

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY, MAY 11.

The Showers.—A splendid continuation of the rain on Saturday evening and Sunday morning.

Model Ship.—An old gentleman named Dallan has been exhibiting the model of a ship, in front of the Exchange Buildings, to-day. It took him between sixty and seventy days to make it and he wishes to dispose of it for $100.

Washington County.—Brother Oscar Westover, who is now in this City, after goods for the store of the United Order, of Pinto settlement, reports that the Order is working well and that the more experience the people have in it the better they like it.

Fit.—About half-past six o'clock yesterday evening a man fell down in a fit, or, a series of fits, at the foot of Commercial Street, on Second South Street. Some "good Samaritans" tried to alleviate the poor fellow's sufferings, in various ways, but others unthinkingly retarded his recovery by closing around him to gratify an idle curiosity, at the sufferer's expense.

Kicked Him Out.—This morning a merchant, whose place is a distance down East Temple Street, was fined $5 for administering corporeal chastisement to a fellow who, as was shown in the evidence had been "sponging" on him for several weeks and, at the same time, injuring him in business. Some might have the opinion that the kicking was not misdirected, but it must be remembered that the law was infringed by it.

Rampageous.—This morning Camel Bear went up to a citizen who was standing quietly by and commenced pummeling him, giving as his reason that the party to whom the hammering was administered had insulted his (Bear's) aunt. The police considered that this was not a proper method of settling difficulties, and marched him to the City Hall. He was to have an interview with Justice Clinton this afternoon.

Accident.—On Saturday afternoon Daniel H. Halliday, a police officer of Provo, in getting over a fence into the stray pen at that place, moved his pistol out of his pants pocket into that of his coat, when the pistol went off, the ball going into his leg, entering just under the calf, and lodging in the vicinity of the ankle. Up to yesterday evening the ball had not been extracted. He is attended by Drs. Rogers and Simmons, of Provo.

Educational.—At the request of O. H. Riggs, Territorial Superintendent of Common Schools, the county superintendents and teachers met in the University building, on Saturday evening last, to take into consideration the best means of furthering the cause of education in Utah. Among other things decided upon was that there should be a board of examination, in every county, for the purpose of testing the efficiency of candidates for the responsible position of teachers.

Fine Horse.—A Mr. Sewell was exhibiting a splendid looking stud horse on the streets to-day. A party who has the reputation of being a judge of "horseflesh" said he was one of the best put up animals in this Territory, but that probably some people would object to him because he was raised here. Certainly there are persons who seem to have imbibed the false notion that nothing can be first-class unless it be imported. Anyhow that was a fine-looking, symmetrical horse.

A Rascally Business.—On Saturday one of Marshal McAllister's deputies arrested at Ophir and brought to town a man who is accused of enticing two young women to that place under the pretence of finding them situations in a hotel, but on reaching Ophir, the girls discovered that the house to which they were about to be taken was a place of ill-fame and they refused to stay. The fellow refused to pay the return stage fare of the young women and when they reached this city their trunks were retained at the stage office until the fares should be forthcoming. The girls were supplied from an intelligence office in this city.

Please Return Them.—A party from Sandy purchased a variety of articles at the dry goods department of Z. C. M. I. on Saturday forenoon, and, wishing to attend conference, asked one of the clerks to take charge of them for a few hours. The articles were packed in two bundles, which the clerk placed on the end of the counter, where, the owner was informed, they would be safe enough. When he returned, the articles were minus, and the clerks could not give any information concerning them. It is thought they were taken in by mistake, as another parcel was left in its place. The articles are worth about twenty dollars, and the party who took the parcel by mistake will oblige by leaving it at the "Emporium" for the owner.

A Prowler.—Brother Joseph Watson, of the 10th Ward, happened to be absent from home the other night. His little girl had occasion to bring a churn into the house from the outside. To obviate the necessity of going out of doors she lifted a window that she might reach for the article and take it in. When she put her hand out, imagine her astonishment, not to say fright, when she touched a man who was crouching under the window. The fellow, on being thus disturbed, jumped to his feet and ran. There can be little doubt that his intention was to gain a buglarious entrance to the house, with evil intent. Should he, or any other fellow, of the same stripe, visit that place again in a similar way, Brother Watson says there will be a dose prepared for him that will cure such proclivities in future.

Burglary.—At a late hour last night a number of men went up to the front door of the residence of Mr. Harvey, 7th Ward, and rang the bell. The head of the house was absent at the time, and Mrs. Harvey, who had retired for the night, was very much alarmed, and dared not move or speak. Finding that no one responded to the ringing of the bell, the burglars, for such they proved to be, opened a window and entered the house. They ransacked several trunks and carried away a large number of valuables. They also took Mrs. Harvey's pocket book, which, however, did not happen to contain much at the time. They carried off one trunk bodily. It appears they took it a distance of about two and a half blocks, to the lot of Bishop Weiler, 3rd Ward, where it was found, among some currant bushes, by the police, this morning. They had broken open this trunk and took what they considered of value, including a gold and silver watch, from it.

It is supposed that the robbers expected Mr. Harvey to answer the call at the door, when they probably would have pounced on him, expecting to get "a haul" from his person.

