

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

THEATRICAL.—Last night the very beautiful play of "Neil Gwynne, or the King's Rival" was presented at the Theatre. Being a first presentation it dragged a little in places. This is a high class play and contains many beautiful points, scenes and situations, and this evening, when it will be again presented, it will doubtless be played with more snap and dash than last night. It affords excellent scope for Mrs. Phelps and Miss Lockhart, and Messrs. Margrets, Graham, Hardie, Lindsay and others.

THE RETURN TRIP.—President Young and party reached Cedar City about half-past three yesterday afternoon. They again started north between five and six this morning, arriving at Parowan about eight. The party expect to make Beaver their resting place to-night.

SCHOOL PARTY.—Yesterday afternoon the teachers and scholars of the 20th Ward Sunday and day schools had a social reunion in the ward school house. About two hundred children were present, all of whom seemed to enjoy themselves to their hearts' content. In "tripping the light fantastic toe," there only regret seemed to be that the sun set so soon and brought darkness with its playing, which was the hour previously arranged for breaking up.

RETURN OF GOVERNOR DERRICK.—Governor Derrick and lady arrived in this city from the terminus of the railroad last evening, having just returned from the East. They are in excellent health and spirits. It will be remembered that His Excellency was necessitated to leave for the East last fall on account of ill health; we are gratified to learn that the object for which he left the Territory has been accomplished, and that he is now perfectly convalescent. We are pleased to have him in our midst again, and bid him a hearty and cordial welcome home.

During his absence he visited his relatives in New England, and had a pleasant time with many Congressmen and other friends during a brief stay in Washington.

CONFESSION.—Shortly before his death on Wednesday afternoon Watson, one of the men shot while attempting to escape from the gang of convicts, working in Spring Canyon on Monday, confessed that he was the person who robbed Wells, Fargo & Co's mail coach in Echo Canon, a little over twelve months ago, taking at that time some $3000; and that he robbed the mail a short time previous, of $600.

POLICE.—Samuel Jackson for being drunk was fined $10.

THIRD DISTRICT COURT.—The court met this morning pursuant to adjournment. The first case presented was that of James T. Clabby versus J. M. Worley and other Houtz on a promissory note. The case was before the jury at the time of our going to press.

MORONI.—Elder John Kirkham, writing from Moroni on the 3rd instant informs us, that the Co-operative Store of that Ward is doing a good business. It was organized on the 15th of February 1898, ten persons taking shares of twenty dollars each, since which the number has increased to sixty. They will open a new store on the 15th instant. The crops there look well, a greater amount of grain has been sown this Spring than ever previously, and about a thousand sheep and numerous fruit trees have been lately planted. On the last instant, the day and Sunday Schools had a gala. They marched through the city in charge of Doctor R. M. Rogers, and in the afternoon enjoyed themselves in the dance.

SHOOTING AFFRAY.—We learn by the St. George Cactus of the 24th ult. that a man named Corlett attempted to kill Mr. Thos. Walker at Cedar City the previous week. It appears that considerable shading of stock had been practiced at Cedar by Corlett and others of his stamp, and that Mr. Walker had expressed himself pretty freely about these practices, at which Corlett took offense and threatened to kill him, for which purpose he went to Walker's house. Walker seeing him coming, and having no arms in the house, left by the back door and started across lots for a neighbor's. Corlett ran after him and when close enough fired, luckily without taking effect. Some of Corlett's friends then took him away and hid him until night and then furnished him a horse, by which means he escaped. A warrant for his arrest was issued, but at last advices the officers had not succeeded in finding him.

TEACHING THE BLIND.—We had a very pleasant chat this morning with Mr. W. Johnson, a blind gentleman connected with the Missouri Institution for the education of the blind at St. Louis. Mr. Johnson is at present on his way to Sacramento, to introduce into the State of California the system of M. Braille, of Paris, for teaching the blind, which has been in use in the St. Louis institution since the fall of 1894, and which is said to be a great improvement on all previous systems for accuracy and dispatch. Mr. Johnson claims that by this system he can make the peculiar train of characters, by which the blind learn to read, as quickly as an ordinary writer who has his sight can write the same matter in the common English letters. It is already used in the various State institutions for the blind throughout the Union. Mr. J. Scott's novels in this style. Next year it is intended to publish a weekly newspaper in Philadelphia on this system, so that the blind can become acquainted with current events and the topics of the day.

Mr. Johnson is now staying at Mr. Reich's Hotel, in East Temple Street, where he will remain for a few days before going westward, and will be pleased to teach the Braille system to any of the blind who desire it. He states that a person who knows how to spell can learn to read and write it accurately in from two to four weeks, whilst a blind child will be as long learning it as a "sighted child" will the ordinary style, and no longer.

The institution to which he belongs has been established 16 years, and has met with flattering success in teaching the blind; many of its former pupils being now engaged as preachers, lecturers, music teachers, writers for the press, etc., whilst those who live by their handicrafts are most engaged in broom and brush making.
