifested by state irrigation congresses held and during the following night a severe rain and snow storm set in, which caused the death of the sheep. Damages are claimed by Garff and Glines to the amount of $9,000.

SALOON MIXUP.

Italians Indulge in a Rough-House Affair on State Street.

There was a lively mix-up in the Senate saloon, 23 Commercial street, yesterday afternoon, in which bottles, glasses and a gun played figured. The trouble originated between two Italian brothers named respectively James and Frank Taddeo. As is usual in such cases the innocent man got the worst of it, while a spectator named Mauro is nursing a huge bump that would puzzle a phenologist, owing to his head stopping a bottle in flight across the room.

It was a very strenuous affair while it lasted, and bottles and glasses flew in all directions. While both principals were badly cut and bruised, Frank got the worst of it, and sustained a bad cut on the head. He then thought it was time to hunt a gun, and proceeded to run upstairs after one. As he came down into the street, flourishing his weapon, he fell into the arms of Capt. Burbridge, who promptly collared both him and his brother. James, on arriving at the police station, put up the necessary $20 bail, while his brother, who had not a cent, was locked up. The police were unable to learn the cause of the trouble, for the reason that none of the blue coats can talk Italian.

PUBLIC CHARITY MOVE.

Call for Meeting at Which Such an Association is to be Organized.

An organized effort to shut out grafters in the work of carrying on the city's charity is being made. For the purpose of enlisting the support of all people interested in charitable effort, a meeting has been called to convene in the Salt Lake Theater Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, following preliminary meetings of Salvation Army officers and other people interested in protecting charity workers from imposition. The following call has been issued for the meeting:

We, the undersigned, citizens of Salt Lake City, believing that there should be an organization whose business it is to systematically dispense charity to needy persons, and to investigate all cases that may apply for charity, as well as to help all existing organizations to more effectively conduct the charity work of the city, hereby express ourselves as in sympathy with the proposed Salt Lake Charity association, and agree to lead to its moral and financial support.

We therefore call for a mass meeting to be held in the Salt Lake Theater on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 23, at 4 o'clock, for the purpose of perfecting such an organization.

Amusements

A play good but not great, a company capable but not brilliant, a house fairly filled without being crowded—such were the conditions at the Theater last night, briefly described. "Pretty Peggy" is a play that won its New York success by the cleverness of Grace

George, the wonderful advertising ability of her husband, W. A. Brady, and the one sensational scene at the close when the characters surge over into the audience and indulge in a riot in the middle of the center aisle. Last night's production was charmingly staged, beautifully gowned, and the reproduction of an old time greenroom banquet in Covent Garden Theater, was faithfully portrayed. Miss Corcoran in the role of Peggy played with a pretty Irish accent, and with a great deal of fire and vivacity, steadily gaining on the attention of her audience to the close. Mr. Robson, while he lacks finesse, played the part of Garrick in generally strong style. Miss Boshell as the Irish termanant mother, was capable and the lady who played the French actress was acceptable except when she dropped her accent, as she often did. The same production will be seen this afternoon and evening.

Hawaiian Officials Resign.

Honolulu, Oct. 21.—Gov. Carter has accepted the resignations of High Sheriff A. M. Brown and Deputy C. F. Chillingworth on account of dissatisfaction over the non-enforcement of the liquor and gambling laws. C. Hatter, a Pinkerton man, has been investigating here for some time at Gov. Carter's request. William Henry has been appointed night sheriff and Hatter day sheriff. Detectives and captains are resigning and there will be a reorganization of the police force of the territory.

TAINED BLOOD
Columbus, Ohio, May 19, 1903.
Some four years ago I was suffering from impure blood and a general run-down condition of the system. I had no appetite, was losing flesh, and had an all-over tired feeling that made me miserable. I began the use of S. S. S., and after taking seven or eight bottles my skin was cleared of all eruptions and took on a rosy, healthy glow that assured me that my blood had been restored to its normal, healthy condition. My appetite was restored, as I could eat anything that before me, and as I regained my appetite increased in weight, and that "tired feeling" which worried me so much disappeared, and I was once again my old self. I heartily recommend S. S. S. as the best blood purifier and tonic made, and strongly advise its use to all those in need of such medicine.

Wheeling, W. V., May 28, 1903.
My system was run down and my joints ached and pained considerably. I had used S. S. S. before and knew what it was, so I purchased a bottle of it and had taken several bottles and the aches and pains are gone, my blood has been cleansed and my general health built up. I can testify to it as a blood purifier and tonic.
