

FATAL PLUNGE INTO RESERVOIR.

James W. Ashman Drowned While
Bathing Near Mt. Olivet
Cemetery.

HIS BODY WAS FOUND BY BOYS.

Was Overheated on Entering
The Water and Must Have Been Seized With Cramps.

James W. Ashman, a cellerman for the Salt Lake Brewing company, was drowned last evening in the Mt. Olivet reservoir. A number of boys, including Mr. Ashman's son, were bathing in the shallow side of the reservoir, while Mr. Ashman went where it was deeper. In running about the bank the boys came across his clothes, and young Ashman exclaimed, "Why, these are Pa's clothes!" Then there was a hurried search, and Mr. Ashman's body was discovered in eight feet of water. J. E. Tauber, the oldest boy there, dove in and brought the body to the shore, and the police station was immediately notified. In the meantime the local sexton was called upon, and he worked hard to restore life, but was unsuccessful. Dr. Hardy Lynch, who was summoned, said that the unfortunate man was undoubtedly overheated on entering the water, and the chill occasioned by the sudden change of temperature brought on fatal cramps. The remains were removed to O'Connell's undertaking rooms by the police wagon. Ashman leaves a wife and five children. He was a member of Lodge No. 3, Knights of Pythias.

HOME EMPTY—WIFE GONE.

Condition That Confronted a Laboring Man Named Johnson, Last Night.

Upon returning from work last evening, E. Johnson, a laborer living near the corner of South Temple and West Temple streets, found that his wife had left home, taking with her their child and all of the household effects. She left her husband's clothing and also a note telling him that it would be no use for him to hunt for her. Johnson was making a thorough search of the city for his missing wife last night and appeared to feel very badly over her absence. He said that they had quarreled yesterday morning but that when he went to work he supposed the matter had been settled, as they had made up when he left.

CATALOGUE IS ISSUED.

Latter-day Saints' University Makes
Announcements for Next Year.

The catalogue of the Latter-day Saints' university, showing the courses of study for next year, commencing Sept. 12, and the list of students for last year over 1,200 in number, is just from the press of the Deseret News. It is larger than previous issues, and is very carefully written. The courses of study are summarized as follows:

- High School Courses—1. A scientific course of four years laid out especially to meet the requirements of students preparing to enter engineering or medical universities and colleges.
- 2. A classical course of four years, specially intended as a preparation for higher university work.
- 3. A normal course of four years, especially designed to prepare teachers for city and county positions in this territory.
- 4. A kindergarten normal course of four years, as a preparation for primary and kindergarten teachers.
- 5. A domestic science course, in which home training and domestic arts for lady students are combined with the culture studies.
- 6. A commercial course of four years arranged as a preparation for business and commercial life.
- 7. A mechanic arts course of three years as a preparation for the study of civil, electrical, mechanical, or mining engineering.
- College Courses—8. A general college course, leading to the degree and title of bachelor of philosophy. This course emphasizes the "humanities" and such studies as philosophy, literature, political science, and law.
- 9. A course of four years in civil engineering, leading to the degree of bachelor of science. This course emphasizes mathematics and physical science, and prepares for the actual work of the engineer.
- Business Courses—10. A two-year business course, chiefly in bookkeeping, higher accounting, and law.
- The business college makes a specialty of giving special courses as follows: 11. Bookkeeping, which may occupy

UNHAPPY ALLIANCES.

Three Couples Rent in Twain by Judge Morse.

Judge Morse granted three divorces yesterday afternoon. John A. Thomas was divorced from Anna T. Thomas on the ground of desertion. They were married at Temple, Ariz., on Jan. 1, 1900, and have one child, the custody of which was awarded by the court to defendant.

Emery M. Gardellus was granted a divorce from John Gardellus on the grounds of desertion and failure to support. They were married in this city in 1900, and have two children, the custody of whom was awarded to plaintiff. Non-support is the ground upon which Marlan D. Snow was granted a decree of divorce from Levi Snow, whom she married at Montpelier, Ida., on Oct. 17, 1900.

COURT NOTES.

G. D. Miles has filed suit for divorce in the district court against Juliet Miles on the ground of desertion. They were married in San Francisco in 1897, and the desertion is alleged to have occurred on June 28, 1902.

A petition asking that the will of Henry Stratford, deceased, be admitted to probate, has been filed in the district court by Flora Hawkins, who asks that letters testamentary be issued to her. The value of the estate is $2,556.