The police found the tracks of four persons around the scene of the robbery, this morning, and it is probable therefore that that number were engaged in it.

The Utah Delegate.

Some question has been raised as to Bishop Cannon's qualification to sit in the House as Delegate from the Territory of Utah, on the ground that he is a "practical polygamist." The House Committee on Elections find that he has the usual constitutional qualifications required in all Representatives. And as it is neither a usual nor a constitutional qualification not to be a "practical polygamist," they are of opinion that Mr. Cannon should hold his place. Mr. Cannon has been formally elected, is over 25 years of age, has been seven years a citizen of the United States, is a resident of Utah, and that is all that the Constitution demands. It has nothing to say about polygamy or polyandry, and so Mr. Cannon may be Delegate from Utah and have three or ten times the allowance of happiness which woman confers that ordinary representatives can legally avail themselves of. He may sit in the House, make speeches, debate, introduce bills, vote for or against, and, when he goes home, have, in addition to all this honor, four pair of rosy lips to smile upon him, and eight eyes, black, blue, or gray, to shine in his household firmament; for on the number of wives which a Representative may have the constitution is silent.

The committee say they have no authority to investigate the charge whether Mr. Cannon is a "practical polygamist," but suggest a resolution be introduced asking the appointment of a special committee to investigate the matter, and to decide whether, if he be a "practical polygamist," he be eligible to a seat in the House.

When the committee on Mr. Cannon's polygamy or no polygamy meet they will have to decide (1) What constitutes "practical" polygamy. (2) Whether Mr. Cannon is a "practical" polygamist. (3) Whether, if so, he is a fit person to take a seat in the House of Representatives. The Committee on Elections evidently draw a distinction between a polygamist pure and simple and a "practical" polygamist. We advise them when they come to the framing of a definition of "practical" polygamist so to word it that it shall embrace Mr. Cannon and no one else. Great caution is needed here; else in the future some Senator or Representative elect, and not from Utah, might probably find himself disqualified to assume his seat in Congress. Meanwhile, those who entertain any fears that Mr. Cannon's presence in the House may be hurtful to the morals of his non-polygamist colleagues will be glad to know that he does not take his four wives to Washington with him. One of Senator Carpenter's reasons why Congressional salaries should be increased was that every Congressman should have his family with him; and, as Mr. Cannon cannot draw four salaries, perhaps this is why he leaves his four wives and four families at home. At all events, this is a charitable construction to put upon it. For all Congressional purposes, therefore, Mr. Cannon may be regarded as a bachelor.—Chicago Tribune.

DIED.

At Bountiful, Davis County, May 4, 1874, of old age, JAMES DUNCAN, having attained to the age of 80 years three days before his death.

Deceased was baptized a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter day Saints, in Hancock County, Illinois, in the year 1844, having become acquainted with the Saints in Caldwell County, in 1838, from which period he had shared in the trials and persecutions of this people. After his identification with the Church he was ever faithful to his covenants, and always on hand to spend and be spent in the upbuilding of the kingdom of God. He came to these valleys in 1848, and was one who helped to make the desert blossom as the rose. He was a faithful husband, a kind father, and a true Saint in every sense of the word, honored and respected by all who knew him. His testimony of the Latter-day Work was strong and powerful to the last, and he died in full assurance of a glorious resurrection.—Com.

THE INVAILED—A PEN PICTURE.

See her pallid countenance, but a short time ago the picture of ruddy health, the envy of the school and the pride of the household. She was always welcomed by her schoolmates, for her little form and pleasing disposition carried cheerfulness into their ranks. Diligent, punctual and exemplary, obedient and graceful at home, she won the hearts of all. But, alas, we are sorrowed. Those rosy cheeks and ruddy lips are blanched by Consumption. The voice once so enchanting in laugh and song is feeble, husky and supplanted by a hollow cough. Let us approach her couch gently and take her hand. Do not shudder because of the feeble and passionless grasp. The hand once so hearty and plump is emaciated and shows bony outlines, while the cords and tortuous veins are plainly mapped upon the surface. The pulse that bounded with repletion, carrying vigor to the whole system, and imparting life, beauty, vivacity, health and strength, is delicate to the touch. The feeble heart cannot propel the thin, scanty blood with force. Must we lose her while yet in her teens? Companions and friends gather around with words of cheer and consolation, and depart with moistened eyes and silent steps. Must we lose her? No! there is relief! We can stay this destroyer of our happiness and not suffer the loss of so bright a gem. Something more is required now than dietary and hygienic observance, for nature calls for aid and she shall have it. Take this pleasant medicine. It is invigorating. It allays the irritable cough, improves the appetite and digestion and sends a healthy tingle through the frame. The blood is enriched, nervous force increased, and the heart bounds with a new impulse. See her face brighten by degrees; the color is returning, her voice is getting clearer, and pleasant words are spoken. The strength falters yet, but is gaining. Let us take her out in the warm sunshine. In a short time she will be able to go without our aid, a cheerful girl. This delightful medicine must be God-blessed. It is restoring health to our loved one. She is emerging from her sickness sweeter and nobler than before, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery must have the credit. It has raised her. S. R. Eglar, druggist, of West Union, O., says that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has effected a wonderful cure of Consumption in his neighborhood.