Suit to recover $2,000 damages for personal injuries has been filed in the district court by John D. Scheid, by W. T. Scheid, his guardian, against the Utah Light & Railway company. The complaint alleges that, on July 16, plaintiff was riding on the front seat of a Second South street car when the motorman let the brake handle swing around with great speed, striking plaintiff in the face, breaking his nose, and inflicting injuries which he alleges will disfigure him for life.

Judge Morse has rendered a decree in favor of plaintiff in the case of R. D. McDonald, administrator, etc., against George A. Rice et al, quieting plaintiff's title to lots 1 and 15, block 1, amended plat of Linden Park subdivision.

PRIZES FOR FRUITS.

Horticultural Society Offers Premiums On Orchards and Gardens.

The Salt Lake Horticultural society has voted to offer premiums limited to this county upon orchard and fruit gardens—two cash premiums and a diploma to each. The first is for the best apple or pear orchard, the second for the best orchard of stone fruits and third for the best small fruit garden.

The points on which the awards will be made will include the varieties, quality and productiveness of the fruit as well as upon cultivation, irrigation and treatment against insect pests. Entries should be made to Mr. A. W. Casey, 36 Commercial block, on or before Sept. 15, 1904. Application to Mr. Casey will procure details in relation to the awards. He hopes that a generous response will be made to this offer, not so much on account of the premiums as to encourage the business of fruit growing and to bring the horticulturists in touch with each other.

Premiums on Apple and Pear Orchard—First prize $10, second prize $5, third prize, diploma.
Premiums on Stone Fruit Orchard—First prize $5, second prize $3, third prize, diploma.
Premiums on Small Fruit Garden—First prize $5, second prize $3, third prize diploma.

BIDS OPENED FOR FIRE STATION NO. 1

Board of Public Works Will Recommend Contract to Allen & Roemisch.

SOUTH TEMPLE PAVING AGAIN.

The Much Needed Improvement Drags Slowly Along—Request for Re-advertising for Bids.

For the second time bids were opened yesterday afternoon by the board of public works for the improvements at fire station No. 1. There were eight bidders for the work, as follows: Allen & Roemisch, $9,288; Asper, Noall & Co., $9,545; C. J. Brain, $9,596; Fred Dreyer, $9,750; Henry Mickel, $9,875; Anderson & Chytrous, $9,900; W. J. Dean, $10,369; C. West, $11,190.

The bid of Allen & Roemisch of $9,288 being the lowest, the board will recommend to the council that the contract be awarded to them. On a previous occasion bids were received by the board for the work, but they were all rejected by the council and it was decided to do the work by day labor under the supervision of the fire chief and city building inspector. The city attorney held that such action would be illegal, and hence bids were again advertised for.

SOUTH TEMPLE PAVING.

The board at its meeting yesterday afternoon also decided to ask permission of the city council to re-advertise for bids for the paving of East South Temple street, from State to Seventh East, the bids formerly received having been rejected by the board. It is also contemplated to make some alterations in the plan for the paving provided the city council approves of such changes. The committee on streets of the council last evening considered the proposed changes, but decided to take no action in the matter until City Engineer Snow returns from the east.

—the latter take care of themselves, the former do not. As it is with the body, so it is with the mind and the temper, the strong are apt to break, or like the cat, the weak run; the weak burn out. The inferior animals, which live temperate lives, have generally the prescribed term of years. The horse lives twenty-five years, the ox fifteen to twenty, the lion about twenty, the hog ten or twelve, the rabbit eight, the guinea pig six or seven. The numbers all bear proportion to the time the animal takes to grow to full size. But man of all animals is one that seldom comes up to the average. He ought to live 100 years, according to the physical law, but for five times twenty he is 100, but instead of that, he scarcely reaches an average of four times the growing period. The reason is obvious—man is not only the most irascible and most temperate, but the most laborious and hard-working of all animals. He is also the most irritable, and there is reason to believe, though we cannot tell what an animal really feels, that more than any other animal, man cherishes wrath to keep it warm, and consumes himself with the fire of his own reflections.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

WAILING AND GNASHING OF TEETH

President Hadley of Yale has won a wide reputation as a teller of good stories. His wonderful memory has stood him in good stead here.

"I have heard him tell stories for five years now," said a Yale man recently. "I have yet to hear him repeat."

A typical Hadley story, which he does not hold to be original with him, runs as follows: A Methodist preacher was vigorously expounding the text, "There shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth."

"Aye," he said, "there shall be gnashing of teeth." Yes," he shouted, pointing up to a woman who had been worked up to a full realization of her sins by the preacher.

"The minister," yelled the minister, turning in her direction, "they will be provided!"—New York Sun.
